THEY'RE HAVING FUN

College of Marin students (from left) Vicci Rider, Jim lillibridge and Ford Radus, all of Mill Valley, frolic in an inch of snow near the radar station on Mount Tamalpais. The three detoured on their way to class this morning. Snow also dusted the heights of Big Rock Ridge and Mount Burdell overnight and light snow fell in Novato twice yesterday. Hail, lightning, rain and wind — up to 70 miles per hour at Tiburon —also lashed Marin. San Geronimo Valley and part of Bolinas were blacked out for more than an hour.

Cease-Fire Charge Amid Peace Plan; Soviets Courting Egypt

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egypt sent Mig21s and Sukhoi 7 fighter-bomber jets streaking across the Suez Canal today in violation of the cease-fire, Israel charged today in Jerusalem. The complaint came as Egypt unveiled a new three-part peace plan that would give a bigger peace keeping role to the Big Four.

The Israeli complaint filed with the United Nations was the second serious complaint this month of Egyptian aerial overflights of Israeli-held territory. An Israeli communique said two Mig21s crossed the southern sector of the canal and a pair of Sukhoi 7s cross the central sector.

Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny arrived meanwhile in Cairo for a seven-day official visit and said he would try to "strengthen and develop" Soviet-Egyptian friendship and cooperation. He was accompanied by high-ranking government and party leaders.

In Paris, the French government said it had started a diplomatic campaign to insure that a basis for a Middle East settlement is worked out before the current cease-fire expires Feb. 5. France praised the Egyptian proposals but said Israel must have guarantees.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, which often reflects the views of President Anwar Sadat, said the proposals were delivered to Britain, France and Italy by Mahmoud Riad, the deputy premier and foreign minister, during a tour of those countries this month.

In Paris, the French government said that on basis of the Riad talks it had reached the conclusion all obstacles to peace in the Middle East "can and must be eliminated." France also pledged efforts to see that the cease-fire expiring Feb. 5 is extended.

Al Ahram outlined the three point plan as follows:

—The Big Four powers would give U.N. Middle East negotiator Gunnar V. Jarring instruction and guidance to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution of 1967, either through Big Four meetings or through a scheme presented to the Security Council.

—These instructions must define a timetable for carrying out of the resolution and must ask Jarring for a report on the progress of his mission within one month on the issue of these instructions.

—If the Big Four powers failed to formulate a scheme for carrying out the resolution the Security Council would meet before the end of January to discuss implementation. After this meeting each big power would shoulder its responsibility

Kissinger, Bomb Plot Indictments

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A federal grand jury has charged that a Catholic priest masterminded a conspiracy from his jail cell to blow up heating systems in the nation's capital on George Washington's Birthday, then kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

The jury returned indictments against Rev. Philip Berrigan, 47, and named five others as conspirators — two other priests, a former priest, a nun and a Pakistani student with a doctorate in political science.

Seven others were named as co-conspirators, but not defendants, including Berrigan's brother Daniel, who also is in prison, and three other nuns.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced the indictments by a grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa., after the five alleged conspirators who were free had been arrested.

The indictment charged that the group plotted to kidnap Kissinger —President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser — and hold him hostage until their demands were met by the government.

The indictment did not spell out the alleged demands, but FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified before a Senate committee in November that a group was planning to hold an unidentified White House official hostage for an end to all U.S. military involvement in Southeast Asia. Kissinger later said he was the official Hoover referred to.

Hoover identified the group as the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives, a charge denied by the organization. Hoover also named the Berrigans as members of the group and leaders of the plot.

Both priests are serving terms at the minimum security

UBAC Sets 'Massive Outreach' Programs; Cuts Some Agencies

The United Bay Area Cousade, which exceeded its 1970 campaign goal by $188,951, nevertheless will reduce or eliminate funds for 66 of the agencies included in its appeal, it was disclosed yesterday.

Reversing previous refusals to identify agencies whose funds from the crusade were cut or elimianted, Robert C. Harris, San Francisco attorney who is UBAC president, released a list of all agencies showing whether funds are being increased, kept the same, decreased or eliminated. No dollar amounts were disclosed.

UBAC raised $17,038,951 for this year. Its goal was $16,850,000.

Two Marin agencies are being dropped from UBAC entirely: Marin Aid to Retarded Children and St. Vincent's School for Boys.

The announced reason is that they "were appraised as not delivering services in an effective manner." They are among five agencies Bay Area-wide dropped for this reason.

While reducing or eliminating funds for 66 of the agencies that participated in its appeal, UBAC will make available $1.5 million "for massive outreach programs in the five Bay Area counties for disadvantaged youth, day care, drug abuse, health, programs for the elderly, and concentrated neighborhood services," Harris announced.

This is in accordance with recommendations of UBAC's new directions committee, on the basis of a two-and-a-half year study by the Bay Area Social Planning Council of services needed in the five counties, he said.

"As a result of new directions, UBAC becomes an initiator of change, rather than a responder to community pressures and reactions," declares Harris's announcement.

He disclosed that this move toward funding new programs rather than merely the announced participating agencies began last April, when UBAC granted $400,000 for special programs dealing with drug abuse and additional minority services. "Four months later, in August, the board of directors announced its funding policy and procedure for 1971 which basically called for termination of agencies not relevant to the needs of today and agencies which do not require UBAC funds for continuance of present programs," he said.

Guerrillas In Jordan Seek Help

BEIRUT (UPI)—A leading Palestinian guerrilla chief called on Arab nations today to send a joint military force into Jordan to protect the commandos from King Tussein's army.

Farouk Kaddoumi, number three man in Al Fatah, the major guerrilla group, made the demand at a news conference in Cairo as an uneasy cease-fire settled over Jordan.

Sporadic gunfire sounded in Amman during the night and a "misled youth" threw a bomb at a police car today. Guerrillas threatened more action if the peace is not made airtight.

Kaddoumi, a member of the 27-man Central Committee of Palestinian Organizations, said the guerrillas "are in need of more than political attitudes" from Arab nations.

"Joint Arab troops must enter Jordan to protect our back and give us the chance to take large-scale action in the occupied territories," he said.

Kaddoumi also said "strict measures to impose economic sanctions on the (Jordanian) regime must be

Wilson Names Paid Juvenile Referee

San Rafael attorney Jack L. Blaine, who quit last year as a volunteer juvenile court referee because he was working 40 hours a week without pay, yesterday was appointed to the same position — but with a salary.

The appointment apparently ends a long squabble between former Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and others involved with the court.

The board of supervisors yesterday approved the hiring of a full-time paid referee at the request of the new juvenile court judge, Joseph G. Wilson, who changed judicial places with Gardiner on Friday.

Judge Gardiner, who had served as head of the juvenile court for six years, had long opposed paying for a referee for the juvenile court. He had operated it with a series of volunteers.

In November, Blaine quit, sending an angry letter to Judge Gardiner saying that he had agreed to hear juvenile cases for eight to 10 hours a week but found that the time had grown to 40 hours.

Friday, Judge Wilson exchanged places with Gardiner, with the latter taking the post as presiding judge of the superior court.

Judge Wilson promptly asked for the paid referee, a move long supported by County Alministrator Alan Bruce. The supervisors yesterday approved a starting salary of $18,000 a year for the referee position.

Judge Wilson, who appointed Blaine later in the day, said that Blaine will preside at the bulk of juvenile hearings.

The Marin judges have all said that with the heavy backlog of both criminal and civil cases in superior court, it is not possible for one judge to devote all his time to juvenile matters.

Hazards Listed On Uses Of Waterbeds

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—The Santa Clara County Fire Chiefs Association today issued a warning about the hazards of sleeping on waterbeds.

The association said a leaking waterbed could result in electrocution of the sleeper if water came in contact with electric outlets or cords.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Tate Trial Sum-Up

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The final attorney arguing for the defense at the Tate murder trial Tuesday told the jury that if they believed Charles Manson's three women codefendants were "robots, zombies or automatons," the women must be acquitted.

Robots cannot commit premeditated murder, said Maxwell Keith, and Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houton should be cleared of the murder charges.

Keith wound up the summations for Manson and the women and, after rebuttal by Deputy District Attorney Vincent Bugliosi, the case was expected to go to the jury late this week.

Berlin Let-Up

BERLIN (UPI)—Western Allied Berlin traffic passed through Russian checkpoints normally today after Wstern Allied protests to the Russians on the most serious interference with highway traffic in five years.

A Western Allied Spokesman said military traffic was unimpeded today.

The Americans, British and French protested the harassment to the Russians at their embassy in East Berlin Tuesday night and again today at a four-power meeting of political advisers.

The meeting in the former Allied Control Authority building in the American Sector was held to prepare for the meeting next Tuesday of the Big Four ambassadors on Berlin.

Nixon On Steel

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon Tuesday suggested that voluntary restraints on steel imports from Japan and Europe might be lifted because of the 12.5 per cent price increase announced by Bethlehem Steel Corp.

No one said so in the precise terms, but it clearly was an attempt by the administration to "jawbone" Bethlehem into rolling back the increase, which is effective March 1. Thus far Nixon studiously has avoided jawboning—the term for exerting direct presidential influence in an effort to rescind announced price increases. Jawboning was a favorite technique of former Presidents Lyndon Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

The President's unhappiness at Bethlehem's announcement was confirmed by Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who at a news briefing referred to the increases as "very large" and "enormous."

Phone Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has approved the first increase in long-distance telephone rates since 1953, and announced it would hold hearings to determine if the increases should be larger.

The FCC told the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. (AT&T) Tuesday it would approve interim increases that would bring AT&T $250 million a year in additional, before-tax, earnings. It is now up to AT&T whether to accept the proposed new rates.

AT&T had asked for an increase it said would boost earnings by $385 millon annually —a figure which the FCC disputed, saying revenue would really amount to $545 million more each year.

Welfare Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Justice Harry A. Blackmun has illustrated the Supreme Court's present liberal-conservative split in ruling against a welfare mother who would not let a caseworker into her house.

The Minnesotan —in his first majority opinion —held Tuesday that the mother, Mrs. Barbara James, could keep the social worker out, but as a result could also be made to forfeit welfare payments for her dependent child.

Joining him to tip the balance in favor of governmental authority were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices Hugo L. Black, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

Dissenting were Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall —the remaining corps of the old liberal-oriented Warren court.

Home Loan Saving

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government's decision to cut the FHA and VA home loan interest ceilings from 8 to 7 1-2 per cent means a saving of about $8 a month to the family about to buy a $25,000 house with a 25-year mortgage.

The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Veterans Administration (VA) Tuesday announced the second reduction in six weeks in the interest ceiling for government-backed mortgages. The lower rates take effect today.

A family buying a home with a 25-year VA-guaranteed loan of $25,000 will repay $184.75 monthly for principal and interest at the new 7 1-2 per cent interest rate. The payments on a similar loan at 8 per cent are $193 monthly.

ARRIVE FOR ASSIGNMENTS — Wearing mixed headgear, South Vietnamese (ARVN) Marines and Cambodian government forces arrive at a staging area south of Phnom Penh. The troops yesterday moved against Communists blocking vital Highway 4 used to provide fuel for Phnom Penh.

Push For Cambodia Highway

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—More than 13,000 South Vietnamese and Cambodian troops poured into the mountains southwest of Phnom Penh today in a drive to reopen vital Highway 4 linking the capital with the nation's only deepwater seaport.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky flew to Phnom Penh, inspected South Vietnamese units in the campaign and predicted the highway will be recaptured "within a few days."

Ky flew over the entire 120-mile length of Highway 4 between Phnom Penh and the port of Kompong Som where columns of South Vietnamese tanks, personnel carriers and troops are marching north toward Kompong Speu in an attempt to meet with other South Vietnamese and Cambodian units moving southward.

The Communists seized the highway nearly two months ago and the partial blockade has brought electricity and gasoline rationing in Phnom Penh and aggravated inflation.

U.S. sources in Saigon said the new military operation was a major subject for discussions last weekend between Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and South Vietnamese officials including President Nguyen Van Thieu. They said the South Vietnamese had been reluctant to go through with such an operation until they extracted new but unspecified military aid pledges from the Anited States.

The U.S. Command feels continued stability of the Lon Nol government in Cambodia is essential to the success of the Vietnamization program.

Ky denied reports that South Vietnam was demanding payment for use of its troops in the Cambodian operation.

"No, we did not come here to ask them to pay us," Ky told a newsman.

Ky conferred with Lon Nol for three hours after he toured the highway.

"We have a task force of tanks and rangers moving north from the south and two regiments of Khmers (Cambodians) coming from the north and we expect to join the two forces in about the next few days," Ky said. "We will reoccupy the positions now occupied by the enemy."

A military spokesman in Saigon said the drive involved South Vietnamese Marines, Rangers, engineers, artillery and armored cavalry along with four regiments of Cambodian troops for a total of more than 13,000 men.

The South Vietnamese made contact with Communist forces within two hours after the start of the operation. Viet Cong units attacked a Marine battalion near Pich Nil Pass, 65 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Two South Vietnamese were wounded.

The average cigarette smoker consumed 4,030 smokes in 1970, or 201.5 packs, an increase from 3,993 smokes the previous year, the USDA said.

Queen Elizabeth Puts On Midi

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth went midi Tuesday.

The monarch appeared in public for the first time in a midi-length costume, wearing a leather belted midi coat and knee high boots for the journey back to Buckingham Palace from her Christmas holiday at Sandringham.

The queen thus followed the pattern set by her sister, Princess Margaret, and her daughter, Princess Anne, who for months have worn the midi in public.

Gulf Of Tonkin Order Repealed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — The Gulf of Tonkin resolution, regarded by President Lyndon B. Johnson as his authorization for U.S. intervention in Southeast Asia, has been repealed without a whisper of the controversy it once stirred.

President Nixon signed legislation Tuesday that included repeal of the 1964 resolution. The repealer was added to a $200 million bill authorizing easy credit sales of U.S. arms to foreign allies.

Nixon agreed last year to repeal because he felt the only authority he needed to fight in Southeast Asia was his authority as commander-in-chief to protect the U.S. forces there.

The resolution gave the executive branch permission to "take all necessary steps, including the use of armed forces" to protect American forces in South Vietnam and to aid Vietnam and other U.S. allies in Indochina.

Johnson interpreted the resolution as unconditional congressional backing for his subsequent decisions to send more than 500,000 men to fight in Vietnam and to bomb North Vietnam.

The resolution was named for a body of water adjacent to Vietnam, where an engagement involving two U.S. destroyers occurred in August 1964.

Report Of Leader's My Lai Air View

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (UPI)—A defense witness testified Tuesday that the head of the task force that swept through My Lai and killed more than 100 civilians circled the village in a helicopter during the operation and said "things are going fine, smooth, according to plan."

Sgt. Dennis R. Vasquez, now stationed in Germany, told a court-martial jury that Col. Frank Barker, head of the task force that bore his name, viewed the proceedings with satisfaction from the helicopter. Barker later was killed in action.

Vasquez testified for Sgt. Charles E. Hutto, 22, of Tallulah, La., charged with participating in the alleged massacre.

The defense was expected to conclude its case today and Hutto's attorneys said they would not decide until the day's session begins whether to have Hutto testify in his own behalf.

The defense lawyers, taking the line that Hutto merely was following orders and that responsibility rests at a higher level, Tuesday introduced letters from high-ranking officers congratulating the top brass of Task Force Barker for its sweep through My Lai. One of the letters was from Gen. William C. Westmoreland, then Allied commander in Vietnam and now Army chief of staff.

Georgia's New Governor Pledges End To Racism

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jimmy Carter, a wealthy peanut farmer who succeeded Lester G. Maddox as governor, Tuesday vowed to end racial discrimination in Georgia.

Carter, 46, an Annapolis graduate and former nuclear submarine officer, won the office in a hard struggle against former Gov. Carl E. Sanders in the Democratic primary and Republican Hal Suit, a former television newscaster, in the general election.

"At the end of a long campaign, I believe I know the people of our state as well as anyone," he said in a brief inaugural address. "Based on this knowledge ... I say to you quite frankly that the time for racial discrimination is over."

"No poor, rural, weak or black person should ever have to bear the additional burden of being deprived of the opportunity of an education, a job or simple justice," he said.

Minutes after Carter's speech, Maddox was sworn in as lieutenant governor, a post he won after unsuccessfully waging a legal battle to overturn Georgia's constitutional prohibition against a governor succeeding himself.

Maddox will preside over the Georgia Senate, which will act on Carter's legislative program. Maddox already has stated opposition to some of Carter's proposals.

Kennedy Aides Call Newspaper Article A Smear

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A tabloid newspaper linking Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., with Italian princess Maria Pia has been distributed to the offices of most congressmen, according to a Kennedy aide.

Richard Drayne, Kennedy's press secretary, said "we've got our ideas" who is responsible for the distribution.

Drayne said Kennedy "was shocked and dismayed at the depths to which some politicians have sunk in attempting to destroy his reputation."

The newspaper is the National Tattler, published in Chicago. A recent issue carried a picture alleged to be the princess. The headline read: "Jet-Set playgirl's story: I spent a night with Ten Kennedy."

Hub Survey Set On Storm Drainage

A block-bv block analysis of San Anselmo's storm drainage facilities to determine needed improvements was authorized last night by the city council.

City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel said the council hired Hoffman and Albritton, an engineering firm from San Rafael, to make the survey at a cost not to exceed $20,000.

He said estimates offered last night indicate drafting of the storm drainage master plan would take about six months.

The engineering firm, he said, was directed to map the city's drainage system, locate contributory drainage systems, make a block-by-block field survey, analyze the system for shortcomings and prepare an ultimate plan for implementation of improvements.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

INSURANCE — Took no action on gaining federal eligibility for flood and mudslide insurance pending further study.

PLANNING — Renewed a three-year joint powers agreement with the Marin City-County Planning Council and authorized a drive-through survey of San Anselmo homes by the council.

FIREMAN — Authorized drafting of a resolution of thanks to volunteer fireman William Meagor, who is retiring after 29 years' service.

LIBRARY — Authorized the library board to hire two part-time employees.

CITIZENS — Asked citizens to submit names of individuals interested in serving on the council's committee on zoning and housing.

PARK — Authorized expenditure of $400 for construction of a second exit and fire sprinkler system at the Robson-Harrington Park carriage house.

STREETS — Continued until the Jan. 26 meeting consideration of a joint powers agreement with the City of Fairfax for resurfacing of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Suffield to Kent avenues.

MAINTENANCE — Cancelled a contract with A and J Shooter for landscape maintenance of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Ross to the Hub intersection. A city crew will do the work.

TENNIS COURTS — Authorized spending $357 in donated funds for landscaping of tennis courts at Memorial Park.

PARKING — Authorized sale of municipal parking lot tickets by the San Anselmo senior citizens organization at the bus stop at Center Boulevard. Tickets will go on sale in February, with 10 per cent of the revenue going to the senior citizens.

Tax Break To Business 'Not Final'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A $2.6 billion tax break for business announced Monday by President Nixon is not yet a final action, the Treasury said today.

Although Nixon's statement appeared to be announcement of a completed plan, a Treasury spokesman said a public hearing would be held on the matter, probably in late February or early March.

The spokesman contended that it was routine to announce such changes and then hold hearings on them. "We are just following the routine," he commented.

In his statement Monday from the western White House, Nixon said, "today I have approved three important changes in the administration of the depreciation provisions of the tax laws."

The changes announced would permit businessmen to deduct from their income taxes the cost of new plant and equipment in a period 20 per cent shorter than that allowed under present regulations. That would allow businessmen to recover more of the cost of new machinery in the first year after it was purchased.

Associates of consumer advocate Ralph Nadar filed suit in federal court seeking to prohibit the tax changes from taking effect on the grounds that the Treasury did not hold a hearing in advance.

The Treasury insisted, however, that the department had planned to hold a hearing all along and that plans were not changed as a result of the legal action.

before the world and then the stance of each country towards world peace would be exposed.

Israeli Foreign minister Abba Eban, faced with the possibility of a Security Council meeting which Israel does not want, conferred today with the British, French and Belgian ambassadors on "current matters," the Foreign Ministry announced in Jerusalem.

Purpose of the meeting was not disclosed but all are members of the Security Council and reports from Cairo indicated Egypt wanted the Security Council to frame new guidelines for Jarring's mission. Israel has said it strongly opposes such a meeting and any attempt to change Jarring's mandate.

France, in the first Western reaction to the Egyptian proposals, said Riad had outlined "a concrete plan of negotiation" and that "the conclusion has been reached that obstacles standing in the road to peace can and must be eliminated."

French government officials said Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann in his talks with Riad insisted on the importance of providing the guarantees required by Israel, including guaranteed frontiers, while meeting Arab demands for withdrawal from captured territories.

Podgorny arrived in Cairo for a seven-day official visit to Egypt and a visit to the Aswan Dam which will be inaugurated Friday. He was met at the airport by Sadat and they drove into Cairo for talks beginning at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. EST).

In an airport statement Podgorny said his talks would deal with the current situation in the Middle East and expressed hope his visit would serve "to strengthen and develop friendship and full cooperation between the Egyptian and Soviet peoples."

Los Angeles Does Not Want Angela

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to oppose the transfer of the Angela Y. Davis-Ruchell Magee trial from Marin to Los Angeles.

Board Chairman Warren Dorn said the trial of the pair, charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in connection with the Aug. 7 shoot-out at the Civic Center, would be a great tax burden to Los Angeles.

The supervisors' stand came in response to reports that Miss Davis's defense attorneys might ask to have her trial in a city other than San Rafael because of pretrial publicity.

Meanwhile, in New York, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called for a fair trial for Miss Davis, asserting that there is an "obvious effort to deny the presumption of innocence and thereby convict Miss Angela Davis of murder."

A resolution adopted at the board of directors' quarterly meeting also emphasized that the NAACP's "long history demonstrates that we do not share Miss Davis's adherence to that Communist political group."

The NAACP officials also said "we abhor. . .the misguided efforts of a few among us. . .to use violence to secure their political or social goals."

taken so that authorities there will be forced to stop their aggressive operations."

An official spokesman said six civilians were killed Tuesday by guerrilla rocket fire in North Jordan after the ceasefire was called and that a member of the Jordanian security force was wounded in today's bomb attack on the police car, the sixth day of violence.

Shops in the Faisal Street sector where the explosion occurred shuttered their doors and security forces surrounded the area in search of the youth. A few hours later youths, called "hireling intriguers" by the government, fired rifles in the downtown area in an attempt to force shopowners to close up.

A ranking Palestinian leader said this morning "fighting commandos" will ensure the failure of peace overtures in Jordan unless they received watertight guarantees the government will hold its fire. He said the government broke previous cease-fires and "why should it be different now."

Jordan was torn by civil war last September and there have been many outbreaks since then between the guerrillas and the Jordan army. The guerrillas say the army is trying to wipe out their movement. The army contends the guerrillas are trying to take over the government and oust King Hussein.

The Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine —the group which carried out last fall's mass airplane hijackings—promised to "open fire on the Jordanian Fascist regime on as large a scale as possible" to force it to withdraw.

The Iraq news agency quoted unconfirmed reports in Baghdad that the Palestinian organizations had called for the overthrow of Hussein and the establishment of a national democratic regime.

Tiburon Hearing On Annexation

A meeting on Tiburon's bid to annex the Bel Aire-Eagle Rock areas north of Tiburon Boulevard will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room of Bel Aire School, Karen Way.

City councilmen and members of the city staff will be present to answer residents' questions concerning the annexation proposal.

The annexation was approved last September by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, but final approval must come from a majority of the voters both in the area to be annexed and in Tiburon.

KIDNAP

Federal prison at Danbury, Conn., for their part in draft board raids in Maryland.

Among the 22 separate overt acts listed in the indictment was that Philip Berrigan and Rev. Joseph Reese Wenderoth, 35, of Baltimore, entered underground tunnels in Washington about April 1, 1970. The grand jury said Wenderoth was reported to have discussed the Washington tunnel system with an engineer employed by the General Services Administration.

The indictment indicated there had been a long series of visits and written communications by which Berrigan allegedly directed the plot from his jail cell.

In addition to Berrigan and Wenderoth, the grand jury also indicted: Sister Elizabeth McAlister, 31, of Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Rev. Neil Raymond McLaughlin, 30, of Baltimore; Anthony Scoblick, 30, a former priest, of Baltimore; and Eqbal Ahmad, 39, a fellow at the Adlai Stevenson Institute of Public Affairs in Chicago. Ahmad is a native of Pakistan, and friends said he does not have U.S. citizenship.

The six were accused of conspiring to use dynamite, "plastic explosives," and other devices to be detonated in approximately five locations "in order to render inoperative the heating systems in government buildings of the United States," the indictment said.

Washington's Birthday is generally recognized as Feb. 22, but under a new federal law will be celebrated on Feb. 15 this year. A Justice Department spokesman said it was not known which date was the target for the alleged plot.

The six accused were charged with conspiring to maliciously damage and destroy by means of explosives government personnel and property.

They were accused of conspiring to possess explosives which had not been registered as required by federal law.

They also were accused of conspiracy to transport the explosives in interstate commerce with the knowledge and intent that they would be used to damage and destroy real and personal property.

Another count charged them with conspiring to unlawfully kidnap and transport in interstate commerce a person for ransom, reward or otherwise.

The Justice Department said that in addition to the maximum life sentence for conspiracy to kidnap, the accused could face five years and $10,000 if convicted on the charges that they plotted to blow up federal property and 10 years and $10,000 or both for transportation and possession of explosives.

In addition Sister McAlister and Philip Berrigan could be sentenced to 10 years on each of five counts of conspiring to illegally communicate with a federal prisoner to plan an illegal conspiracy.

Initial reaction to the alleged plot was guarded. Many of the friends and relatives of those charged expressed shock, and some said they felt politics was involved.

Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., who befriended the Berrigans and criticized Hoover for his testimony against them, said he welcomed the judicial inquiry because the matter "has finally been removed from the trial-by-headline arena." He withheld comment on the merits of the indictment, however.

In addition to Daniel Berrigan, named as coconspirators were Sister Beverly Bell, 43, of Washington; Sister Marjorie A. Shuman, 47, of Washington; William Davidon, 43, a professor at Haverford College in Haverford, PA.; Thomas Davidson, 25, of Washington; Paul Mayer, 39, a former priest of Edgewater, N.J., and Sister Joques Egan, 52, of New York City.

'Rap' On For Marin Youth

Marin County Youth Commission will hold a public "rap session" at 7 p.m. today in the faculty dining hall of San Rafael High School to hear both the gripes and ideas of San Rafael youth.

The youth commission, whose purpose is to help identify problem areas and make recommendations to the board of supervisors, is also trying to organize new youth programs in Marin communities.

Chairman Paul Cohen of Mill Valley said that San Rafael adults will also be welcome at the meeting.

Pleads Innocent

Stephen Kent Solon, 26, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of stealing a car in Mill Valley last Thursday. Preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 19.

Burglary Case To Probation Department

The case of Robert Karry Campbell, 18, of Petaluma, has been referred to the probation department for a report Jan. 25 on whether it is acceptable to Marin Juvenile Court.

He is charged with burglarizing an Inverness residence Dec. 9.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Charge

Jon Theodore Kilpatrick, 26, of Fairfax, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a San Anselmo variety store Dec. 18.

Trial was set for the week of March 8.

OBITUARIES

Long-Time Sausalitan Dies At 92

Funeral for Emma J. Young, a resident of Sausalito for more than 65 years, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Inurnment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Young died Monday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. She was 92.

She was born in Santa Clara and reared in San Francisco. In 1902 she moved to Sausalito and three years later married Thomas Young, a Sausalito businessman. They lived at 30 Princess Street. Young died in 1929.

Mrs. Young was a member of Sea Point Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Sausalito, and Tamalpais Temple 129, Pythian Sisters, San Rafael. She is survived by two daughters, Helen Young Nightingale of South Iran and Louise Young Graefe of Corte Madera; two sons, Allyn T. Young of Corte Madera and David G. Young of San Rafael; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Sea Point Parlor of the Native Daughters will conduct a memorial service for Mrs. Young tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Friends may call tomorrow afternoon and evening at the mortuary.

Employees Of PT&T In Walkout

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph maintenance men and installers staged a three-hour walkout in Sonoma County yesterday to protest suspension of an employee who refused an overtime assignment.

Richard Brown, Petaluma manager for PT&T, said 60 men failed to report for work yesterday morning, but that all had returned by 11 a.m.

He said company representatives would meet with union officials to settle the dispute. The walkout affected company offices in Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Healdsburg and Guerneville, but Brown described the effect on customer phone service as minimal.

The workers said they were protesting the suspension of Robert Dallas of Petaluma, who refused an overtime assignment last Tuesday. Union officials said the company had been requiring large amounts of overtime work and calling it "emergency" duty to force the work.

The employees are members of the Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Local 9403.

LOUIS LUNDGREN

Private funeral for Louis B. Lundgren, 83, brother of Niles C. Lundgren of San Rafael, was held Monday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Inurnment was in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Lundgren, a retired auditor for Tidewater Associated Oil Co., died Thursday in his San Francisco hotel room after a short illness.

A native of Rhode Island, he had lived most of his life in California, residing in San Rafael around 1930.

He was a member of the San Rafael lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows.

IRENE DWIGHT

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, for Irene Dwight of San Rafael, who died Monday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 39.

Mrs. Dwight, a native of Wisconsin, is survived by her husband Roger, who is employed at Lucas Valley Dairy. The Dwights came to the Bay Area nine years ago and lived at 167 Novato Street, Apt. 1, San Rafael.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three children, David, Michael and Jody Dwight.

Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

MRS. McCARTHY

Private funeral was held today for Cecil Moore McCarthy, 70, of 90 Fairway Drive, Novato, at the Redwood Chapel Funeral home, Novato.

Mrs. McCarthy, widow of Army Col. Leo J. McCarthy, died Friday at a local hospital after a long illness. A native of Louisville, Ky., she had been a resident of Marin for nine years and of California 28 years.

She had no immediate relatives.

Burial was at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

West Marin Residents Await Improvements In Water System

Point Reyes Station and Inverness Park residents, plagued by murky, smelly water and in some instances lack of water, are nearing the end of their water worries.

The North Marin County Water District is on the verge of taking over the two private companies, Point Reyes and Inverness Park water companies, that serve the area.

There is an adequate water supply from Papermill Creek to serve the consumers, 66 in Inverness Park and about 200 in Point Reyes Station, but the system has been inadequate, reported Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill.

The district, awaiting state Public Utilities Commission approval to take over the water systems, is set to construct a reliable system, Churchill said.

Residents of the Inverness, Inverness Park, Point Reyes Station and Olema areas, once proposed for annexation to the Marin Municipal Water District under a countywide split-up between the two districts, voted in 1967 to join the North Marin District.

The first step will be to install a "flood-proof" 60-foot deep well along Papermill Creek near Point Reyes Station, Churchill explained.

There was a water stoppage for four days last January because flooding clogged the "shallow wells' at the edge of the creek, Churchill said.

The two water systems will be supplied from the same source, Papermill Creek, with the Inverness Park water source — a spring and a well — to be abandoned.

In Inverness Park there has been water contamination "from houses above on septic tanks," Churchill said.

The district's plan for improvements in the systems calls for:

Doubling the capacity of the redwood water storage tank from 100,000 to 200,000 gallons.

Additional transmission lines from the well to the storage reservoir, and a pump station at the well.

A new transmission line, six and eight inches, to the business area of Point Reyes Station, and installation of six fire hydrants in the downtown sector.

Automatic chlorination and carbon filtering that would remove bacteria and provide "expected seasonal taste and odor and enhance the quality of the water."

A new transmission line to connect the Inverness Park system and a booster pump station there.

There also will be "some replacement" of distribution lines in downtown Point Reyes Station and a "loop line" to the proposed Coast Guard housing project there, Churchill said.

For an emergency water source in dry spells, the district hopes to obtain water from the Marin Municipal Water District's reservoir at Lake Nicasio, Churchill said.

"We have discussed release of 150 acre feet a year," he reported.

Water released at Nicasio Dam could be carried through the creek to the well site at Point Reyes Station.

After the initial improvements are made, there will have to be replacement and improvement of the existing distribution system, Churchill said. "The first thing we want to get now, is to get the system reliable."

As the West Marin area develops there would have to be additional sources of water sought, he observed. Among the possibilities are the Frick Canyon reservoir, east of Marshall, Walker Creek and Millerton Creek, but the "most appealing" is water from the Russian River aqueduct, Churchill commented.

The district can take over operation of the two private water companies without adding any personnel, Churchill commented.

James J. Downey of San Francisco, owner of the two private firms, and the district have reached an agreement on the transfer, but the switchover is subject to approval of the Public Utilities Commission, which will set the price.

Churchill had expected PUC approval of the changeover by yesterday, but said that there would be a delay, since the PUC staff is seeking a hearing on the matter to make sure the transfer to the North Marin District is carried out smoothly. The district, however, thinks there is no need for the hearing and has petitioned to waive it.

The district wants to take over operation before ar possible flooding, Churcl said.

The project, estimated to cost $238,000, including an approximate $93,000 for acquisition of the two companies, will be financed by a $250,000 bond measure approved by voters in the improvement district in November.

Tennis Men Offer Help For Lighting

Three members of a Marinwood tennis club have told the community parks and recreation commission they would help install tennis court lighting if the commission would pay for materials.

William A. Gordon, recreation director, said the offer, aimed at reducing the cost of lighting the community's two courts, came from representatives of the Marinwood Men's Tennis Club.

Gordon said the commission will consider the offer at its Feb. 8 meeting when bids are opened for the project.

During its February meeting, the commission also will consider whether to proceed with building a third tennis court adjacent to the others at the community park on Miller Creek Road, Gordon said.

About $7,000 was budgeted last year for the new court, he said, and the commission is now seeking cost estimates for construction.

Guilty Pleas In Pot Case

Patricia Maryann O'Neill and Lawrence David Johnson, both 22 and from San Rafael, have pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing marijuana.

They had earlier pleaded innocent to the charge as well as to charges of possessing marijuana for sale and using marijuana. The latter charges were dismissed by Judge E. Warren McGuire yesterday at the request of the district attorney's office.

Sentencing of the pair was set for March 8.

Innocent Plea To Pot Charge

Gregg P. Stacey, 22, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing marijuana and possessing marijuana for sale.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set trial for the week of April 12.

Stacey was arrested after Sausalito police stopped his car Nov. 17 for a traffic violation and found four kilos of suspected pot in the car.

Probation Given In Burglary Case

Dolores Marie Burke, 27, of Fairfax, hes been placed on two years' probation in Marin Superior Court for her part in the burglary of a San Anselmo home July 5.

Judge E. Warren McGuire continued until next Monday sentencing of Stephen Robert Carrino, who pleaded guilty along with Mrs. Burke to the San Anselmo burglary, as well as to a San Rafael burglary last September.

Tamalpais Fire Chief Gets Change

The Duties of the chief of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District have been changed by district directors, who also voted to reduce the chief's hours of duty per week and monthly salary.

According to Secretary Bernard Lenhart, the directors — acting on the request of chief Richard K. Oswald — agreed to make the chief responsible for keeping the district's trucks and other equipment in good repair.

In the future most of the district's paperwork will be handled by Lt. William Canlett, who was promoted to acting fire captain by the board. Canlett, whose salary will be $1,025 a month, will work under Oswald's direction, Lenhart said.

From now on Chief Oswald will work seven 24-hour periods every two weeks, instead of daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., the secretary said, and will be paid $1,200 a month, rather than the $1,350 he has received

The Tamalpais Fire Protective District board also:

OFFICERS — Elected Byron O. Boulware board president, Carl H. Modell as board treasurer and retained Lenhart as secretary.

ATTORNEY — Voted to retain Harold B. Hyde of the San Rafael law firm of Smallman and Robbins as the district's attorney to replace Robert Smallman, who was elected to the Marin Municipal Court bench in November.

SALARY HIKE — Agreed to increase the salary of the district's secretary bookkeeper, Alma Van Asperen, from $480 to $500 a month.

WOUNDED BY SPEAR

Wounded by a skin diving spear while 70 miles out at sea, Ed Garcia is transferred from a Coast Guard helicopter to a waiting ambulance in Long Beach. Garcia told doctors yesterday that the explosives-charged spear gun went off as he handled it. Doctors removed the spear, treated Garcia's wound and then released him.

$250,000 Tab For Fair Plans

Marin County Supervisors voted yesterday to spend nearly $250,000 to add seats to the Veterans Memorial Auditorium and landscape the auditorium grounds in preparation for the 1971 Marin Art and Garden Fair.

The board also voted general approval to plans presented for the fair by its manager, Marcelle McCoy and Thomas F. Campanella, assistant county administrator. This year, the four-day fair will run from Oct. 8 through Oct. 11, instead of the July 4 holiday it occupied during its years at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Supervisors also voted to support the Redwood Empire Association in its battle to keep the state from combining all existing Marin and Sonoma County fairs into one annual event in Santa Rosa.

California's Little Hoover Commission has announced that it will hold a hearing at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 11 in the Santa Rosa Veterans Memorial Building on proposals to consolidate the existing 76 county and agricultural district fairs held each year into only 38 fairs.

The Western Fairs Association warned the Marin Supervisors yesterday the state proposal would wipe out nine of the Redwood Empire's 12 fairs, including Marin, and give the state control over the remainder.

The auditorium spending included $65,732 for completing the seating capacity to 2,100 spectators; landscaping the grounds for $91,152, and turfing, installing water lines and other facilities on the 80-acre fairgrounds for the 1971 fair, at predicted costs of $92,320.

Supervisor Atnold M. Baptiste voted against the auditorium landscaping, arguing it was not immediately needed.

Bulk of the funds committed by the board's votes was previously budgeted for the project. The remainder came from county salary savings from jobs budgeted but unfilled, or from unspent general welfare funds.

Campanella and Mrs. McCoy said the fair will make use of the auditorium theater for performances by ballet, choral and other groups, as well as for films if the fair can lease or buy a suitable movie projector.

Elsewhere in the auditorium will be art and photography competition exhibits, floral displays and tropical gardens.

More gardens, craft exhibits, educational displays and commercial exhibits plus a children's carnival will be outside the building.

The supervisors expressed concern over the fair's plans to use commercial caterers rather than the usual food booths run by nonprofit organizations. Campanella and Mrs. McCoy explained that the lack of sanitary facilities may prevent the nonprofit booths from operating. They agreed that efforts would be made to arrange for the benefit booths rather than commercial food suppliers.

New York To Consider Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—New York voters will have an opportunity in November to decide whether the state should reduce the legal voting age from 21 to 18 in state and local elections.

The state legislature, on its first full working day Monday gave final approval to a proposed constitutional amendment reducing the voting age.

If it becomes effective, about one million persons in the 18, 19 and 20 year old age bracket will be added to the voting rolls in the state. The 18 to 21 year olds were given the right to vote in federal elections by Congress last year, and some already have begun registering.

Merger Session

The Mill Valley City Council will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at city hall with members of the city fire department adn volunteer firemen to discuss possible merger of four fire districts in Southern Marin.

Bombed Courtroom Repair: $142,835

The cost of repairing a Hall of Justice courtroom and restroom, heavily damaged by a bomb on Oct. 8, yesterday was estimated at $142,835 by Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce.

This figure does not include furniture which may have to be replaced, he told the board of supervisors.

Earlier estimates of the cost of the damage ranged as high as $250,000.

The supervisors authorized architect Aaron G. Green to draw up plans and specifications for the work. Bruce estimated that putting the job out to bid and completing construction will take at least five months.

The supervisors yesterday also authorized calling for bids to complete an unfinished courtroom in the Hall of Justice to bring the number of courtrooms to 10. It was estimated that finishing the room will cost about $70,000.

Supervisors decided that money could be saved by repairing the bomb damage and completing the unfinished room, which is next door to the bombed courtroom, at the same time.

The supervisors yesterday also scheduled a public hearing for review of security measures at the Civic Center which have been instituted in the wake of the bombing and the August shoot-out.

The hearing will be at 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday in the supervisors' chambers of the administration building.

A group of county employees is expected to ask that body searches be halted and that the Civic Center be reopened at night and on weekends.

Mitchell Denies Intervening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John Mitchell has denied he ever intervened to prevent the filing of a criminal complaint against General Motors Corp. for polluting the Hudson River in New York.

In a statement issued by Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, Mitchell denied ever having any discussions or communications concerning the case with anyone representing General Motors.

The Justice Department filed a civil suit against G.M. Dec. 15 to halt the discharge of industrial waste into the Hudson River by the company's assembly plant at Tarrytown, N.Y. A consent judgment was entered Jan. 9 after G.M. agreed to stop the pollution.

The New York Daily News had reported that Mitchell interceded to kill criminal charges against General Motors. "These statements are wholly and categorically false," Kleindienst said.

Mailliard Paints Bleak Picture On Public Health

The nationwide cost in public health and welfare will keep increasing, with no relief in sight, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, told the Marin County Board of Supervisors at a luncheon yesterday.

The welfare program, with complicated formulas for federal, state and local participation, is a monster that is getting out of hand, warned Mailliard. "The costs are going to be absolutely unbearable, and we've only seen the beginnings," he said.

He said the main problem is that reducing welfare cost is politically unfeasible. "Personally, I'd like to do away with all categorical aid, such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, etc., but I'm a realist. It's hard to turn your back on the blind and the other dependents."

Supervisor chairman Louis H. Baar explained that increasing welfare costs, mandated by the state and federal governments, is creating a tremendous load on the county. He asked if the Congressman could see any relief.

"I see no relief in the near future," replied Mailliard. "Any change that's going to be politically feasible is going to increase the total cost."

The supervisors lunched with Mailliard at West End Villa to probe for ways to cut county costs but found little help.

Mailliard did promise to investigate a complaint lodged by Supervisor John F. McInnis and Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella that federal legislation allows authority over government business to be transferred from counties to regional groups that are run by nonelected citizens.

They gave the Bay Regional Comprehensive Health Planning Council as an example. "The Comprehensive Health Planning Council has appointed nonelected people with absolute authority on everything," said McInnis. "It's beyond belief." He said the council is able to get federal grants without approval from the Association of Bay Area Governments or from any elected official.

Mailliard asked for a detailed report so that he could investigate.

Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows complained that federal funds from such sources as the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Land and Water Conservation Fund do not arrive as promised.

Mailliard replied that delay in funding is a common failing. His district representative, Marion Otsea, reported that the HUD office in San Francisco has more than 150 applications already approved for which there is no money.

Action On Auditing Is Praised

A random sampling method of auditing welfare payments proposed by the state could have cost Marin County over $100,000, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told the board of supervisors yesterday.

When state auditors attempted to use a random check of the payments in Marin last July, county officials stopped them with a court action.

Mitchell said yesterday that the random sampling method had been used in Yuba County where auditors checked 49 welfare cases, finding a total overpayment of $47. By using this figure to compute supposed errors in all Yuba County welfare payments, state officials figured that under a reimbursement requirement, the county owed the state $30,900.

"The action your board took in stopping the random sampling audit was very, very proper," Mitchell concluded.

In Marin, if state auditors find errors in welfare payments, only the exact amount of the error is deducted from state and federal reimbursement.

County May Join Suit On Medi-Cal

Marin County may join Sacramento and San Mateo counties in a class suit against the State of California that seeks to reverse cuts in the state's Medi-Cal program payments.

The board of supervisors yesterday instructed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to study the problem and recommend to the board whether Marin should join the suit as "friend of the court," rather than as a full-scale litigant.

The decision followed a letter from Timothy J. Egan, administrator of the Rafael Convalescent Hospital at 234 North San Pedro Road. Egan said his facility cannot operate under the state-imposed 10 per cent cut across the board. He also protested orders to shift 35 per cent of the Medi-Cal patients to a less expensive type of care.

Egan declared that the result would be more expense to Marin County, "the statements to the contrary by the state notwithstanding."

Sacramento County on Monday and San Mateo County yesterday decided to sue the state to reverse the cuts ordered by the Department of Health Care Services.

Marin's board yesterday unanimously adopted a four-point policy covering joining the suit, refusing to absorb any state cuts, requesting the Regional Comprehensive Health Planning Council to plan "major changes" in the private health care field, and seeking changes in federal law to permit the regional council to act on the health care revisions.

Marin Board of Supervisors also:

MERRYDALE ROAD — Postponed to budget discussion time a Las Gallinas Valley Council request for extending the road to Los Ranchitos Road. Public Works Director Donald Frost reported it would cost $75,000 to $100,000 and said other work in the area should have higher priority.

HIKING — After hearing Joan Sestak, chairman of the Larkspur Town Hall, request help in preserving access over private property to Mount Tamalpais hiking trails, passed the matter to the county counsel and the parks and recreation department for any help possible "at no cost to the county."

FLOATING HOME — Granted Leroy Greenberg 30 days to repair and remove a houseboat resting in Richardson Bay. The board also instructed the county counsel's office to try to prosecute the boat's former owner, Robert Weber, for selling the craft to Greenberg without informing him of the county code violation involved.

SUBSTATION — Approved revised plans for a proposed Marin City police and fire substation, trimming the costs to the $94,000 budgeted by eliminating one of three fire truck bays. The bay can easily be added later, the board was told.

AWARD — Adopted a resolution commending San Anselmo service station attendent John W. Gasser for being named "citizen of the year" by the Marin Peace Officers Association.

PLANNING — Denied on a 3-2 vote (four yes votes were required) a planning department proposal to transfer $8,500 from reserves to speed work on the county's housing survey, in expectation of getting a $10,000 federal Title 701 planning grant. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell complained that the county is still waiting for some $140,000 in previously pledged planning funds. County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo supported the fund request, but Supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar voted "no."

BOOKLET — Authorized another $500 outlay to the League of Women Voters to print 5,000 copies of the "Your County Marin" booklet. Last June the supervisors budgeted $1,300 for the booklets, but the league reported that printing costs have risen.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY — Authorized hiring of another deputy district attorney at a cost of about $6,000 for the rest of this fiscal year. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued he urgently needed two more deputies to handle the increase in workload.

Pair Names Members To GOP Panel

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin's two state legislators yesterday announced their appointments to the State Republican Central Committee.

As their party's successful legislative candidates, Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. Peter H. Behr, both R-San Rafael, are entitled to appoint eight persons to the state committee. Each appointed four from Marin, all of them active in local party affairs.

Bagley appointed Norman Watts of San Anselmo, Sally Rakow of Ross, Elizabeth Rowen of San Rafael and Dr. W. James Dawson of Greenbrae.

Behr appointed Leland H. Jordan and Edwin Thomas of San Rafael, Mrs. William Spencer of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Benton Mathews of Belvedere. Jordan was chairman of Behr's campaign, and Thomas is assistant cabinet secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Behr also appointed four from Napa and Solano counties, including Donald F. Pinkerton of Fairfield, one of his three opponents in the June primary for the Senate seat.

Bagley's four other appointments ranged from Los Angeles to Washington, and included John G. Veneman, undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He also appointed Loy A. Dickinson of Palos Verdes, former party chairman in Sonoma County.

FPC Asked For Gas Imports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Pacific Gas Transmission Company said Tuesday it had asked the Federal Power Commission for permission to import an additional 200 million cubic feet of natural gas per day from Canada.

Pacific Gas & Eelectric Company would take delivery at the Oregon-California border and distribute it in Northern and Central California.

If the application is approved, PG&E would take delivery of an average of 1,180 million cubic feet daily.

New Try On Death Penalty

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A new try at abolishing the death penalty in California has been proposed in legislation coauthored by 21 Democratic assemblymen.

The bill, AB 13 introduced by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, would substitute life imprisonment for the death penalty. The bill did not specify whether the substituted life imprisonment would be with or without possibility of parole.

Convicts are eligible for parole after serving seven years of a life sentence, unless their sentences were without possibility of parole. Governors, however, often commute life sentences to allow parole.

The bill also would commute to life imprisonment death sentences previously imposed but not executed.

Similar bills have been introduced for many years in the Legislature, but always have lost because of opposition from advocates of the death penalty.

Ninety-four convicts are on San Quentin Prison's Death Row awaiting decision by U.S. Supreme Court in death penalty cases.

Louise Boyd's Furniture To Be Auctioned

Furnishings in Louise A. Boyd's San Francisco apartment will be sold at auction next week in San Francisco.

The furniture includes 18th Century English and French furniture and decorations, including a Louis XV chair and a Georgian mirror, said Ralph Norling of Butterfield and Butterfield, auctioneers.

Miss Boyd, famed Arctic explorer from San Rafael, has closed her apartment and retired to a San Francisco convalescent home as a result of an operation, Norling said.

The public may view items to be auctioned Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 1 to 5 p.m. The sale will be held Monday and Tuesday starting at 1 p.m. and Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Sign Approved; Ruled As Expection To The Rule

The San Rafael Planning Commission approved last night a small off-site directional sign for the Glass and Sash Co. entrance at 753 Second Street.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner said that although the sign request conflicted with proposed new sign regualtions which preclude all off-site signs, the Glass and Sash sign was a legitimate exception to the rule.

Since Highway 101 off-ramps and road locations were changed during recent highway construction, the glass company was no longer visible from Second Street, the access road, he said.

On-site signs, in this case, Hotchner said, would not be as effective as an off-site sign. He recommended a variance for an off-site sign be granted.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

HOUSING — Recommended the general city plan contain provision for future low and moderate cost housing and set a hearing on the matter for Feb. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

ANNEXATION — Recommended the city annex the San Pedro school area to provide structural fire protection and city police protection and requested the city council discuss this at their next meeting.

SUBDIVISION — Conditionally approved the subdivision of four lots at 141 through 151 Clark Street and 132 Reservoir Road.

USE PERMITS — Granted the request of Augusta Drago of 120 Park Street to construct two buildings to contain 20 units on condition that a proposed balcony be more than two feet from the sidewalk, the colors be earth tones and the landscaping be consistent with the area.

SIGN — Approved for six months a for-sale sign on the property of Columba Lancelotti at the end of De Anza Way even though the sign does not conform to the present minimum of four square feet for temporary real estate signs.

STRUCTURES — Approved tilt-up concrete walls for a Tire Service Center on 1001 Irwin Street owned by William McDevitt Co. on condition that the exposed aggregate for the panels that are visible from Fourth and Irwin streets be appropriate earthtone colors and not the proposed gray which would give building a factory appearance. Approval is subject to the planning director's re-evaluations.

OFFICE — Said it would discuss proposed plans for an office building at 818 Fifth Avenue, owned by Robert H. Green, at the next meeting since the owner was not present.

APARTMENT — Approved plans for a 13-unit apartment for 310-312 Bayview Street owned by Horst Hanf and Ken Levy on condition that the plans be more precise.

SIGN — Denied an application of Charles K. Shalz, owner of a building at 915 Fourth Street, to erect a 64-square-foot sign on the building, as it exceeds the limits proposed for on-site signs.

The average farm household income today is $7,244 a year.

Four Marin Women Get State Posts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan has appointed four San Rafael women to state hospital advisory boards.

Mrs. Sally A. Ryan was appointed to the board at Sonoma State Hospital, and Mrs. Nell C. Tegeler and Mrs. Eleanor T. Rogers were appointed to the Napa State Hospital Advisory Board for the Mentally Retarded.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rowen was reappointed to the Napa State Hospital Advisory Board for the Mentally Disordered.

All four are Republicans. The board positions are nonsalaried.

Undersecretary Stays For Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Charls E. Walker, undersecretary of the Treasury, says he plans to stay in his present position at the request of President Nixon.

There had been speculation Walker, a former Texas economist, would leave the Treasury Department after former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, Treasury secretary designate, took over.

Walker told newsmen Monday that the President "asked me to stay and I said I'd be delighted."

Shorter Stints For English Next Fall

The San Rafael Board of Education last night lowered English and social science requirements for graduation from San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools.

Students are now required to take seven semesters of social science and six of English during their four years. Beginning next fall, they will only be required to have completed five semesters of social science and four of English in order to graduate.

There was also some discussion last night about lowering the number of semester hours needed for graduation from 220 to 200, the state minimum, but no action was taken on this proposal.

Trustee Carl J. Brown noted that the change in requirements will probably have no effect on college-bound youngsters as they will still have to meet subject requirements set up by colleges and universities.

The "flexibility" made possible by the change should only be the beginning in requirement changes, Trustee Lawrence E. I. Kramer Jr. said.

Supt. John F. Plank said course offerings would remain the same at the schools.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

PHYSICAL EDUCATION — Postponed to Feb. 9 discussion of a resolution requesting the Legislature to modify requirement for physical education so that local boards may or may not require it in the last two years of high school.

CUSTODIANS — Hired Edward Montpart as a custodian at Terra Linda High School at $6,324 a year and Ralph Strickland as substitute custodian at $3.04 an hour.

ADULT — Hired Don Lemaster, Jack Thompson, Reese Epstein, Byron North and George Pikkarainen as teachers in the adult education program at $8 an hour each.

LEAVES — Granted leaves for the semester to Angelo Douvos and Thomas Truchan, San Rafael High School social science teachers, so they may complete a world history text, "Man's Search for the Good Life."

RAISE — Raised the pay range of custodians with the additional cost $7,704 from July 1, 1970.

LUNCH — Heard a report from Flambert and Flambert, food consultants, describing ways the district could provide cold lunches for elementary students and decided to conduct a survey to see how many children and parents are interested.

ABSENT — Trustees Paul Jones and Herman L. Childress were absent.

San Rafael Attorney In Major Prison Reform Drive

Prisons are bad business because they do not rehabilitate and often destroy the offender rather than help him, San Rafael attorney Salle S. Soladay told members of the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday.

Mrs. Soladay, who recently helped organize a committee for prisoner humanity and justice which will hold a statewide convention in Marin in April, became interested in the plight of prisoners two years ago when she was appointed by the State Appellate Court to take the case of an indigent prisoner.

At present she is representing the parents of Fred Billingslea — who died in San Quentin last February — in a wrongful death claim which states he was "assaulted, choked, gassed and killed by guards." Mrs. Soladay is also representing seven San Quentin inmates who are suing prison authorities, charging their civil rights have been violated.

If our prisons do not prepare offenders to return to society as good citizens, Mrs. Soladay said, "It doesn't matter if we have the best police, the best district attorneys and courts in the world and unlimited money to spend. We will still lose, because it does not do any good to put 27,000 persons (the number in California prisons) behind bars, if they are not going to be rehabilitated."

Mrs. Soladay quoted Warren Burger, chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, saying that 65 per cent of those released from prisons return to jail in a short time. "Our prisons — at least the way they operate now — are a form of social pollution," she said, "because the system is simply not working."

One of the chief factors in the high rate of recidivism among prison parolees is the lack of relevant job training in prepration for a return to society, according to her. She said many persons on parole cannot get jobs or support themselves "because the kinds of jobs they are performing in prison are obsolete or irrelevant. When they get out, there is no demand for the things they have been trained to do."

At least one man in the audience objected to Mrs. Soladay's remarks. "Look at Spain," he said. "Under (Francisco) Franco, when men are thrown into prison, they are just forgotten; they just rot there. And there is no crime in Spain," he continued. "We have been too humane in this country already."

Trial Is Set In Drug Case

Thomas Keen Warner III, 27, of San Rafael, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

Trial was set for the week of March 1.

He was arrested Aug. 14 in San Rafael after an off-duty policeman noticed what appeared to be marijuana plants at a house next-door to one where the policeman was visiting.

Demos Heal Wound; Pick Cochairmen

A sharp split over the chairmanship of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee was smoothed over Monday night when both contenders were named as cochairmen.

Both Herbert G. Hawkins of San Rafael and Gordon W. Pusser of Corte Madera had sought the chairmanship, and backers of both chose the unusual compromise of a joint chairmanship to avoid a fight.

Former chairman S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito reportedly had sought reelection to a second two-year term, but found little support.

Committee members acknowledged that state law was silent on the legality of a joint chairmanship, and agreed that Hawkins would be designated chairman if necessary to satisfy legal requirements. But both men, in fact, will chair the committee, they stressed.

Their election came at an unannounced meeting at the Blue Rock Inn in Larkspur. The committee, by state law, had been called by the county clerk's office to a 3 p.m. meeting Monday in the Civic Center, but only one regular member showed up.

The single regular member, George Silvestri Jr., told the Independent-Journal at the meeting that it was the other members had agreed to meet instead that night.

In other business Monday night, the committee filled 11 vacancies on the 23-member committee. The seats were vacant because no one filed for them in the June primary election. None of the 12 incumbents was challenged in the primary, thus all were reelected automatically.

Elected to fill the vacancies were Harry W. Thomas, Margie N. Goodman and Muriel S. Appenzeller from the First Supervisorial District, Stewart N. Boxer and Ruth L. Lederman from the Second District, Charlotte Schiller and Helen Womack from the Third District, Peter E. Mitchell Jr., Charles Little and Richard C. Sloan from the Fourth District and Donald L. Loegering from the Fifth District.

Robert A. Mills of Belvedere was elected secretary and Michael Anthony of San Anselmo was reelected treasurer.

The committee also adopted resolutions praising Marin County Elections Officer Peter C. Meyer for his conduct of the 1970 elections and urged Marin members of the State Democratic Central Committee to vote for former Rep. George E. Brown Jr. of Los Angeles as state chairman.

The committee defeated a move to hike annual dues from $20 to $24.

Lunokhod Sleeps

MOSCOW (UPI) —Controllers of the Soviet Lunokhod moonmobile today took the vehicle on a 600 yard journey over the lunar surface and then closed it down for the two-day "lunar noon," Tass said.

Suicide Prevention Center Needs Funds

The Marin Suicide Prevention Center board has been told it can expect to move into its new headquarters in San Rafael by February.

However, board member Keith C. Craig said after Monday's meeting the center could not become operational until receipt of about $2,100 in donations.

Craig said about $2,500 is needed to purchase emergency telephones and recording equipment. The center has about $400, he said. Another membership drive would be started to gather the $2,100, he said.

The center last week received approval from the county board of supervisors to lease a portion of the county health clinic building at Fourth Street and Grand Avenue.

About 25 volunteers have been cleared for training to operate a round-the-clock telephone system, he said.

Craig said tax deductible donations may be sent to the Marin Association for Mental Health and should be marked for suicide prevention.

Man Missing From Boat

The Coast Guard was searching today for a 22-year-old San Rafael man missing from a small sailboat found today between the Tiburon peninsula and the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

Missing is Wallace Clark of 551 Tamarack Drive, according to the Coast Guard.

Clark, who set out from Paradise Cay about 11 p.m. last night, disappeared shortly afterward and two companions who had stayed ashore heard him calling for help, the Coast Guard said.

The boat, unoccupied, was found at 6 a.m. near the bridge.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

5:54 p.m., San Rafael — Overheated cooking oil on stove caused fire at home of Gilda V. Elias of 57 Valencia Street; damage estimated at $50.

6:25 p.m., Sausalito — Fire in wiring of car owned by Stanley McGinnis of 22 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera; minor damage.

SOUTHERN SONOMA YESTERDAY:

10:18 a.m., Petaluma — Responded to call on short in power line of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in alley behind Petaluma Boulevard North; no fire.

10:47 a.m. Petaluma — Overheated furnace at Harmony Music store, 43 Petaluma Boulevard North; caused by power failure; minor smoke damage.

Novato Volunteer Fireman Resigns

Louis Salmina of 1112 Fourth Street, Novato, has resigned from the Novato Volunteer Firemen after 33 years. Salmina is a driver for H. Pini and Co. of Novato.

Fire chief Jack Kidder reported that two men joined the group, Kyle A. Walker of 431 Sunset Parkway, and E. Raymond Dwelly of 38 Devonshire Drive.

William Bush Heads Real Estate Board

William J. Bush of San Rafael was installed last night as 1971 president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, succeeding W. Bruce Shafer of Sausalito.

Other officers installed at the association's installation dinner at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael were Donald A. Beacock of Larkspur, vice president; Kent O. Seymour of Mill Valley, secretary, and Mildred Vail of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Stephen Kramer, Paul Lea, John Reynolds and Harold Strauss, all of San Rafael, were installed as directors from District 1; William A. Lewis of Mill Valley and William M. Nelson Jr. of Tiburon, District 2; Virginia Russell of Novato, District 3, and Dorothy Oczkus of San Rafael and Joe Wright of Novato, at-large.

Catherine Munson was installed as president of the Marin chapter, Women's Council of National Association of Real Estate Boards, with Martha Lou Turner, vice president; Doris Green, secretary, and Gertrude Picchi, treasurer.

Lowell Black, regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association, was installing officer.

Two Artists In Library Exhibit

Approximately 40 paintings by two Marin artists are on exhibit until the end of the month at the San Rafael Library.

The artists are Fredi Adams of Kentfield and Thelma Maas of Tiburon.

Mrs. Adams, formerly of Portland, Ore., and Cape Cod, has shown extensively locally and on the East Coast. Mrs. Maas is a self-taught artist of seascapes.

Drake Students Going To Polls

Students at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo and Redwood High School in Larkspur will go to the polls this week and next to elect student body and class officers.

Balloting at Redwood High School began today and will continue through Friday for student body officers. Next week, students will vote Wednesday through Friday for class representatives.

Candidates at Redwood include Robert Gorman, a senior, who is running for every office up for election.

Gorman is reported to be making his multiple bid as a test of the school constitution, which states a student may not hold more than one office.

Besides Gorman, other students running for student body offices are John Wren, Steve Green, Kirk Pessner and Scott Winston, president; Marshall Lyons and Greg Hall, vice president; Joe Franaszek, secretary; Michael Jacobs, member at large, and Scott Sinnott and Irina De Fisher, finance commissioners.

At Sir Francis Drake High School, balloting for both student body and class officers will be Friday.

Student body candidates at Sir Francis Drake are Jon Herman and Steve Jensen, president; Channing May, vice president; Sue LaBelle and Helen Lestanguet, secretary, and Margo Eichhorn and Debbie Mueller, treasurer.

Candidates for senior class offices are Mike Bauman, president; Cap Purcell and John Schneider, vice president; Beth Bernes and Cory Caughie, secretary, and Amy Strand, treasurer.

Candidates for junior class offices are Tom Perry, president; Tammy Ball, Dorothy Gulick, Bea Kenny and Charles Swensen, vice president; Rachel Lavin and Sidney Painter, secretary, and Jana Fuller, Margaret Haecherl and Denise Hockley, treasurer.

Candidates for sophomore class offices are Sue Judkins, Shannon McCalla and Maggie Olson, president; Jeff Escabar, Terry Ferris and Lauren Keating, vice president; Marybeth Boerger and Cathy Cope, secretary, and Joni Arends, Cindy Crater and Cindy Wallen, treasurer.

Candidates for freshman class offices are Letha Gulick and Mark Irvine, president; Andrea Matheny, vice president; Sue Engels and Valarie Grasso, secretary, and Lani Adkins and Karen Christensen, treasurer.

Cove Apartments Due Discussions

Strawberry Cove's proposed apartment development will be the topic discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Panel members will be Paul J. Broman, the developer; Margaret Azevedo, of the Marin County Planning Commission; Supervisor Michael Wornum, whose district includes the cove, and William Rochester, co-chairman for the Save Strawverry Cove Committee.

Questions are invited for tomorrow's broadcast. The show will be rebroadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Loans To Students Called Bad

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Forcing young persons to take loans to get to college is bad for them, their hopes of marriage and the educational institutions, says the College Entrance Examination Board's president.

"It would teach them bad habits for one thing," Arland F. Christ-Janer told reporters Tuesday. "All they would have to do is declare bankruptcy in order to beat the system."

"If a male student with a debt falls in love and his sweetheart happens to have also gotten through college on loans, he'll have to decide if he wants to marry her mortgage as well."

Pointing out that loans would discourage alumni donations, he said: "If they're paying back a loan, I doubt that they would be able to make voluntary contributions or be an annual giver."

Christ-Janer's organization has established student aid criteria for some 1,500 institutions.

Closed Meeting Slated At Reed

The Reed School District board will hold a closed meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the faculty room of Bel Aire School to screen candidates for district superintendent.

Three finalists are being considered by the board to replace Supt. John Gaw, who resigned last summer. He was replaced temporarily by Marin County's deputy superintendent of schools, Stanley H. Friese, who was recalled to the county office Jan. 4.

The Most Expensive Transit Plan Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The most expensive of five plans to provide better commute service north of San Francisco was advocated Tuesday night by a Telegraph Hill Survival Association representative.

"The middle class has been fleeing San Francisco," representative Jim Morrezenti said. "We should encourage the middle class to stay. We don't want to accelerate the conditions where we have the very wealthy and the very poor only."

Morrezenti was speaking at a public hearing called by the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District which has the proposals for transportation north of the city.

"If we have to have this rapid transit, our choice is definitely No. 1," he added. "It will serve the most commuters and will disrupt the least of our community."

That plan involves a bus system with a subway under Geary and Post streets in downtown San Francisco, a second deck for the bridge and an exclusive right of way to Novato for a total cost of $987 million.

There have been 10 hearings so far and at those in Marin County, Sonoma and Ukiah speakers favored plan No. 3 which would cost $495 million and would be similar to No. 1 but involves a subway in San Francisco's North Beach area.

Gerald Cauthen, member of a citizens' committee that helped formulate the plans, declared that "many groups in San Francisco say that if San Francisco is going to have to pay for the system, there's got to be some benefit and No. 1 is the only one that offers any benefit to San Francisco."

He also noted that patronage by San Franciscans would be small compared to usage by Marin commuters and declared: "San Francisco's degree of financial support should also be correspondingly small."

Another speaker, Norman Rolfe of San Francisco, asserted that "one thing we are opposed to is anything that remotely smells of a second deck on the bridge."

Three of the plans suggest a second deck while the others call for an underwater tube between San Francisco and Sausalito.

The first paved Macadamized road in the U. S. was the Lancaster Turnpike between Philadelphia and Lancaster. It was built between 1790 and 1794.

GOP Figure Enters Plea To Stealing

SUNNYVALE (UPI) —A former treasurer of the California Republican Assembly is free on his own recognizance today after pleading innocent to a charge of stealing more than $10,000 from the organization.

Paul S. Casattas, 44, a Sunnyvale insurance man, entered the plea Tuesday before Municipal Judge William Fernandez. A preliminary hearing was set for Friday.

CRA president Dave Gater of Anaheim recently announced that at least $23,000 was missing from the treasury of the organization which backs conservative GOP candidates.

Police Lt. Hershel Golden said Casattas gave the CRA a statement last February showing there was $10,686 in the organization's account and the report was on the letterhead of a fictitious certified public accountant.

Authorities also charge that Casattas forged the names of other CRA officers on at least 43 checks made payable to himself.

The state of Alabama has increased fishing fees at public lakes from 50 cents to $1 a day.

I-J Negotiators, Union Team Meet

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Negotiators for the Independent-Journal have met with officials of striking San Francisco Typographical Union 21 for the first time since August.

Returning to the bargaining table Monday for the first time since Aug. 25, the union made a new offer to settle the year-old strike, according to William Clemens, a negotiator for the I-J.

Clemens, of the Western Newspaper Industrial Relations Bureau, declined to say what the union offered, but said the I-J made no counter proposal.

He said further defining of the union position must occur before a counter offer is made. No date has been set for another meeting, but Clemens said there would be one soon.

The Monday meeting was requested by the union although in August it "recessed meetings indefinitely" when it rejected an I-J offer, according to Clemens.

Attending the two-hour meeting as an observer with the union group was Rev. John S. Thornton of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Belvedere, Clemens said. Marin clergy have called for an end to the strike and offered to serve as mediators.

Jail Sentence In Burglary Case

Timothy Mark O'Brien, 19, of Corte Madera, has been sentenced to 45 days in Marin County Jail in Marin Superior Court for the burglary of a San Rafael residence March 5.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also placed O'Brien on two years' probation and ordered him to pay $580 restitution.

92 Cases Of Strep Reported

Ninety-two cases of streptococcus infections were reported last week to the Marin County Health Department, Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht said.

Hardest hit by the throat disease was Novato, where 44 cases were reported.

Other diseases reported included 20 cases of gonorrhea, 11 of infectious hepatitis and one of serum hepatitis.

VICTORY CELEBRATION

The Rev. Walter E. Fauntroy is shown celebrating his victory over six other Democratic candidates in a District of Columbia primary contest for nomination as non-voting delegate to Congress. Fauntroy, a former top aide to the late Martin Luther King, Jr., will face Republican John Nevius in the March election.

Reno Hit By Giant Snowstorm

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—One of the worst snowstorms in two decades hit northern Nevada today, closing schools, snarling traffic and closing down airports.

Strong winds caused drifting snow and poor visibility and at least one foot of snow dropped during the night.

A spokesman at the Washoe County sheriff's office said it was the worst storm since 1952.

Schools were shut down in Reno due to the weather. Blizzard conditions were reported in Ely and Elko.

Many roads leading in and out of Reno were closed due to the heavy snows. The Nevada Highway Patrol said numerous vehicles ran off the road last night between Reno and Carson City due to the slippery pavement and the strong winds which hit up to 45 miles per hour.

There were no major accidents.

Warrant Issued On Bad Check

A bench warrant has been issued in Marin Municipal Court for Marie C. Cummings, 30, of Sausalito, when she failed to appear for arraignment on a bad check charge.

Judge David Menary Jr. set bail on the warrant at $10,000.

She was arrested last Thursday when she attempted to cash a $200 check against insufficient funds at a Wells Fargo Bank in San Rafael.

Conversion Of Probert Property Into Specialty Center Outlined

A proposal to convert historic buildings on the old Probert property in Larkspur into a restaurant and specialty shop development was outlined last night to the city's planning commission.

Ralph Sommer, a partner in Sommer-Ryan Enterprises of Larkspur, described the proposal in support of a zoning change which was approved, 4-1, chairman Robert H. Lee against.

Sommer said he plans to convert the 94-year-old Probert home at 234 Magnolia Avenue into a quality restaurant, retaining its Victorian atmosphere.

Toyota auto agency buildings, now vacant at the site, will be remodeled into small shops featuring specialty merchandise such as antiques, boutiques and gifts, he said.

The colonial architecture of the buildings, originally the Sausalito Ferry Terminal buildings which were disassembled by car dealer Hil Probert in 1937 and rebuilt in Larkspur, will be retained, he explained.

More than $200,000 will be pumped into the project, which Sommer said he hopes to be complete by June.

Before last night's rezoning, the Probert property, split by the meandering Arroyo Holon Creek and spotted by 62 tall redwood trees had been in various commercial and residential designations. It is now designated as part commercial and residential, subject to city council approval.

The proposal brought objections from several neighbors of the property, including John D. Hooper of 214 Magnolia Avenue, who expressed concern that a residential buffer zone existing between his home and the old Probert home would be endangered.

Chairman Lee, in dissenting, asked for a delay for further study.

The Larkspur Planning Commission also:

VARIANCE — Denied a request for front and side yard variances from Howard L. Ross of 3 Heather Way for extension of his home.

OFFICERS — Unanimously reelected Lee as chairman and Joseph N. Picetti as vice chairman.

WATERWAYS — Reviewed but took no action on a proposed tidal waterways ordinance for controlling development of properties adjacent to Corte Madera Creek.

RECREATION — Recommended approval by the city council of an amendment to the city's general plan laying the basis for an ordinance requiring park dedication by subdivision developers.

Vocal Coaching Open At Hub Seminary

Soprano Elizabeth Cole, affiliate artist-in-residence at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, will conduct a free vocal-coaching class on Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Montgomery Chapel of the seminary at Bolinas and Richmond roads, San Anselmo.

Miss Cole, faculty member of the University of Hawaii voice department, will be in residence at the seminary from Jan. 13 to 25. The coaching and repertoire evening is open to anyone wishing to have critical appraisal, professional evaluation of style and presentation and discussion of repertoire.

Man Gets Two Death Sentences

SAN LUIS OBISPO (UPI)—John Gray Archa, 26, formally received two death sentences and a sentence to life in prison Monday for the murder of Ronald Barnes, 26, Barnes' wife, Betty, 23, and their daughter, Shelly, 4.

Superior Court Judge Timothy I. O'Reilly followed the recommendation of the jury which convicted Archa. He also denied defense motions for a new trial.

The death sentences were ordered for the fatal stabbing of Betty and the drowning of Shelly.

The life term was ordered for the knifing of Barnes, allegedly during an argument over a $2,000 electric guitar.

Creek Development Plans Sidetracked

Still smarting from city council reversal of an earlier decision, the Larkspur Planning Commission last night refused to consider the design of four proposed apartment developments along Corte Madera Creek.

Action on the projects was delayed to give the commission time "to reconsider what it can and can't do on the creek," as Commissioner Leonard S. Rubin put it.

The action followed a searing attack by one commissioner on the city council for its reversal last Wednesday of a commission decision not to allow developer Neils J. Schultz Jr., to proceed with developing a three-story apartment building along the creek.

The commissioner, Charles Curley, led off by expressing his convern over the relationship between the commission and the city council.

Last year, he said, on two basic planning commission decisions concerning the development of the creek — unanimous votes for a building ban and employment on a consultant — the commission was overruled by the council.

"I understand at the last meeting," he continued, "the applicant (Schultz) was given an hour to present his appeal. The city council, however, did not have the courtesy to invite the planning commission to make a presentation of its position (upon which Schultz based his appeal)."

Curley's complaint was preceded with an observation by Commissioner Rubin that what the commission feared would happen to the creek (massive development) when it asked for the building moratorium in September is now occurring.

"Since the middle of last year we have made an attempt at progressive planning for Corte Madera Creek," Rubin said. "Now we are in the middle of what we thought would happen," he added, with an increasing number of applicants seeking approval of developments.

His motion to continue the entire agenda to another meeting was modified, after lengthy discussion, to include only those matters concerning the creek.

Of the four applications for architectural review, two were submitted by Schultz. One called for a 10-unit apartment building adjacent to that approved last week and the other called for a 28-unit apartment building stretched across three lots at 401 through 451 South Eliseo Drive.

The smaller development, along with two others, was continued to the Jan. 26 meeting. The larger, at Schultz's request, was continued to the Feb. 9 meeting, since the developer indicated it may be again modified by him.

Over the objection of Chairman Robert H. Lee, who said he could not see what would be accomplished by holding a special meeting to consider the creek question, a session on the entire creek issue was set for Jan. 21.

"We have to talk of establishing development criteria which has never been done," Rubin said, adding that the commission has concentrated on rules and regulations. "We owe something to the people of Larkspur to correct the error of the distant past," he added, referring to the creek's varied zoning.

Schultz's Billboards Still Remain

Larkspur's last two billboards, owned by developer Neils J. Schultz Jr., are still in place overlooking Highway 101 and may remain for some time, the city's planning commission was told last night.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst told the commission that the city council last week stood by the commission's decision that the signs should be taken down but failed to declare them a public nuisance.

With legal action over sign removal almost a certainty, Bathurst said, the city is proceeding with caution to insure its abatement procedures allow no legal loopholes. Thus, Schultz will now be served with a "show cause" summons from the city council as to why the signs should not be abated, he said.

Following the Feb. 3 city council meeting, he said, Schultz will then be given two warnings and if the signs are not removed, he will face court action.

To Jail On Check Counts

Michael James Goheen, 21, of San Anselmo, has been sentenced to 45 days in Marin County Jail for two felony bad check convictions.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court gave Goheen credit for time already served in jail, but placed him on two years probation and ordered him to pay $820 restitution.

Goheen had pleaded guilty to charges of forging both his mother's and father's names to checks.

Oratorical Contest Set Tomorrow

The 34th Annual high school oratorical contest of the Marin American Legion will be today at 7 p.m. at the county schools office in Corte Madera. The Independent-Journal erroneously stated the date as Jan. 31.

Winner of the Marin contest will go on to Fifth District competition Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Healdsburg High School Auditorium. The fifth district embraces Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Solano and Lake Counties.

Beef Broiled On A Dagger Makes Dinner More Exciting

BEEF CHUCK GETS tenderized, then broiled on a dagger with a basting sauce you like. Then it can be served on a bed of rice, garnished with fresh mushrooms and tomatoes.

Juicy chunks of California beef broiled on a dagger look and taste especially elegant but cost no more than everyday fare. The secret here is lean, boneless chuck treated with instant meat tenderizer. Beef chuck has wonderful flavor to begin with and after tenderizing, it grills as beautifully as the most costly steak.

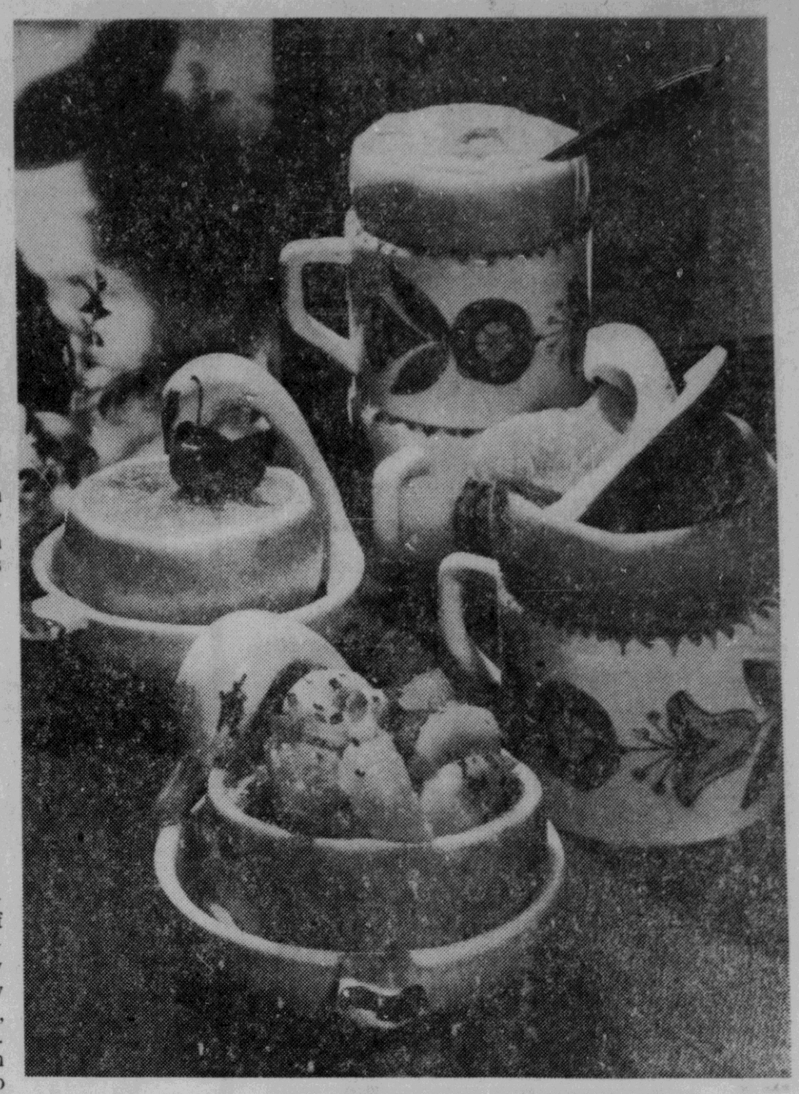
Beef to broil is always a favorite of hostesses as it requires so little fuss and preparation time. Just thread the chunks of chuck on skewers and broil to the doneness you like best. Catsup, mustard and Worcestershire make a zesty basting sauce for the beef as it cooks. To soak up any juices, serve the succulent beef on a bed of rice and garnish with fresh mushrooms and eye-catching tomato roses.

Top quality beef can fit any budget if bought with care and planning. When budgeting, consider each cut on the basis of cost per serving — price per pound is not the only measure. The amount of fat and bone also determines cost per serving so remember to include this in your figuring.

BEEF ON A DAGGER

1½ pounds lean boneless beef chuck
Unseasoned instant meat tenderizer
¼ cup catsup
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tsp. wine vinegar

Remove excess fat from beef. Cut beef into 1¼-inch cubes. Sprinkle with meat tenderizer, following label directions. Let stand at room temperature about ½ hour. Blend all remaining ingredients for basting sauce. Thread beef onto skewers. Broil to desired degree of doneness. Brush with basting sauce after beef begins to brown. Turn to brown all sides. Makes four servings.



WHATEVER IS good to eat may be even better and more attractive served in a grapefruit shell, whether it's a hearty meat salad of tuna, ham, egg or chicken, or a lighter lunch dish.

Practically Any Food Is Good In Grapefruit 'On The Half-Shell'

The best way to take your daily Vitamin C is on the half shell. The grapefruit shell. You can tell by the way they taste that the Coachella desert grapefruit have an unusually high acid content. They are both sweeter and tarter than most varieties.

Consider all the good things you can heap into a grapefruit shell. Start out with scallops mixed with grapefruit, pepper, pimiento and a zippy dressing. An intriguing first course or low-calories lunch. Avocados and grapefruit, are opposites that attract; so are onion rings and grapefruit. Any one of your hearty salads — chicken, ham, tuna, egg —are a lot more interesting on the half shell. You can fill the shell with fruit gelatin and grapefruit or a creamy mousse. Cottage cheese, coleslaw on down the line. Everything tastes better in a grapefruit shell.

GRAPEFRUIT AND SCALLOPS

1 lb. scallops
1 cup dry white wine
2 large grapefruit
¼ cup minced parsley
½ cup minced green pepper
1 can (4 oz.) diced pimiento
¼ cup olive oil
salt and sugar
lime wedges

Simmer scallops in wine about 8 minutes until tender. Drain and cool. If large, slice in half. Cut grapefruit in half and carefully spoon out fruit. Mix gently with scallops, parsley, green pepper and pimiento. Chill thoroughly. Toss with olive oil, salt and sugar to taste. Pull membrane from grapefruit shells. Fill with fruit mixture and garnish with lime wedges.

Makes 4 salads or cocktails.

Chili Cheese Bake With History

A rich heritage from Old Mexico has been left from the days of Early California — and this heritage has been passed on in the Californian's love for Mexican-flavored foods.

Dairy Council of California has developed a recipe for "Chili-Cheese Bake" which employs the peppy taste of chili peppers from Old Mexico, a blend of several dairy products and fluffy cooked rice. "Chili-Cheese Bake" is a new idea using a taste Californian's love — plus it's an economy dish.

One of the main ingredients is Monterey Jack cheese which has a very romantic background in California history. Monterey Jack was brought to California from Old Mexico by the Spanish fathers. The priests taught the California Indians to make this cheese and it became a constant source of food for the missions.

This mild cheese was not officially named until the early 1800s when a Swiss family moved to Monterey County planning to set up a cheese factory. Discovering the demand for this already popular cheese, the Jacks family decided to produce and market this cheese instead of cheeses from their homeland. To identify the cheese when it went to market in San Francisco, the Jacks named it Monterey Jack, as it has been known ever since.

So, the next time you nibble on a tasty morsel of Monterey Jack or enjoy it in a casserole, remember the history behind this cheese of Early California.

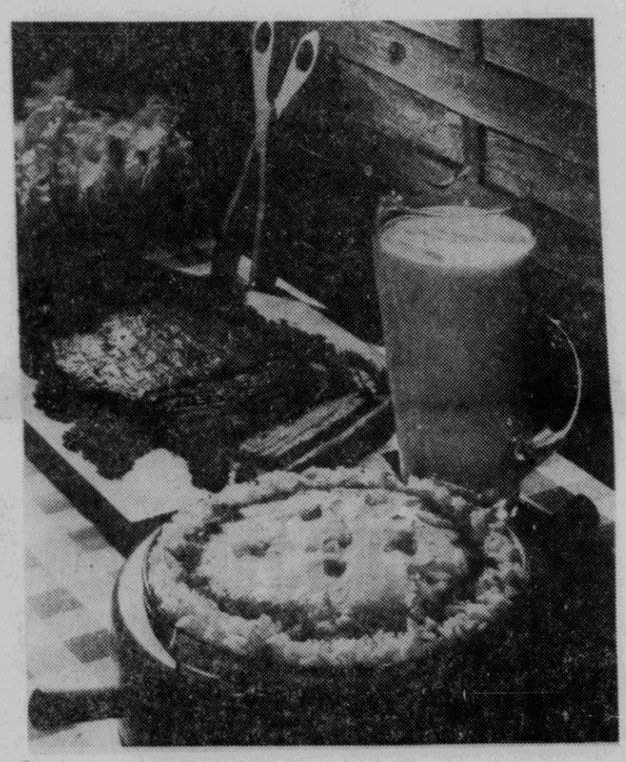
"Chili-Cheese Bake" will be one of those casseroles that will remind you of romantic early California history. Containing generous portions of dairy foods, this dish is especially high in protein and many vital vitamins and minerals such as calcium.

CHILI-CHEESE BAKE
(6 to 8 servings)

1 cup long-grain rice
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup finely chopped onions
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup light cream
½ Monterey Jack cheese, cubed (1½ cups)
1 can (4 oz.) green chili peppers, chopped
1 pint sour cream
Paprika

Simmer rice in salted water 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Melt butter in skillet. Saute onions until transparent. Remove from heat and stir in salt and cream . . . set aside. In a 1½ or 2 quart casserole, alternate layers of rice, cheese, green chilis, onion sauce, and sour cream. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 325 degree oven 30 minutes or until bubbly-hot.

NOTE: This casserole may be made and refrigerated until baking time.



REMINISCENT of Early California is "Chili-Cheese Bake" with its peppy green chilis, onion, and a variety of dairy foods including Monterey Jack cheese. It is inexpensive to make and an ideal dish for patio suppers.

Liver, Heart, Kidney And Tongue Make Tasty Meals

Braised Stuffed Heart, Beef Steak and Kidney Pie, Smoked Tongue, Broiled Sweetbreads. Sounds gourmet? Well, they all feature one or more well-known variety meats. You don't have to be a sophisticated connoisseur of food to enjoy main dishes prepared from liver, heart, kidney, tongue, sweetbreads, brains, tripe — all edible animal organs.

A taste for these gourmet specials can be easily acquired when served fairly frequently, cooked properly, and skillfully placed on the menu with other foods. How often does your family have an opportunity to indulge in the unique flavor and appetite appeal of variety meats?

These organs can be an asset to family meals for many reasons. Since there is little fat and practically no bone, they are an economical buy. Because they are not too well known or popular, there is less demand for them; thus, they generally cost less per serving than traditional cuts of meat. Who would argue against this at a time when food budgets are given top priority in most households?

In addition to their unique flavor and taste appeal, wide assortment, and economy, these foods are also noted for their important nutritive value. Liver is the most nutritious, with lots of riboflavin, vitamin A, and iron.

One of the most economical of these meats is heart — beef, veal, pork, or lamb. It's certainly a treat when cooked properly — by the long, slow, moist heat method. A favorite in many households is Braised Stuffed Heart. A pre-cooked rice stuffing will give it something to talk about.

One of the more well-known organ meats is tongue. Fresh, pickled, cured, and smoked tongue are available on the market. Serve it sliced with horseradish sauce. Sweetbreads, the most delicate of the lot, can be cooked in a variety of ways: split and rolled in a seasoned coating mix and browned, cut into fine pieces and added to scrambled eggs, cubed and used in a salad like chicken or tuna, fried lightly in butter and served with hash brown potatoes. And try them broiled, fried, as a salad, or creamed with frozen or fresh vegetables.

Brains resemble sweetbreads in their delicate flavor, but they are generally less expensive. Cook and serve brains as you do sweetbreads. If you wish, try brains breaded, creamed, in croquettes, in a salad, or scrambled with eggs. And don't forget tripe which can be served fried, broiled or creamed.

Since these items are quite perishable, refrigerate carefully until ready to cook.

Chicken Is A Bargain For Dieter

Calorie-counting can be fun if you learn to make the most of every calorie. Low-calorie meals shouldn't be dull and tasteless. Dieters can enjoy eating while losing weight with the many delicious calorie-trimmed recipes that are available.

Try broiled chicken, a year-round favorite. At only 271 calories per serving, dieters will enjoy this tasty broiler dish.

To make Broiled Chicken:

Blend ½ cup low-calorie Italian salad dressing, ¼ cup soy sauce, ¼ cup finely chopped onion, and 1 teaspoon dry mustard; mix well.

Halve and skin three 1½-pound ready-to-cook broiler-fryer chickens; brush with soy mixture. Place chicken in bottom of broiler pan (no rack). Broil 5 to 7 inches from heat for 20 minutes; brush occasionally. Turn. Broil till meat is tender, about 20 minutes; brush occasionally with mixture. Makes 6 servings.

To grill: Cook chicken over medium coals till lightly browned, about 20 minutes; brush occasionally with mixture. Turn; broil till tender, 15 to 20 minutes; brush occasionally.

15. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross
16. Angie Brooks
17. Rebecca Latimer Felton
18. Eliza McCardle
19. Eleanor Roosevelt
20. Shirley Chisholm

Are these statements true or false?

1. A small number of women with school age children work.
2. Women work mostly for economic reasons not "just for something to do."
3. Women are bad drivers.
4. Fewer than two per cent of working women make over $10,000 yearly.

Can you answer these questions?

1. For how many years has the Equal Rights Amendment been introduced in the U.S. Congress?
2. Which President created the Commission on the Status of Women?

GOLDA MEIR

3. How does the World Almanac define the Miss America contest?
4. Who said: "The underutilization of women continues to be the most tragic and senseless waste of this century?"
5. Can you name any present day women's clubs which had their origins in the first feminist movement?
6. Are there any state laws which actually discriminate against women?

JEANETTE RANKIN

The answers.

1. Anne Hutchison was banished from Boston because she thought women should have a voice in church affairs.
2. Diane Crump was the first female jockey to race at any track in this country, 1969.
3. Betty Friedan was a consultant to President's Commission on the Status of Women in 1963, the same year her book "The Feminine Mystique" came out. She is a founder of the National Organization For Women.
4. Susan B. Anthony was a pioneer leader of women's suffrage born in 1820. She served as an agent for the American Antislavery Society and published a weekly newspaper demanding the civil rights provided in the 14 and 15th admendments be extended to women.
5. Catherine L. Greene devised the idea of the cotton gin which Eli Whitney patented.
6. Jeanette Rankin of Montana was the first woman in Congress. She voted against both world wars, lead a peace march to the capitol and at 90 says she would like to see a female congressman from every district.

Miss Dunn To Be Wed

The engagement of Haroldine Dunn to Thomas James Gibson has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Dunn of Mill Valley.

The parents of the future bridegroom are SM. Sgt. (Ret.) and Mrs. Thomas A. Gibson of Lompoc.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. She is attending evening school there and is employed at the Cat Clinic in Mill Valley. Haroldine is the sister of Gary and Stephen Dunn of Mill Valley and Virginia Dunn of San Rafael and the granddaughter of Capt. K. V. Anderson of Mill Valley.

Guittard-Pomeroy Vows Exchanged

Marin friends of Mrs. Margaret Cleveland Pomeroy, whose family has been prominent residents of Sausalito for many years, were pleased to hear of her marriage Sunday to Horace A. Guittard of San Francisco.

The marriage took place at noon at the San Francisco home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Timberlake. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Barton Sarjeant, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito. Peggy, as the bride is known, has been active in the affairs of Christ Church over the years.

The wedding was a simple one with only members of the couple's families present for both the ceremony and the brunch afterward. The newlyweds are on a wedding trip to the island of Maui, Hawaii, and on their return will live in San Francisco, where the bridegroom is president of the Guittard Chocolate Co.

All of the bride's children by her former marriage to William Pomeroy of Sausalito attended the wedding. They are Mrs. Herbert Hoover of San Francisco, who attended with her husband and baby daughter Laura; Bill Pomeroy, who has returned from Vietnam and is now stationed with the U.S. Navy at San Diego; and John Pomeroy, who came up from Carmel Valley with his wife, Mary.

Sons of the bridegroom by a previous marriage who attended were Jay and Gary Guittard of San Francisco, with their wives, and Horace Guittard Jr., who came for the wedding from New York, where he is known under the stage name of Laurence Guittard.

Schaefer-Rollins Vows Said In Church

Pamela Jean Rollins and Gerald William Schaefer were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco on Saturday.

Pamela is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Bunds Jr. of Novato and Richard Rollins of Sonora. She chose Donna Thomas of Sacramento as her maid of honor and her sister, Julie Bunds, Linda Johnston of Novato and Carla Brittain of San Francisco, as bridesmaid.

Al Parsons of Morro Bay was best man, and Bob Marenkovich of San Diego, John Morrice of San Francisco and Jim Swift of Sutter Creek were ushers.

The couple went on a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe following a reception in the church. They will live in El Cajon.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin and Sacramento State College, and she was employed at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph in San Francisco. Her grandparents are Mrs. Raymond Rollins of Vacaville and Olen Brittain of Brisbane.

Mrs. Thomas Downey of Honolulu and Lee Schaefer of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is the brother of Ronele Schaefer of Novato and the grandson of Mrs. Frances Howard and Mrs. William Schaefer of Richmond. The bridegroom was graduated form Novato High School and attended Grossmont Junior College. He is a broadcast engineer with KOGO Television in San Diego.

Supreme Court To Review Liberalized Abortion Laws

By CHARLOTTE MOULTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court takes its first look this week at the rising trend towards liberalized abortion laws across the country.

At issue in arguments beginning Tuesday is a 69-year-old District of Columbia statute under attack by Dr. Milan Vuitch, a Yugoslav immigrant who long has fought for more liberal abortion policies.

Many states have laws similar to the District's barring abortions except when "necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health." At the same time other states have been liberalizing their laws.

FEDERAL DISTRICT Judge Gerhard A. Gesell, son of the late Dr. Arnold Gesell, one of the nation's best known pediatricians, found the District's statute unconstitutional on Nov. 10, 1969. He dismissed an indictment of Vuitch.

Gesell said the words "when necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health" were so vague that a person accused of violating the law could not properly defend himself. He said the law also improperly places on the defendant the burden of proving he made the right medical judgment.

The Justice Department appealed Gesell's ruling on the ground that he should not have thrown out the case before trial but instead should have applied the law to the specific circumstances on which the Vuitch indictment was based. The government said the law may be interpreted to mean that a doctor who acts in good faith is not subject to criminal prosecution.

Further, in the department's view, the doctor's medical judgment is not always an issue because sometimes physicians perform abortions after doing nothing more than establishing the fact of pregnancy.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'SWALCAKWS' Written On Letter Is Nothing To Worry About

DEAR HELEN:
My son gets letters from his girl friend, and on the outside is "SWALCAKWS." It sounds a little obscene to me. Please decipher if you can. — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:
SWALCAKWS means "Sealed With a Lick 'Cause a Kiss Won't Stick." Okay? — H.

DEAR HELEN:
I'm divorced and have been going with this girl for four years. I want to marry her but her parents don't approve of divorced men and, though she is in her middle 20s, they have a big influence on her.

Last week she told me she went out with her boss, who is not only married but still living with his wife and six children, besides having been involved in several affairs. She claims she loves him and stayed a weekend with him. He insists he'll get a divorce to marry her.

Helen, if her folks don't approve of a simple divorce, how can they approve of a man who has an affair before his divorce? Frankly, I don't think he'll ever leave his wife. Why should he, when he can have his cake and eat it too?

I got so mad when my girl (or is she?) told me, I felt like beating her up. But I still love her. Should I tell her parents so that they might all decide I'm — THE BETTER RISK?

DEAR BR:
You won't win the girl by tattling to her parents — and you probably won't change her direction either.

Face it: You spent four years chasing the wrong woman — one who uses her family as her excuse for not making a decision. Take off the blinders and look for the right woman. H.

DEAR HELEN:
I'm another who disagrees with your idea that it's better not to tell a mate everything.

You said that a wife shouldn't feel she must tell her husband about her past (if the past is over and gone). Deception isn't "where it's at," Helen.

My wife and I love each other for who and what we are. We don't love "someone else" we might pretend to be. We don't wear masks.

To better understand and help each other, we have real communication with the real person, not an imposter — and we have a beautiiful and uninhibited relationship.

One deception leads to another and, before you know it, your life is a lie. Don't condemn the truth. — FOR COMPLETE HONESTY

DEAR FCH:
You and your wife have the kind of relationship that can survive "true confessions." This is rare, even today when the young accept far more than they condemn.

My point is: If the past is gone, why hassle it? The mate who insists on total replay is usually the one who can't face the music. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Abortion Laws Force Burden Of Judgment

also has before it four other abortion cases — from Minnesota, Texas, Georgia and Louisiana — on which it has taken no action.

The Minnesota case was appealed by Dr. Jane E. Hodgson, a St. Paul gynecologist, who performed an abortion on a young married woman who contracted german measles early in a pregnancy — a condition that can cause birth defects. Dr. Hodgson, 55, was convicted under the state law which forbids abortions unless necessary to save the life of the mother or child.

Dr. Hodgson tried in both state and federal courts to have the indictment dismissed. Adverse rulings in these proceedings are before the high court rather than an appeal from the conviction itself, which could come up later.

In the Texas case a special three-judge federal court ruled the statutes unconstitutionally vague and over-broad but declined because of state-federal relationships to bar their enforcement. Dr. James H. Hallford of Dallas and three individuals appealed.

GEORGIA LAW specifies three reasons for legal abortions: Endangering the life or seriously impairing the health of the mother; the possibility of mental or physical defect; and rape. A three-judge federal panel struck down this section and also another which permits government authorities or a relative to ask a court whether a proposed abortion would violate any rights of the fetus.

Georgia Attorney General Arthur K. Bolton appealed.

The Louisiana case was started by Dr. Isadore I. Rosen of Amite, whose license to practice medicine was endangered by charges that he performed abortions. The Louisiana Medical Practice Act authorizes suspension of a license for this reason "unless done for the relief of a woman whose life appears in peril after due consultation with another licensed physician."

A federal panel in New Orleans upheld the law.

6. Over 1000 individual state laws discriminate against women.

For example: in one state a woman's clothes legally belong to her husband. In California, Florida, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Texas a wife must get court approval before engaging in an independent business. A married woman's contractual rights are restricted in more than a dozen states.

William Allan Johnston To Wed Marissa Jane Marsh

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Marsh of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter Marissa Jane to William Allan Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Johnston, of Terra Linda.

MARISSA MARSH

The bride-elect is the sister of Mrs. William Swain of Rohnert Park and Colin H. Marsh of Corte Madera. She was graduated from Novato High School and College of Marin. She will attend Sonoma State College in February.

William is the brother of Marion Johnston of San Rafael. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School and is employed at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. general office in San Francisco.

Petaluma Church Women Elect Mrs. B. Elvin Samford

Mrs. B. Elvin Samford was recently elected president of Church Women United of Petaluma.

All women who believe in Jesus Christ are encouraged to attend and participate in the organization's three major activities, a World Day of Prayer each spring, May Fellowship Day and World Community Day in November.

A graduate of Southwestern College in Waxahackie, Tex., Rogene Samford and her husband, an insurance underwriter, are the parents of Darla, 18, Randal, 16, and Sheldon, 9. Both Mr. and Mrs. Samford teach college and career classes for their church, the Petaluma United Methodist, and both sing in the church's choir.

MRS. B. ELVIN SAMFORD

Mrs. Samford's hobbies include tennis, baking pastries and working with plaster. Her favorite past time is music, and she plays both the piano and organ.

An active clubwoman in Lubbock, Tex. prior to her move to Sonoma County six months ago, the new president also sings with a local choral group the Chansonnetts.

Furniture To Scale

Scale is an important factor in planning a furniture arrangement. The term "scale" refers to the proportion of one object in relation to its surroundings. A small room, for example, will seem larger when furnished with small-scaled furniture. And when you purchase furniture, remember that it is difficult to visualize how an item in a showroom will look in a normal-sized room. A good rule is to think "small."

ON THE AGENDA

All Corte Madera Residents Are Invited To Community Workshop

Corte Madera residents are invited to participate in a community workshop Jan. 21 at 7:45 p.m. in the multi-use room of Neil Cummins School.

Sponsored by the San Clemente and Neil Cummin Schools Parent-Teacher Associations, the workshop will deal with human relations in areas the participants believe there is a chance to forestall such social ills as drug abuse, apathy and violence.

Moderator will be Denis Ragan, teacher and coordinator of the work experience program at Redwood High School Discussing the areas of family relations, education and justice will be psychiatrist Dr. Gerald Hill, past chairman of the Marin Association for Mental Health advisory board and now chairman of the Drug Abuse and Smoking Commission for the Marin medical Society; Judge Alvin S. Goldstein, former Marin Municipal Court judge, a teacher at Golden Gate College and a member of the advisory board for the Penal Code Revision Commission; and Charles Lavaroni, director of student teachers at Dominican College.

Each panelist will lead a group focusing on his topic following the panel discussion.

THE ROSS Valley Council Parent-Teacher Association will meet tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur to discuss how to deal with goals and objectives, rumor and reactions, controversial curriculum, students bills of rights and codes of behavior.

THE OLEANDER Chapter of Marin Foundation, Friends of Arequipa, will hold its annual dinner and dance for members and their husbands at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Officer's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mrs. C.W. McColpin is chairman, assisted by Mmes. R. O. Proett, Richard Schlobohm and Robert Dinsmore.

ANGELO COLUMBO, physical education consultant for the San Rafael City Schools, will discuss a new program of movement education at the public meeting of the board of the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the school in San Rafael.

A learning process through moving purposefully, the program's objective is to make positive contributions to the student's knowledge of himself and his physical environment.

Through experiences, according to Columbo, the child develops skills in the use of his body and objects and in the manipulation of space and skills in controlling the amount of effort he expends to achieve his goal.

ON SATURDAY the Novato Stump Jumpers Square Dance Club will hold its monthly "third Saturday" party night at 8:30 p.m. at IDESI Hall in Novato.

Ralph Silvius will be the caller. Mr. and Mrs. Al Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney will be hosts for the evening.

DEBORAH ATKINS

Deborah Atkins Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Atkins of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter Deborah P. Atkins to Brian N. Pariani, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Pariani of Novato.

Deborah is the sister of Dana, Dempsey and Darcy Atkins. She will be graduated from San Marin High School in June.

Brian is the brother of Darlene, Colleen and Alan Pariani. He was graduated from San Marin High school and is serving with the Navy in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Tips To Help Face The Mountains Of Laundry

Often a bride-to-be is so wrapped up in plans for the wedding and honeymoon that she doesn't give much thought to housekeeping afterwards.

All too soon the honeymoon ends and the moment of truth arrives. Among the realities confronting her is a mountain of laundry, and it's all hers.

Some tips to help the new bride get off to a good start are:

Sorting properly will eliminate problems. Don't presoak or wash whites along with bright or dark colors. Wash heavily soiled items separately from articles that are just lightly soiled. Avoid lint on napped fabrics such as corduroy by not laundering in the same load with lint-giving items such as terrycloth towels. If permanent press items are to be dryer-dried, they may be washed along with other articles, sorted according to color and the amount of soil.

For whites, use sufficient detergent, hot water and bleach (as needed) to retain whiteness and remove dirt and stains. Wash medium, and pastel colored articles in warm water, but bright colors stay bright longest when washed in cold water.

Use gentle speed if items are delicate, regular speed for more durable garments such as bath towels, sheets and pillowcases.

For best results, don't pack the washer. This is especially important with permanent press, to keep wrinkling to a minimum. When washing fragile or woolen items, free and easy movement of the clothers minimizes shrinkage and pulling of seams.

Pre-wash or soak heavily soiled articles, such as work clothes.

It pays to measure. This goes for detergent, bleach and fabric softener — the three laundering aids needed for good results. Follow label directions, but add more detergent if the water is hard or the load is heavily soiled.

If liquid bleach is used, be sure you have diluted it before adding to the wash water. And never use bleach in the rinse water.

Most fabric softeners go in the final rinse water and the amount needed is determined by the size of the washload.

A few words about drying: If items are removed from the dryer as soon as tumblingstops, they will have fewer wrinkles, and require less, if any, ironing.

Ironic Twists Are Provoking

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Take a "normal flaming faggot poet" and turn him into a corporate image and there is sure to be fireworks with some provocative comments on the American scene.

This is what occurred last night at the Geary Theater as the American Conservatory Theater presented the Northern California premiere of Paddy Chayefsky's "The Latent Heterosexual." To say that this play is great theater would be magnanimous. However, it does have moments of sparkling humor that pinpoint the absurdness of big business where the tax dodge is the thing.

Basically, the vehicle is a portrait of a creative artist who claims he is a normal homosexual, but then suddenly realizes he is potentially a heterosexual who finds love with his call girl wife — a marriage arranged by his tax consultants. It is an ironic twist which Chayefsky, who wrote the memorable "Marty" for both television and screen, handles very smoothly in corporate dialogue, which sometimes boggles the mind in its complexity.

The play, which Chayefsky has staged in Dallas, Los Angeles and in England, introduces to ACT audiences a talented Josef Sommer as the poet John Morley. Sommer's opening faggot scene is rather weak, but he builds his characterization in the remaining five scenes. The turnabout from painted lips and rouged cheeks seems to fit Sommer perfectly.

Director Allen Fletcher, who gave ACT such a stunning "Hadrian VII" last season and again this season in a short revival, has surrounded Sommer with some of the company's fine stable of talent.

THE LATENT HETEROSEXUAL — A play by Paddy Chayefsky presented by the American Conservatory Theater of San Francisco. Directed by Allen Fletcher. Scenery by Robert Darling. Costumes by Walter Watson. Lighting by Ward Russell. The cast (in order of appearance): Irving Spaatz, a tax consultant, G. Wood; Henry Jadd, a lawyer, Jay Doyle; John Morley, Josef Sommer; Arthur Landau, a tax consultant, Joseph Bird; a secretary, Kathleen Harper; Lester Freitag, a tax lawyer, Peter Donat; Christine Van Dam, Lee McCain; Mel Delaney, tax consultant, Martin Berman; Jimmie Churchill, a corporation lawyer, Robert Fletcher; another secretary, Suzanne Collins; a nurse, Anne Lawder; an attendant, David Gilliam; handyman, John Hancock, and Dr. Klune, a psychiatrist, Dudley Knight.

Especially rewarding is G. Wood's portrayal of Irving Spaatz, a tax consultant, who fires out his complicated corporate mumbo jumbo in amazingly believable fashion. Joseph Bird as Arthur Landau, another tax wizard, is an excellent counterpart to Wood. As Christine Van Dam, Morley's tax-saving wife, Lee McCain, is a real stunner who admits she has a certain attraction to impotent men in a way of showing her own femininity.

In a very minor part, Peter Donat, so unforgettable in this season's "The Merchant of Venice," is ideal as the sleazy tax lawyer for Miss Van Dam, even to the rolled down socks.

While the play is in six scenes, it moves along swiftly with another one of ACT's compact sets executed by Robert Darling. The sets helped to lighten the evening, adding greatly to the vehicle's pace.

"The Latent Heterosexual" joins the rotating repertory of ACT at the Geary Theater.

DANCE REVIEW

Fond Farewell To Australian Ballet

By MARIE RAMEAU

SAN FRANCISCO — Regrettably, the San Francisco stay of the Australian Ballet has reached an end. Last night's program opened with Frederick Ashton's "Les Rendezvous." A good choice for an opening, it nevertheless got off to rather a flat beginning with a monotonous proliferation of grands jetes.

But in the pas de quatre, it became obvious that this was something of a parody on the Romantic style, expanded by Ashton's unique and subtle touch. After Kelvin Coe's flashy variation, one wonders if it was truly accurate to place Rudolf Nureyev ahead of theAustralian Ballet on the front page of the program. Certainly he starred in "Don Quixote" and brought the house down in "Raymonda," but this should not obscure the fact that here is, indeed, an outstanding group of artists.

It is, furthermore, a group against which most any American company would be hard-put to compete. A delighful feature was ballerina Elaine Fifield, a gracious and regal personality whose manner and appearance in this piece were reminiscent of Margot Fonteyn's 1964 San Francisco performance in "La Sylphide."

According to choreographer Robert Helpmann's program notes, "The Display" is "a term used in ornithology to describe the efforts of the male lyre bird to attract the female." Perhaps the only original element in "The Display" was that the bird, renowned for its gorgeous tail plumage, is found only in southeast Australia.

Choreographically there was little novelty, and even the role of the bird was more or less symbolic, but the drama evolved into a macabre and gripping spectacle. At times the group scenes depicting first the festivities of a picnic in the Australian forest and later, a rough-and-tumble conflict between the Leader (Francis Croese) and an Outsider (Garth Welch), promised to be interminable.

However, the twist emerged in the characterization: the bird (Paul Saliba) and the girl (Gailene Stock) — only with the reappearance of both at the very end did the entire picture fall into place. Miss Stock and Welch must be singled out for their very sensitive dancing, through which one became thoroughly entranced with the ballet.

The evening reached a splendid peak with scenes from "Raymonda," the time-honored Petipa classic, after which these excerpts were arranged by Nureyev. These would be more enjoyable if viewed from a balcony instead of the orchestra section, on account of their intricate yet symmetrical patterns — although from any perspective the black backdrop posed a harsh and unbecoming contrast to the soft pastels of some of the costumes.

To contemporary tastes, this 19th Century work might appear peculiar in its studied balance and harmony of form — at one point, six couples are performing the same pas de deux in two semi-circular lines. Yet in the 20th Century, Balanchine has also set a short ballet to music from "Raymonda," drawing on some purely classical forms to achieve a striking contemporary effect. Many costumes were appropriately Renaissance — historically, the plot of this ballet derives from the Hungarian Renaissance which, if not widely known, was nevertheless very rich.

Youth Shot; Blacks Go On Rampage

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Angry gangs of blacks went on a window smashing and burning rampage in Tampa's Central Avenue district Tuesday night after an off-duty policeman shot and killed a young black man who attacked him outside a bar.

Police said at least six persons were arrested, several cars were burned and a half-dozen store windows were smashed during the outbreak.

Officers said the trouble erupted shortly after Patrolman Joe Sanez shot and killed one of two young blacks who attacked him outside a tavern called "The New Bar."

Sanez said one of the blacks hit him with a bottle and knocked him to the ground while the second man grabbed his wallet. Police said Sanez managed to draw his pistol while lying on the pavement and shoot one of the attackers. The bullet killed the attacker, identified as 20-year-old Ray Collins.

Police said after word of the shooting spread through Tampa's black neighborhoods, angry gangs of blacks took to the streets and began smashing car and store windows. Several cars were set on fire and police said at least four stores were looted.

A cab driver identified as Dan Miemelt, 25, was shot twice in the back when called to the Central Avenue district to make a pickup. His condition was not immediately known.

Second Board Election Set

An election to fill a seat on the Bolinas-Stinson School District board, vacated this week by trustee Warren T. Fairbanks, will be held as part of the countywide school elections April 20, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported.

Fairbanks resigned to move to San Anselmo to be closer to his work. He is an art teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Final date for filing for the board post will be Feb. 25.

A second vacant seat, created by the resignation of trustee Erik Lund, who moved to Oregon, will be filled in an election Feb. 2.

Ambulance Firm Bids For Novato Service

Bay Cities Ambulance Co. made a bid to the Novato City Council last night for a contract to provide emergency service in the city.

Emergency service is now provided by United Ambulance, under a county contract, with an ambulance stationed at Ignacio.

Fred Strain, president of Bay Cities Ambulance Co., based in Novato, said the local firm should be used on emergency calls.

Emergency patients now must await an ambulance from Ignacio or San Rafael, he said. Strain contended that under the present service, the practice of taking emergency patients to Novato General Hospital has been virtually discontinued.

"Instead they are taken to Central Marin at a higher cost for transportation," he said.

The firm is seeking priority on all ambulance calls dispatched by the city police department, Strain explained, "at no financial obligation to the city."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown explained entering into such a contract would be a major move, and the council referred it to the staff for study.

The Novato City Council Also:

JAYCEES — Commended the Novato Jaycees for their civic work and proclaimed next week as Jaycee Week in Novato, although a resident, Irving Perlman of 1581 Hill Road, later rose in the audience and criticized the group for excluding Communists or persons with Communist leanings from consideration for its outstanding young man of the year award. The council felt, however, the Jaycees had this exclusionary right as a private group.

RESERVOIR HILL — Adopted an ordinance to rezone 13 acres between Oleander Avenue and Reservoir Drive, now multiple family, single family and limited agricultural, to planned residential with single family homes on half-acre lots. The vote was 3-2, with J. Wayne Womack and Joseph D. Gargiulo dissenting.

CORPORATION YARDS — Awarded M and H Construction of San Rafael, lowest of six bidders, a contract to construct a prefabricated metal city corporation yard building on the south side of Davidson Street, adjacent to the Novato Sanitary District plant, at a cost of $34,363.

CABLE TV — Received a petition from Mar-Val Homes Association, containing 14 signatures, representing residents of Marin Valley Mobile Country Club, and a letter from Marin Valley Inc., operator of the mobile home development, charging that G'tec Cable TV, city franchise holder, is long overdue in providing service to the area.

GARLICK — Approved prezoning of 857 acres west of the city, owned by G. J. Garlick and Associates of Salt Lake City, for planned community development, but made no comment about prospects for purchasing 425 acres of the parcel for park land.

SHELL STATION — Continued until Feb. 9 a public hearing on a proposal to redesignate a lot owned by Shell Oil Co. at the northeast corner of San Marin and San Andreas drives from gasoline station to multiple family residential. The change is backed by residents of the area, but called "confiscation" by Atty. Richard Breiner, representing the oil company.

BOULEVARD — Introduced an ordinance to annex 65.5 acres, north of Novato Boulevard, west of the city limits.

RANCHO VILLAGE — Introduced an ordinance to rezone 12.5 acres in Rancho Village Unit 10 from limited agricultural to single family residential.

WILSON AVENUE — Introduced an ordinance to zone a nine acre parcel owned by Robert Young on the east side of Wilson Avenue as planned residential, with a density of one unit per 20,000 square feet, where it is proposed that townhouses be built on about three acres of flat land.

DEANNEXATION — Granted Robert A. Abeling de-annexation of his property at 1625 Indian Valley Road.

CLAIM — Denied a claim by Josephine E. Kiertanis of 110 Las Flores Avenue, San Rafael, for $30,000 for injuries reportedly suffered when she fell while crossing Machin Avenue at Grant Avenue Oct. 3. She charged city negligence on street upkeep.

AUDIT — Awarded Robert P. Simmons, certified public accountant, a contract to perform the city's annual audit at a cost not to exceed $2,000.

CHAMBER — Granted the Novato Chamber of Commerce its second quarter allocation of $2,000, with a request that the city get a report on how funds are spent.

EXTENSION — Granted Chantrelle Nursery School at 1990 Novato Boulevard a one-year extension to complete curb, gutter, sidewalk and street paving in front of the school.

PLANNING — Approved a three-year extension of the joint powers agreement between the city and the City-County Planning Council.

CHASE-CHERRY — Adopted a resolution confirming that the cost of street and sidewalk on Chase and Cherry Streets, to be paid by residents involved, would be $19,674, and set the assessments on individual parcels.

ANIMAL — Adopted an ordinance amendment which requires a permit to operate a stable, riding academy, dog kennel or commercial cattery in a limited agricultural zone.

Photographer To Get Film Award

LeRoy French of San Rafael, recently named Underwater Photographer of the Year, will be honored at the 14th Annual Underwater Film Festival Feb. 5-7 at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

In his prize-winning film to be shown Feb. 5, French attempts to look at sea pollution through the eyes of a child "who will never see the world as it was intended." The film focuses on a sunken, World War II tanker, whose leaking oil has affected underwater plant and animal life.

French is the seventh American to win the international film festival award, which has been won by such photographers as Jacques and Phillipe Cousteau.

Persian Gulf Demands Scuttle Oil Negotiations

TEHRAN (UPI)—Crucial secret talks between Western oil companies and Persian Gulf oil exporting countries broke down today, threatening the oil supply for most of the Western world.

Iranian Finance Minister Jamshid Amuzegar said Iraqi and Saudi Arabian delegates were returning home and would file reports with the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries (OPEC) headquarters in Vienna. But he said another session might be called for next Tuesday if the Western companies reconsider their stand and agreed to look into OPEC demands.

Amuzegar said OPEC members would have to decide whether to cut off oil supplies to Western companies.

The Persian Gulf countries, which produce 80 per cent of the oil used in the West, are demanding a larger cut of the oil profits. They want all OPEC members to receive the 55 per cent which Western operators recently agreed to pay to Iran.

Amuzegar accused the Westerners of "not facing facts and justice" in refusing to discuss the demands.

The breakdown came during the first session following Tuesday's preliminary meeting of the two sides to introduce OPEC demands as laid down in a resolution adopted in Caracas, Venezuela, last month.

Plead Innocent To Sale Of Pot

Randall Joachim Wells, 20, and Allen Michael Crivello, 19, both of San Rafael, have pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of selling marijuana to a narcotics agent last July 1.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set their trial for the week of March 29.

BEST ROOKIE

49er Taylor Wins Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bruce Taylor, whose devil-may-care style as a cornerback and punt returner for the San Francisco Forty Niners frightened his mother, Wednesday was named the United Press International "Rookie of the year" for the National Football Conference.

Taylor beat out Dallas running back Duane Thomas for the honor in the balloting of 36 writers from the 13 league cities. Taylork received 14 votes and Thomas had nine. No other player was in serious contention.

Taylor, who only weighs 180 pounds, often had this kind of telephone conversation with his mother, Mrs. Maude Taylor, of Perth Amboy, N.J., after San Francisco games were shown on television in the East.

"You played a fine game, son. But I want you to stop running into those big fellows. Some of them must outweigh you by 100 pounds," his mother would say.

"It's my job, mom."

"Tell the coach to turn it over to a bigger boy."

"But, mom, I've got to break down the interference when they run around my corner. Those guards and tackles are pretty big, and it hurts a little but I have to hit them."

"Stop it, you hear?"

But Taylor never did stop it and he helped the Forty Niners win their first division crown in their history and a startling upset over Minnesota in the playoffs. San Francisco advanced to the NFC finals before losing to Dallas.

Taylor led the NFC in punt returns in his first season, returning 43 kicks for 516 yards for an average of 12 yards a return. His longest return was 76 yards.

He usually scorned the fair catch except when he was surrounded. His attitude was "they could find anybody to fair catch. What they want is somebody to run the ball back."

Taylor was a first round draft choice by the Forty-Niners from Boston University after a brilliant career as a defensive back. He stepped right into a starting job with San Francisco, teaming with all-pro Jimmy Johnson, to give San Francisco an excellent pair of cornerbacks.

Thomas came close to giving Dallas the rookie honor for the second straight season —and at the same position.

Calvin Hill won the award last season, but he's been ailing this season and Thomas stepped in and played a major role in the Cowboys' climb to the Super Bowl.

He was the fifth leading rusher in the league, gaining 803 yards in 151 carries for a 5.3 average. He was brilliant in the playoff victories over Detroit and San Francisco when Craig Morton's passing was ineffective. Even though both of those opponents were keying on the run, Thomas —with the help of fine blocking by the Cowboy lineman —repeatedly made valuable yardage in key situations.

Marin 'Cats Outmuscled By Redwood

By DAVID EINSTEIN

The Redwood High School Giants, whose fortunes ride the shoulders of 6-foot-6 Scott Trobbe and equally-as-tall Steve McGee, got superlative performances from both yesterday afternoon and outmuscled Marin Catholic, 67-54.

Using the same formula for success that marked their victory over Novato in their Marin County Athletic League basketball opener last Friday, the Giants, before some 400 delighted fans, in Larkspur, broke the Wildcats' defensive fortitude with a strong second quarter effort and more-or-less coasted the rest of the way.

Trobbe, unstoppable again, matched his effort against Novato with 27 points, while McGee, fastest and most graceful big man in the league, came in with 13. Together they also dominated the boards, save for an inspired performance by Marin's Tim Stone that helped keep the Wildcats within conceivable striking distance most of the way.

The Wildcats' offense was spearheaded by forward Bill Donellan, who scored 21 points despite having to play with a heavily bandaged ankle. Jim Sullivan followed him with 12 points, and Stone scored 11.

The Kentfield team, now 1-1 in league play, started off with a bang, scoring eight points before the Giants got on the board. But Coach Dick Hart's boys rattled off six straight points near the end of the first quarter, and took the lead for good in the opening seconds of the second quarter. They led at the half, 32-22.

Marin managed to stay within 10 during the third period, but at the start of the final eight minutes, Trobbe hit four straight field goals, and added a foul shot to increase the Giants' lead to 14 and settle the issue.

Victory For West All-Stars

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—They can stop feeling sorry for little Lenny Wilkens. In one game Tuesday night the player-coach of the Seattle Supersonics settled the score for everything that has happened to him this season.

Wilkens, an 11-year veteran from Providence, was voted the most valuable player after scoring 21 points in a 108-107 victory by the West over the East in the National Basketball Association's All-Star game.

Wilkens played only 20 of the 48 minutes in getting his game-high total as the west ended a three-year domination by the East.

"I was just relaxing and enjoying myself," the 33-year-old pro said.

After what has happened to Wilkens this season, it's hard to believe he can enjoy anything. It's been that kind of a year.

For all practical purposes, the Sonics' season ended in their fourth game when Bob Rule tore an Achilles tendon. That was nothing, though, compared to what has happened since Seattle owner Sam Schulman signed Haywood Spencer Dec. 30.

Since Haywood first appeared in a Sonies' uniform, there have been seven protests in seven games. Tuesday the owners hinted they might kick Seattle out of the league for giving Haywood employment.

"I've been sympathizing with Sam but mainly I've been trying to relax," Wilkens replied when asked how the Haywood matter had affected him.

As brilliant as Wilkens was, Lew Alcindor had an equal share in the West's win, only

It Takes Five To Win In NBA

I JUST received in the mail a flyer from the San Francisco Warriors, hustling season tickets, expounding the National Basketball Association team's run for the playoffs, etc.

I don't think they'll make the playoffs. I mean, the fancy piece of literature shows a picture of four players on the cover. I think someone ought to tell them that all the other teams in the NBA use five players at a time.

I hope someone tells Coach Al Attles about it soon. After all, that is quite a handicap.

YESSIR, IN answer to your question, that Franklin "Pepper" Rodgers who moved from Kansas to succeed Tommy Prothro as head football coach is the very same gent who coached football at Hamilton Air Force Base in the early 1950s. Had some pretty good ball clubs out there, too.

A story out of Kansas said Rodgers wept with joy about moving from Kansas to Los Angeles, but he didn't shed a tear when he got out of the Air Force here, I'll tell you.

ED LEDERMAN of San Rafael is a diver on the Stanford University varsity swimming team, making a splash just like the Indian gridders did in the Rose Bowl.

I'LL BET you didn't know that Redwood High School Athletic Director Robert J. Troppmann of short-hair fame is a columnist.

Well, indeed he is, for the latest issue of Cal Coach Magazine features an article by Bob, accompanied by a picture of his famous mug.

Tropp is head of the California Athletic Directors Association, largest in the United States, and reports monthly on the functions of the organization. Heckuva writer.

I HAVE a note here telling us all that Marin County distance runners did well in the annual all-star selections of the Pacific Association, Amateur Athletic Union.

Richard Delgado, mathematics teacher at San Rafael High School, was selected the outstanding runner of the year for the Pacific Association, which covers Northern California and Nevada, and Darryl Beardall of the Marin Athletic Club was voted number two in the balloting.

Others elected to the honorary all-P.A. team were Alvaro Mejia, Olympian runner from Columbia; Byron Lowry, member of the U.S. national marathon team; Bill Scobey, 4:03 miler from Humboldt State College; and Jack Leydig, second place finisher in the National championship marathon in 1969.

As I keep reminding you, Delgado is the fastest math teacher in the state because he practices what he preaches. Yes, the shortest distance between two points is indeed a straight line.

BARRY BRINK of Mill Valley, who starred at tackle for Dartmouth's fine football team, also played well in the Hula Bowl last weekend. If you saw the game on the tube, Barry was No. 75 for the North.He also played in the East-West Shrine Game.

The thing that amazes me about Barry, son of former pro grid star Larry Brink, the Mill Valley auto dealer, is that he is also an excellent tennis player. At 240 pounds, the kid doesn't even need a racquet. I think he just flexes his muscles to bounce the ball over the net.

Terra Linda In Cage Victory

The Terra Linda High School Trojans kept pace with Tamalpais and Redwood last night by dumping San Rafael, 52-47 for their second straight Marin County Athletic League basketball victory.

The winless Bulldogs, like Drake last week, shut off the Trojans' top offensive threat, Joe Casteel, and came closer to winning than they were expected to. But Terra Linda spread their scoring around to nine players and wore down the hometown team in the final minutes of play.

With Casteel held to seven points, Bill Berry, Todd Young and Larry Kerr took up the charge and led the Trojans' attack. Berry had 11 points, the others 10 each.

San Rafael's scoring was slightly more concentrated, as Bill Lechner and Mark Farrar finished with 12 apiece, and Jim Thorne and Wayne Lechner each got nine.

Both teams played superb ball control, making fewer than 10 turnovers all night between them.

Tamalpais Cagers Get Scare From Novato

The Tamalpais High School Indians, playing with all the concentration of an expectant father, buckled down in the final minutes last night and edged Novato High, 56-51 before some 600 disheartened fans in Novato.

The victory gave the Indians of Mill Valley, seventh ranked in the Bay Area, a 2-0 Marin County Athletic League record, while the Hornets took their second loss. But coach Bernie Schneider of Tam probably did not sleep well last night. Instead of counting sheep, he probably counted Joe DeMaestri's 20-foot set shots that nearly beat his team.

DeMaestri was the leading man and everybody else was just an extra as he brought the Hornets to the brink of victory, and then turned goat in the final nine seconds, when he missed a pair of charity shots that would have given his team the lead.

As it was, Will Garner, who led his team with 20 points, climaxed a Tam stall in the waning minutes by hitting a three-point play that broke a 49-49 tie with 0:49 left. Marty Moroski, a secondary hero behind DeMaestri for Novato, came back with a layup, the last of his 12 points, and the Hornets were within one.

With 11 seconds left, Novato got the ball again, and with nine left Billy Washington fouled DeMaestri, whose shot fell short as he sprawled to the court. But the best shooter in the MCAL then missed both foul shots awarded him, and Tam put it away with four points in the last five seconds.

But without the 5-foot-11 DeMaestri, whose face resembles John Havlicek of the Boston Celtics, the Hornets would never have been close at all. He poured in 24 points, hitting 11 of 14 shots from the floor. A majority of those came from way, way outside, and each one brought a deafening roar from the crowd.

After the game, outside the gym, a young Tam fan consoled the Hornets as they filed out. "Don't cry, Novato, you played good." Especially Joe DeMaestri.

San Marin Wallops Drake

Perhaps still mindful of the clobbering they took from Tamalpais last week, the San Marin High School Mustangs wrecked a vengeful havoc on the unfortunate Drake Pirates last night, 60-37 in Novato.

The Mustangs, an up-again, down-again team all season, were way up last night as they evened their Marin County Athletic League record at the expense of the winless San Anselmo team. San Marin led in every quarter, and even in the final minutes was pouring it on.

Three players hit double figures to pace the victorious attack; center Dana LaFerriere had a game high 16 points, followed by sophomore Hoza Wright with 14 and Jim Thompson with 12. No one in the Drake lineup had that distinction, as Greg Shaw and Tom Carlisle were high men with eight apiece.

Altogether 16 players from both teams made the scoring column as both Andy Frauenhofer of San Marin and Bob Fitzhenry of Drake emptied their benches.

KAPP QUIET AFTER GRAND JURY SESSION

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Boston Patriots quarterback Joe Kapp appeared before a federal grand jury investigating possible anti-trust violations by the National Football League Tuesday, the first active player to be called to testify since the jury was impaneled last November.

Kapp declined to discuss his testimony with newsmen, but it was believed he was asked about his contract troubles with the Minnesota Vikings.

A second witness Tuesday was former Green Bay Packers tight end Ron Kramer, who later said he was not asked about blacklisting or any players in particular. He said he was well satisfied with his career in the NFL.

Petaluma Quint Defeats Ukiah

Kevin Gillmore scored 16 points and dished out his superhustle style of play last night to give the Petaluma High School Trojans a 51-42 North Bay I League basketball victory over Ukiah.

Gillmore scored 16 points, high for the Trojans, before fouling out with three minutes to go. But by that time the script had been written, and his team had its second league win in three games.

Cal Bears Appeal Loss Of Track-Field Crown

BERKELEY (UPI) —The University of California is appealing the loss of its NCAA Track and Field championship.

The NCAA Sunday took the Bears' 1970 title from it on grounds that sprinter Isaac Curtis, who had a hand in 22 of the Bears' 40 points, had not complied with the so-called "1.6 rule" through a university oversight.

Athletic publicity director Bob Steiner said the school is citing two points in its appeal:

"The spirit of the 1.6 rule was not violated.

"Cal did nothing clandestine or underhanded, immediately reporting the situation to the NCAA when it was discovered last September."

Curtis, through an admitted university oversight, did not take the SAT (Student Aptitude Tests) necessary to predict a 1.6 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) by a student-athlete. The seldom-invoked NCAA rule demands that the school administer tests in order to predict academic performance or the students will be declared ineligible.

Representatives of the school are at the meeting in Houston, which ends today, but no further action on the matter is expected until the NCAA reconvenes in April.

10th Straight Water Polo Win

Terra Linda High scored three goals in the last minute of play yesterday to break a 12-12 deadlock and win its 10th straight Marin County Athletic League water polo match.

The 15-12 victory assured the undefeated Trojans of at least a tie for the league title, with three games left to play.

Doug Brockbank of Redwood led all scorers with seven goals.

Officials Stunned By Bills' New Plan

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — State, county and city officials were stunned Tuesday when the Buffalo Bills of the National Football League looked to Seattle for a new home.

"It's incredible," remarked Frank A. Sedita, mayor of Buffalo which saw its State University discontinue intercollegiate football only one day earlier and failed to keep the International League Baseball Bisons from moving to Winnipeg last year when attendance dropped at War Memorial Stadium —the same facility Bills' owner Ralph C. Wilson, Jr., said he "could no longer live with."

The Bills broke what was perhaps this city's best kept secret in simultaneous announcements in Buffalo, where the club began 11 years ago, and in Seattle, where Wilson met with civic leaders and viewed the University of Washington stadium.

"The Bills' management is fond of Buffalo and its fans, but has reached the point where it no longer can live with the stadium existing here," the statement read.

"The climate for a suitable new stadium in the immediate future does not exist in Buffalo," it continued. "This leaves the Bills no alternative but to move."

The Erie County Legislature, which tossed the question of a new stadium for four years and still remained undecided on what to build, where to put it and who shall operate it, was in session when word reached the chambers.

"It's catastrophic," said one legislator.

"I'm shocked," said another.

"The only reason we need a stadium is because we have the Bills," replied a third.

There were also these developments:

—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged the state "will continue to do everything it can to help Erie County and the city solve its stadium problem and keep the Bills in Buffalo." But an aide, when asked what the state had done in the past, replied "working behind the scenes" — but could not be more specific.

—State Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges of nearby Niagara Falls announced he stood ready to work with the state urban development corporation, Rockefeller, Wilson and any other officials to help settle the stadium issue. To delay, he said, would be "disastrous."

—King County executive John Spellman, apparently impressed that Wilson chose to eye Seattle, said he thought the Seattle area has "a great deal to offer" the club and that "there's no question of this area's support of pro football.

—In Olympia, county lawmakers indicated they were preparing resolutions and bills in an effort to make the University of Washington's stadium available for professional football.

—Erie County executive B. Jon Tutuska, "quite disturbed" but not surprised by the announcement, declared it was "absolutely imperative that firm and positive action be taken" quickly if the Bills were to stay in Buffalo.

But Wilson, who said the club "cannot tolerate our present situation" here, play in a "dated stadium" and yet "remain competitive," gave every indication the announcement was not a threat to hasten a stadium decision on the Niagara Frontier.

Faced with "no alternative," he said he was even considering three other, unnamed cities in case a move to Seattle feel through.

the Westerners' second in nine years.

Alcindor, a member of an Eastern team which won by seven points last season, scored 19 points, grabbed 14 rebounds, blocked seven shots and got what proved to be the winning free throw.

The man who may be ready to start a Bill Russell-type dynasty at Milwaukee outplayed New York's Willis Reed, the MVP in this game a year ago. Reed finished with 14 points and had 13 rebounds.

Ironically, Wilkens was removed by West coach Larry Costello for Oscar Robertson with 3:31 to go and the East leading 101-100.

"I wanted to get a bigger guard in," Costello explained.

"I'll never second guess a coach," Wilkens said with a grin.

Alcindor banked in a five-footer with 48 seconds to go and was fouled by Gus Johnson. He converted and the West was ahead 108-105.

The East's Jo Jo White made a field goal with 26 seconds left and the West stalled out the clock.

A San Diego International Sports Arena record crowd of 14,378 watched the game.

Healdsburg Whips Rancho Cotate '5'

The Rancho Cotate High School Cougars let their defense dissolve in the final quarter last night and lost a North Bay II League basketball game to Healdsburg High in that Northern California town, 43-36.

The Cougars of Rohnert Park, now 1-2 in league play, lost despite the return to the lineup of mammoth center Ron Seiler, who had been sidelined with the flu; The Greyhounds held him to five points. Top man for Rancho Cotate was Steve Wlodarczyk with 13.

SRMA Cagers Triumph, 63-55

Tom Kewell and Jim Stevenson combined for 48 points yesterday to lead the San Rafael Military Academy Cadets past College Prep, 63-55 in a Bay Counties League basketball game in Oakland.

Kewell, a forward, led all scorers with 28 points.

Stram, Hunt Agree On 10 Year Contract

MIAMI (UPI) — Hank Stram and owner Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs have reached agreement and shaken hands on a new 10-year contract that reportedly will make Stram one of the highest paid coaches in professional football.

Terms of the contract have not been revealed, but Stram is known to have been given a substantial increase over the terms in his previous contract which expired at the end of the 1970 season during which he guided the Chiefs to a 7-5-2 record.

DETROIT (UPI) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty Niners and Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals have been named player and coach of the year by Football News.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Reubin Askew and the Florida Cabinet urged the National Football League and Commissioner Pete Rozelle Tuesday to lift a television "blackout" that will keep south Florida fans from viewing Sunday's Super Bowl game in Miami.

State Treasurer Tom O'Malley, a former resident of Miami, ram-rodded unanimous adoption of a resolution to Rozelle and the league.

It claimed that blacking out of the Super Bowl game in the South Florida area will keep an estimated 2.5 million viewers from seeing the game.

General

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay expressed confidence Tuesday that the New York Yankees and the Football Giants will continue to use New York's Yankee Stadium as their home base despite attempts by the state of New Jersey to lure them to the Hackensack Meadowlands.

New Jersey Gov. William Cahill today confirmed that thought was being given to creating a stadium complex in the Hackensack Meadows across the Hudson from Manhattan, and that there were hopes the Yankees and the Giants could be induced to make a new home in what for centuries has been a wasteland.

Another Nightmare For Seals

TORONTO (UPI) —There's no rest for the weary California Seals who have been having goalish nightmares on their current road trip.

That bad trip ends tonight when the Seals skate against the Maple Leafs at Toronto. So far this season, the Maple Leafs hold a 1-2 edge over the Seals. The lone California victory was 8-4 at the Oakland Coliseum-Arena Nov. 6.

California trailed St. Louis 3-2 at the end of the first period Tuesday night but that's the closest the Seals got.

The Blues scored twice in the second period and forced the removal of Gary Smith from the California goal. Chris Worthy took over for the tired Smitty and was bombarded with three more goals in the final period to give the Blues an 8-2 win.

That was the fifth loss in six games for the Seals since the start of the new, but luckless, year. That one victory, oddly, was 6-3 over St. Louis in Oakland.

Don O'Donoghue and defenseman Ron Stackhouse scored the Seals goals in the latest losing cause against the Blues. Jim Lorentz tallied two goals and Christian Bordeleau added a goal and three assists to power the St. Louis attack.

After tonight's game in Toronto, the Seals return home for four games, beginning Friday night with the New York Rangers.

NBA Owners Give Sonics A Warning

SAN DIEGO, (UPI) —The National Basketball Association's owners have warned Seattle owner Sam Schulman the Supersonics are in trouble for signing Spencer Haywood.

The Board of Governors met on the day of the league's 21st annual all-star game Tuesday and directed Commissioner Walter Kennedy to "consider bringing charges" against the Sonics.

Kennedy mentioned "expulsion" as a possible penalty but in the next breath he played down the possibility the league would take such harsh action.

At a news conference following a stormy meeting of the owners, Kennedy revealed the Board of Governors had adopted a resolution by a 15-2 vote which directed him to make a recommendation "in connection with the Spencer Haywood matter."

The league has a rule against signing a player until his college class gradutes and Haywood's class won't be out at University of Detroit until June.

Under the NBA's constitution and by-laws, Kennedy said, the penalties ranged from "expulsion of the franchise to a minimum fine." He said the Sonics possibly could be stripped of draft choices.

Schulman, who usually doesn't have any trouble finding words, issued a terse "no comment." Any penalty against Seattle would require the votes of 13 of the 17 owners, according to the commissioner.

The owners' next meeting will be at Kennedy's directive but the commissioner said he didn't know when that might be.

Despite the owners' resolution, the Haywood case remained unclear.

Kennedy admitted that the case was in the hands of the courts.

Haywood, 6-foot-9 hero of the 1968 olympic games, was signed by the Supersonics Dec. 30 away from the American Basketball Association Denver Rockets. He didn't play with Denver this season because of contract difficulties.

In Los Angeles Friday U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson ruled that Haywood could continue playing for Seattle for 10 more days.

Marin Catholic Freshmen Triumph

Marin Catholic went two overtimes before downing Tamalpais High School, 54-52 yesterday in a Marin County Athletic League freshman basketball game. Willie Fahy hit a jump shot with 10 seconds left to insure the win. Len Kristensen of Marin Catholic, and Mike Owens and Steve Dinehart of Tam all had 17 points.

In other games, Drake routed San Rafael 50-26 behind Rick Herbert's 19 points, and Neil Hennessey scored 22 to lead Redwood past Terra Linda, 41-24.

Art Wall Jr. Will Be Back

Art Wall Jr., over the years, acquired a reputation as one of the best putters among the touring golf pros. But Wall's putter betrayed him on the 72nd hole of the Los Angeles Open when he missed a four footer that eliminated him from the playoff between Bob Lunn and Billy Casper.

Once before, in 1959, Wall missed by a stroke in the Los Angeles Open and then he went on to win the Bing Crosby, the Masters, the Azalea Open, the Buick Open, plus half a dozen No. 2 finishes. Nobody was surprised when Wall got more than twice as many votes as all other players combined in the 1959 Player of the Year poll conducted by the PGA.

SINCE THAT big year when he was leading money winner with $53,167.60, Wall has been plagued by a kidney ailment, a knee injury, a rib injury, back trouble and more recently a bout with hepatitis. Yet, when sympathetic golf writers began describing him as "hard luck golfer," Wall would have none of it.

"Who am I to complain about hard luck after the year I had in 1959," Wall said. "Golf has been good to me."

If Wall ever alibied in his 22 years on the pro circuit, there is no record of it. "It was a disappointing finish," he said quietly after missing the four footer on the 72nd at Los Angeles. "But that's golf. I hung in the well."

WALL BECAME a pro in 1949, the year he was graduated from Duke University. Now 47, Wall and his wife Jean, a Penn State graduate, and their five children, live in Honesdale, Pa., where he was born Nov. 25, 1923.

Wall learned golf as a caddie and junior member of the Honesdale club where he got his first hole-in-one as a 12-year-old on a par three hole with a No. 7 iron. Since then he has scored 35 aces but is reluctant to talk about them. "People think I'm prevaricating," he says.

HOWEVER, DUMPY Hagler, Wall's Duke University golf coach, personally witnessed six Wall aces, the longest of which was a 300-yarder. And two he scored in PGA competition, the first in the 1951 Texas Open, the second in the 1959 San Diego Open, also are well documented.

Of the 22 he scored at his hometown Honesdale layout, where he played 36 to 54 holes daily as a youngster, two are also well documented. A Honesdale minister, with shom Wall was playing at the time, witnessed them.

Wall's total of aces is regarded by his hometown admirers as the most amazing facet of his career. However, his fellow pros regard his finish in the 1959 Masters as the highlight. Wall birdied five of the last six holes to win — undoubtedly one of the best finishes ever in the Masters.

A PRESS ASSOCIATION story out of Los Angeles during the weekend devoted several paragraphs to Wall's missed putt on the 72nd and reported the last tournament he won as the 1966 Hartford Open.

But don't be surprised if Wall, at age 47, wins a few more this year. He's a competitor who has always played within his abilities, never trying anything fancy, never showboating. He's a conservative fellow with quiet class on or off the golf course.

Marin '5' At Home Tonight

The mighty College of Marin Tars, now the fourth-ranked junior college basketball team in California, take their 17-1 record and a home court advantage into tonight's Camino Norte Conference game against Canada J.C. of Redwood City.

In the latest rankings out of the Junior College Athletic Bureau, Marin jumped from ninth place to replace leaguemate Contra Costa in the No. 4 spot. The Tars, whose record is the best of all junior colleges in the state, thus become the highest ranking team from Northern California.

John Panagakis' crew will have a chance to solidify their new ranking Saturday night when they meet Contra Costa (10-5) in San Pablo. Should they win that one, the Tars very conceivably could run through the rest of their CNC schedule undefeated.

In their most recent effort, the Tars mangled lowly Solano of Vallejo, 86-60, last Saturday night. The game was mercy killing at its finest. Joe Smith, who was not particularly sharp. in the first half, scored 26 points for the game anyway, while Roosevelt Green, as formidable a center as can be found in Northern California, garned 18 and cast fear into the heart of any Falcon who dared drive inside on him.

Tonight's game will be broadcast over KTIM FM (101.9), with Verle Sorgen doing the play-by-play.

Arnie, Jack Draw Fans Cerrudo: 67

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—They weren't among the top three money winners last year, but Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus still are the gallery favorites.

The two golfers and their amateur partners played a practice round over water-soaked Spyglass Hill Tuesday in preparation for the 30th annual Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, which starts Thursday.

A gallery of several hundred slogged along with them. No other pro had more than a dozen spectators.

Palmer shot a 70, Nicklaus a 71 and Bob Hoag, Nicklaus' partner, hit a hole in one on the 160-yard 12th.

Meanwhile, Ron Cerrudo fired a 67 at Pebble Beach, indicating he may be ready to return to the top of the golf heap.

The big hitter from the Bay Area had disc surgery in August and did not play again competitively until last week.

GEORGE BLANDA'S PICK

Edge To Unitas, Mates

Editor's note: George Blanda, 43-year-old quarterback of the Oakland Raiders and UPI's player of the year in the American Football Conference, analyzes Sunday's Super Bowl game in a "before and after" series for UPI. Today: the probable winner. Monday: How it happened.

By GEORGE BLANDA
Written For United Press International

MIAMI (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts and Dallas Cowboys are similar in many respects.

First of all, both teams basically play a zone defense and both have good defensive lines. In the last few weeks the Dallas defense has been exceptional, allowing only one or two touchdowns and going over 20 quarters without giving up one touchdown.

Both teams will be emotionally high because they have something to prove. Dallas has the stigma of usually losing the big game. Baltimore lost in the Super Bowl two years ago and definitely will be fired up to make amends for that humiliating defeat.

But I believe Baltimore will be able to move the ball against Dallas. I think they'll be able to contain the Dallas pass rush because of their great offensive line. The other teams have failed to do this.

I think Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, with his great experience playing against a zone defense, will use a short passing game to control the ball. And with the running attack the Colts have developed in the last few weeks, they should be able to move the ball fairly consistently on the ground.

I don't see Baltimore throwing any deep passes against Dallas. Their running secret is ball control. They will have to run the ball to slow down the pass rush and if they have success with their running game the passing will work. They will be able to put points on the board.

Dallas has had problems moving the ball offensively the last three or four weeks — in fact, all season, I guess. But their success has been a great defense and a good, solid running game which has enabled them to have the kind of ball control that keeps their defensive unit on the bench quite a bit of the time.

I don't think they'll run against the Baltimore line like they did against the San Francisco Forty Niners, although I think they'll have more success with their passing because the Baltimore zone defense is a little leaky at times. I took for Craig Morton to complete quite a few of his short to medium passes.

I wouldn't think Morton can get the long ball in there. Baltimore does give you certain things, but they don't give you the big play. I don't think the Colts will allow Bob Hayes to get beyond the secondary for any deep passes.

Defensively, I think the biggest challenge Baltimore faces is the variety of offensive formations Dallas uses. The Cowboys may fool them occasionally but Baltimore is a veteran group of defensive people and I believe they'll be able to handle the challenge.

One factor does favor Dallas and that's the artificial turf in the stadium. Dallas has played on artificial turf all year and Baltimore, in its last effort in the Orange Bowl against Miami, failed to produce its best effort. They lost to the Dolphins, 34-17, on that field.

From our experience, we find you can generate more speed on artificial turf. Dallas, because it has played so much on it, should have an edge in timing.

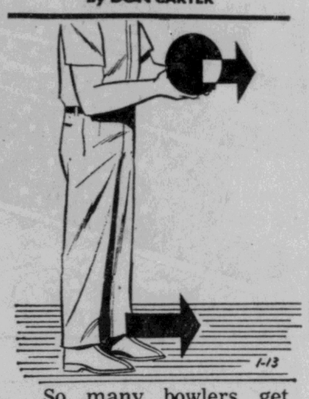
The Dallas strength on their defensive line is the pass rush. If the Colts can handle Bob Lilly, and I think they will, that should give Unitas plenty of time. And if he gets time, he'll pick their zone apart.

I just have the feeling the Baltimore defense can contain the Dallas offense. I think they will stop the running. If they stop the running and make Morton pass they'll give him the short ones. But eventually Dallas will be forced into some mistakes and Baltimore will end up picking off an errant pass.

Most of the Baltimore team has been there before. The Colts know how to react in pressure situations. Basically, Johnny Unitas will be the difference in the ball game and I'm for Johnny U. all the way.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



So many bowlers get their approach fouled up because they carry the ball a step or two before starting their push-away. You should not move foot until you move the ball away from your body simultaneously. If you are guilty of carrying the ball. . .and a teammate can tell you. . .give this bad habit top priority.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 13, the 13th day of 1971.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Mars. The evening star is Saturn.

Horatio Alger was born on Jan. 13, 1834.

On this date in history:

In 1733 James Oglethorpe and some 130 British colonists arrived at Charleston on the American Atlantic Coast. They had a charter to form a settlement in what today is the state of Georgia.

In 1864 American songwriter Stephen Foster died in New York City. He had only 35 cents in his pocket.

In 1863 President Sylvanus Olympio of the West African nation of Togo was assassinated.

In 1970 the breakaway state of Biafra surrendered to Federal Nigeria, ending a 30-month civil war in which hundreds of thousands died, most of them from starvation.

A thought for today: Abraham Lincoln said, "Truth is generally the best vindication against slander."

Equipment Stolen

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Simple Signals Are Not Just Enough For Championship Play

When you were a beginner you learned a simple rule for signaling as a defender. When you play a seven or any higher card, that is an encouraging signal; when you play a six or any card lower than the six, that is a discouraging signal. This is a good rule for beginners, but it isn't good enough for experts because you may get trapped by the cards.

Opening lead — ♡ K

HEART ACTION

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the ace, the jack and the ten. It was all very normal, but East had a problem on the fourth round of hearts. He had to discard, and no discard would tell his story accurately.

If East discarded the eight of spades it would look like an encouraging signal. East didn't want to encourage a switch to spades; and, in fact, a spade switch would let South take four spades and three high clubs. (South would actually get an eighth trick if he ran the spades first since East would have to discard the queen and king of diamonds to avoid giving declarer a fourth club.)

SMALL DIAMOND

If East discarded the deuce of diamonds, it would look like a discouraging signal; but East really wanted a switch to diamonds.

Even if East discarded the deuce of clubs as a discouraging signal, West might lead a spade rather than a diamond. South would then get eight easy tricks.

EXPERT SOLUTION

The expert solution to the problem is to make allowance for the cards that you are dealt. An encouraging signal is some card other than your lowest in the suit. If you have only the 3-2 of a suit, the three is encouraging because it isn't your lowest card. If you have only the 9-8 of a suit, the eight is discouraging, because it is your lowest card.

NO - TRUMP DEFENSE

An expert partner also knows that you tend to discard from weakness when defending against no-trump. Any spade discard would suggest that you have nothing interesting in that suit; that you are saving all your goodies in the other suits.

An expert West might have to guess whether to lead a diamond or a club, but he would not be misled by the eight of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - J 5 3
♥ - Q 6
♦ - 9 5 4 3
♣ - K Q 9 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. You have fine support for clubs but no other suit worth naming.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Outlook Improving For General Cable

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I hold 50 shares of General Cable at a cost of 45½ a share. Will shares recover or shall I sell at a loss? — H.F.

A. Several developments have brightened the outlook considerably for General Cable. A reduction in the price of copper, closing out of unprofitable operations and the technological benefits to be garnered from ties with British Insulated Callender Cable are all bullish factors.

In addition, the disposal by American Smelting of its 36 per cent interest in General, which had depressed the shares earlier, has now been completed. Demand for wire and cable has been strong as operating statistics attest; sales for the nine months ended September 30, 1970 were up 10 per cent and earnings increased 20 per cent to 88 cents a share. Since management expects final quarter 1970 results to exceed those of the September quarter, full year results could reach $1.20-$1.30 a share.

A high level of demand from utility companies for General Cable's products is anticipated for this year. Shares should be held for recovery.

Q. Some of us here would appreciate your evaluation of Pacific Power & Light common stock in respect to the next 18 months. — L.M.

A. Pacific Power & Light is an issue geared primarily for the income-oriented investor. Stock, at current levels, yields 6.2 per cent. Though earnings have not been up to par thus far in 1970, the company was recently granted rate relief in Oregon, Washington, California and Montana — its major revenue producing states — which will add approximately $11 million to Pacific Power's annual revenues.

Despite the prospect of a heavy financing program in 1971, this rate increase should aid results in the final quarter of fiscal 1970 and beyond, as the rate hikes take effect.

To provide for future growth, Pacific Power plans to spend roughly $311 million for property additions and improvements in the years through 1972. Stock is a highly attractive income vehicle, and offers moderate appreciation potential for the long pull.

5 More Years To Study Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe plans to urge Congress to let industry set up safety standards for farm tractors to help correct problems that now contribute to some of the 1,000 tractor deaths each year.

Volpe's recommendations were prepared in response to a request from Congress on whether the government should impose safety rules on tractors the way automobiles are covered.

The report recommends that Congress take another look at the situation in five years to see how industry has responded. It also recommends that tractor cabs and canopies should be phased out because they can trap or crush tractor operators when the machines overturn.

Continental Gets 1st Class Raise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) said it will allow Continental Airlines to increase its first class fare in all markets over 800 miles.

But the board suspended for investigation a proposed 3 per cent increase in coach and economy fares.

Under Continental's proposal, first class fares would be increased from 125 per cent of coach to 133 per cent.

Turnover Heavy On Exchange

NEW YORK (UPI) — Profit taking turned the stock market mixed today despite a generally constructive news background. Turnover was heavy.

"The market is right for some corrective action," one analyst commented. But he didn't think it would be very deep or last too long because of the Nixon administration's determination to boost the economy in order to reduce unemployment.

Another analyst, however, said the list had a substantial rise since the middle of November, and he looked for the next move to be lower prices.

Shortly before the close, advances were leading declines by more than 200 issues. But the Dow Jones industrial average was off 3.07 at 841.12.

Closing prices included: AT&T 51; Bethlehem Steel 22⅞ off 1⅛; DuPont 133⅝ off ⅝; General Motors 78¾ off ¼; Republic Steel 29¾ off 1⅜; Southern Pacific 37⅛ up 1¼, and U.S. Steel 33¼ off 1⅛.

Other heavily traded stocks included Gulf Oil, Pan American World Airways, Standard Oil of California, Boeing, Braniff, and Continental Oil.

Prices advanced in brisk trading on the American Stock Exchange.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Store, Roy Anderson Paint Company, Opening In San Rafael

A new paint store, Roy Anderson Paint Co., is opening at 813 Third Street, San Rafael —formerly occupied by Ayers Paint and Supply Co.

Owner Roy Anderson of Burlingame has operated his own paint manufacturing business in San Francisco for many years and also maintains a store there. The San Rafael store will be an outlet to the retail trade as well as to contractors and other dealers and will handle a few stains, wallpapers and other products not of Anderson manufacture.

In charge here is Roger Johnson of Alameda, who plans on moving to Marin. He is a journeyman painter, has previously been with Old Colony Paint Co. and also with Anderson at the San Francisco facility.

With him is retired painting contractor Peter Thorsfeldt of Greenbrae.

The store has been refurbished and paint supplies should start arriving this week, although an official opening may not take place until Feb. 1.

ANOTHER NEW BUSINESS, already openef at 815 Grant Avenue, Novato is called Warehouse Antiques.

Owners William and Margaret Ollenbrook of Novato started out with antiques as a hobby about 11 years ago. They first took up collecting clocks, then bric-a-brac, spinning wheels, vases, glassware, antique furniture, Tiffany shades, bronze, copper and brass--and the accumulation eventually overflowed both their home and garage.

They have added new furniture to go along with the antiques and have leased a 1,500-square foot store at 815 Grant from Herman Deitch, Realtor. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays, with evening hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays to 9 p.m.

DONALD P. GEDDES of Mill Valley has retired from the real estate firm who has borne his name since 1954.

Jerrold J. Hickock of San Rafael assumes ownership and operation of the business, which will continue to be known as Donald Geddes Realty. Jerrold launched his real estate career in Marin County in 1961. Since then he has worked in the title insurance and mortgage loan business.

Geddes will remain in the firm as an associate broker at the Mill Valley office.

LARRY R. VENTURI of Petaluma has been elected assistant vice president of Golden West Savings and Loan Association. He is an appraiser in the loan department and is responsible for the Sonoma County area. He was in the loan department of Redwood Empire Savings and Loan and joined Golden West when the two associations merged in 1969.

LIKE EVERYTHING ELSE, the cost of dictating, typing, mailing and filing a business letter has gone up again--but at a lesser rate than in recent years.

According to the Dartnell Institute of Business Research, which makes an annual study of the subject, the average cost of a business letter in 1971 will be $3.19, only 4.6 per cent above the 1970 average of $3.05. The 1970 cost represented an 11.3 per cent climb over 1969.

Major factor is the salary of the secretary who does all the work. Now an even $1 per letter, this cost is based on a 20-minute segment of her time, figured at $3 per hour.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Tax Dependents Must Meet Five Conditions To Qualify

How many dependents can you claim?

Each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions:

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1970 (or see below — multiple support agreement).

2. Dependent did not have over $625 income in 1970 unless the dependent was your child, foster child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student for at least five months, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provided over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

A foster child can now be claimed as a dependent. A foster child is a child who is in the care of a person or persons (other than the parent or adopted parents of the child) who care for the child as their own child.

Status as a foster child is not dependent upon or affected by the circumstances under which the child became a member of the household, but must have been a member of the household for the entire year.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $625 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the above conditions.

Also, if your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you.

When two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent of the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact he did not contribute more than 50 per cent of the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided:

(1) The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and

(2) Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent to the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1970.

An agreement, form 2120, must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent of the support of the dependent. The agreement must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent.

Reagan Takes Positive Step On Welfare Reform

While other public officials wail about the shortcomings of the welfare system, Gov. Ronald Reagan has moved to do something about them.

In a letter last week to all units of state government, Reagan called for prompt reports on what jobs they could provide for able-bodied welfare recipients.

He laid down these criteria as "extremely important":

"1. The jobs described must not displace persons already employed or interfere in any way with existing patterns of employment.

"2. The jobs described must not involve high costs for training or supervision.

"3. The jobs described should not involve significant per capita expenditures for tools, transportation, housing or other costs.

"4. The jobs must serve a useful and constructive purpose that will contribute to making California a better place to live."

Given these tough criteria, the various departments of state government may not be able to turn up many jobs. But however many they provide will remove that many people from the dole and give them the self-respect that goes with earning a living.

If each county, city, and public district undertook a similar inventory, quite a few jobs might be found which could be given able-bodied welfare recipients. There would then be some return from the cost of welfare; under the dole, there is none.

Whether or not Governor Reagan's attempt gets very far, it is a heartening departure from the "let Uncle Sam do it" approach that has been taken by governors, mayors and county officials across the land as the welfare squeeze has assumed ominous proportions.

It is a much more positive approach than that of Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, who last week directed that city's corporation counsel to sue state and federal governments to strike down laws that mandate welfare costs to the city — some $600 million of them in the current fiscal year.

Mayor Lindsay's approach would merely shift the take from one pocket of the taxpayer to another. And the real trouble is that the bottoms of all the pockets have been reached.

At that, we wish the City of New York success in its suit. It is unconscionable that state and federal governments can mandate programs to be paid for by the cities and counties. It is unfair for state and federal governments to force counties to tax us for expenditures over which the counties have no control. It vitiates the purpose of representative government.

But waiting for court decisions is tiresome business; and there is no assurance that the courts will find for the City of New York. Meantime, an approach such as that taken by Governor Reagan can help to reverse the growing tide of feeling that "the world owes me a living" — the world being the employed or retired taxpayer.

We suggest that Governor Reagan should go a bit farther. A great many more jobs might be found if he eliminated from his first requirement that the jobs must not "interfere in any way with existing patterns of employment."

Some of the existing patterns of employment under state and local civil service bureaucracy do not make a great deal of sense. Some interference with them might be in order.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Gouging By Agencies Object Of Corrective Bill

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Shocking abuses in the field of private employment agencies, involving tremendous overcharges for finding jobs for the unemployed, have been uncovered by Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park.

Already, the senator has introduced legislation seeking corrective measures to curb the abuses, which he says are by no means general but widespread enough to warrant changes in the employment agency laws.

SONG SAID on introducing the employment agency legislation that "the best way to find a job is to have a lot of money."

He pointed out that some private agencies are charging each job seeker a fee amounting to two or three times the first month's salary.

Consequently, the bill, SB 28, would fix the employment agency fee ceiling of half the first month's salary on jobs paying $600 a month or less.

"The $600 figure was chosen," he said, "because this is the minimum monthly income necessary for a family of four to maintain what the Bureau of Labor Statistics terms a low standard of living.

"People searching for jobs at this level need extra protection.

"Also, some agencies are requiring men who are out of work to pay cash in advance for getting them jobs.

"In a time when so many are looking for work, we must impose some reasonable standards on those who make a profit from finding jobs."

The proposed bill would provide that no one would have to pay for a job until he has earned the money to pay the agency fee, and also for a refund of 1/90 of the fee for every day less than 90 that he is employed.

"I WANT TO MAKE it absolutely clear," he said, "that employment agencies provide a most valuable service in locating jobs for those who need them. My bill is geared to reform the errant few who overcharge."

There has been, for a good many years, direct competition between the public employment service, operated by the state Department of Employment, and the private employment agencies.

The public employment offices assess no charge at all for finding jobs for applicants, and as a result, have been more or less relegated to the position of serving a poorer class of applicants, plus the recipients of unemployment insurance, who are required to have applications for work with the public service.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Much Confusion On Proposition A

If voters were confused in the aftermath of the passage of County Measure "A," calling for the withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, they had good reason to be. The I-J editorial, Oct. 21, assured them that the measure did not contravene President Nixon's withdrawal policy. The measure's originator reiterated this in a letter published Oct. 27. Sponsors of an expensive political ad, Oct. 29, also assured voters that this was true. However, the President had previously opposed a similar proposition (the Hatfield-McGovern Amendment) in Congress. Now Supervisor Arrigoni is quoted, Dec. 30, as saying: "Proposition A is the stated policy of the people of Marin and so I don't think we can support that (Nixon's policies) at this time. . ."

After the election the "peace" committee, changing its tune, inferred in its telegrams to the President and to our congressional representatives that the affirmative vote (of 18 per cent of Marin's population) was indicative of the "will of the people" and of the "silent majority" and that withdrawal by a deadline should replace Vietnamization. How many voted for the measure under the misapprehension that they were voting for the President's withdrawal policy or because no choice of withdrawal policies were permitted is open to conjecture, but the number could have easily exceeded the 4 per cent margin by which it passed. (Significantly, in Massachusetts where a choice was provided, withdrawal under Vietnamization won.) If the "peace" committee evoked no encouraging response from its telegrams, it could be that the President and our representatives had been informed of the above facts. As a matter of fact, they were!

Good And Bad In Any Community

Regarding my previous letter saying that I thought that Marie Woelfl's comments were dangerously vague: the editor stated that Mrs. Woelfl had been employed by the San Rafael City Schools for a number of years, intimating that she would have been familiar enough with the situation to make the comments she made. It was my point that Mrs. Woelfl's letter read like an inditement (sic) of the entire student and staff population of SRHS. Any one who has attended the school (like I have) or has been employed there for any number of years must know that the majority of students and staff are hardworking, interested, sincere citizens.

A high school "community," like any community, has its good and bad members. To see only the bad and dwell on them is to do a great disservice to a fine institution that so desperately needs the active support of the community it so faithfully serves.

Accolade Voiced For Brbara Hosmer

I wish to nominate Barbara Hosmer for "reporter of the year." Her articles are thoroughly researched and extremely interesting. She keeps me informed on vital human issues such as the removal of weight lifting limitation laws which discriminate due to sex. Now that we are aware of this we can work for protective legislation to include both sexes, since men are prone to heart attacks, hernias, etc.

Would Move Trial To Los Angeles

The Angela Davis thing is already drawing hundreds of demonstators to the Civic Center. The trial will swell this to thousands. It will be a magnet to every radical within a 200-mile radius. And make no mistake about it, this crowd will be determined to destroy the Civic Center and anything else that strikes their fancy.

One must hope that the county officials are being realistic about this and are pushing hard for a change of venue. Marin County is simply not equipped to handle this. Los Angeles County is.

Job Well Done In Welfare Work?

After printing your story in the I-J of Jan. 6, on the "Litteral Family" I imagine you will be deluged with mail. However, wanted to write as this hits home with me. I had an aunt and uncle who rented these same people a home in Kentfield. I'm sure if you check your records Miss Betty Presley and Social Worker Mary Culver you'll recall the situation. I can sympathize with Mrs. Sobel — I saw the home in Kentfield before it was torn down!

Okay, Marin residents, we are all up in the air with welfare and taxes, right? But my biggest gripe isn't with the welfare receipents — after all with some it's human nature to take two inches when offered one. My biggest gripe is with the Mary Culvers and the Betty Presleys. Tell me something gals — How do you have the audacity to accept a salary check for a job well done?

Mrs. VEL DeLEON

Return Of Cat Leaves Mystery

The human interest story behind the ad: LOST — 005

"CAT, orange colored large male. Name 'Puma.' Vic. Black Point. Reward. 892-2174."

Puma staggered home Sunday evening and collapsed at the front door.

We rushed him to the hospital where he is now on the "critical list."

No one knows what happened to him. Was he hit by a car? Was he locked in someone's garage for six days without food and water? Or what? We'll probably never know.

But whoever has owned and loved a cat will understand how we feel.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Jan. 13, 1961

County Auditor-Controller Leon A. de Lisle said he could tie up Civic Center funds to prevent their diversion for remodeling the partly completed building into a county hospital. Chairman William D. Fuselman of the county board of supervisors said de Lisle couldn't do it.

The College of Marin gymnasium was ordered closed as a fire hazard.

20 YEARS AGO

Jan. 13, 1951

Joseph Corbett Jr., a University of California student, was arrested on a charge of murder of Air Force Sgt. Allan Reed, whose body was found Dec. 22, 1950, on a Larkspur hillside.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ordered the Belvedere Planning Commission to open its records for inspection by Harold K. Fulkerson, attorney for Reedport Properties, Inc.

THE DRUMMONDS

SST Test Plans Are Needed To Learn Environmental Effect

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Though we believe the two SST test planes should be built, it is far from demonstrated that a fleet of supersonic planes in steady commercial use would not do grave harm to the environment.

It is imperative that the government take a tough, show-me line to make sure that the environmental questions are thoroughly answered.

Therefore:

1 — No commercial SST should be authorized until their effect on the environment can be established.

2 — The prototypes should go forward with all possible speed so that the needed test-flying can be undertaken and the facts established.

To build the commercial SSTs before the environmental facts are available would be reckless.

To fail to build the two test SSTs, since they are needed to do the environmental research adequately, would be irrational.

NOTHING ADEQUATE has yet been done to determine what would happen to the environment if there were 500 SSTs flying at 65,000 feet around the world.

Opponents of the SST assert that this would have the most disastrous consequences. But nobody knows that it would.

The most expert assessment was made by a group of scientists gathered at MIT last year for a conference on "Man's Impact on the Global Environment." They concluded that there simply were not enough scientific data to say.

Advocates of the SST assert that nothing presently known shows that the consequences would seriously harm the environment. But the weakness of that argument is that not enough is known to give the commercial SSTs a clean bill of health.

WHAT, THEN, needs to be done?

The report issued by the scientists sponsored by MIT gives a sensible answer:

"We recommend that uncertainties about SST contamination and its effects be resolved before large-scale operation of SSTs begins."

Thus the scientists rightly urged the government not to make the mistake of allowing commercial SSTs to operate until the environmental facts can be established.

And it follows that when the U.S. Senate votes again, it ought not to make the mistake of killing the SST prototypes. They are needed to gather the environmental data.

THE SST environmental research presently being sponsored by the Nixon Administration is not good enough.

This is by a committee created by William M. Magruder, director of the SST program, to advise him on what changes might be made in the SST to minimize its environmental effects.

Surely the only way to find out if it is environmentally safe to put SSts into commercial operation is to put the scientific studies into the hands of disinterested and qualified scientists.

The collecting of scientific data and its appraisal should not be made by people who have a vested interest in the outcome.

Then the President and Congress will be in the best position to make a national decision on going forward with commercial SSTs or seeking a worldwide ban on commercial supersonic flight.

IT SEEMS that a false impression has been created by the meat-ax Senate debate. It has sounded as though the issue was whether to build a fleet of commercial SSTs. Not so. The only issue was whether to build two test SST planes so that they can be used to get the scientific knowledge without which no intelligent decision on SST flight can be made.

How can the Senate rationally kill the SST prototypes on the basis of environmental half-facts and non-facts?

Let's get the facts and then go wherever they take us.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Nixon Should Tune In To New Speaker's Talk

By ERNEST B. FERGURSON

WASHINGTON--"I have been, I think, a real regular Democrat...I'm sot in the ways of the House."

Carl Albert said so back when Lyndon Johnson was beginning his first full presidential term. At the time he had been Democratic whip for seven years and majority leader for three. Now, with a total of 16 years in the House hierarchy, the short, soft-spoken Oklahoma is barely a week away from becoming speaker.

With his certain election when Congress convenes next week, a new era begins at the capitol.

Albert gave clear notice of that when he disclosed that he will follow up Richard Nixon's "State of the Union "address with one of his own, setting forth national goals from the point of view of the opposition party and the legislative branch.

John McCormack, who is leaving his House district in the care of the charming Louise Day Hicks of Boston, never would have dreamed of such an initiative. No less than Albert, he was "a real regular Democrat, sot in the ways of the House" for four decades. But his concept of leadership, especially in the speakership, was passive--to let things run as they always had run, to give maximum tolerance to the whims and prejudices of individual members and especially senior committee chairmen.

Albert was McCormack's right-hand man, yet his model never was John Mc Cormack. It was Sam Rayburn, the modern epitome of the powerful speaker, who taught him most of what he learned.

Albert's upward career has been based on observance of moldy but valid don't-rock-the-boat precautions out of the political primer. And to them he has added some of his own with particular application to the only political body he has ever served in.

"If you can't win them by persuasion, you can't win them at all," he says of the members. "If you whip them into line every time, by the time you reach the third vote you're through."

That was stated when he was majority leader, based on his experience contending with the disputatious Charles Halleck. About the same time, looking ahead of his own experience, he laid down another: "The speaker is the hub of the whole Congress, not just the House. It's hard to beat him on anything."

In those two statements we have the essence of what we can expect from Speaker Albert. There is going to be no showboating and arm-twisting, but there is going to be a program, and there is going to be honest exertion to put it into law. There is going to be respect for the members and the chairmen, but they are not going to be sacrosanct.

Already Albert has lent his quiet support to the reformers, most of them liberals, who want to break the stranglehold tradition has kept on the Congress. Not that he has joined the firebrands who want to burn the whole system down. But he has urged compromise reforms, and it was his easy, authoritative hand that guided through some of the fundamental changes enacted last year to the surprise of many veteran Congress-watchers.

He has a sense of history, and his own and Congress' place in it. His "State of the Union" speech is likely to tell us more about what the legislative branch will accomplish in the coming two years than the presidential message that precedes it.

If Mr. Nixon is interested in passing programs in the 92nd Congress rather than merely submitting bills and then condemning the lawmakers for not adopting them, he will do well to tune in.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Speaker Gives Arguments For School Accountability

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

With interest growing in the concept of accountability for the public schools, an address before a group of California school administrators deserves a second look.

The talk was by Roger A. Freeman, a senior fellow of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, at a Bay Area section meeting of the California Elementary School Administrators' Association. It was given last Oct. 22, but what Freeman said is equally timely today — perhaps more so because the new state superintendent, Wilson C. Riles, is stressing the need for accountability.

"UNTIL NOT so many years ago," said Freeman, "everyone active in education knew how to measure the quality of a school: class size. . .; qualification of the teachers. . .; number of books in the library; age, size and equipment of the building; and dozens of similar gauges. . . But the final and most widely recognized yardstick of school quality that included all other measurements was: dollars expenditure per pupil in average daily attendance.

"There is just one trouble with these data: they all list input, the resources consumed by the schools; they don't measure the output or product.

"We know how many young people go through the schools and graduate. We don't know how much they learn while they are there."

ILLITERACY in the U.S. declined from 11.3 per cent of the adult population in 1900 to 2.4 per cent in 1960, according to census reports, he noted.

"But," he went on, "functional illiteracy, that is, inability to read and write sufficiently for a minimum functioning in today's economic, political and social life, is far more extensive than the census reports indicate. The (U.S.) Office of Education estimated that 24 million persons 18 years and over are 'functionally illiterate' — they cannot read, write or count at a fifth-grade level. Yet, there were on last count only 6.4 million Americans, 14 years and over, who have attended school for fewer than five years. . .

"School attendance in a particular grade, and even graduation, no longer guarantee a specified education level — ever since the schools, some years ago, discovered the secret of perpetual promotion. There are now some high school graduates who cannot even read their diplomas."

EDUCATORS, he said, put the blame on insufficient financial support for the schools. But he cited figures showing that from 1950 to 1970, public school expenditures increased at a rate more than twice that of enrollment and price inflation combined.

He proceeded to quote reports by educators themselves casting doubt on the validity of the accepted measures of school quality, including this from an intensive study of New York schools by City University of New York:

"We have recorded traditional variables that supposedly affect the quality of learning: class size, school expenditure, pupil-teacher ratio, condition of building, teacher experience and the like. Yet, there seems to be no direct relationship between these school measurement and performance."

WHAT IS NEEDED, Freeman said — as have Riles and President Richard M. Nixon — is to set specific goals for pupil achievement in each school — not merely national "norms" which may not apply to the particular situation. Then hold the school accountable for bringing the students to those goals.

If this were done, there would be no more high school graduates who can't read their own diplomas.

Man Charged With Pot, Drunk Driving

William Sandy McIlyar, 26, of 241 Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on charges of drunken driving and possessing marijuana.

He was to plead to the charges today.

McIlyar was arrested Friday after the California Highway Patrol saw him speeding on Highway 101. A plastic container allegedly containing marijuana was found in his possession when he was booked at Marin County Jail.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 has been issued for Frank Holton, 20, of no fixed address, by Judge E.Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court when Holton failed to appear for sentencing on a burglary conviction.

Ray Anders Johnson, 26, of 5 Estado Court, Novato, arrested Dec. 10 on Highway 101, was placed on probation for 90 days and fined $150.

Jesse Henry Jones, 35, of 209 Drake Avenue, Marin City, arrested Nov. 15 in Larkspur, was placed on probation for one year and fined $100.

Clarence Wayne Lyons, 18, of Alamo, Contra Costa County, arrested Aug. 6 in Corte Madera, was placed on probation for six months and fined $100.

Access To Expressway Is Discussed

Access to the Rohnert Park Expressway should be strictly limited for safety purposes, the Rohnert Park City Council has been told.

Donald B. Head, Sonoma County public works director, recommended Monday that very limited access be permitted and that no access be allowed from Commerce Boulevard to the railroad tracks.

Head said the expressway will be a main artery in the near future and that controls on access should be assured now. Area property owners had requested clarification of the access policy.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

SALARY — Approved a raise for Public Safety Director Robert Dennett to $1,056 monthly.

REZONING — Approved a rezoning request of Quantas Development Corp. for El Colegio Subdivision No. 2.

WATER — Heard Gordon Miller of the Sonoma County Water Agency recommend that major city projects in 1971-72 include work on Hinebaugh Creek and the Wilford Channel.

The cormorant bird, which greatly resembles a pelican, has four toes.

Injuries Minor In Accident

A 47-year-old San Rafael woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 8:10 a.m. Monday at Fourth Street and Lootens Place, San Rafael, police reported.

Dollie Isadore Hearn of 1017 Second Street was treated for multiple bruises to her left arm and shoulder at Marin General Hospital.

She was northbound on Lootens Place when her car collided with one driven east on Fourth Street by Dwight J. Johnson, 26, of 216 Marin Street, San Rafael, according to police.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Chapter 10.56 "Trailers and Trailer Camps" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby repealed.

Legal Notice

SECTION 2: Chapter 14.72 "General Provisions and Exceptions" of the City of San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby renumbered Chapter 14.75; and all other chapters and sections in Title 14 "Zoning" wherein reference is made to Chapter 14.72 or any subsection thereunder is hereby amended to refer to Chapter 14.75 or the appropriate subsection thereof.

SECTION 3: Chapter 75, Title 14 "Zoning" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended by addition thereto of the following subsections 14.75.020 (h) and 14.75.020 (i) which shall read as follows:

14.75.020(h): No mobile home, travel trailer, trailer coach or motor coach shall be used for human habitation unless said vehicle is located in a mobile home park except as may be permitted under the following conditions:

1. Mobile homes, travel trailers, trailer coaches and motor coaches may be used for commercial, professional or industrial purposes if a use permit is first obtained in each case.

2. Temporary occupancy not to exceed ninety (90) days may be permitted for night watchmen's quarters or for other security purposes if a use permit is first obtained in each case. The Planning Director may issue such temporary use permit.

14.75.020(i): Trailer coaches may be used for temporary office office and storage purposes and mobile homes may be used for on-site quarters for the job superintendent and watchman in conjunction with construction projects provided the location of the coach placement and all utility connections are approved by the City Fire Marshal and Building Inspector and that installation of the trailer shall not occur more than thirty (30) days prior to the commencement of the construction nor shall the unit remain longer than thirty (30) days after completion of the project.

SECTION 4: Title 14 "Zoning" Chapter 14.08 "Definitions" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended by addition thereto of the following definitions in Sections 14.08.140M and 14.08.210T which shall read as follows:

14.08.140M: MOBILE HOME: A vehicle, other than a motor vehicle, designed or used for human residential habitation, for carrying persons and property on its own structure, and for being drawn by a motor vehicle.

MOBILE HOME LOT: The area of land in a mobile home park — not a subdivided lot — assigned for the exclusive use of the occupants of the mobile home located on that stand. The lot usually includes a stand, patio, parking area or carport and yards or landscaped area.

MOBILE HOME PARK: An area, or tract of land, where one hundred and twenty (120) or more mobile home lots are rented or leased or held out for rent or lease to accommodate mobile homes used for human habitation.

MOBILE HOME STAND: The area on which the mobile home is placed when it is stationed on the lot, including the land lying under the mobile home.

MOTOR COACH: A motor vehicle designed to permit human habitation, and licensed and capable of operating under its own power upon a public highway.

14.08.210T: TRAILER COACH: A vehicle, other than motor vehicle, designed or used for human habitation or human occupancy for industrial, professional or commercial purposes, for carrying persons and property on its own structure, and for being drawn by a motor vehicle. (Note: a trailer coach is used for nonresidential habitation only).

TRAVEL TRAILER: A vehicle other than a motor vehicle, which is designed for human habitation and which may be moved upon a public highway without a special permit (not over 6,000 pounds or twenty-two foot length) or chauffeur's license or both, without violating any provisions of the Vehicle Code.

SECTION 5: Title 14 "Zoning" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended so as to add a new Chapter 14.72 which shall read as follows:

14.72.13 Lighting
14.72.14 Utilities
14.72.15 Recreation
14.72.16 Landscaping
14.72.17 Standards for Individual Mobile Home Stands

14.72.01 PURPOSE

The purpose of this district is to promote the expansion and diversification of the available housing opportunities existing within the City of San Rafael by the establishment of standards and policies for the creation of planned mobile home parks.

These provisions will further encourage the creation of stable, attractive, residential environments within the individual mobile home parks themselves and provide for a desirable transition to the surrounding conventional residential areas.

14.72.02 ESTABLISHMENT

This district shall be established as a combined district in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 50 (Planned Unit Development District,) Title 14 of the San Rafael Municipal Code. Applications, review and grant of zoning shall be in accordance with procedures contained therein. The zones established shall be designated by the combined notation of PUD-MHP and such notation shall be utilized on the rezoning application, agenda, notices, ordinances and zoning map.

14.72.03 OTHER LAWS AND ORDINANCES

Mobile home park development within the City shall comply with applicable provisions of the California Health and Safety Code, relating to the maintenance, use and occupancy of mobile homes and the construction and operation of mobile home parks, as well as the regulations set forth in the Title 25, Chapter 5 of the California Administrative Code except when provisions of this Title call for more restrictive regulations.

14.72.04 SUBDIVISION PROHIBITED

Mobile home parks shall be developed and maintained as a single cohesive unit. Subdivision of a mobile home park into lots for the purposes of sale, long term lease or other purposes which may restrict the common usage and maintenance of the total mobile home park shall be prohibited.

14.72.05 PRMITTED USES

A. Mobile homes for single family dwelling use.

B. Common recreation facilities and structures.

C. Administrative offices for mobile home park use only.

D. Residential quarters for use by manager or other park employees.

E. Accessory uses normally incidental to a mobile home park.

14.72.06 CONDITIONAL USES

Uses and facilities which are subordinate to the primary mobile home residential function and which are provided for the exclusive use and convenience of the residents of the park will be permitted subject to the issuance of a use permit except when approved as part of the original planned unit development.

A. Mobile home and mobile home accessory equipment sales.

B. Guest rooms not to exceed a ratio of one room for each thirty (30) lots.

C. Sales of food, drugs, sundries, clothing, recreational supplies and equipment.

D. Postal station.

E. Personal service establishments.

F. Other uses which the Planning Commission finds are in accord with the intent of this chapter.

14.72.07 SITE SIZE AND DENSITY

A. Area: Sites shall be not less than (20) acres. Peripheral land that need be dedicated for public road purposes and which lies outside the yards around the park shall not be included when computing area and density.

B. Total number of lots: No mobile home park shall be established, altered or otherwise be created which contains less than one hundrey and twenty (120) lots or which exceeds a maximum of five hundred (500) lots.

C. Density per gross acre: Maximum density shall not exceed six (6.0) units per acre of gross site area, provided, upon the finding that the proposed development will consist of a superior functional and aesthetic design which maximizes the use of standards suggested herein, the Planning Commission may grant bonuses not to exceed a resultant maximum total park density of seven (7.0) units per acre of gross site area.

14.72.08 PLAN PREPARATION

A. A detailed development plan required in Section 14.50.080 shall be prepared and submitted by the applicant.

B. The Planning Commission may vary the standards specified in this chapter when such change will result in improved design.

14.72.09 YARDS AROUND THE MOBILE HOME PARK

A. Yards of an average depth of not less than fifteen (15) feet shall be provided along all exterior boundaries of the park site, provided that no mobile home shall be located closer than five (5) feet nor shall any permanent structure be closer than ten (10) feet to any property line and, provided, further, that no side or rear yard shall be required along any boundary which abuts a creek, power transmission easement, railroad right-of-way or other similar features (not including streets) which creates a spatial separation of not less than fifty (50) feet between existing or potential structures or facilities on adjacent properties. All yards shall be landscaped and/or screened in accordance with Section 72.16 B.

B. In addition, the Planning Commission may require fencing along boundary areas listed above where yards are not required.

C. The Planning Commission may permit the reduction of average yard depth to seven (7) feet if suitable screening is provided by a solid masonry wall six (6) or more feet in height in conjunction with attractive landscaping, including trees that initially exceed eight (8) feet in height, and bushes that will exceed five (5) feet in height within two years of being planted, in the area between the wall and the property line or paved edge of adjoining public street, whichever is greater.

14.72.10 VEHICULAR ACCESS AND CIRCULATION

A. Access:

1. The main vehicular access to a mobile home park shall be from an abutting major or collector street.

2. The main entrance of a mobile home park shall consist of two (2) ten (10) foot travel lanes for ingress and an additional two (2) lanes for egress, separated by a landscaped island of a minimum of ten (10) feet in width to a depth of the first cross street that connects with the general roadway circulation pattern. No on-street parking shall be permitted for this distance. Where possible there shall be a secondary point of ingress and egress that connects with the general roadway circulation pattern. When secondary access is provided the Planning Commission may modify the above requirements for the primary access.

3. A directory which contains a map of the total park, the location and identification of each lot and a registry of park occupants identified by lot shall be provided. The directory shall be of a size and location that the driver of an entering vehicle near his point of entrance may locate his destination without having to leave his vehicle or detour from his entry route. The directory shall be illuminated for night usage. When a park has more than one point of access from adjoining public streets, additional directories of an appropriate size, content and location may be required.

B. Circulation:

1. The major through (collector) roadways that form the basic circulation pattern for the park shall be at least thirty three (33) feet wide curb to curb and parking may be allowed on one side if provided for in the approved plan.

2. All other roadways shall be at least twenty eight (28) feet wide curb to curb and no parking shall be permitted on them.

3. Private roadways shall be named in accordance with the adopted City Street Naming Policy.

4. Private roadways and areas used for access or parking shall be designed, constructed and paved in accordance with City of San Rafael Improvement Standards excepting that roadway widths may be modified as provided above.

5. Each mobile home lot shall be uniformly and plainly marked and numbered for identification visible from the street or service road.

6. When roadways are used for front yard access to lots they shall, to the extent that site size and engineering permit, be curved to provide varied and attractive viewing angles and to discourage rapid movement of traffic.

7. The walking distance, measured along the most direct walkway route, between 75% of all mobile home lots and a community center shall not exceed twenve hundred (1,200) feet.

14.72.11 PEDESTRIAN CIRCULATION

A. Pedestrian circulation shall be emphasized by the provision of walkways that permit well landscaped, convenient and aesthetically interesting movement which originates near individual home sites or at the ends of service courts and leads to common recreation areas, service facilities and circulation among the residential areas.

B. Wherever feasible through location and design walkways should avoid the appearance of sidewalks paralleling a street and should be uninterrupted by street crossings.

C. Walkways shall be a minimum of four (4) feet with five (5) feet or more preferable, particularly where a double row of homes is served by a common walkway.

D. Walkways shall be of a permanent material, paving or equivalent, that is not slippery and that can be used under all weather conditions.

E. When mobile homes are so sited that vehicular access is from one side and pedestrian access is from another side via a greenbelt, there shall be a minimum clear width between mobile homes at their nearest point of twenty five (25) feet on the pedestrian side.

F. When mobile homes are so sited that vehicular access is from the same side as the pedestrian access, and the pedestrian access is crossed at intervals by driveways from the street to carports, all mobile homes shall maintain a setback of not less than fifteen (15) feet from the inside edge of the street curb or pavement. This is to provide visibility of pedestrians to vehicles entering or backing out of a carport.

14.72.12 PARKING AND STORAGE

A. Parking:

1. Residential off-street parking shall be provided at a ratio of two (2) spaces per mobile home pad. One shall be covered and contiguous to each pad provided, however, required parking may be grouped into centralized parking areas if the centralized areas are located within one hundred fifty (150) feet of units to be served.

2. Residential parking spaces may be in tandem.

3. Residential parking spaces shall be so designed that a parked automobile will not encroach into the street or walkway area. Where the parking access is from the front of the mobile home the parked vehicles shall not project closer to the access street than the front of the mobile home.

4. Parking in the rear is encouraged as a good design feature.

5. Parking contiguous to the community center and administrative office shall be provided at a ratio of at least one space for each fifteen (15) mobile home lots contained within the park.

B. Storage:

1. All boats, campers, travel trailers, park maintenance vehicles and equipment and similar large items shall be stored in an area set aside for such purposes on the approved plans.

2. Such areas shall have a drained surface usable under normal seasonal weather conditions.

3. Such areas shall be screened from view. The screening shall be subject to the approval of the Planning Director.

4. The minimum gross area shall be fifty (50) square feet per mobile home lot.

14.72.13 LIGHTING

A. A lighting plan as to location and appearance of lights shall be prepared and submitted as a part of the Detailed Development Plan provided for in Section 14.50.080. The plan shall include lighting proposals for all streets, walkway and recreational services areas.

B. Street lighting shall be through a system which produces an average illumination of at least 0.2 footcandle on the roadway. The lowest footcandle value at any point on the pavement may not be less than one-sixth of the average.

C. Walkway lighting shall be through a system which produces an average illumination of at least one footcandle on the surface. The lowest footcandle value at any point on this surface may not be less than one-third of the average.

14.72.14 UTILITIES

A. All utilities (including CATV if any) shall be underground.

B. Television reception shall be by means of CATV or one or several common antennas.

C. Refuse service shall be provided to each mobile home lot or to centralized trash bins within convenient distance of each lot. All refuse locations shall be screened from view but shall be accessible to the refuse collection vehicle. Refuse deposit locations shall be identified on site plans.

D. Outside storage cabinets and lockers shall be of a coloration and texture compatible with the mobile home it adjoins.

14.72.15 RECREATION AREA

A. In addition to the open area required for the yard around the periphery of the mobile home park, there shall also be provided a minimum of five hundred (500) square feet per unit of net usable common area for a combination of both indoor and outdoor active community recreation and service facilities. All area(s) proposed for active recreation shall be designated on the Detailed Development Plan and size and configuration of said areas shall be subject to approval by the Planning Director.

B. Common recreation space may be occupied by community centers, swimming pools, outdoor courts for games and similar recreational facilities.

C. A community recreation center which possesses a floor area of twenty-five (25) square feet per lot for the first 200 lots and fifteen (15) square feet per lot thereafter, but in no case less than a minimum of three thousand (3,000) square feet shall be provided and shall be centrally located within the park. Space devoted to administrative office, laundry or other nonrecreational uses which may be developed in conjunction with the community center shall be in addition to the above provided minimum recreational floor space.

D. Whenever an entire park or a specified portion of a park is proposed to be used for "family" occupancy the park must provide, subject to the approval of the Planning Commission, additional play areas for children that are of a convenient size and location and separate from adult recreation areas. Such areas must be of a width, length and orientation sufficient to permit the batting, kicking and throwing of balls and outside games which involve running and shouting. In addition, the Planning Commission may require playground areas with suitable apparatus and courts marked for conventional games. Whenever "family" usage is discontinued the park operator may apply to the Commission for conversion of such areas into other uses permitted in this Chapter.

14.72.16 LANDSCAPING

A. A detailed landscape plan, including irrigation system, shall be prepared by a registered landscape architect and shall be submitted as a part of the final Detailed Development Plan.

B. Yards Around The Park Boundary.

1. Transitional screening shall be provided by the landscaping of yards adjacent to the exterior boundaries. The landscaping shall include intensive planted materials to a height of at least eight (8) feet. In combination with landscaping, fencing may be required subject to review by the Planning Director.

2. Specimen trees of no less than ten (10) gallon container size shall be required at least every thirty (30) feet along any setback adjacent to public streets.

3. Fence and landscaping material shall be limited in height at intersections of streets, driveways and pedestrian walkways to that deemed compatible with pedestrian and traffic safety by the Planning Director.

C. Park Standards

1. The size and location of all existing trees shall be indicated on the preliminary development plan and, where feasible, the trees shall be incorporated into the final landscape plan.

2. Substantial trees shall be planted throughout the park and in common open areas.

3. All open areas except driveways, parking areas, walkways, utility areas, improved decks, patios or porches shall be well landscaped and maintained. Modifications of the approved landscape plan may be approved by the Planning Director providing that the overall effect will remain the same or be enhanced thereby.

4. Larger greenbelts, and small landscaped areas at roadway corners and curves are recommended as good design features.

5. Lakes and waterways are encouraged as good design features.

D. Lot Standards

1. Rock shall not be permitted to predominate as a ground cover.

2. At least one (1) tree per lot of five gallon stock, six (6) to seven (7) feet tall with a minimum trunk diameter at one foot above the ground of ¾ of an inch.

3. The operational rules of the park to which the tenant agrees at the time he leases his lot shall include provision for the park to service landscaping on individual lots that are inadequate, neglected or unsightly and to charge the cost to the tenant.

E. General Standards

1. The park operator shall be responsible for the maintenance of all park and lot landscaping.

2. Plants, shrubs and trees which die or otherwise become deteriorated shall be replaced with units of equivalent size to the then existing vegetation.

3. When the mobile home park is in an environmental relationship such that it would be viewed from above, the Planning Commission may require that the roof of each mobile home be of a nonglossy earthtone color.

14.72.17 STANDARDS FOR INDIVIDUAL MOBILE HOME STANDS

To enhance the residential character of the mobile home park and minimize the adverse effects on surrounding properties, the following standards shall apply:

A. Minimum stand size shall not be less than fifteen (15) by seventy (70) feet.

B. Variation in spatial distribution and angle of placement of stands is encouraged to afford privacy and attractive variations in view angles as one drives along the roadways or walks along the pathways.

C. Distance between stands shall be adequate to permit movement of individual coaches without disturbance of adjacent mobile homes or their respective accessory areas; provide for adequate light and air; and provide sufficient area for access and operation of fire protection facilities.

D. Each stand shall possess a slope of not less than one (1.0) percent.

E. Each stand shall be maintained weed free.

F. Spaces beneath mobile homes shall be enclosed with architecturally harmonizing skirts or by a combination of skirts and grading with ventilation and access in accordance with State law.

G. When consistent with proper drainage, ventilation and other engineering requirements, each mobile home stand and lot shall be constructed so that when a mobile home is located on th stand the floor line of the mobile home in the front yard area is at ground level or as close thereto as possible. This may be accomplished by any one or combination of the following:

1. Lowering the stand below finished grade by excavating and/or mounding. Earth berms or embankments shall be retained by redwood or masonry walls. Ventilation space consisting of a clear and unobstructed distance which also is adequate for the movement in, assembly, disassembly and removal of the mobile home shall be provided between the mobile home and retaining wall, provided that said ventilation space may be bridged at all exterior doorways.

2. Using a stand slope of two and one half percent (2.5).

3. Contouring upward the land from the walkway or curb in the front to the front and patio side of the mobile home.

H All detachable tongues shall be removed. Nondetachable tongues shall be screened by landscaping or other materials acceptable to the City Planning Director.

I. The utility island containing the sewer connection shall be established at the lowest grade consistent with State law and workable design on the lot and shall be located in the rear one third of the lot.

J. Each mobile home stand shall be provided with a contiguous and permanently surfaced private patio area of not less than two hundred (200) square feet.

SECTION 6: Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The Council hereby declares that it would have adopted the Ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereto, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid.

SECTION 7: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

Militant Rabbi Held In Anti-Soviet Case

NEW YORK (UPI)—The leader of the militant Jewish Defense League whose harassment of Soviet officials in the United States has strained Soviet-American relations was arrested Tuesday for failure to appear in court on riot and disorderly conduct charges.

Rabbi Meir Kahane was taken into custody at JDL headquarters on two bench warrants issued after he failed to attend a Jan. 6 hearing dealing with charges he incited anti-Soviet demonstrators to rush police lines at the Soviet Mission to the United Nations Dec. 27.

At least a dozen persons, including five policemen, were injured during the melee half a block from the white brick mission on Manhattan's fashionable East Side.

Kahane, who had been paroled in his own custody at his Dec. 28 arraignment, was released on $3,000 bail Tuesday by Municipal Court Judge Anthony Marra who ordered the militant rabbi to appear for a Jan. 19 hearing. Two additional cases involving Kahane were to go to the grand jury later this week.

"This court will not put up with any of your nonsense," Marra told the rabbi.

Bertram Zweibon, Kahane's attorney and JDL founder, said his client could not attend the Jan. 6 hearing because he was visiting Israel and his return was delayed by illness. Kahane owns an apartment in Jerusalem.

Kahane, 39, vowed Sunday to wage a campaign of harassment against Soviet diplomats and their families to retaliate against Soviet oppression of Russian Jewry, particularly the sentencing in Leningrad of 11 persons, including nine Jews, accused of attempted airliner hijacking.

The JDL's tactics, which include taunting and shouting obscenities in Russian at Soviet nationals, has brought severe criticism from President Nixon, Mayor John V. Lindsay and dozens of Jewish organizations.

Kahane told an impromptu courthouse news conference his arrest was part of a campaign by Nixon and Lindsay to stop the JDL.

"There is no question that this is just the very, very start of a campaign hatched in Washington to try to stop the JDL," he said.

"I applaud the harassment, the bombings and any other things that can be done to save 3½ million Jews in Communist Russia," Kahane said.

Soviet anger over actions of Jewish militants in the United States resulted in raging editorials and a campaign of intimidation of Moscow's Americans.

Over the weekend Russians slashed tires, splintered windshields and bullied U.S. businessmen in an intimidation campaign.

Tuesday, Tass, in an acidly worded editorial prepared for this morning's newspapers, accused the United States of plotting with "Zionist Ku Klux Klan men" to harass Soviet citizens in America.

The Soviet news agency said "the unbridled anti-Soviet campaign staged by the Zionists in America is being conducted with the knowledge and connivance of official American authorities.

"Indeed, who can believe that the gigantic and mighty police machinery of the United States allegedly cannot prevent Zionist gangster attacks like the recent bomb explosion at the trade and information department of the Soviet embassy in Washington?"

"Who can believe that the American authorities allegedly are not able to protect Soviet people in the United States ... from the threats poured out against them by the Zionist Ku Klux Klan men."

Auto Deaths Decrease; New Safety Laws Cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said today that the nation got its first dividend from new auto safety standards last year—a decline of 1,100 in the number of persons killed in traffic accidents.

Volpe said the death toll for 1970 was 55,300 compared to 56,400 in 1969. The drop came despite a jump of 5 per cent in total automobile mileage.

"If deaths had occurred at the same rate in 1970 as in 1969 there would have been 59,200 deaths instead of the 55,300 we now estimate," Volpe told a news conference.

"That means that with the increased travel in 1970 a more realistic figure for measuring the reduction of highway fatalities is 3,900 instead of the 1,100 reduction below the 1969 total."

Volpe's figures confirmed those reported by UPI earlier this month.

In a report on his two years in office, Volpe said that one of his major projects—the supersonic transport (SST) — "is far from dead."

He said the administration would make an intensive effort to win support in the new Congress for continuing SST development.

Congress adjourned last month after Senate foes of the SST blocked administration attempts to win approval of funds to start construction of two SST prototypes. Backers of the plane managed to keep the program alive by winning approval of a resolution to continue financing the program through March.

To bolster its arguments in favor of the 1,800 mile-an-hour plane, the administration plans to release shortly new studies designed to show the plane is not a threat to the environment and will provide jobs to trim the unemployment rate now at 6 per cent.

Volpe said he felt that the decline in traffic fatalities was an indication that "the corner has been turned in our safety drive and that we are on our way to ridding the nation of a great part of the tragic highway death toll."

Volpe conceded that there was some disagreement among experts on which auto safety standards had contributed most to the decline.

But use of seat belts, collapsible steering wheels, and better designed highways all have been credited with playing a major role.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Rectal Dialation For Hemmorrhoids Makes Surgical Removal Obsolete

A rectal specialist in England believes that internal hemmorrhoids can be alleviated by forcibly dilating the rectum. The person enters the hospital as a day patient and leaves shortly thereafter. Done under an anesthetic, the procedure causes virtually no pain, incontinence, or prolapse of rectal tissue. A special dilator is used at home for several weeks following the hospital treatment.

Mr. Peter H. Lord (in England, surgeons are called mister) has performed more than 400 of these procedures with considerable success. His first patient was a businessman who requested immediate relief for protruding, painful piles so he could complete an important transaction later in the day. Under a general anesthetic, the area was stretched (and I mean stretched). Next morning, the man returned free of pain, and on examination, it was determined that surgical removal of the hemorrhoids was unnecessary.

MR. LORD believes that internal hemorrhoids become dilated and swollen due to an inelastic pecten band surrounding the lower anal canal. Stretching the band alleviates the condition. This is not new to rectal specialists in our country, but they are more interested in the permanent results obtained with surgery.

Hemorrhoids are enlarged veins in the external or internal plexes of blood vessels surrounding the lowermost part of the rectum. Engorgement of the veins is likely to occur when standing, straining at stool or during pregnancy.

HEREDITY also plays a role, in that some people inherit weaker veins than others. Irritation and lack of cleanliness after a movement also are implicated. Now and then hemorrhoids form when a tumor develops higher in the rectum or large intestine. Surgery is considered the best remedy, but it is not done until the tract has been thoroughly examined.

PRESSURE MARKS

R. A. writes: After I lie down for a while, my face and arms have pressure marks. These last half an hour or longer. The skin clears sooner in other people with the same problem. Would you know what this indicates?

REPLY

Perhaps you have more fluid in your skin tissues than do other people. Sometimes pressure marks stem from a physical allergy; marks appear wherever pressure is applied, such as along a line made in the skin with a pencil or fingernail.

NO FLASHES

Mrs. A. C. writes: I'm 54 and presumably have gone through the menopause. Yet I never had any hot flashes. I'm not complaining, but wonder why I escaped.

REPLY

Your body made an excellent adjustment to the natural changes that occurred in your glandular system. Now and then older men develop hot flashes even though they never experience the menopause.

BREECH BIRTH

B. P. writes: Could a fall in the sixth month of pregnancy be responsible for a breech birth?

REPLY

This is doubtful, considering the number of babies who arrive feet first whose mothers never took a spill while pregnant.

BALDNESS THROUGH FEMALES

K. R. M. writes: Is male type baldness inherited only thru the women in the family?

REPLY

This is the current idea. Incidentally, we are seeing more and more baldness among women.

Conspiracy To Fix Fraud Case Charged To Sen. Fong's Aide

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The administrative assistant to Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, was indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to fix a securities fraud case.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said a four count indictment was returned in U.S. District court in New York City against the Fong aide, Robert T. Carson, 64, of Arlington, Va.

Also indicted in the case were Edward Adams, 80, and Joseph Bald, 41, both of New York.

The indictment said when early efforts of the conspirators were unsuccessful in stopping prosecution of the security case, Carson called on Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst last Nov. 24.

According to the indictment, Carson related that if something could be done to stop the prosecution, a $100,000 political contribution would be made. It was not spelled out to whom the money would go.

"The offer was immediately and categorically rejected (by Kleindienst)," the indictment said.

The case involved stock fraud conspiracy charges against John Dioguardi, New York, and others filed on Nov. 19, 1970. Dioguardi was not further identified.

The grand jury said that the conspiracy to fix the case began about Sept. 1, 1970, in an attempt to prevent Bald from being indicted in stock fraud investigations being conducted by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

The indictment said Adams arranged for Bald to meet Carson on Nov. 16, 1970, in the Senate Office Building, where Bald said money would be paid to Carson if the senatorial aide would assist their efforts in trying to stop the investigation.

The indictment added that a subsequent meeting occurred at LaGuardia airport among Adams, Bald and Harold Blond, Bald's brother-in-law, named in the indictment as a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

It was alleged that the three men agreed that $200,000 would be paid to Adams and Carson to prevent Bald from being prosecuted in further criminal cases and to stop the prosecution of Dioguardi.

On Dec. 1, 1970, the indictment continued, Adams again met with Carson in Washington and Carson reported that he would be unable to quash the indictment "because the case was "too hot" at the time.

Course On Drug Abuse Slated

A 10-week evening course on drug abuse has been scheduled by the University of California Extension beginning Feb. 4 at Novato High School.

The class, taught by Paul Namkung, executive director of the Pittsburg Drug Therapy Center, will be each Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. until April 8 in Room 23 of the high school, the university announced.

Details may be obtained from the UC Extension, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Judge Is Juror, Too

Badly injured in a crash at an intersection, Louis sued the Ace Truck Company. At the trial both sides had questions as to who had the right of way.

After a long jury trial, Louis was made happy by a $50,000 judgment. A few weeks later, his lawyer telephoned and told him that the judge had just thrown out the $50,000 judgment as excessive. The trial judge wanted Louis to agree to a reduced judgment of $25,000 even though the jury had awarded him $50,000.

In all jury cases the judge is a "thirteenth juror." He can grant a new trial if he thinks the evidence did not support the verdict. Of course, Louis' lawyer could oppose the new trial and argue that the verdict should stand. The trial judge may, however, consider the case further, even if the jury is through.

The judge may determine if there is an irregularity in the proceedings, misconduct by the jury such as a determination by lot or out of prejudice or sympathy. He may check some error in law or act on some new evidence not discovered earlier.

The judge may likewise grant a new trial where he thinks the damages awarded were inadequate. He must tell why he is granting the new trial. A court of appeal may review his decision and stop the new trial if the judge's reasons are in error.

In a criminal case the trial judge can also grant a new trial. The jury may have received inadmissable evidence, such as going out to the scene of the crime without authorization. It is wrong for the jury to play detective. Its visit to the scene must be under court control and a part of the regular proceedings.

A verdict arrived at by lot or chance, or an error in law at the trial, or a verdict contrary to the evidence may be other reasons for granting a new trial.

In a civil case, either side may ask for a new trial. The plaintiff, say, for an inadequate verdict or the defense, for an excessive verdict.

In a criminal case the law limits the district attorney's right to ask for a new trial or to appeal a verdict favorable to the accused. The defendant once put in jeopardy by the first trial need not face another trial except in unusual circumstances.

General Plan Updating Urged

Outside consultants are needed to update the Petaluma General Plan if future city growth is to be orderly, the city council and planning commission agreed last night.

In a joint study session, the groups said the present staff of planners is unable to carry out all the long range studies that are necessary because they have become bogged down in routine work.

Planning Director William C. McGivern and the commission recommended that $30,000 be set aside to hire an outside consulting firm to do an in-depth review of the 1961 general plan, including an update of community design standards, the subdivision and zoning ordinances and traffic circulation patterns. No action was taken, however.

Bomb Threats Fail To Halt Officer Seating

Two bomb threats failed last night to halt a Marin County Board of Realtors installation dinner in San Rafael.

About 200 members were at the dinner at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant at 507 Francisco Boulevard when employee Joie Lorraine Bullock received a telephone bomb threat at 9 p.m.

"You'd better get the real estate board out of there. A bomb will go off in 15 minutes," a man said.

Police and restaurant management conferred. They concluded the threat was a hoax. But 15 minutes later, the man called back and repeated his threat, saying this time that the bomb would go off in 30 minutes.

The banquet went on without a search.

EXHIBIT A

AMENDMENT TO CONTRACT BETWEEN THE BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM AND THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL

The Board of Administration, Public Employees' Retirement System, hereinafter referred to as Board and the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, hereinafter referred to as Public Agency having entered into a contract under date of June 20, 1957, effective July 1, 1957, and as amended effective December 1, 1957, January 1, 1958, March 2, 1959, January 1, 1969, and October 1, 1969, which provides for participation of Public Agency in said System, Board and Public Agency hereby agree as follows:

A. Paragraphs 1 through 13 are hereby stricken from said contract as executed effective July 1, 1957, and are hereby replaced by the following paragraphs numbered 1 through 11 inclusive:

1. All words and terms used herein which are defined in the Public Employees' Retirement Law shall have the meaning as defined therein unless otherwise specifically provided. "Normal retirement age" shall mean age 60 for miscellaneous members and age 55 for local safety members.

2. Public Agency shall participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System from and after July 1, 1957, making its employees as hereinafter provided, members of said system subject to all provisions of the Public Employees' Retirement Law except such as apply only on election of a contracting agency and are not provided for herein and to all amendments to said Law hereafter enacted except such as by express provision thereof apply only on the election of contracting agencies.

3. Employees of Public Agency in the following classes shall become members of said Retirement System except such in each such class as are excluded by law or this agreement:

a. Local firemen (herein referred to as local safety members);

b. Local policemen (herein referred to as local safety members);

c. Employees other than local firemen and local policemen (herein referred to as miscellaneous members).

The following employees shall be excluded from membership in said Retirement System:
NO ADDITIONAL EXCLUSIONS

4. The fraction of final compensation to be provided for each year of credited current service as a miscellaneous member upon retirement at normal retirement age shall be 1/60 and shall be applied as provided in Section 21251.1 og said Retirement Law.

5. The fraction of final compensation to be provided for each year of credited current service as a local safety member shall be determined in accordance with Section 21252.1 of said Retirement Law.

6. Benefits on account of prior service shall be 100% of the fraction of final compensation specified for miscellaneous members in Paragraph 4 above, but computed in accordance with Section 21253 of said Retirement Law, and for local safety members shall be 100% of the fraction established in accordance with Paragraph 5.

7. Contributions for miscellaneous and local safety members shall be subject to Sections 20601 and 20602 respectively of said Retirement Law.

8. The following additional provisions of the Public Employees' Retirement Law which apply only upon election of a contracting agency shall apply to the Public Agency and its employees:

a. Section 20024.01 (defining "final compensation") on the basis of a period of three consecutive years).

b. Section 21256.1 (providing a minimum retirement allowance of $1200 per year under certain conditions).

c. Section 21367.51 (providing a $500.00 death benefit upon death after retirement).

d. Section 20025 (providing for inclusion of compensation without limit in computations where compensation is a factor).

e. Section 20952.5 (providing for age 50 as the minimum voluntary retirement age for local safety members with benefit payments commencing prior to age 55 subject to actuarial discount).

f. Section 21365.5 (providing a monthly allowance in lieu of the basic death benefit for certain survivors of a member who dies in employment after qualifying for voluntary service retirement).

g. Section 21251.35 (providing for the recalculation of allowances to persons retired prior to January 1, 1969, in accordance with the contract as amended on January 1, 1969).

h. Section 21251.35 (providing for increases in allowances payable for time commencing on the first day of the calendar month coinciding with or next following the effective date of this amendment to persons retired prior to October 1, 1970).

i. Section 21251.75 (providing for increases in allowances payable for time commencing on the first day of the calendar month coinciding with or next following the effective date of this amendment to persons retired prior to January 1, 1967).

j. Section 21264 (providing upon death of a local safety member who retired for service or industrial disability for the continuation of one-half the retirement allowance to certain survivors).

k. Section 21264.1 (providing upon death of a local miscellaneous member who retired for service or disability for the continuation of one-half the retirement allowance to certain survivors).

l. Section 20834.1 (providing for crediting prior service not otherwise creditable when the member has five or more years of current service).

m. Section 21380-7 (providing for allowances for survivors of members covered under the program upon death before retirement).

9. Public Agency shall contribute to said Retirement System as follows:

a. With respect to miscellaneous members, the public agency shall contribute the following percentages of monthly salaries earned as miscellaneous members of said System:

(1) 1.207 percent until June 30, 2001 on account of the liability for prior service benefits.

(2) 9.978 percetn on account of the liability for current service benefits.

b. With respect to local safety members, the public agency shall contribute the following percentages of monthly salaries earned as local safety members of said System:

(1) 2.122 percent until June 30, 2001 on account of the liability for prior service benefits.

(2) 16.047 percent on account of the liability for current service benefits.

c. A reasonable amount per annum, as fixed by Board to cover the costs of administering said System as it affects the employees of Public Agency, not including the costs of special valuations or the periodical investigations and valuation required by law, provided that said amount shall be determined on the basis of the number of employees of Public Agency who are reported as members on a payroll designated by the System covering one month of each year, or with respect to the first year of participation, on the effective date of said participation.

d. A reasonable amount as fixed by the Board, payable in one installment as the occasions arise, to cover costs of special valuations on account of employees of Public Agency, and costs of the periodical investigation and valuation required by law.

10. Contributions required of Public Agency and its employees shall be subject to adjustment by Board on account of amendments to the Public Employees' Retirement Law, and on account of experience under the Retirement System, as determined by the periodical investigation and valuation required by said Retirement Law.

11. Contributions required of Public Agency and its employees shall be paid by Public Agency to the Retirement System within thirty days after the end of the period to which said contributions refer. If more or less than the correct amount of contribution is paid for any period, proper adjustment on account of errors in contributions required of any employee may be made by direct cash payments between the employee and Board. Payments by Public Agency to Board may be made in the form of warrants, bank checks, bank drafts, certified checks money orders, or cash.

B. This amendment shall be effective on the day of ——

Point Reyes Acquisition Going Well

Land acquisition at the Point Reyes National Seashore is going along well with 41,295 acres of the 64,546-acre park now acquired, according to Willis P. Kriz, land acquisition officer for the park service.

This includes 11,000 acres of tidelands donated by the federal government.

Kriz said yesterday that money appropriated by Congress last year for the park "is holding out well" and that he is optimistic that most of the rest of the land for the park would be purchased soon.

One exception is about 4,000 acres owned by Radio Corporation of America and American Telephone and Telegraph, which is presently exempted from park acquisition, Kriz said.

The only way this land can ever be acquired for the park is if the companies no longer need it for their purposes, he said.

Otherwise, 3,592 acres, mainly in small parcels, has been acquired recently in 62 separate tracts with money appropriated by Congress last year. In all, $58 million has been appropriated for the park land purchases.

Kriz said that of the 19,251 acres which the park service hopes to purchase, 4,381 acres are now the subject of condemnation actions already pending in court or soon to be filed.

He was hopeful, however, that the almost 15,000 remaining acres could be acquired without condemnation proceedings.

Parade For Western Weekend

There will be a parade at the Western Weekend country Fair in Novato this year after two years without a parade, Western Weekend directors have disclosed.

The parade will be restricted to local entrants and will not be like parades in the past, which were open and costly, reported director Dorothy Merla.

Directors, who met Monday, also agreed that Foley and Burke carnival operators will again run the carnival during the fair, June 17-20, Mrs. Merla said.

Casey Van Gronigan, newly elected board president, missed the session because he is ill at Marin General Hospital and in need of blood, she reported.

Mrs. Merla said Novato residents can donate blood at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Rafael to replace that being used for Van Gronigan.

Mrs. Merla also announced there is an opening for a Western Weekend director, and the board is seeking a Novato merchant to fill it.

Oil Firms Lose Antitrust Case

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — A federal jury has convicted two major oil firms of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act in their dealings with a former independent gasoline distributor.

The jury of nine women and three men ruled for C.O. Hanson against Shell Oil and California Standard Oil companies. The companies were ordered to pay Hanson $363,180 in damages.

Judge James A. Walsh dismissed the charges against a third defendant, Gulf Oil Corp. The suit had asked $2.1 million from all three firms.

Hanson had contended the three firms monopolized gasoline pipelines and forced him to pay more for products at prices which would not allow a profit.

Variance To Mill Valley Food Mart

Two commercial uses for property at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley have been approved by the city's planning commission.

Zoning Administrator Howard R. McGill said commissioners voted Monday to approve a variance from parking requirements for a food market that will open at the old Purity Market location.

The zoning ordinance requires 133 spaces, he said, but the commission found that 89 stalls were adequate.

Also approved was a use permit for an electronics assembly plant to be built adjacent to the store by H. C. Electronics of Tiburon, makers of components for hearing aids.

In other business, the commission unanimously approved a permit to allow an informal youth hostel to continue at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley.

Commissioners then voted to ask the city council not to require the crash pad to be brought up to building standards usually applied to hotels and dormitories. If the council agrees, expensive modifications to the building would not be necessary.

North Marin Doubles Size Of District

The North Marin County Water District has more than doubled the number of consumers it had 10 years ago, according to its annual report, which included a review of the 1960s.

During the 10-year period, the number of consumers increased from 4,706 to 9,795, the district reported.

Distribution storage capacity increased from two to 16 million gallons and annual water output rose from 2,140 to 5,605 acre feet. (an acre foot is equal to 325,900 gallons)

With annexations in Southern Sonoma and West Marin, the district expanded its area from 75 to approximately 100 square miles.

The growth rate during the past year was 4.5 per cent.

Russian River water accounted for 65 per cent of the supply and Stafford Lake the remainder during the past year.

Performance Off

Illness of a feature dancer has forced cancellation of the Dancers' Workshop Company performance, "The Ceremony of Us," scheduled for Friday at College of Marin, the school announced.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 7:30 p.m. — Ralph Richardson, Ann Todd and Nigel Patrick star in the award-winning movie drama, "Breaking the Sound Barrier."

KRON (4), KCRA (3) 9 p.m., — Alan King hosts Anne Meara, Mary Ann Mobley and James Coco when "Kraft Music Hall" presents "Alan King Plays the Games People Play."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10 p.m. — "National Polling Day: What Americans Think" is an hour-long ABC news special examining the attitude of the nation toward major and minor issues of the day. Frank Reynold hosts.

KQED (9), 11 p.m. — The story of one of England's most colorful periods of history is told on "The First Churchills," a 12-part series marking the first presentation of "Masterpiece Theater." John Neville and Susan Hampshire star in "The Chaste Nymph," an episode focusing on a masque held at the Court of King Charles II. It is a British Broadcasting Corp. production.

12 Marin Students Get Chico Degrees

Twelve Marinites, graduating from Chico State College, will receive bachelor's or master's degree in midwinter commencement exercises on Jan. 23.

Stephen W. Schilling of Mill Valley will be presented a master's degree in public administration by Dr. Lew D. Oliver, acting president of the college, who will confer degrees to the 764 Chico State graduates.

Marinites receiving bachelor's degrees are:

Mill Valley's Tree Laws Face Change

Proposed changes in Mill Valley's tree ordinance tightening city control over trees on public and private property have been recommended for adoption by the city's parks and recreation commission.

Parks and Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos said the commission Monday voted to ask the city council to approve amendments to the existing ordinance.

The changes generally prohibit individuals from removing, trimming or otherwise altering trees or shrubs on public streets and in parks. Permits are required for those with legitimate reasons for doing so, Dimitratos said.

The ordinance also requires property owners to trim trees and shrubs that block motorists' views of traffic at intersections. Violations are punishable by a $500 fine, confinement in Marin County Jail for up to six months, or both.

Woman To Plead On Pot, Theft

Kela Anne Steele, 20, of San Rafael, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on charges of shoplifting and possessing marijuana.

She is to plead to the charges Friday.

Miss Steele was arrested last Friday after she allegedly tried to take $65 worth of clothing from the Emporium at Northgate. Matrons searching her at Marin County Jail found what appeared to be two marijuana cigarettes in her purse.

Alaskan Natives Get Home Tanning Tips

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Since the Alaska native began bartering his harvest of animal skins with the white man back in the late 18th century, most of the profits have gone to the tanneries.

Now, the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Alaska has begun a series of home tanning courses under the guidance of a marketing specialist, William Scarborough, and the villager is being taught how to do it himself in his kitchen.

Scarborough said the method taught is a pickling process involving the use of a solution of salt and sulphuric acid. In addition to the solution, all the tanner needs is a sharp knife, a plstic garbage can for the salt and acid and a detergent with which to wash the skin.

The skin is soaked in the solution for four or five days and then it is put on a stretching frame to dry. After that it is sanded to the desired thickness and softened by breaking it against a sharp edge like that of a board.

Using this method, a seal skin, which previously cost about $30 to send out to a commercial tannery, now costs the native less than $1 in material costs to tan.

VISIT A NEW STORE

Bill and Elizabeth Try have opened a new store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center called The Scratch Pad, where customers get personal attention. Stationery, card and gift items comprise the stock with new items arriving daily. The Scratch Pad is open six days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Credit Cards Gain Soviets' Acceptance

NEW YORK (UPI)—America's favorite traveling companion—the little plastic credit card—is becoming a familiar sight in some circles inside the Soviet Union.

The card, developed in the United States 20 years ago and now familiar in most of the globe, made its first appearance in Russia about a year ago.

"Since that time, visitors to Russia from the United States and other countries have made the card well known to Russians who provide products and services to foreigners," said Robert H. Pitt, president of Diners Club's International Division.

"The Soviet Union reports that some two million visitors crossed its borders during 1969, including approximately 50,000 Americans. With the Russians expanding their lodging facilities and actively working to promote tourism, we expect a further expansion in the use of credit cards."

Pitt said the first credit card accepted in the Soviet Union was honored in the summer of 1969 after an agreement was signed by representatives of Diners Club and Intourist, the Soviet government's official travel bureau. The agreement called for the card to be used by visitors to Russia from other countries around the world where the company is represented.

"The agreement covered Intourist facilities in Moscow, including hotels, restaurants, auto rental agencies and sightseeing tours. Airline, railroad and boat tickets are also charged through Intourist facilities, and the card is used to purchase tickets to the Bolshoi, the renting of chauffered limousines and the hiring of interpreters. The original agreement has been expanded to cover similar services in Leningrad."

The card is used by diplomats, members of foreign embassy staffs and businessmen, as well as by vacationers.

Snowmobiling Gains Winter Sport Favor

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—In just about a decade, the more traditional winter activities of skiing and ice skating have had to move over to make room for a fast-growing newcomer—snowmobiling.

"Snowmobiling is one of the sports phenomena of our times," says Tom Porter, marketing manager for a mini-snowmobile firm.

Domestic snowmobile production expanded from about 1,000 in 1961, following their introduction into the United States from Canada, to more than 100,000 by 1968.

"In 1969-70," Porter says, "snowmobile production jumped a whopping 77 per cent to 505,000 units, up from 285,000 a year earlier." He says manufacturers are projecting domestic production will "reach 1 million in 1972-73. At an average cost of $1000 per snowmobile, this translates into a $1 billion market."

Porter indicates that as the market grew, snowmobile makers were eager to make their products bigger and faster to attract more enthusiasts. Today, average snowmobiles weight from 250 to 450 pounds, have speeds ranging from 35 to 100 miles an hour, and cost from about $600 to as much as $2500.

A DIPPERFUL OF FLAVOR

Herbert and Joyce Beckner have operated Herbert's Sherbert in the Corte Madera Shopping Center for over five years. They have been in the ice cream business for 35 years. Recently, they redecorated their shop, which is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Not only do they serve the finest ice cream around, but they have hot, homemade sandwiches for lunchtime.

Chinese Revive Rug Weaving On Formosa

By JOE HUNG

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Nationalist Chinese are reviving the ancient art of carpet weaving dating from the days of Marco Polo, to give Formosa one of its newest industries.

Tientsin rugs, knotted by hand, are earning the Chinese on Formosa up to $6 million a year in foreign currency. Business is increasing annually.

The tedious work of hand weaving carpets suits Formosa ideally. The island has a large supply of cheap labor. It takes four workers one month to finish a rug 9-by-12 feet in size. Such masterpieces sell for as little as $400 each.

The Vocational Assistance Commission for Retired Servicemen, a government agency, opened Formosa's first Tientsin rug plant in 1963 in Chungli, an industrial city 20 miles south of Taipei.

It was an instant success and inspired a score of private businessmen to go into the rug weaving business. Last year, Formosa produced 200,000 square feet of carpets. Retired soldiers turned out two-thirds of the total.

All the rugs are exported except for a small stock sold in Formosa to foreign tourists. Thus the industry is designed primarily to earn foreign currency for Formosa.

Formosa's carpet plants are developing improved methods of spinning and dyeing the wool yarns used to weave masterpieces in the style of Imperial China.

Boys and girls often start learning the complicated weaving processes after finishing primary school. To become an apprentice weaver, a student must pass satisfactorily through six months of preliminary training.

Term of the apprenticeship depends on the student's progress. A gifted youth can graduate from apprentice training in two or three years.

Fellowship Overcomes Handicaps At Unusual Recreation Center

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Almost weekly there is a special get-together in a public facility in Tulsa for some special people. It's a recreation center but quite different from the one you might visit.

The patrons at this facility are blind, most of them. Some have had polio. All are incapacitated to some degree. But when they get together, you wouldn't notice the handicaps.

The Tulsa Recreation Center for the Physically Limited offers activiies specially designed for persons with cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis.

Mrs. Robert Murdock, director of the center, says fellowship and personal interaction are the necessary ingredients of such a facility.

"Psychological insecurities multiply from constant affiliation with only one's family," Mrs. Murdock said. "But at the center inhibitions are dissolved. Shyness is unheard of."

The specialized facility is one of only four in the nation. Financial support comes from civic and health groups, clubs and individuals. Part of its budget comes from the Community Chest.

Under Mrs. Murdock's guidance, the center has graduated from quarters furnished by a Tulsa hospital to a $300,000 building of its own.

College of Marin students (from left) Vicci Rider, Jim lillibridge and Ford Radus, all of Mill Valley, frolic in an inch of snow near the radar station on Mount Tamalpais. The three detoured on their way to class this morning. Snow also dusted the heights of Big Rock Ridge and Mount Burdell overnight and light snow fell in Novato twice yesterday. Hail, lightning, rain and wind — up to 70 miles per hour at Tiburon —also lashed Marin. San Geronimo Valley and part of Bolinas were blacked out for more than an hour.

Israelis Charge Air Violations; New Cairo Plan

Cease-Fire Charge Amid Peace Plan; Soviets Courting Egypt

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egypt sent Mig21s and Sukhoi 7 fighter-bomber jets streaking across the Suez Canal today in violation of the cease-fire, Israel charged today in Jerusalem. The complaint came as Egypt unveiled a new three-part peace plan that would give a bigger peace keeping role to the Big Four.

The Israeli complaint filed with the United Nations was the second serious complaint this month of Egyptian aerial overflights of Israeli-held territory. An Israeli communique said two Mig21s crossed the southern sector of the canal and a pair of Sukhoi 7s cross the central sector.

Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny arrived meanwhile in Cairo for a seven-day official visit and said he would try to "strengthen and develop" Soviet-Egyptian friendship and cooperation. He was accompanied by high-ranking government and party leaders.

In Paris, the French government said it had started a diplomatic campaign to insure that a basis for a Middle East settlement is worked out before the current cease-fire expires Feb. 5. France praised the Egyptian proposals but said Israel must have guarantees.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, which often reflects the views of President Anwar Sadat, said the proposals were delivered to Britain, France and Italy by Mahmoud Riad, the deputy premier and foreign minister, during a tour of those countries this month.

In Paris, the French government said that on basis of the Riad talks it had reached the conclusion all obstacles to peace in the Middle East "can and must be eliminated." France also pledged efforts to see that the cease-fire expiring Feb. 5 is extended.

Al Ahram outlined the three point plan as follows:

—The Big Four powers would give U.N. Middle East negotiator Gunnar V. Jarring instruction and guidance to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution of 1967, either through Big Four meetings or through a scheme presented to the Security Council.

—These instructions must define a timetable for carrying out of the resolution and must ask Jarring for a report on the progress of his mission within one month on the issue of these instructions.

—If the Big Four powers failed to formulate a scheme for carrying out the resolution the Security Council would meet before the end of January to discuss implementation. After this meeting each big power would shoulder its responsibility

Kissinger, Bomb Plot Indictments

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A federal grand jury has charged that a Catholic priest masterminded a conspiracy from his jail cell to blow up heating systems in the nation's capital on George Washington's Birthday, then kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

The jury returned indictments against Rev. Philip Berrigan, 47, and named five others as conspirators — two other priests, a former priest, a nun and a Pakistani student with a doctorate in political science.

Seven others were named as co-conspirators, but not defendants, including Berrigan's brother Daniel, who also is in prison, and three other nuns.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced the indictments by a grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa., after the five alleged conspirators who were free had been arrested.

The indictment charged that the group plotted to kidnap Kissinger —President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser — and hold him hostage until their demands were met by the government.

The indictment did not spell out the alleged demands, but FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified before a Senate committee in November that a group was planning to hold an unidentified White House official hostage for an end to all U.S. military involvement in Southeast Asia. Kissinger later said he was the official Hoover referred to.

Hoover identified the group as the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives, a charge denied by the organization. Hoover also named the Berrigans as members of the group and leaders of the plot.

Both priests are serving terms at the minimum security

UBAC Sets 'Massive Outreach' Programs; Cuts Some Agencies

The United Bay Area Cousade, which exceeded its 1970 campaign goal by $188,951, nevertheless will reduce or eliminate funds for 66 of the agencies included in its appeal, it was disclosed yesterday.

Reversing previous refusals to identify agencies whose funds from the crusade were cut or elimianted, Robert C. Harris, San Francisco attorney who is UBAC president, released a list of all agencies showing whether funds are being increased, kept the same, decreased or eliminated. No dollar amounts were disclosed.

UBAC raised $17,038,951 for this year. Its goal was $16,850,000.

Two Marin agencies are being dropped from UBAC entirely: Marin Aid to Retarded Children and St. Vincent's School for Boys.

The announced reason is that they "were appraised as not delivering services in an effective manner." They are among five agencies Bay Area-wide dropped for this reason.

While reducing or eliminating funds for 66 of the agencies that participated in its appeal, UBAC will make available $1.5 million "for massive outreach programs in the five Bay Area counties for disadvantaged youth, day care, drug abuse, health, programs for the elderly, and concentrated neighborhood services," Harris announced.

This is in accordance with recommendations of UBAC's new directions committee, on the basis of a two-and-a-half year study by the Bay Area Social Planning Council of services needed in the five counties, he said.

"As a result of new directions, UBAC becomes an initiator of change, rather than a responder to community pressures and reactions," declares Harris's announcement.

He disclosed that this move toward funding new programs rather than merely the announced participating agencies began last April, when UBAC granted $400,000 for special programs dealing with drug abuse and additional minority services. "Four months later, in August, the board of directors announced its funding policy and procedure for 1971 which basically called for termination of agencies not relevant to the needs of today and agencies which do not require UBAC funds for continuance of present programs," he said.

Guerrillas In Jordan Seek Help

BEIRUT (UPI)—A leading Palestinian guerrilla chief called on Arab nations today to send a joint military force into Jordan to protect the commandos from King Tussein's army.

Farouk Kaddoumi, number three man in Al Fatah, the major guerrilla group, made the demand at a news conference in Cairo as an uneasy cease-fire settled over Jordan.

Sporadic gunfire sounded in Amman during the night and a "misled youth" threw a bomb at a police car today. Guerrillas threatened more action if the peace is not made airtight.

Kaddoumi, a member of the 27-man Central Committee of Palestinian Organizations, said the guerrillas "are in need of more than political attitudes" from Arab nations.

"Joint Arab troops must enter Jordan to protect our back and give us the chance to take large-scale action in the occupied territories," he said.

Kaddoumi also said "strict measures to impose economic sanctions on the (Jordanian) regime must be

Wilson Names Paid Juvenile Referee

San Rafael attorney Jack L. Blaine, who quit last year as a volunteer juvenile court referee because he was working 40 hours a week without pay, yesterday was appointed to the same position — but with a salary.

The appointment apparently ends a long squabble between former Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and others involved with the court.

The board of supervisors yesterday approved the hiring of a full-time paid referee at the request of the new juvenile court judge, Joseph G. Wilson, who changed judicial places with Gardiner on Friday.

Judge Gardiner, who had served as head of the juvenile court for six years, had long opposed paying for a referee for the juvenile court. He had operated it with a series of volunteers.

In November, Blaine quit, sending an angry letter to Judge Gardiner saying that he had agreed to hear juvenile cases for eight to 10 hours a week but found that the time had grown to 40 hours.

Friday, Judge Wilson exchanged places with Gardiner, with the latter taking the post as presiding judge of the superior court.

Judge Wilson promptly asked for the paid referee, a move long supported by County Alministrator Alan Bruce. The supervisors yesterday approved a starting salary of $18,000 a year for the referee position.

Judge Wilson, who appointed Blaine later in the day, said that Blaine will preside at the bulk of juvenile hearings.

The Marin judges have all said that with the heavy backlog of both criminal and civil cases in superior court, it is not possible for one judge to devote all his time to juvenile matters.

Hazards Listed On Uses Of Waterbeds

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—The Santa Clara County Fire Chiefs Association today issued a warning about the hazards of sleeping on waterbeds.

The association said a leaking waterbed could result in electrocution of the sleeper if water came in contact with electric outlets or cords.

Television Ban Spurs Marketing Ingenuity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cigarette commercials went off the air in a lavish midnight farewell Jan. 1 but the tobacco industry is using all of its marketing ingenuity to fill the void.

Among other new promotions this year, cigarette makers will sponsor auto races, a Canadian golf tournament, a bowling tourney called the Winston-Salem C'assic and a series of women's tennis matches dubbed the "Virginia Slims Invitational."

Sales, not sporting blood, is the motive. The August issue of Tobacco Reporter, a trade journal, explained it this way:

"The advertising has been banned, but not the appearance of the product during the feature programming.

"For instance, at a stock car race one or more of the participating vehicles will have a cigarette promotion blurb on its side. In following the race the television cameras will pass fence advertisements while the pit crews and winners will be smoking with the cigarette pack prominently displayed.

"Such will hold true for any number of sporting events that appear on television. It could even go so far as to have the football booster section displaying block cards that promote a particular brand."

The new law ban all radio and television cigarette commercials effective at midnight Jan. 1. But the networks will get a last draught of money from an industry which has provided about 10 per cent of television advertising revenues.

The leathery Marlboro cowboy rode into the last sunset over and over again that night. Philip Morris, Inc., Marlboro's maker, bought 25 minutes of nttwork television commercial time Jan. 1, including the last three permidnight commercials on the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show (NBC), the Merv Griffin Show (CBS) and the Dick Cavett show (ABC).

Network officials said cigarette commercials filled many time outs during the Jan. 1 college football bowl games. One minute on the Rose Bowl cists an advertiser $135,000; on the Orange Bowl, $75,000. Big advertisers like cigarette companies pay somewhat less, however.

According to the Federal Trade Commission, cigarette makers spent $226 million on television and radio commercials in 1968, the most recent year for which the FTC has figures. They spent $35 million in magazines, $15 million in newspapers and $741,000 for billboards.

Antismoking crusaders believe the demise of television cigarette advertising will sharply reduce the number of youths who take up smoking, and make it easier for smokers to quit.

They note that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's National Advisory Cancer Council reported Dec. 1 that cigarette smoking was the primary cause of an "epidemic" of 60,000 lung cancer deaths a year in the United States.

The industry, still contending its product has not been proved harmful, hopes smokers will puff on. It cites increased cigarette consumption in England, Italy and other countries where cigarette commercials also are banned.

The law also means U.S. stations no longer will have to carry antismoking commercials, which were required to counter the cigarette blurbs. All three networks have said they plan to continue antismoking announcements, but fewer are expected.

Two court actions could change the situation. In one, owners of six radio stations have asked a federal court to declare the law banning cigarette commercials unconstitutional. A hearing is expected in late January.

The other, filed by the cigarette industry, claims that the same "fairness doctrine" which prompted antismoking messages should —in the absence of cigarette commercials — require prosmoking messages to counter grim televised health warnings. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) disagreed, but the industry has appealed to a federal court.

With broadcasting turned off, where will that $226 million go? Cigarette men say they will spend more on billboards, newspapers and magazineS, but estimate privately that industry outlays for advertising will be cut 50 per cent or more.

"We couldn't spend all that money in print if we wanted to," John T. Landry, Philip Morris group vice president and director of Tobacco Product Marketing, said in a Tobacco Reporter interview.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Tate Trial Sum-Up

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The final attorney arguing for the defense at the Tate murder trial Tuesday told the jury that if they believed Charles Manson's three women codefendants were "robots, zombies or automatons," the women must be acquitted.

Robots cannot commit premeditated murder, said Maxwell Keith, and Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houton should be cleared of the murder charges.

Keith wound up the summations for Manson and the women and, after rebuttal by Deputy District Attorney Vincent Bugliosi, the case was expected to go to the jury late this week.

Berlin Let-Up

BERLIN (UPI)—Western Allied Berlin traffic passed through Russian checkpoints normally today after Wstern Allied protests to the Russians on the most serious interference with highway traffic in five years.

A Western Allied Spokesman said military traffic was unimpeded today.

The Americans, British and French protested the harassment to the Russians at their embassy in East Berlin Tuesday night and again today at a four-power meeting of political advisers.

The meeting in the former Allied Control Authority building in the American Sector was held to prepare for the meeting next Tuesday of the Big Four ambassadors on Berlin.

Nixon On Steel

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon Tuesday suggested that voluntary restraints on steel imports from Japan and Europe might be lifted because of the 12.5 per cent price increase announced by Bethlehem Steel Corp.

No one said so in the precise terms, but it clearly was an attempt by the administration to "jawbone" Bethlehem into rolling back the increase, which is effective March 1. Thus far Nixon studiously has avoided jawboning—the term for exerting direct presidential influence in an effort to rescind announced price increases. Jawboning was a favorite technique of former Presidents Lyndon Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

The President's unhappiness at Bethlehem's announcement was confirmed by Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who at a news briefing referred to the increases as "very large" and "enormous."

Phone Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has approved the first increase in long-distance telephone rates since 1953, and announced it would hold hearings to determine if the increases should be larger.

The FCC told the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. (AT&T) Tuesday it would approve interim increases that would bring AT&T $250 million a year in additional, before-tax, earnings. It is now up to AT&T whether to accept the proposed new rates.

AT&T had asked for an increase it said would boost earnings by $385 millon annually —a figure which the FCC disputed, saying revenue would really amount to $545 million more each year.

Welfare Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Justice Harry A. Blackmun has illustrated the Supreme Court's present liberal-conservative split in ruling against a welfare mother who would not let a caseworker into her house.

The Minnesotan —in his first majority opinion —held Tuesday that the mother, Mrs. Barbara James, could keep the social worker out, but as a result could also be made to forfeit welfare payments for her dependent child.

Joining him to tip the balance in favor of governmental authority were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices Hugo L. Black, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

Dissenting were Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall —the remaining corps of the old liberal-oriented Warren court.

Home Loan Saving

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government's decision to cut the FHA and VA home loan interest ceilings from 8 to 7 1-2 per cent means a saving of about $8 a month to the family about to buy a $25,000 house with a 25-year mortgage.

The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Veterans Administration (VA) Tuesday announced the second reduction in six weeks in the interest ceiling for government-backed mortgages. The lower rates take effect today.

A family buying a home with a 25-year VA-guaranteed loan of $25,000 will repay $184.75 monthly for principal and interest at the new 7 1-2 per cent interest rate. The payments on a similar loan at 8 per cent are $193 monthly.

Georgia's New Governor Pledges End To Racism

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jimmy Carter, a wealthy peanut farmer who succeeded Lester G. Maddox as governor, Tuesday vowed to end racial discrimination in Georgia.

Carter, 46, an Annapolis graduate and former nuclear submarine officer, won the office in a hard struggle against former Gov. Carl E. Sanders in the Democratic primary and Republican Hal Suit, a former television newscaster, in the general election.

"At the end of a long campaign, I believe I know the people of our state as well as anyone," he said in a brief inaugural address. "Based on this knowledge ... I say to you quite frankly that the time for racial discrimination is over."

"No poor, rural, weak or black person should ever have to bear the additional burden of being deprived of the opportunity of an education, a job or simple justice," he said.

Minutes after Carter's speech, Maddox was sworn in as lieutenant governor, a post he won after unsuccessfully waging a legal battle to overturn Georgia's constitutional prohibition against a governor succeeding himself.

Maddox will preside over the Georgia Senate, which will act on Carter's legislative program. Maddox already has stated opposition to some of Carter's proposals.

Kennedy Aides Call Newspaper Article A Smear

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A tabloid newspaper linking Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., with Italian princess Maria Pia has been distributed to the offices of most congressmen, according to a Kennedy aide.

Richard Drayne, Kennedy's press secretary, said "we've got our ideas" who is responsible for the distribution.

Drayne said Kennedy "was shocked and dismayed at the depths to which some politicians have sunk in attempting to destroy his reputation."

The newspaper is the National Tattler, published in Chicago. A recent issue carried a picture alleged to be the princess. The headline read: "Jet-Set playgirl's story: I spent a night with Ten Kennedy."

Hope Gets Navy's Service Award

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—When Bob Hope was presented the Navy's Distinguished Public Service Award Tuesday the comedian quipped, "I can't tell you what a thrill it is to get this piece of gold back from the government."

The Navy's highest civilian honor was given to Hope by Navy Secretary John H. Chafee during ceremonies aboard the guided missile cruiser Providence.

ARRIVE FOR ASSIGNMENTS — Wearing mixed headgear, South Vietnamese (ARVN) Marines and Cambodian government forces arrive at a staging area south of Phnom Penh. The troops yesterday moved against Communists blocking vital Highway 4 used to provide fuel for Phnom Penh.

Push For Cambodia Highway

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—More than 13,000 South Vietnamese and Cambodian troops poured into the mountains southwest of Phnom Penh today in a drive to reopen vital Highway 4 linking the capital with the nation's only deepwater seaport.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky flew to Phnom Penh, inspected South Vietnamese units in the campaign and predicted the highway will be recaptured "within a few days."

Ky flew over the entire 120-mile length of Highway 4 between Phnom Penh and the port of Kompong Som where columns of South Vietnamese tanks, personnel carriers and troops are marching north toward Kompong Speu in an attempt to meet with other South Vietnamese and Cambodian units moving southward.

The Communists seized the highway nearly two months ago and the partial blockade has brought electricity and gasoline rationing in Phnom Penh and aggravated inflation.

U.S. sources in Saigon said the new military operation was a major subject for discussions last weekend between Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and South Vietnamese officials including President Nguyen Van Thieu. They said the South Vietnamese had been reluctant to go through with such an operation until they extracted new but unspecified military aid pledges from the Anited States.

The U.S. Command feels continued stability of the Lon Nol government in Cambodia is essential to the success of the Vietnamization program.

Ky denied reports that South Vietnam was demanding payment for use of its troops in the Cambodian operation.

"No, we did not come here to ask them to pay us," Ky told a newsman.

Ky conferred with Lon Nol for three hours after he toured the highway.

"We have a task force of tanks and rangers moving north from the south and two regiments of Khmers (Cambodians) coming from the north and we expect to join the two forces in about the next few days," Ky said. "We will reoccupy the positions now occupied by the enemy."

A military spokesman in Saigon said the drive involved South Vietnamese Marines, Rangers, engineers, artillery and armored cavalry along with four regiments of Cambodian troops for a total of more than 13,000 men.

The South Vietnamese made contact with Communist forces within two hours after the start of the operation. Viet Cong units attacked a Marine battalion near Pich Nil Pass, 65 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Two South Vietnamese were wounded.

The average cigarette smoker consumed 4,030 smokes in 1970, or 201.5 packs, an increase from 3,993 smokes the previous year, the USDA said.

Queen Elizabeth Puts On Midi

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth went midi Tuesday.

The monarch appeared in public for the first time in a midi-length costume, wearing a leather belted midi coat and knee high boots for the journey back to Buckingham Palace from her Christmas holiday at Sandringham.

The queen thus followed the pattern set by her sister, Princess Margaret, and her daughter, Princess Anne, who for months have worn the midi in public.

Gulf Of Tonkin Order Repealed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — The Gulf of Tonkin resolution, regarded by President Lyndon B. Johnson as his authorization for U.S. intervention in Southeast Asia, has been repealed without a whisper of the controversy it once stirred.

President Nixon signed legislation Tuesday that included repeal of the 1964 resolution. The repealer was added to a $200 million bill authorizing easy credit sales of U.S. arms to foreign allies.

Nixon agreed last year to repeal because he felt the only authority he needed to fight in Southeast Asia was his authority as commander-in-chief to protect the U.S. forces there.

The resolution gave the executive branch permission to "take all necessary steps, including the use of armed forces" to protect American forces in South Vietnam and to aid Vietnam and other U.S. allies in Indochina.

Johnson interpreted the resolution as unconditional congressional backing for his subsequent decisions to send more than 500,000 men to fight in Vietnam and to bomb North Vietnam.

The resolution was named for a body of water adjacent to Vietnam, where an engagement involving two U.S. destroyers occurred in August 1964.

Report Of Leader's My Lai Air View

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (UPI)—A defense witness testified Tuesday that the head of the task force that swept through My Lai and killed more than 100 civilians circled the village in a helicopter during the operation and said "things are going fine, smooth, according to plan."

Sgt. Dennis R. Vasquez, now stationed in Germany, told a court-martial jury that Col. Frank Barker, head of the task force that bore his name, viewed the proceedings with satisfaction from the helicopter. Barker later was killed in action.

Vasquez testified for Sgt. Charles E. Hutto, 22, of Tallulah, La., charged with participating in the alleged massacre.

The defense was expected to conclude its case today and Hutto's attorneys said they would not decide until the day's session begins whether to have Hutto testify in his own behalf.

The defense lawyers, taking the line that Hutto merely was following orders and that responsibility rests at a higher level, Tuesday introduced letters from high-ranking officers congratulating the top brass of Task Force Barker for its sweep through My Lai. One of the letters was from Gen. William C. Westmoreland, then Allied commander in Vietnam and now Army chief of staff.

Hub Survey Set On Storm Drainage

A block-by block analysis of San Anselmo's storm drainage facilities to determine needed improvements was authorized last night by the city council.

City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel said the council hired Hoffman and Albritton, an engineering firm from San Rafael, to make the survey at a cost not to exceed $20,000.

He said estimates offered last night indicate drafting of the storm drainage master plan would take about six months.

The engineering firm, he said, was directed to map the city's drainage system, locate contributory drainage systems, make a block-by-block field survey, analyze the system for shortcomings and prepare an ultimate plan for implementation of improvements.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

INSURANCE — Took no action on gaining federal eligibility for flood and mudslide insurance pending further study.

PLANNING — Renewed a three-year joint powers agreement with the Marin City-County Planning Council and authorized a drive-through survey of San Anselmo homes by the council.

FIREMAN — Authorized drafting of a resolution of thanks to volunteer fireman William Meagor, who is retiring after 29 years' service.

LIBRARY — Authorized the library board to hire two part-time employees.

CITIZENS — Asked citizens to submit names of individuals interested in serving on the council's committee on zoning and housing.

PARK — Authorized expenditure of $400 for construction of a second exit and fire sprinkler system at the Robson-Harrington Park carriage house.

STREETS — Continued until the Jan. 26 meeting consideration of a joint powers agreement with the City of Fairfax for resurfacing of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Suffield to Kent avenues.

MAINTENANCE — Cancelled a contract with A and J Shooter for landscape maintenance of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Ross to the Hub intersection. A city crew will do the work.

TENNIS COURTS — Authorized spending $357 in donated funds for landscaping of tennis courts at Memorial Park.

PARKING — Authorized sale of municipal parking lot tickets by the San Anselmo senior citizens organization at the bus stop at Center Boulevard. Tickets will go on sale in February, with 10 per cent of the revenue going to the senior citizens.

Tax Break To Business 'Not Final'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A $2.6 billion tax break for business announced Monday by President Nixon is not yet a final action, the Treasury said today.

Although Nixon's statement appeared to be announcement of a completed plan, a Treasury spokesman said a public hearing would be held on the matter, probably in late February or early March.

The spokesman contended that it was routine to announce such changes and then hold hearings on them. "We are just following the routine," he commented.

In his statement Monday from the western White House, Nixon said, "today I have approved three important changes in the administration of the depreciation provisions of the tax laws."

The changes announced would permit businessmen to deduct from their income taxes the cost of new plant and equipment in a period 20 per cent shorter than that allowed under present regulations. That would allow businessmen to recover more of the cost of new machinery in the first year after it was purchased.

Associates of consumer advocate Ralph Nadar filed suit in federal court seeking to prohibit the tax changes from taking effect on the grounds that the Treasury did not hold a hearing in advance.

The Treasury insisted, however, that the department had planned to hold a hearing all along and that plans were not changed as a result of the legal action.

before the world and then the stance of each country towards world peace would be exposed.

Israeli Foreign minister Abba Eban, faced with the possibility of a Security Council meeting which Israel does not want, conferred today with the British, French and Belgian ambassadors on "current matters," the Foreign Ministry announced in Jerusalem.

Purpose of the meeting was not disclosed but all are members of the Security Council and reports from Cairo indicated Egypt wanted the Security Council to frame new guidelines for Jarring's mission. Israel has said it strongly opposes such a meeting and any attempt to change Jarring's mandate.

France, in the first Western reaction to the Egyptian proposals, said Riad had outlined "a concrete plan of negotiation" and that "the conclusion has been reached that obstacles standing in the road to peace can and must be eliminated."

French government officials said Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann in his talks with Riad insisted on the importance of providing the guarantees required by Israel, including guaranteed frontiers, while meeting Arab demands for withdrawal from captured territories.

Podgorny arrived in Cairo for a seven-day official visit to Egypt and a visit to the Aswan Dam which will be inaugurated Friday. He was met at the airport by Sadat and they drove into Cairo for talks beginning at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. EST).

In an airport statement Podgorny said his talks would deal with the current situation in the Middle East and expressed hope his visit would serve "to strengthen and develop friendship and full cooperation between the Egyptian and Soviet peoples."

taken so that authorities there will be forced to stop their aggressive operations."

An official spokesman said six civilians were killed Tuesday by guerrilla rocket fire in North Jordan after the ceasefire was called and that a member of the Jordanian security force was wounded in today's bomb attack on the police car, the sixth day of violence.

Shops in the Faisal Street sector where the explosion occurred shuttered their doors and security forces surrounded the area in search of the youth. A few hours later youths, called "hireling intriguers" by the government, fired rifles in the downtown area in an attempt to force shopowners to close up.

A ranking Palestinian leader said this morning "fighting commandos" will ensure the failure of peace overtures in Jordan unless they received watertight guarantees the government will hold its fire. He said the government broke previous cease-fires and "why should it be different now."

Jordan was torn by civil war last September and there have been many outbreaks since then between the guerrillas and the Jordan army. The guerrillas say the army is trying to wipe out their movement. The army contends the guerrillas are trying to take over the government and oust King Hussein.

The Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine —the group which carried out last fall's mass airplane hijackings—promised to "open fire on the Jordanian Fascist regime on as large a scale as possible" to force it to withdraw.

The Iraq news agency quoted unconfirmed reports in Baghdad that the Palestinian organizations had called for the overthrow of Hussein and the establishment of a national democratic regime.

Tiburon Hearing On Annexation

A meeting on Tiburon's bid to annex the Bel Aire-Eagle Rock areas north of Tiburon Boulevard will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room of Bel Aire School, Karen Way.

City councilmen and members of the city staff will be present to answer residents' questions concerning the annexation proposal.

The annexation was approved last September by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, but final approval must come from a majority of the voters both in the area to be annexed and in Tiburon.

Los Angeles Does Not Want Angela

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to oppose the transfer of the Angela Y. Davis-Ruchell Magee trial from Marin to Los Angeles.

Board Chairman Warren Dorn said the trial of the pair, charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in connection with the Aug. 7 shoot-out at the Civic Center, would be a great tax burden to Los Angeles.

The supervisors' stand came in response to reports that Miss Davis's defense attorneys might ask to have her trial in a city other than San Rafael because of pretrial publicity.

Meanwhile, in New York, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called for a fair trial for Miss Davis, asserting that there is an "obvious effort to deny the presumption of innocence and thereby convict Miss Angela Davis of murder."

A resolution adopted at the board of directors' quarterly meeting also emphasized that the NAACP's "long history demonstrates that we do not share Miss Davis's adherence to that Communist political group."

The NAACP officials also said "we abhor. . .the misguided efforts of a few among us. . .to use violence to secure their political or social goals."

cuts, UBAC asked that 10 participating organizations which have units in more than one county merge them into single administrations.

It called for Bay Area-wide mergers of Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, cerebral palsy organizations, Family Service Agency, Mental Health Association, and United Service Organization, all of whose funds were reduced; of International Institutes, funded at the same rate as last year; of suicide prevention bureaus, Volunteer Bureau, and Young Women's Christian Association, which got increased allocations. (Young Men's Christian Association and Girl Scouts had been merged area-wide on UBAC recommendations previously. The Marin YWCA had already been merged with that of San Francisco.)

Marin agencies whose allocations were sharply cut as not of high enough priority were Red Cross, Salvation Army, and YMCA.

However, Marin Catholic Social Service was recommended for an increased allotment, as was the San Francisco YWCA, which includes Marin.

Marin Volunteer Bureau, West Bay Catholic Youth Organization, Bay Area Girl Scout Council, and Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and Peninsula, and Big Brothers were among agencies granted the same amount as last year (when funds raised were about $500,000 lower.)

Thirty-five agencies received increased allocations; 40 received the same amount as in 1970; funds were reduced or eliminated for 66.

Of the 66 agencies, 12 were funded at reduced rate with public funding expected to take over in 1972. One, East Bay Activity Center, was granted funds for six months only.

The announcement said all agencies have the right of appeal, and those receiving no funds may ask for interim funding from UBAC reserves while they mobilize other resources.

St. Vincent's School for Boys received $46,000 from the United Crusade last year. Rev. James Keane, director, said it has filed an appeal of the decision to exclude it from the Crusade.

Marin Aid to Retarded Children received $6,000 last year.

Burglary Case To Probation Department

The case of Robert Karry Campbell, 18, of Petaluma, has been referred to the probation department for a report Jan. 25 on whether it is acceptable to Marin Juvenile Court.

He is charged with burglarizing an Inverness residence Dec. 9.

Federal prison at Danbury, Conn., for their part in draft board raids in Maryland.

Among the 22 separate overt acts listed in the indictment was that Philip Berrigan and Rev. Joseph Reese Wenderoth, 35, of Baltimore, entered underground tunnels in Washington about April 1, 1970. The grand jury said Wenderoth was reported to have discussed the Washington tunnel system with an engineer employed by the General Services Administration.

The indictment indicated there had been a long series of visits and written communications by which Berrigan allegedly directed the plot from his jail cell.

In addition to Berrigan and Wenderoth, the grand jury also indicted: Sister Elizabeth McAlister, 31, of Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Rev. Neil Raymond McLaughlin, 30, of Baltimore; Anthony Scoblick, 30, a former priest, of Baltimore; and Eqbal Ahmad, 39, a fellow at the Adlai Stevenson Institute of Public Affairs in Chicago. Ahmad is a native of Pakistan, and friends said he does not have U.S. citizenship.

The six were accused of conspiring to use dynamite, "plastic explosives," and other devices to be detonated in approximately five locations "in order to render inoperative the heating systems in government buildings of the United States," the indictment said.

Washington's Birthday is generally recognized as Feb. 22, but under a new federal law will be celebrated on Feb. 15 this year. A Justice Department spokesman said it was not known which date was the target for the alleged plot.

The six accused were charged with conspiring to maliciously damage and destroy by means of explosives government personnel and property.

They were accused of conspiring to possess explosives which had not been registered as required by federal law.

They also were accused of conspiracy to transport the explosives in interstate commerce with the knowledge and intent that they would be used to damage and destroy real and personal property.

Another count charged them with conspiring to unlawfully kidnap and transport in interstate commerce a person for ransom, reward or otherwise.

The Justice Department said that in addition to the maximum life sentence for conspiracy to kidnap, the accused could face five years and $10,000 if convicted on the charges that they plotted to blow up federal property and 10 years and $10,000 or both for transportation and possession of explosives.

In addition Sister McAlister and Philip Berrigan could be sentenced to 10 years on each of five counts of conspiring to illegally communicate with a federal prisoner to plan an illegal conspiracy.

Initial reaction to the alleged plot was guarded. Many of the friends and relatives of those charged expressed shock, and some said they felt politics was involved.

Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., who befriended the Berrigans and criticized Hoover for his testimony against them, said he welcomed the judicial inquiry because the matter "has finally been removed from the trial-by-headline arena." He withheld comment on the merits of the indictment, however.

In addition to Daniel Berrigan, named as coconspirators were Sister Beverly Bell, 43, of Washington; Sister Marjorie A. Shuman, 47, of Washington; William Davidon, 43, a professor at Haverford College in Haverford, PA.; Thomas Davidson, 25, of Washington; Paul Mayer, 39, a former priest of Edgewater, N.J., and Sister Joques Egan, 52, of New York City.

'Rap' On For Marin Youth

Marin County Youth Commission will hold a public "rap session" at 7 p.m. today in the faculty dining hall of San Rafael High School to hear both the gripes and ideas of San Rafael youth.

The youth commission, whose purpose is to help identify problem areas and make recommendations to the board of supervisors, is also trying to organize new youth programs in Marin communities.

Chairman Paul Cohen of Mill Valley said that San Rafael adults will also be welcome at the meeting.

Pleads Innocent

Stephen Kent Solon, 26, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of stealing a car in Mill Valley last Thursday. Preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 19.

OBITUARIES

Long-Time Sausalitan Dies At 92

Funeral for Emma J. Young, a resident of Sausalito for more than 65 years, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Inurnment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Young died Monday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. She was 92.

She was born in Santa Clara and reared in San Francisco. In 1902 she moved to Sausalito and three years later married Thomas Young, a Sausalito businessman. They lived at 30 Princess Street. Young died in 1929.

Mrs. Young was a member of Sea Point Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Sausalito, and Tamalpais Temple 129, Pythian Sisters, San Rafael. She is survived by two daughters, Helen Young Nightingale of South Iran and Louise Young Graefe of Corte Madera; two sons, Allyn T. Young of Corte Madera and David G. Young of San Rafael; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Sea Point Parlor of the Native Daughters will conduct a memorial service for Mrs. Young tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Friends may call tomorrow afternoon and evening at the mortuary.

Employees Of PT&T In Walkout

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph maintenance men and installers staged a three-hour walkout in Sonoma County yesterday to protest suspension of an employee who refused an overtime assignment.

Richard Brown, Petaluma manager for PT&T, said 60 men failed to report for work yesterday morning, but that all had returned by 11 a.m.

He said company representatives would meet with union officials to settle the dispute. The walkout affected company offices in Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Healdsburg and Guerneville, but Brown described the effect on customer phone service as minimal.

The workers said they were protesting the suspension of Robert Dallas of Petaluma, who refused an overtime assignment last Tuesday. Union officials said the company had been requiring large amounts of overtime work and calling it "emergency" duty to force the work.

The employees are members of the Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Local 9403.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Charge

Jon Theodore Kilpatrick, 26, of Fairfax, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a San Anselmo variety store Dec. 18.

Trial was set for the week of March 8.

LOUIS LUNDGREN

Private funeral for Louis B. Lundgren, 83, brother of Niles C. Lundgren of San Rafael, was held Monday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Inurnment was in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Lundgren, a retired auditor for Tidewater Associated Oil Co., died Thursday in his San Francisco hotel room after a short illness.

A native of Rhode Island, he had lived most of his life in California, residing in San Rafael around 1930.

He was a member of the San Rafael lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows.

IRENE DWIGHT

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, for Irene Dwight of San Rafael, who died Monday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 39.

Mrs. Dwight, a native of Wisconsin, is survived by her husband Roger, who is employed at Lucas Valley Dairy. The Dwights came to the Bay Area nine years ago and lived at 167 Novato Street, Apt. 1, San Rafael.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three children, David, Michael and Jody Dwight.

Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

MRS. McCARTHY

Private funeral was held today for Cecil Moore McCarthy, 70, of 90 Fairway Drive, Novato, at the Redwood Chapel Funeral home, Novato.

Mrs. McCarthy, widow of Army Col. Leo J. McCarthy, died Friday at a local hospital after a long illness. A native of Louisville, Ky., she had been a resident of Marin for nine years and of California 28 years.

She had no immediate relatives.

Burial was at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

West Marin Residents Await Improvements In Water System

Point Reyes Station and Inverness Park residents, plagued by murky, smelly water and in some instances lack of water, are nearing the end of their water worries.

The North Marin County Water District is on the verge of taking over the two private companies, Point Reyes and Inverness Park water companies, that serve the area.

There is an adequate water supply from Papermill Creek to serve the consumers, 66 in Inverness Park and about 200 in Point Reyes Station, but the system has been inadequate, reported Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill.

The district, awaiting state Public Utilities Commission approval to take over the water systems, is set to construct a reliable system, Churchill said.

Residents of the Inverness, Inverness Park, Point Reyes Station and Olema areas, once proposed for annexation to the Marin Municipal Water District under a countywide split-up between the two districts, voted in 1967 to join the North Marin District.

The first step will be to install a "flood-proof" 60-foot deep well along Papermill Creek near Point Reyes Station, Churchill explained.

There was a water stoppage for four days last January because flooding clogged the "shallow wells' at the edge of the creek, Churchill said.

The two water systems will be supplied from the same source, Papermill Creek, with the Inverness Park water source — a spring and a well — to be abandoned.

In Inverness Park there has been water contamination "from houses above on septic tanks," Churchill said.

The district's plan for improvements in the systems calls for:

Doubling the capacity of the redwood water storage tank from 100,000 to 200,000 gallons.

Additional transmission lines from the well to the storage reservoir, and a pump station at the well.

A new transmission line, six and eight inches, to the business area of Point Reyes Station, and installation of six fire hydrants in the downtown sector.

Automatic chlorination and carbon filtering that would remove bacteria and provide "expected seasonal taste and odor and enhance the quality of the water."

A new transmission line to connect the Inverness Park system and a booster pump station there.

There also will be "some replacement" of distribution lines in downtown Point Reyes Station and a "loop line" to the proposed Coast Guard housing project there, Churchill said.

For an emergency water source in dry spells, the district hopes to obtain water from the Marin Municipal Water District's reservoir at Lake Nicasio, Churchill said.

"We have discussed release of 150 acre feet a year," he reported.

Water released at Nicasio Dam could be carried through the creek to the well site at Point Reyes Station.

After the initial improvements are made, there will have to be replacement and improvement of the existing distribution system, Churchill said. "The first thing we want to get now, is to get the system reliable."

As the West Marin area develops there would have to be additional sources of water sought, he observed. Among the possibilities are the Frick Canyon reservoir, east of Marshall, Walker Creek and Millerton Creek, but the "most appealing" is water from the Russian River aqueduct, Churchill commented.

The district can take over operation of the two private water companies without adding any personnel, Churchill commented.

James J. Downey of San Francisco, owner of the two private firms, and the district have reached an agreement on the transfer, but the switchover is subject to approval of the Public Utilities Commission, which will set the price.

Churchill had expected PUC approval of the changeover by yesterday, but said that there would be a delay, since the PUC staff is seeking a hearing on the matter to make sure the transfer to the North Marin District is carried out smoothly. The district, however, thinks there is no need for the hearing and has petitioned to waive it.

The district wants to take over operation before ar possible flooding, Churcl said.

The project, estimated to cost $238,000, including an approximate $93,000 for acquisition of the two companies, will be financed by a $250,000 bond measure approved by voters in the improvement district in November.

Tennis Men Offer Help For Lighting

Three members of a Marinwood tennis club have told the community parks and recreation commission they would help install tennis court lighting if the commission would pay for materials.

William A. Gordon, recreation director, said the offer, aimed at reducing the cost of lighting the community's two courts, came from representatives of the Marinwood Men's Tennis Club.

Gordon said the commission will consider the offer at its Feb. 8 meeting when bids are opened for the project.

During its February meeting, the commission also will consider whether to proceed with building a third tennis court adjacent to the others at the community park on Miller Creek Road, Gordon said.

About $7,000 was budgeted last year for the new court, he said, and the commission is now seeking cost estimates for construction.

Guilty Pleas In Pot Case

Patricia Maryann O'Neill and Lawrence David Johnson, both 22 and from San Rafael, have pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing marijuana.

They had earlier pleaded innocent to the charge as well as to charges of possessing marijuana for sale and using marijuana. The latter charges were dismissed by Judge E. Warren McGuire yesterday at the request of the district attorney's office.

Sentencing of the pair was set for March 8.

Innocent Plea To Pot Charge

Gregg P. Stacey, 22, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing marijuana and possessing marijuana for sale.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set trial for the week of April 12.

Stacey was arrested after Sausalito police stopped his car Nov. 17 for a traffic violation and found four kilos of suspected pot in the car.

Probation Given In Burglary Case

Dolores Marie Burke, 27, of Fairfax, hes been placed on two years' probation in Marin Superior Court for her part in the burglary of a San Anselmo home July 5.

Judge E. Warren McGuire continued until next Monday sentencing of Stephen Robert Carrino, who pleaded guilty along with Mrs. Burke to the San Anselmo burglary, as well as to a San Rafael burglary last September.

Tamalpais Fire Chief Gets Change

The Duties of the chief of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District have been changed by district directors, who also voted to reduce the chief's hours of duty per week and monthly salary.

According to Secretary Bernard Lenhart, the directors — acting on the request of chief Richard K. Oswald — agreed to make the chief responsible for keeping the district's trucks and other equipment in good repair.

In the future most of the district's paperwork will be handled by Lt. William Canlett, who was promoted to acting fire captain by the board. Canlett, whose salary will be $1,025 a month, will work under Oswald's direction, Lenhart said.

From now on Chief Oswald will work seven 24-hour periods every two weeks, instead of daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., the secretary said, and will be paid $1,200 a month, rather than the $1,350 he has received

The Tamalpais Fire Protective District board also:

OFFICERS — Elected Byron O. Boulware board president, Carl H. Modell as board treasurer and retained Lenhart as secretary.

ATTORNEY — Voted to retain Harold B. Hyde of the San Rafael law firm of Smallman and Robbins as the district's attorney to replace Robert Smallman, who was elected to the Marin Municipal Court bench in November.

SALARY HIKE — Agreed to increase the salary of the district's secretary bookkeeper, Alma Van Asperen, from $480 to $500 a month.

WOUNDED BY SPEAR

Wounded by a skin diving spear while 70 miles out at sea, Ed Garcia is transferred from a Coast Guard helicopter to a waiting ambulance in Long Beach. Garcia told doctors yesterday that the explosives-charged spear gun went off as he handled it. Doctors removed the spear, treated Garcia's wound and then released him.

$250,000 Tab For Fair Plans

Marin County Supervisors voted yesterday to spend nearly $250,000 to add seats to the Veterans Memorial Auditorium and landscape the auditorium grounds in preparation for the 1971 Marin Art and Garden Fair.

The board also voted general approval to plans presented for the fair by its manager, Marcelle McCoy and Thomas F. Campanella, assistant county administrator. This year, the four-day fair will run from Oct. 8 through Oct. 11, instead of the July 4 holiday it occupied during its years at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Supervisors also voted to support the Redwood Empire Association in its battle to keep the state from combining all existing Marin and Sonoma County fairs into one annual event in Santa Rosa.

California's Little Hoover Commission has announced that it will hold a hearing at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 11 in the Santa Rosa Veterans Memorial Building on proposals to consolidate the existing 76 county and agricultural district fairs held each year into only 38 fairs.

The Western Fairs Association warned the Marin Supervisors yesterday the state proposal would wipe out nine of the Redwood Empire's 12 fairs, including Marin, and give the state control over the remainder.

The auditorium spending included $65,732 for completing the seating capacity to 2,100 spectators; landscaping the grounds for $91,152, and turfing, installing water lines and other facilities on the 80-acre fairgrounds for the 1971 fair, at predicted costs of $92,320.

Supervisor Atnold M. Baptiste voted against the auditorium landscaping, arguing it was not immediately needed.

Bulk of the funds committed by the board's votes was previously budgeted for the project. The remainder came from county salary savings from jobs budgeted but unfilled, or from unspent general welfare funds.

Campanella and Mrs. McCoy said the fair will make use of the auditorium theater for performances by ballet, choral and other groups, as well as for films if the fair can lease or buy a suitable movie projector.

Elsewhere in the auditorium will be art and photography competition exhibits, floral displays and tropical gardens.

More gardens, craft exhibits, educational displays and commercial exhibits plus a children's carnival will be outside the building.

The supervisors expressed concern over the fair's plans to use commercial caterers rather than the usual food booths run by nonprofit organizations. Campanella and Mrs. McCoy explained that the lack of sanitary facilities may prevent the nonprofit booths from operating. They agreed that efforts would be made to arrange for the benefit booths rather than commercial food suppliers.

New York To Consider Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—New York voters will have an opportunity in November to decide whether the state should reduce the legal voting age from 21 to 18 in state and local elections.

The state legislature, on its first full working day Monday gave final approval to a proposed constitutional amendment reducing the voting age.

If it becomes effective, about one million persons in the 18, 19 and 20 year old age bracket will be added to the voting rolls in the state. The 18 to 21 year olds were given the right to vote in federal elections by Congress last year, and some already have begun registering.

Merger Session

The Mill Valley City Council will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at city hall with members of the city fire department adn volunteer firemen to discuss possible merger of four fire districts in Southern Marin.

Bombed Courtroom Repair: $142,835

The cost of repairing a Hall of Justice courtroom and restroom, heavily damaged by a bomb on Oct. 8, yesterday was estimated at $142,835 by Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce.

This figure does not include furniture which may have to be replaced, he told the board of supervisors.

Earlier estimates of the cost of the damage ranged as high as $250,000.

The supervisors authorized architect Aaron G. Green to draw up plans and specifications for the work. Bruce estimated that putting the job out to bid and completing construction will take at least five months.

The supervisors yesterday also authorized calling for bids to complete an unfinished courtroom in the Hall of Justice to bring the number of courtrooms to 10. It was estimated that finishing the room will cost about $70,000.

Supervisors decided that money could be saved by repairing the bomb damage and completing the unfinished room, which is next door to the bombed courtroom, at the same time.

The supervisors yesterday also scheduled a public hearing for review of security measures at the Civic Center which have been instituted in the wake of the bombing and the August shoot-out.

The hearing will be at 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday in the supervisors' chambers of the administration building.

A group of county employees is expected to ask that body searches be halted and that the Civic Center be reopened at night and on weekends.

Mitchell Denies Intervening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John Mitchell has denied he ever intervened to prevent the filing of a criminal complaint against General Motors Corp. for polluting the Hudson River in New York.

In a statement issued by Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, Mitchell denied ever having any discussions or communications concerning the case with anyone representing General Motors.

The Justice Department filed a civil suit against G.M. Dec. 15 to halt the discharge of industrial waste into the Hudson River by the company's assembly plant at Tarrytown, N.Y. A consent judgment was entered Jan. 9 after G.M. agreed to stop the pollution.

The New York Daily News had reported that Mitchell interceded to kill criminal charges against General Motors. "These statements are wholly and categorically false," Kleindienst said.

Mailliard Paints Bleak Picture On Public Health

The nationwide cost in public health and welfare will keep increasing, with no relief in sight, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, told the Marin County Board of Supervisors at a luncheon yesterday.

The welfare program, with complicated formulas for federal, state and local participation, is a monster that is getting out of hand, warned Mailliard. "The costs are going to be absolutely unbearable, and we've only seen the beginnings," he said.

He said the main problem is that reducing welfare cost is politically unfeasible. "Personally, I'd like to do away with all categorical aid, such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, etc., but I'm a realist. It's hard to turn your back on the blind and the other dependents."

Supervisor chairman Louis H. Baar explained that increasing welfare costs, mandated by the state and federal governments, is creating a tremendous load on the county. He asked if the Congressman could see any relief.

"I see no relief in the near future," replied Mailliard. "Any change that's going to be politically feasible is going to increase the total cost."

The supervisors lunched with Mailliard at West End Villa to probe for ways to cut county costs but found little help.

Mailliard did promise to investigate a complaint lodged by Supervisor John F. McInnis and Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella that federal legislation allows authority over government business to be transferred from counties to regional groups that are run by nonelected citizens.

They gave the Bay Regional Comprehensive Health Planning Council as an example. "The Comprehensive Health Planning Council has appointed nonelected people with absolute authority on everything," said McInnis. "It's beyond belief." He said the council is able to get federal grants without approval from the Association of Bay Area Governments or from any elected official.

Mailliard asked for a detailed report so that he could investigate.

Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows complained that federal funds from such sources as the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Land and Water Conservation Fund do not arrive as promised.

Mailliard replied that delay in funding is a common failing. His district representative, Marion Otsea, reported that the HUD office in San Francisco has more than 150 applications already approved for which there is no money.

Action On Auditing Is Praised

A random sampling method of auditing welfare payments proposed by the state could have cost Marin County over $100,000, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told the board of supervisors yesterday.

When state auditors attempted to use a random check of the payments in Marin last July, county officials stopped them with a court action.

Mitchell said yesterday that the random sampling method had been used in Yuba County where auditors checked 49 welfare cases, finding a total overpayment of $47. By using this figure to compute supposed errors in all Yuba County welfare payments, state officials figured that under a reimbursement requirement, the county owed the state $30,900.

"The action your board took in stopping the random sampling audit was very, very proper," Mitchell concluded.

In Marin, if state auditors find errors in welfare payments, only the exact amount of the error is deducted from state and federal reimbursement.

County May Join Suit On Medi-Cal

Marin County may join Sacramento and San Mateo counties in a class suit against the State of California that seeks to reverse cuts in the state's Medi-Cal program payments.

The board of supervisors yesterday instructed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to study the problem and recommend to the board whether Marin should join the suit as "friend of the court," rather than as a full-scale litigant.

The decision followed a letter from Timothy J. Egan, administrator of the Rafael Convalescent Hospital at 234 North San Pedro Road. Egan said his facility cannot operate under the state-imposed 10 per cent cut across the board. He also protested orders to shift 35 per cent of the Medi-Cal patients to a less expensive type of care.

Egan declared that the result would be more expense to Marin County, "the statements to the contrary by the state notwithstanding."

Sacramento County on Monday and San Mateo County yesterday decided to sue the state to reverse the cuts ordered by the Department of Health Care Services.

Marin's board yesterday unanimously adopted a four-point policy covering joining the suit, refusing to absorb any state cuts, requesting the Regional Comprehensive Health Planning Council to plan "major changes" in the private health care field, and seeking changes in federal law to permit the regional council to act on the health care revisions.

Marin Board of Supervisors also:

MERRYDALE ROAD — Postponed to budget discussion time a Las Gallinas Valley Council request for extending the road to Los Ranchitos Road. Public Works Director Donald Frost reported it would cost $75,000 to $100,000 and said other work in the area should have higher priority.

HIKING — After hearing Joan Sestak, chairman of the Larkspur Town Hall, request help in preserving access over private property to Mount Tamalpais hiking trails, passed the matter to the county counsel and the parks and recreation department for any help possible "at no cost to the county."

FLOATING HOME — Granted Leroy Greenberg 30 days to repair and remove a houseboat resting in Richardson Bay. The board also instructed the county counsel's office to try to prosecute the boat's former owner, Robert Weber, for selling the craft to Greenberg without informing him of the county code violation involved.

SUBSTATION — Approved revised plans for a proposed Marin City police and fire substation, trimming the costs to the $94,000 budgeted by eliminating one of three fire truck bays. The bay can easily be added later, the board was told.

AWARD — Adopted a resolution commending San Anselmo service station attendent John W. Gasser for being named "citizen of the year" by the Marin Peace Officers Association.

PLANNING — Denied on a 3-2 vote (four yes votes were required) a planning department proposal to transfer $8,500 from reserves to speed work on the county's housing survey, in expectation of getting a $10,000 federal Title 701 planning grant. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell complained that the county is still waiting for some $140,000 in previously pledged planning funds. County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo supported the fund request, but Supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar voted "no."

BOOKLET — Authorized another $500 outlay to the League of Women Voters to print 5,000 copies of the "Your County Marin" booklet. Last June the supervisors budgeted $1,300 for the booklets, but the league reported that printing costs have risen.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY — Authorized hiring of another deputy district attorney at a cost of about $6,000 for the rest of this fiscal year. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued he urgently needed two more deputies to handle the increase in workload.

Pair Names Members To GOP Panel

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin's two state legislators yesterday announced their appointments to the State Republican Central Committee.

As their party's successful legislative candidates, Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. Peter H. Behr, both R-San Rafael, are entitled to appoint eight persons to the state committee. Each appointed four from Marin, all of them active in local party affairs.

Bagley appointed Norman Watts of San Anselmo, Sally Rakow of Ross, Elizabeth Rowen of San Rafael and Dr. W. James Dawson of Greenbrae.

Behr appointed Leland H. Jordan and Edwin Thomas of San Rafael, Mrs. William Spencer of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Benton Mathews of Belvedere. Jordan was chairman of Behr's campaign, and Thomas is assistant cabinet secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Behr also appointed four from Napa and Solano counties, including Donald F. Pinkerton of Fairfield, one of his three opponents in the June primary for the Senate seat.

Bagley's four other appointments ranged from Los Angeles to Washington, and included John G. Veneman, undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He also appointed Loy A. Dickinson of Palos Verdes, former party chairman in Sonoma County.

FPC Asked For Gas Imports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Pacific Gas Transmission Company said Tuesday it had asked the Federal Power Commission for permission to import an additional 200 million cubic feet of natural gas per day from Canada.

Pacific Gas & Eelectric Company would take delivery at the Oregon-California border and distribute it in Northern and Central California.

If the application is approved, PG&E would take delivery of an average of 1,180 million cubic feet daily.

New Try On Death Penalty

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A new try at abolishing the death penalty in California has been proposed in legislation coauthored by 21 Democratic assemblymen.

The bill, AB 13 introduced by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, would substitute life imprisonment for the death penalty. The bill did not specify whether the substituted life imprisonment would be with or without possibility of parole.

Convicts are eligible for parole after serving seven years of a life sentence, unless their sentences were without possibility of parole. Governors, however, often commute life sentences to allow parole.

The bill also would commute to life imprisonment death sentences previously imposed but not executed.

Similar bills have been introduced for many years in the Legislature, but always have lost because of opposition from advocates of the death penalty.

Ninety-four convicts are on San Quentin Prison's Death Row awaiting decision by U.S. Supreme Court in death penalty cases.

Louise Boyd's Furniture To Be Auctioned

Furnishings in Louise A. Boyd's San Francisco apartment will be sold at auction next week in San Francisco.

The furniture includes 18th Century English and French furniture and decorations, including a Louis XV chair and a Georgian mirror, said Ralph Norling of Butterfield and Butterfield, auctioneers.

Miss Boyd, famed Arctic explorer from San Rafael, has closed her apartment and retired to a San Francisco convalescent home as a result of an operation, Norling said.

The public may view items to be auctioned Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 1 to 5 p.m. The sale will be held Monday and Tuesday starting at 1 p.m. and Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Sign Approved; Ruled As Expection To The Rule

The San Rafael Planning Commission approved last night a small off-site directional sign for the Glass and Sash Co. entrance at 753 Second Street.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner said that although the sign request conflicted with proposed new sign regualtions which preclude all off-site signs, the Glass and Sash sign was a legitimate exception to the rule.

Since Highway 101 off-ramps and road locations were changed during recent highway construction, the glass company was no longer visible from Second Street, the access road, he said.

On-site signs, in this case, Hotchner said, would not be as effective as an off-site sign. He recommended a variance for an off-site sign be granted.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

HOUSING — Recommended the general city plan contain provision for future low and moderate cost housing and set a hearing on the matter for Feb. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

ANNEXATION — Recommended the city annex the San Pedro school area to provide structural fire protection and city police protection and requested the city council discuss this at their next meeting.

SUBDIVISION — Conditionally approved the subdivision of four lots at 141 through 151 Clark Street and 132 Reservoir Road.

USE PERMITS — Granted the request of Augusta Drago of 120 Park Street to construct two buildings to contain 20 units on condition that a proposed balcony be more than two feet from the sidewalk, the colors be earth tones and the landscaping be consistent with the area.

SIGN — Approved for six months a for-sale sign on the property of Columba Lancelotti at the end of De Anza Way even though the sign does not conform to the present minimum of four square feet for temporary real estate signs.

STRUCTURES — Approved tilt-up concrete walls for a Tire Service Center on 1001 Irwin Street owned by William McDevitt Co. on condition that the exposed aggregate for the panels that are visible from Fourth and Irwin streets be appropriate earthtone colors and not the proposed gray which would give building a factory appearance. Approval is subject to the planning director's re-evaluations.

OFFICE — Said it would discuss proposed plans for an office building at 818 Fifth Avenue, owned by Robert H. Green, at the next meeting since the owner was not present.

APARTMENT — Approved plans for a 13-unit apartment for 310-312 Bayview Street owned by Horst Hanf and Ken Levy on condition that the plans be more precise.

SIGN — Denied an application of Charles K. Shalz, owner of a building at 915 Fourth Street, to erect a 64-square-foot sign on the building, as it exceeds the limits proposed for on-site signs.

The average farm household income today is $7,244 a year.

Four Marin Women Get State Posts

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan has appointed four San Rafael women to state hospital advisory boards.

Mrs. Sally A. Ryan was appointed to the board at Sonoma State Hospital, and Mrs. Nell C. Tegeler and Mrs. Eleanor T. Rogers were appointed to the Napa State Hospital Advisory Board for the Mentally Retarded.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rowen was reappointed to the Napa State Hospital Advisory Board for the Mentally Disordered.

All four are Republicans. The board positions are nonsalaried.

Undersecretary Stays For Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Charls E. Walker, undersecretary of the Treasury, says he plans to stay in his present position at the request of President Nixon.

There had been speculation Walker, a former Texas economist, would leave the Treasury Department after former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, Treasury secretary designate, took over.

Walker told newsmen Monday that the President "asked me to stay and I said I'd be delighted."

Shorter Stints For English Next Fall

The San Rafael Board of Education last night lowered English and social science requirements for graduation from San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools.

Students are now required to take seven semesters of social science and six of English during their four years. Beginning next fall, they will only be required to have completed five semesters of social science and four of English in order to graduate.

There was also some discussion last night about lowering the number of semester hours needed for graduation from 220 to 200, the state minimum, but no action was taken on this proposal.

Trustee Carl J. Brown noted that the change in requirements will probably have no effect on college-bound youngsters as they will still have to meet subject requirements set up by colleges and universities.

The "flexibility" made possible by the change should only be the beginning in requirement changes, Trustee Lawrence E. I. Kramer Jr. said.

Supt. John F. Plank said course offerings would remain the same at the schools.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

PHYSICAL EDUCATION — Postponed to Feb. 9 discussion of a resolution requesting the Legislature to modify requirement for physical education so that local boards may or may not require it in the last two years of high school.

CUSTODIANS — Hired Edward Montpart as a custodian at Terra Linda High School at $6,324 a year and Ralph Strickland as substitute custodian at $3.04 an hour.

ADULT — Hired Don Lemaster, Jack Thompson, Reese Epstein, Byron North and George Pikkarainen as teachers in the adult education program at $8 an hour each.

LEAVES — Granted leaves for the semester to Angelo Douvos and Thomas Truchan, San Rafael High School social science teachers, so they may complete a world history text, "Man's Search for the Good Life."

RAISE — Raised the pay range of custodians with the additional cost $7,704 from July 1, 1970.

LUNCH — Heard a report from Flambert and Flambert, food consultants, describing ways the district could provide cold lunches for elementary students and decided to conduct a survey to see how many children and parents are interested.

ABSENT — Trustees Paul Jones and Herman L. Childress were absent.

San Rafael Attorney In Major Prison Reform Drive

Prisons are bad business because they do not rehabilitate and often destroy the offender rather than help him, San Rafael attorney Salle S. Soladay told members of the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday.

Mrs. Soladay, who recently helped organize a committee for prisoner humanity and justice which will hold a statewide convention in Marin in April, became interested in the plight of prisoners two years ago when she was appointed by the State Appellate Court to take the case of an indigent prisoner.

At present she is representing the parents of Fred Billingslea — who died in San Quentin last February — in a wrongful death claim which states he was "assaulted, choked, gassed and killed by guards." Mrs. Soladay is also representing seven San Quentin inmates who are suing prison authorities, charging their civil rights have been violated.

If our prisons do not prepare offenders to return to society as good citizens, Mrs. Soladay said, "It doesn't matter if we have the best police, the best district attorneys and courts in the world and unlimited money to spend. We will still lose, because it does not do any good to put 27,000 persons (the number in California prisons) behind bars, if they are not going to be rehabilitated."

Mrs. Soladay quoted Warren Burger, chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, saying that 65 per cent of those released from prisons return to jail in a short time. "Our prisons — at least the way they operate now — are a form of social pollution," she said, "because the system is simply not working."

One of the chief factors in the high rate of recidivism among prison parolees is the lack of relevant job training in prepration for a return to society, according to her. She said many persons on parole cannot get jobs or support themselves "because the kinds of jobs they are performing in prison are obsolete or irrelevant. When they get out, there is no demand for the things they have been trained to do."

At least one man in the audience objected to Mrs. Soladay's remarks. "Look at Spain," he said. "Under (Francisco) Franco, when men are thrown into prison, they are just forgotten; they just rot there. And there is no crime in Spain," he continued. "We have been too humane in this country already."

Trial Is Set In Drug Case

Thomas Keen Warner III, 27, of San Rafael, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

Trial was set for the week of March 1.

He was arrested Aug. 14 in San Rafael after an off-duty policeman noticed what appeared to be marijuana plants at a house next-door to one where the policeman was visiting.

Demos Heal Wound; Pick Cochairmen

A sharp split over the chairmanship of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee was smoothed over Monday night when both contenders were named as cochairmen.

Both Herbert G. Hawkins of San Rafael and Gordon W. Pusser of Corte Madera had sought the chairmanship, and backers of both chose the unusual compromise of a joint chairmanship to avoid a fight.

Former chairman S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito reportedly had sought reelection to a second two-year term, but found little support.

Committee members acknowledged that state law was silent on the legality of a joint chairmanship, and agreed that Hawkins would be designated chairman if necessary to satisfy legal requirements. But both men, in fact, will chair the committee, they stressed.

Their election came at an unannounced meeting at the Blue Rock Inn in Larkspur. The committee, by state law, had been called by the county clerk's office to a 3 p.m. meeting Monday in the Civic Center, but only one regular member showed up.

The single regular member, George Silvestri Jr., told the Independent-Journal at the meeting that it was the other members had agreed to meet instead that night.

In other business Monday night, the committee filled 11 vacancies on the 23-member committee. The seats were vacant because no one filed for them in the June primary election. None of the 12 incumbents was challenged in the primary, thus all were reelected automatically.

Elected to fill the vacancies were Harry W. Thomas, Margie N. Goodman and Muriel S. Appenzeller from the First Supervisorial District, Stewart N. Boxer and Ruth L. Lederman from the Second District, Charlotte Schiller and Helen Womack from the Third District, Peter E. Mitchell Jr., Charles Little and Richard C. Sloan from the Fourth District and Donald L. Loegering from the Fifth District.

Robert A. Mills of Belvedere was elected secretary and Michael Anthony of San Anselmo was reelected treasurer.

The committee also adopted resolutions praising Marin County Elections Officer Peter C. Meyer for his conduct of the 1970 elections and urged Marin members of the State Democratic Central Committee to vote for former Rep. George E. Brown Jr. of Los Angeles as state chairman.

The committee defeated a move to hike annual dues from $20 to $24.

Lunokhod Sleeps

MOSCOW (UPI) —Controllers of the Soviet Lunokhod moonmobile today took the vehicle on a 600 yard journey over the lunar surface and then closed it down for the two-day "lunar noon," Tass said.

Suicide Prevention Center Needs Funds

The Marin Suicide Prevention Center board has been told it can expect to move into its new headquarters in San Rafael by February.

However, board member Keith C. Craig said after Monday's meeting the center could not become operational until receipt of about $2,100 in donations.

Craig said about $2,500 is needed to purchase emergency telephones and recording equipment. The center has about $400, he said. Another membership drive would be started to gather the $2,100, he said.

The center last week received approval from the county board of supervisors to lease a portion of the county health clinic building at Fourth Street and Grand Avenue.

About 25 volunteers have been cleared for training to operate a round-the-clock telephone system, he said.

Craig said tax deductible donations may be sent to the Marin Association for Mental Health and should be marked for suicide prevention.

Man Missing From Boat

The Coast Guard was searching today for a 22-year-old San Rafael man missing from a small sailboat found today between the Tiburon peninsula and the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

Missing is Wallace Clark of 551 Tamarack Drive, according to the Coast Guard.

Clark, who set out from Paradise Cay about 11 p.m. last night, disappeared shortly afterward and two companions who had stayed ashore heard him calling for help, the Coast Guard said.

The boat, unoccupied, was found at 6 a.m. near the bridge.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

5:54 p.m., San Rafael — Overheated cooking oil on stove caused fire at home of Gilda V. Elias of 57 Valencia Street; damage estimated at $50.

6:25 p.m., Sausalito — Fire in wiring of car owned by Stanley McGinnis of 22 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera; minor damage.

SOUTHERN SONOMA YESTERDAY:

10:18 a.m., Petaluma — Responded to call on short in power line of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in alley behind Petaluma Boulevard North; no fire.

10:47 a.m. Petaluma — Overheated furnace at Harmony Music store, 43 Petaluma Boulevard North; caused by power failure; minor smoke damage.

Novato Volunteer Fireman Resigns

Louis Salmina of 1112 Fourth Street, Novato, has resigned from the Novato Volunteer Firemen after 33 years. Salmina is a driver for H. Pini and Co. of Novato.

Fire chief Jack Kidder reported that two men joined the group, Kyle A. Walker of 431 Sunset Parkway, and E. Raymond Dwelly of 38 Devonshire Drive.

William Bush Heads Real Estate Board

William J. Bush of San Rafael was installed last night as 1971 president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, succeeding W. Bruce Shafer of Sausalito.

Other officers installed at the association's installation dinner at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael were Donald A. Beacock of Larkspur, vice president; Kent O. Seymour of Mill Valley, secretary, and Mildred Vail of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Stephen Kramer, Paul Lea, John Reynolds and Harold Strauss, all of San Rafael, were installed as directors from District 1; William A. Lewis of Mill Valley and William M. Nelson Jr. of Tiburon, District 2; Virginia Russell of Novato, District 3, and Dorothy Oczkus of San Rafael and Joe Wright of Novato, at-large.

Catherine Munson was installed as president of the Marin chapter, Women's Council of National Association of Real Estate Boards, with Martha Lou Turner, vice president; Doris Green, secretary, and Gertrude Picchi, treasurer.

Lowell Black, regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association, was installing officer.

Two Artists In Library Exhibit

Approximately 40 paintings by two Marin artists are on exhibit until the end of the month at the San Rafael Library.

The artists are Fredi Adams of Kentfield and Thelma Maas of Tiburon.

Mrs. Adams, formerly of Portland, Ore., and Cape Cod, has shown extensively locally and on the East Coast. Mrs. Maas is a self-taught artist of seascapes.

Drake Students Going To Polls

Students at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo and Redwood High School in Larkspur will go to the polls this week and next to elect student body and class officers.

Balloting at Redwood High School began today and will continue through Friday for student body officers. Next week, students will vote Wednesday through Friday for class representatives.

Candidates at Redwood include Robert Gorman, a senior, who is running for every office up for election.

Gorman is reported to be making his multiple bid as a test of the school constitution, which states a student may not hold more than one office.

Besides Gorman, other students running for student body offices are John Wren, Steve Green, Kirk Pessner and Scott Winston, president; Marshall Lyons and Greg Hall, vice president; Joe Franaszek, secretary; Michael Jacobs, member at large, and Scott Sinnott and Irina De Fisher, finance commissioners.

At Sir Francis Drake High School, balloting for both student body and class officers will be Friday.

Student body candidates at Sir Francis Drake are Jon Herman and Steve Jensen, president; Channing May, vice president; Sue LaBelle and Helen Lestanguet, secretary, and Margo Eichhorn and Debbie Mueller, treasurer.

Candidates for senior class offices are Mike Bauman, president; Cap Purcell and John Schneider, vice president; Beth Bernes and Cory Caughie, secretary, and Amy Strand, treasurer.

Candidates for junior class offices are Tom Perry, president; Tammy Ball, Dorothy Gulick, Bea Kenny and Charles Swensen, vice president; Rachel Lavin and Sidney Painter, secretary, and Jana Fuller, Margaret Haecherl and Denise Hockley, treasurer.

Candidates for sophomore class offices are Sue Judkins, Shannon McCalla and Maggie Olson, president; Jeff Escabar, Terry Ferris and Lauren Keating, vice president; Marybeth Boerger and Cathy Cope, secretary, and Joni Arends, Cindy Crater and Cindy Wallen, treasurer.

Candidates for freshman class offices are Letha Gulick and Mark Irvine, president; Andrea Matheny, vice president; Sue Engels and Valarie Grasso, secretary, and Lani Adkins and Karen Christensen, treasurer.

Cove Apartments Due Discussions

Strawberry Cove's proposed apartment development will be the topic discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Panel members will be Paul J. Broman, the developer; Margaret Azevedo, of the Marin County Planning Commission; Supervisor Michael Wornum, whose district includes the cove, and William Rochester, co-chairman for the Save Strawverry Cove Committee.

Questions are invited for tomorrow's broadcast. The show will be rebroadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Loans To Students Called Bad

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Forcing young persons to take loans to get to college is bad for them, their hopes of marriage and the educational institutions, says the College Entrance Examination Board's president.

"It would teach them bad habits for one thing," Arland F. Christ-Janer told reporters Tuesday. "All they would have to do is declare bankruptcy in order to beat the system."

"If a male student with a debt falls in love and his sweetheart happens to have also gotten through college on loans, he'll have to decide if he wants to marry her mortgage as well."

Pointing out that loans would discourage alumni donations, he said: "If they're paying back a loan, I doubt that they would be able to make voluntary contributions or be an annual giver."

Christ-Janer's organization has established student aid criteria for some 1,500 institutions.

Closed Meeting Slated At Reed

The Reed School District board will hold a closed meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the faculty room of Bel Aire School to screen candidates for district superintendent.

Three finalists are being considered by the board to replace Supt. John Gaw, who resigned last summer. He was replaced temporarily by Marin County's deputy superintendent of schools, Stanley H. Friese, who was recalled to the county office Jan. 4.

The Most Expensive Transit Plan Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The most expensive of five plans to provide better commute service north of San Francisco was advocated Tuesday night by a Telegraph Hill Survival Association representative.

"The middle class has been fleeing San Francisco," representative Jim Morrezenti said. "We should encourage the middle class to stay. We don't want to accelerate the conditions where we have the very wealthy and the very poor only."

Morrezenti was speaking at a public hearing called by the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District which has the proposals for transportation north of the city.

"If we have to have this rapid transit, our choice is definitely No. 1," he added. "It will serve the most commuters and will disrupt the least of our community."

That plan involves a bus system with a subway under Geary and Post streets in downtown San Francisco, a second deck for the bridge and an exclusive right of way to Novato for a total cost of $987 million.

There have been 10 hearings so far and at those in Marin County, Sonoma and Ukiah speakers favored plan No. 3 which would cost $495 million and would be similar to No. 1 but involves a subway in San Francisco's North Beach area.

Gerald Cauthen, member of a citizens' committee that helped formulate the plans, declared that "many groups in San Francisco say that if San Francisco is going to have to pay for the system, there's got to be some benefit and No. 1 is the only one that offers any benefit to San Francisco."

He also noted that patronage by San Franciscans would be small compared to usage by Marin commuters and declared: "San Francisco's degree of financial support should also be correspondingly small."

Another speaker, Norman Rolfe of San Francisco, asserted that "one thing we are opposed to is anything that remotely smells of a second deck on the bridge."

Three of the plans suggest a second deck while the others call for an underwater tube between San Francisco and Sausalito.

The first paved Macadamized road in the U. S. was the Lancaster Turnpike between Philadelphia and Lancaster. It was built between 1790 and 1794.

GOP Figure Enters Plea To Stealing

SUNNYVALE (UPI) —A former treasurer of the California Republican Assembly is free on his own recognizance today after pleading innocent to a charge of stealing more than $10,000 from the organization.

Paul S. Casattas, 44, a Sunnyvale insurance man, entered the plea Tuesday before Municipal Judge William Fernandez. A preliminary hearing was set for Friday.

CRA president Dave Gater of Anaheim recently announced that at least $23,000 was missing from the treasury of the organization which backs conservative GOP candidates.

Police Lt. Hershel Golden said Casattas gave the CRA a statement last February showing there was $10,686 in the organization's account and the report was on the letterhead of a fictitious certified public accountant.

Authorities also charge that Casattas forged the names of other CRA officers on at least 43 checks made payable to himself.

The state of Alabama has increased fishing fees at public lakes from 50 cents to $1 a day.

I-J Negotiators, Union Team Meet

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Negotiators for the Independent-Journal have met with officials of striking San Francisco Typographical Union 21 for the first time since August.

Returning to the bargaining table Monday for the first time since Aug. 25, the union made a new offer to settle the year-old strike, according to William Clemens, a negotiator for the I-J.

Clemens, of the Western Newspaper Industrial Relations Bureau, declined to say what the union offered, but said the I-J made no counter proposal.

He said further defining of the union position must occur before a counter offer is made. No date has been set for another meeting, but Clemens said there would be one soon.

The Monday meeting was requested by the union although in August it "recessed meetings indefinitely" when it rejected an I-J offer, according to Clemens.

Attending the two-hour meeting as an observer with the union group was Rev. John S. Thornton of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Belvedere, Clemens said. Marin clergy have called for an end to the strike and offered to serve as mediators.

Jail Sentence In Burglary Case

Timothy Mark O'Brien, 19, of Corte Madera, has been sentenced to 45 days in Marin County Jail in Marin Superior Court for the burglary of a San Rafael residence March 5.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also placed O'Brien on two years' probation and ordered him to pay $580 restitution.

92 Cases Of Strep Reported

Ninety-two cases of streptococcus infections were reported last week to the Marin County Health Department, Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht said.

Hardest hit by the throat disease was Novato, where 44 cases were reported.

Other diseases reported included 20 cases of gonorrhea, 11 of infectious hepatitis and one of serum hepatitis.

VICTORY CELEBRATION

The Rev. Walter E. Fauntroy is shown celebrating his victory over six other Democratic candidates in a District of Columbia primary contest for nomination as non-voting delegate to Congress. Fauntroy, a former top aide to the late Martin Luther King, Jr., will face Republican John Nevius in the March election.

Reno Hit By Giant Snowstorm

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—One of the worst snowstorms in two decades hit northern Nevada today, closing schools, snarling traffic and closing down airports.

Strong winds caused drifting snow and poor visibility and at least one foot of snow dropped during the night.

A spokesman at the Washoe County sheriff's office said it was the worst storm since 1952.

Schools were shut down in Reno due to the weather. Blizzard conditions were reported in Ely and Elko.

Many roads leading in and out of Reno were closed due to the heavy snows. The Nevada Highway Patrol said numerous vehicles ran off the road last night between Reno and Carson City due to the slippery pavement and the strong winds which hit up to 45 miles per hour.

There were no major accidents.

Warrant Issued On Bad Check

A bench warrant has been issued in Marin Municipal Court for Marie C. Cummings, 30, of Sausalito, when she failed to appear for arraignment on a bad check charge.

Judge David Menary Jr. set bail on the warrant at $10,000.

She was arrested last Thursday when she attempted to cash a $200 check against insufficient funds at a Wells Fargo Bank in San Rafael.

Conversion Of Probert Property Into Specialty Center Outlined

A proposal to convert historic buildings on the old Probert property in Larkspur into a restaurant and specialty shop development was outlined last night to the city's planning commission.

Ralph Sommer, a partner in Sommer-Ryan Enterprises of Larkspur, described the proposal in support of a zoning change which was approved, 4-1, chairman Robert H. Lee against.

Sommer said he plans to convert the 94-year-old Probert home at 234 Magnolia Avenue into a quality restaurant, retaining its Victorian atmosphere.

Toyota auto agency buildings, now vacant at the site, will be remodeled into small shops featuring specialty merchandise such as antiques, boutiques and gifts, he said.

The colonial architecture of the buildings, originally the Sausalito Ferry Terminal buildings which were disassembled by car dealer Hil Probert in 1937 and rebuilt in Larkspur, will be retained, he explained.

More than $200,000 will be pumped into the project, which Sommer said he hopes to be complete by June.

Before last night's rezoning, the Probert property, split by the meandering Arroyo Holon Creek and spotted by 62 tall redwood trees had been in various commercial and residential designations. It is now designated as part commercial and residential, subject to city council approval.

The proposal brought objections from several neighbors of the property, including John D. Hooper of 214 Magnolia Avenue, who expressed concern that a residential buffer zone existing between his home and the old Probert home would be endangered.

Chairman Lee, in dissenting, asked for a delay for further study.

Vocal Coaching Open At Hub Seminary

Soprano Elizabeth Cole, affiliate artist-in-residence at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, will conduct a free vocal-coaching class on Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Montgomery Chapel of the seminary at Bolinas and Richmond roads, San Anselmo.

Miss Cole, faculty member of the University of Hawaii voice department, will be in residence at the seminary from Jan. 13 to 25. The coaching and repertoire evening is open to anyone wishing to have critical appraisal, professional evaluation of style and presentation and discussion of repertoire.

The Larkspur Planning Commission also:

VARIANCE — Denied a request for front and side yard variances from Howard L. Ross of 3 Heather Way for extension of his home.

OFFICERS — Unanimously reelected Lee as chairman and Joseph N. Picetti as vice chairman.

WATERWAYS — Reviewed but took no action on a proposed tidal waterways ordinance for controlling development of properties adjacent to Corte Madera Creek.

RECREATION — Recommended approval by the city council of an amendment to the city's general plan laying the basis for an ordinance requiring park dedication by subdivision developers.

Man Gets Two Death Sentences

SAN LUIS OBISPO (UPI)—John Gray Archa, 26, formally received two death sentences and a sentence to life in prison Monday for the murder of Ronald Barnes, 26, Barnes' wife, Betty, 23, and their daughter, Shelly, 4.

Superior Court Judge Timothy I. O'Reilly followed the recommendation of the jury which convicted Archa. He also denied defense motions for a new trial.

The death sentences were ordered for the fatal stabbing of Betty and the drowning of Shelly.

The life term was ordered for the knifing of Barnes, allegedly during an argument over a $2,000 electric guitar.

Creek Development Plans Sidetracked

Still smarting from city council reversal of an earlier decision, the Larkspur Planning Commission last night refused to consider the design of four proposed apartment developments along Corte Madera Creek.

Action on the projects was delayed to give the commission time "to reconsider what it can and can't do on the creek," as Commissioner Leonard S. Rubin put it.

The action followed a searing attack by one commissioner on the city council for its reversal last Wednesday of a commission decision not to allow developer Neils J. Schultz Jr., to proceed with developing a three-story apartment building along the creek.

The commissioner, Charles Curley, led off by expressing his convern over the relationship between the commission and the city council.

Last year, he said, on two basic planning commission decisions concerning the development of the creek — unanimous votes for a building ban and employment on a consultant — the commission was overruled by the council.

"I understand at the last meeting," he continued, "the applicant (Schultz) was given an hour to present his appeal. The city council, however, did not have the courtesy to invite the planning commission to make a presentation of its position (upon which Schultz based his appeal)."

Curley's complaint was preceded with an observation by Commissioner Rubin that what the commission feared would happen to the creek (massive development) when it asked for the building moratorium in September is now occurring.

"Since the middle of last year we have made an attempt at progressive planning for Corte Madera Creek," Rubin said. "Now we are in the middle of what we thought would happen," he added, with an increasing number of applicants seeking approval of developments.

His motion to continue the entire agenda to another meeting was modified, after lengthy discussion, to include only those matters concerning the creek.

Of the four applications for architectural review, two were submitted by Schultz. One called for a 10-unit apartment building adjacent to that approved last week and the other called for a 28-unit apartment building stretched across three lots at 401 through 451 South Eliseo Drive.

The smaller development, along with two others, was continued to the Jan. 26 meeting. The larger, at Schultz's request, was continued to the Feb. 9 meeting, since the developer indicated it may be again modified by him.

Over the objection of Chairman Robert H. Lee, who said he could not see what would be accomplished by holding a special meeting to consider the creek question, a session on the entire creek issue was set for Jan. 21.

"We have to talk of establishing development criteria which has never been done," Rubin said, adding that the commission has concentrated on rules and regulations. "We owe something to the people of Larkspur to correct the error of the distant past," he added, referring to the creek's varied zoning.

Schultz's Billboards Still Remain

Larkspur's last two billboards, owned by developer Neils J. Schultz Jr., are still in place overlooking Highway 101 and may remain for some time, the city's planning commission was told last night.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst told the commission that the city council last week stood by the commission's decision that the signs should be taken down but failed to declare them a public nuisance.

With legal action over sign removal almost a certainty, Bathurst said, the city is proceeding with caution to insure its abatement procedures allow no legal loopholes. Thus, Schultz will now be served with a "show cause" summons from the city council as to why the signs should not be abated, he said.

Following the Feb. 3 city council meeting, he said, Schultz will then be given two warnings and if the signs are not removed, he will face court action.

To Jail On Check Counts

Michael James Goheen, 21, of San Anselmo, has been sentenced to 45 days in Marin County Jail for two felony bad check convictions.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court gave Goheen credit for time already served in jail, but placed him on two years probation and ordered him to pay $820 restitution.

Goheen had pleaded guilty to charges of forging both his mother's and father's names to checks.

Oratorical Contest Set Tomorrow

The 34th Annual high school oratorical contest of the Marin American Legion will be today at 7 p.m. at the county schools office in Corte Madera. The Independent-Journal erroneously stated the date as Jan. 31.

Winner of the Marin contest will go on to Fifth District competition Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Healdsburg High School Auditorium. The fifth district embraces Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Solano and Lake Counties.

Beef Broiled On A Dagger Makes Dinner More Exciting

BEEF CHUCK GETS tenderized, then broiled on a dagger with a basting sauce you like. Then it can be served on a bed of rice, garnished with fresh mushrooms and tomatoes.

Juicy chunks of California beef broiled on a dagger look and taste especially elegant but cost no more than everyday fare. The secret here is lean, boneless chuck treated with instant meat tenderizer. Beef chuck has wonderful flavor to begin with and after tenderizing, it grills as beautifully as the most costly steak.

Beef to broil is always a favorite of hostesses as it requires so little fuss and preparation time. Just thread the chunks of chuck on skewers and broil to the doneness you like best. Catsup, mustard and Worcestershire make a zesty basting sauce for the beef as it cooks. To soak up any juices, serve the succulent beef on a bed of rice and garnish with fresh mushrooms and eye-catching tomato roses.

Top quality beef can fit any budget if bought with care and planning. When budgeting, consider each cut on the basis of cost per serving — price per pound is not the only measure. The amount of fat and bone also determines cost per serving so remember to include this in your figuring.

BEEF ON A DAGGER

1½ pounds lean boneless beef chuck
Unseasoned instant meat tenderizer
¼ cup catsup
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tsp. wine vinegar

Remove excess fat from beef. Cut beef into 1¼-inch cubes. Sprinkle with meat tenderizer, following label directions. Let stand at room temperature about ½ hour. Blend all remaining ingredients for basting sauce. Thread beef onto skewers. Broil to desired degree of doneness. Brush with basting sauce after beef begins to brown. Turn to brown all sides. Makes four servings.

WHATEVER IS good to eat may be even better and more attractive served in a grapefruit shell, whether it's a hearty meat salad of tuna, ham, egg or chicken, or a lighter lunch dish.

Practically Any Food Is Good In Grapefruit 'On The Half-Shell'

The best way to take your daily Vitamin C is on the half shell. The grapefruit shell. You can tell by the way they taste that the Coachella desert grapefruit have an unusually high acid content. They are both sweeter and tarter than most varieties.

Consider all the good things you can heap into a grapefruit shell. Start out with scallops mixed with grapefruit, pepper, pimiento and a zippy dressing. An intriguing first course or low-calories lunch. Avocados and grapefruit, are opposites that attract; so are onion rings and grapefruit. Any one of your hearty salads — chicken, ham, tuna, egg —are a lot more interesting on the half shell. You can fill the shell with fruit gelatin and grapefruit or a creamy mousse. Cottage cheese, coleslaw on down the line. Everything tastes better in a grapefruit shell.

GRAPEFRUIT AND SCALLOPS

1 lb. scallops
1 cup dry white wine
2 large grapefruit
¼ cup minced parsley
½ cup minced green pepper
1 can (4 oz.) diced pimiento
¼ cup olive oil
salt and sugar
lime wedges

Simmer scallops in wine about 8 minutes until tender. Drain and cool. If large, slice in half. Cut grapefruit in half and carefully spoon out fruit. Mix gently with scallops, parsley, green pepper and pimiento. Chill thoroughly. Toss with olive oil, salt and sugar to taste. Pull membrane from grapefruit shells. Fill with fruit mixture and garnish with lime wedges.

Makes 4 salads or cocktails.

Chili Cheese Bake With History

A rich heritage from Old Mexico has been left from the days of Early California — and this heritage has been passed on in the Californian's love for Mexican-flavored foods.

Dairy Council of California has developed a recipe for "Chili-Cheese Bake" which employs the peppy taste of chili peppers from Old Mexico, a blend of several dairy products and fluffy cooked rice. "Chili-Cheese Bake" is a new idea using a taste Californian's love — plus it's an economy dish.

One of the main ingredients is Monterey Jack cheese which has a very romantic background in California history. Monterey Jack was brought to California from Old Mexico by the Spanish fathers. The priests taught the California Indians to make this cheese and it became a constant source of food for the missions.

This mild cheese was not officially named until the early 1800s when a Swiss family moved to Monterey County planning to set up a cheese factory. Discovering the demand for this already popular cheese, the Jacks family decided to produce and market this cheese instead of cheeses from their homeland. To identify the cheese when it went to market in San Francisco, the Jacks named it Monterey Jack, as it has been known ever since.

So, the next time you nibble on a tasty morsel of Monterey Jack or enjoy it in a casserole, remember the history behind this cheese of Early California.

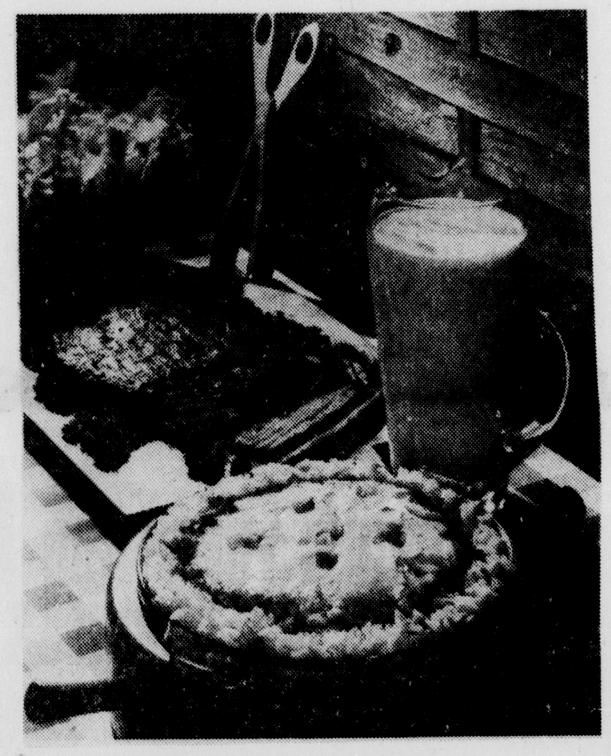
"Chili-Cheese Bake" will be one of those casseroles that will remind you of romantic early California history. Containing generous portions of dairy foods, this dish is especially high in protein and many vital vitamins and minerals such as calcium.

CHILI-CHEESE BAKE
(6 to 8 servings)

1 cup long-grain rice
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup finely chopped onions
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup light cream
½ Monterey Jack cheese, cubed (1½ cups)
1 can (4 oz.) green chili peppers, chopped
1 pint sour cream
Paprika

Simmer rice in salted water 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Melt butter in skillet. Saute onions until transparent. Remove from heat and stir in salt and cream . . . set aside. In a 1½ or 2 quart casserole, alternate layers of rice, cheese, green chilis, onion sauce, and sour cream. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 325 degree oven 30 minutes or until bubbly-hot.

NOTE: This casserole may be made and refrigerated until baking time.



REMINISCENT of Early California is "Chili-Cheese Bake" with its peppy green chilis, onion, and a variety of dairy foods including Monterey Jack cheese. It is inexpensive to make and an ideal dish for patio suppers.

Chicken Is A Bargain For Dieter

Calorie-counting can be fun if you learn to make the most of every calorie. Low-calorie meals shouldn't be dull and tasteless. Dieters can enjoy eating while losing weight with the many delicious calorie-trimmed recipes that are available.

Try broiled chicken, a year-round favorite. At only 271 calories per serving, dieters will enjoy this tasty broiler dish.

To make Broiled Chicken:

Blend ½ cup low-calorie Italian salad dressing, ¼ cup soy sauce, ¼ cup finely chopped onion, and 1 teaspoon dry mustard; mix well.

Halve and skin three 1½-pound ready-to-cook broiler-fryer chickens; brush with soy mixture. Place chicken in bottom of broiler pan (no rack). Broil 5 to 7 inches from heat for 20 minutes; brush occasionally. Turn. Broil till meat is tender, about 20 minutes; brush occasionally with mixture. Makes 6 servings.

To grill: Cook chicken over medium coals till lightly browned, about 20 minutes; brush occasionally with mixture. Turn; broil till tender, 15 to 20 minutes; brush occasionally.

Liver, Heart, Kidney And Tongue Make Tasty Meals

Braised Stuffed Heart, Beef Steak and Kidney Pie, Smoked Tongue, Broiled Sweetbreads. Sounds gourmet? Well, they all feature one or more well-known variety meats. You don't have to be a sophisticated connoisseur of food to enjoy main dishes prepared from liver, heart, kidney, tongue, sweetbreads, brains, tripe — all edible animal organs.

A taste for these gourmet specials can be easily acquired when served fairly frequently, cooked properly, and skillfully placed on the menu with other foods. How often does your family have an opportunity to indulge in the unique flavor and appetite appeal of variety meats?

These organs can be an asset to family meals for many reasons. Since there is little fat and practically no bone, they are an economical buy. Because they are not too well known or popular, there is less demand for them; thus, they generally cost less per serving than traditional cuts of meat. Who would argue against this at a time when food budgets are given top priority in most households?

In addition to their unique flavor and taste appeal, wide assortment, and economy, these foods are also noted for their important nutritive value. Liver is the most nutritious, with lots of riboflavin, vitamin A, and iron.

One of the most economical of these meats is heart — beef, veal, pork, or lamb. It's certainly a treat when cooked properly — by the long, slow, moist heat method. A favorite in many households is Braised Stuffed Heart. A pre-cooked rice stuffing will give it something to talk about.

One of the more well-known organ meats is tongue. Fresh, pickled, cured, and smoked tongue are available on the market. Serve it sliced with horseradish sauce. Sweetbreads, the most delicate of the lot, can be cooked in a variety of ways: split and rolled in a seasoned coating mix and browned, cut into fine pieces and added to scrambled eggs, cubed and used in a salad like chicken or tuna, fried lightly in butter and served with hash brown potatoes. And try them broiled, fried, as a salad, or creamed with frozen or fresh vegetables.

Brains resemble sweetbreads in their delicate flavor, but they are generally less expensive. Cook and serve brains as you do sweetbreads. If you wish, try brains breaded, creamed, in croquettes, in a salad, or scrambled with eggs. And don't forget tripe which can be served fried, broiled or creamed.

Since these items are quite perishable, refrigerate carefully until ready to cook.

QUIZ YOURSELF

What Have Women Achieved?

By Beth Gaeddert

How much do you know about Women? The women's liberation movement has focused attention on the history, achievements and rights of women. Test yourself. If you can't answer more than 15 of the questions you've got a long way to go.

Can you identify these women of importance?

1. Anne Hutchison
2. Diane Crump
3. Betty Friedan
4. Susan B. Anthony
5. Catherine L. Greene
6. Jeanette Rankin
7. Golda Meir
8. Indira Gandhi
9. Dr. Mary Walker
10. Mariam E. Wolff
11. Julia Ward Howe
12. Alice Paul
13. Anna Mae Hays and Elizabeth Hosington
14. Jr. Lt. Valentina Vladimirovna Tereshkova
15. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross
16. Angie Brooks
17. Rebecca Latimer Felton
18. Eliza McCardle
19. Eleanor Roosevelt
20. Shirley Chisholm

Are these statements true or false?

1. A small number of women with school age children work.
2. Women work mostly for economic reasons not "just for something to do."
3. Women are bad drivers.
4. Fewer than two per cent of working women make over $10,000 yearly.

Can you answer these questions?

1. For how many years has the Equal Rights Amendment been introduced in the U.S. Congress?
2. Which President created the Commission on the Status of Women?

GOLDA MEIR

3. How does the World Almanac define the Miss America contest?
4. Who said: "The underutilization of women continues to be the most tragic and senseless waste of this century?"
5. Can you name any present day women's clubs which had their origins in the first feminist movement?
6. Are there any state laws which actually discriminate against women?

JEANETTE RANKIN

The answers.

1. Anne Hutchison was banished from Boston because she thought women should have a voice in church affairs.
2. Diane Crump was the first female jockey to race at any track in this country, 1969.
3. Betty Friedan was a consultant to President's Commission on the Status of Women in 1963, the same year her book "The Feminine Mystique" came out. She is a founder of the National Organization For Women.
4. Susan B. Anthony was a pioneer leader of women's suffrage born in 1820. She served as an agent for the American Antislavery Society and published a weekly newspaper demanding the civil rights provided in the 14 and 15th admendments be extended to women.
5. Catherine L. Greene devised the idea of the cotton gin which Eli Whitney patented.
6. Jeanette Rankin of Montana was the first woman in Congress. She voted against both world wars, lead a peace march to the capitol and at 90 says she would like to see a female congressman from every district.
7. Golda Meir immigrated to Palestine in 1921, was

MARIAM WOLFF

Israeli Minister to Moscow in 1948 and 49, minister of labor from 1952 to 56, minister of foreign affairs in 1956 and is now Prime Minister.

8. Indira Gandhi has been Prime Minister of India since 1966.
9. Dr. Mary Walker received congressional medal of honor in 1866 for serving as an assistant surgeon in the Union Army during the Civil War. The only woman to receive the honor she had to wear men's clothing during the war.
10. Mariam E. Wolff is the first woman to head international port. Appointed to head San Francisco.
11. Julia Ward Howe wrote the Battle Hymn of the Republic. It was published by Harper's magazine in 1862 and she got $4.
12. Alice Paul was the head of National Woman's Party who organized a suffrage parade in 1913 in which 8,000 women participated.
13. Anna Mae Hays, chief of Army Nurse Corps and Elizabeth Hosington, director of Woman's Army Corps, are the first women generals, appointed in 1970. Women may join the army (since 1942) but not if they have children.
14. Jr. Lt. Valentina Vladimirovna Tereshkova was the first woman in space. In 1963 she orbited the earth in a Russian spacecraft 48 times in two days, 22 hours and 50 minutes.
15. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross first governor of a state. Wyoming 1925.
16. Angie Brooks of Liberia is the president of the United Nations General Assembly.
17. Rebecca Latimer Felton was the first female senator. She was appointed by the governor of Georgia in 1922 at 87 years of age to serve for two days until her successor —a man — was elected.
18. Eliza McCardle, wife of Andrew Johnson, whom she taught to read and write before he became president.
19. Eleanor Roosevelt was the controversial first lady who worked for humanitarian and civil rights causes, held regular press conferences, lectured and wrote a newspaper column.

20. Shirley Chisholm is the first black woman elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, 1968. She said "I have been discriminated against far more because I am a female than because I am black."

True and false answers.

1. False. As of March 1968 half of all women with school age children were in the labor force. Seven out of 10 were working full time.
2. True. The 1968 labor statistics showed that nine out of 10 working mothers were doing so mostly for economic reasons.
3. False. The Insurance Information Institute says between the ages of 17 and 24, an unmarried woman driver pays lower premiums on her car than a married male under 25.
4. True. Thirteen per cent of men earn more than $10,000 yearly.

Answers to questions.

1. If the Equal Rights Amendment is introduced in Congress this year it will be for the 48th time.
2. President John F. Kennedy created the Commission on the Status of Women in 1961.
3. According to the World

Miss Dunn To Be Wed

The engagement of Haroldine Dunn to Thomas James Gibson has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Dunn of Mill Valley.

The parents of the future bridegroom are SM. Sgt. (Ret.) and Mrs. Thomas A. Gibson of Lompoc.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. She is attending evening school there and is employed at the Cat Clinic in Mill Valley. Haroldine is the sister of Gary and Stephen Dunn of Mill Valley and Virginia Dunn of San Rafael and the granddaughter of Capt. K. V. Anderson of Mill Valley.

Guittard-Pomeroy Vows Exchanged

Marin friends of Mrs. Margaret Cleveland Pomeroy, whose family has been prominent residents of Sausalito for many years, were pleased to hear of her marriage Sunday to Horace A. Guittard of San Francisco.

The marriage took place at noon at the San Francisco home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Timberlake. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Barton Sarjeant, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito. Peggy, as the bride is known, has been active in the affairs of Christ Church over the years.

The wedding was a simple one with only members of the couple's families present for both the ceremony and the brunch afterward. The newlyweds are on a wedding trip to the island of Maui, Hawaii, and on their return will live in San Francisco, where the bridegroom is president of the Guittard Chocolate Co.

All of the bride's children by her former marriage to William Pomeroy of Sausalito attended the wedding. They are Mrs. Herbert Hoover of San Francisco, who attended with her husband and baby daughter Laura; Bill Pomeroy, who has returned from Vietnam and is now stationed with the U.S. Navy at San Diego; and John Pomeroy, who came up from Carmel Valley with his wife, Mary.

Sons of the bridegroom by a previous marriage who attended were Jay and Gary Guittard of San Francisco, with their wives, and Horace Guittard Jr., who came for the wedding from New York, where he is known under the stage name of Laurence Guittard.

Schaefer-Rollins Vows Said In Church

Pamela Jean Rollins and Gerald William Schaefer were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco on Saturday.

Pamela is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Bunds Jr. of Novato and Richard Rollins of Sonora. She chose Donna Thomas of Sacramento as her maid of honor and her sister, Julie Bunds, Linda Johnston of Novato and Carla Brittain of San Francisco, as bridesmaid.

Al Parsons of Morro Bay was best man, and Bob Marenkovich of San Diego, John Morrice of San Francisco and Jim Swift of Sutter Creek were ushers.

The couple went on a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe following a reception in the church. They will live in El Cajon.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin and Sacramento State College, and she was employed at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph in San Francisco. Her grandparents are Mrs. Raymond Rollins of Vacaville and Olen Brittain of Brisbane.

Mrs. Thomas Downey of Honolulu and Lee Schaefer of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is the brother of Ronele Schaefer of Novato and the grandson of Mrs. Frances Howard and Mrs. William Schaefer of Richmond. The bridegroom was graduated form Novato High School and attended Grossmont Junior College. He is a broadcast engineer with KOGO Television in San Diego.

Supreme Court To Review Liberalized Abortion Laws

By CHARLOTTE MOULTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court takes its first look this week at the rising trend towards liberalized abortion laws across the country.

At issue in arguments beginning Tuesday is a 69-year-old District of Columbia statute under attack by Dr. Milan Vuitch, a Yugoslav immigrant who long has fought for more liberal abortion policies.

Many states have laws similar to the District's barring abortions except when "necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health." At the same time other states have been liberalizing their laws.

FEDERAL DISTRICT Judge Gerhard A. Gesell, son of the late Dr. Arnold Gesell, one of the nation's best known pediatricians, found the District's statute unconstitutional on Nov. 10, 1969. He dismissed an indictment of Vuitch.

Gesell said the words "when necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health" were so vague that a person accused of violating the law could not properly defend himself. He said the law also improperly places on the defendant the burden of proving he made the right medical judgment.

The Justice Department appealed Gesell's ruling on the ground that he should not have thrown out the case before trial but instead should have applied the law to the specific circumstances on which the Vuitch indictment was based. The government said the law may be interpreted to mean that a doctor who acts in good faith is not subject to criminal prosecution.

Further, in the department's view, the doctor's medical judgment is not always an issue because sometimes physicians perform abortions after doing nothing more than establishing the fact of pregnancy.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'SWALCAKWS' Written On Letter Is Nothing To Worry About

DEAR HELEN:
My son gets letters from his girl friend, and on the outside is "SWALCAKWS." It sounds a little obscene to me. Please decipher if you can. — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:
SWALCAKWS means "Sealed With a Lick 'Cause a Kiss Won't Stick." Okay? — H.

DEAR HELEN:
I'm divorced and have been going with this girl for four years. I want to marry her but her parents don't approve of divorced men and, though she is in her middle 20s, they have a big influence on her.

Last week she told me she went out with her boss, who is not only married but still living with his wife and six children, besides having been involved in several affairs. She claims she loves him and stayed a weekend with him. He insists he'll get a divorce to marry her.

Helen, if her folks don't approve of a simple divorce, how can they approve of a man who has an affair before his divorce? Frankly, I don't think he'll ever leave his wife. Why should he, when he can have his cake and eat it too?

I got so mad when my girl (or is she?) told me, I felt like beating her up. But I still love her. Should I tell her parents so that they might all decide I'm — THE BETTER RISK?

DEAR BR:
You won't win the girl by tattling to her parents — and you probably won't change her direction either.

Face it: You spent four years chasing the wrong woman — one who uses her family as her excuse for not making a decision. Take off the blinders and look for the right woman. H.

DEAR HELEN:
I'm another who disagrees with your idea that it's better not to tell a mate everything.

You said that a wife shouldn't feel she must tell her husband about her past (if the past is over and gone). Deception isn't "where it's at," Helen.

My wife and I love each other for who and what we are. We don't love "someone else" we might pretend to be. We don't wear masks.

To better understand and help each other, we have real communication with the real person, not an imposter — and we have a beautiiful and uninhibited relationship.

One deception leads to another and, before you know it, your life is a lie. Don't condemn the truth. — FOR COMPLETE HONESTY

DEAR FCH:
You and your wife have the kind of relationship that can survive "true confessions." This is rare, even today when the young accept far more than they condemn.

My point is: If the past is gone, why hassle it? The mate who insists on total replay is usually the one who can't face the music. — H.

Abortion Laws Force Burden Of Judgment

also has before it four other abortion cases — from Minnesota, Texas, Georgia and Louisiana — on which it has taken no action.

The Minnesota case was appealed by Dr. Jane E. Hodgson, a St. Paul gynecologist, who performed an abortion on a young married woman who contracted german measles early in a pregnancy — a condition that can cause birth defects. Dr. Hodgson, 55, was convicted under the state law which forbids abortions unless necessary to save the life of the mother or child.

Dr. Hodgson tried in both state and federal courts to have the indictment dismissed. Adverse rulings in these proceedings are before the high court rather than an appeal from the conviction itself, which could come up later.

In the Texas case a special three-judge federal court ruled the statutes unconstitutionally vague and over-broad but declined because of state-federal relationships to bar their enforcement. Dr. James H. Hallford of Dallas and three individuals appealed.

GEORGIA LAW specifies three reasons for legal abortions: Endangering the life or seriously impairing the health of the mother; the possibility of mental or physical defect; and rape. A three-judge federal panel struck down this section and also another which permits government authorities or a relative to ask a court whether a proposed abortion would violate any rights of the fetus.

Georgia Attorney General Arthur K. Bolton appealed.

The Louisiana case was started by Dr. Isadore I. Rosen of Amite, whose license to practice medicine was endangered by charges that he performed abortions. The Louisiana Medical Practice Act authorizes suspension of a license for this reason "unless done for the relief of a woman whose life appears in peril after due consultation with another licensed physician."

A federal panel in New Orleans upheld the law.

William Allan Johnston To Wed Marissa Jane Marsh

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Marsh of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter Marissa Jane to William Allan Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Johnston, of Terra Linda.

MARISSA MARSH

The bride-elect is the sister of Mrs. William Swain of Rohnert Park and Colin H. Marsh of Corte Madera. She was graduated from Novato High School and College of Marin. She will attend Sonoma State College in February.

William is the brother of Marion Johnston of San Rafael. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School and is employed at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. general office in San Francisco.

Petaluma Church Women Elect Mrs. B. Elvin Samford

Mrs. B. Elvin Samford was recently elected president of Church Women United of Petaluma.

All women who believe in Jesus Christ are encouraged to attend and participate in the organization's three major activities, a World Day of Prayer each spring, May Fellowship Day and World Community Day in November.

A graduate of Southwestern College in Waxahackie, Tex., Rogene Samford and her husband, an insurance underwriter, are the parents of Darla, 18, Randal, 16, and Sheldon, 9. Both Mr. and Mrs. Samford teach college and career classes for their church, the Petaluma United Methodist, and both sing in the church's choir.

MRS. B. ELVIN SAMFORD

Mrs. Samford's hobbies include tennis, baking pastries and working with plaster. Her favorite past time is music, and she plays both the piano and organ.

An active clubwoman in Lubbock, Tex. prior to her move to Sonoma County six months ago, the new president also sings with a local choral group the Chansonnetts.

Furniture To Scale

Scale is an important factor in planning a furniture arrangement. The term "scale" refers to the proportion of one object in relation to its surroundings. A small room, for example, will seem larger when furnished with small-scaled furniture. And when you purchase furniture, remember that it is difficult to visualize how an item in a showroom will look in a normal-sized room. A good rule is to think "small."

ON THE AGENDA

All Corte Madera Residents Are Invited To Community Workshop

Corte Madera residents are invited to participate in a community workshop Jan. 21 at 7:45 p.m. in the multi-use room of Neil Cummins School.

Sponsored by the San Clemente and Neil Cummins Schools Parent-Teacher Associations, the workshop will deal with human relations in areas the participants believe there is a chance to forestall such social ills as drug abuse, apathy and violence.

Moderator will be Denis Ragan, teacher and coordinator of the work experience program at Redwood High School Discussing the areas of family relations, education and justice will be psychiatrist Dr. Gerald Hill, past chairman of the Marin Association for Mental Health advisory board and now chairman of the Drug Abuse and Smoking Commission for the Marin medical Society; Judge Alvin S. Goldstein, former Marin Municipal Court judge, a teacher at Golden Gate College and a member of the advisory board for the Penal Code Revision Commission; and Charles Lavaroni, director of student teachers at Dominican College.

Each panelist will lead a group focusing on his topic following the panel discussion.

THE ROSS Valley Council Parent-Teacher Association will meet tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur to discuss how to deal with goals and objectives, rumor and reactions, controversial curriculum, students bills of rights and codes of behavior.

THE OLEANDER Chapter of Marin Foundation, Friends of Arequipa, will hold its annual dinner and dance for members and their husbands at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Officer's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mrs. C.W. McColpin is chairman, assisted by Mmes. R. O. Proett, Richard Schlobohm and Robert Dinsmore.

ANGELO COLUMBO, physical education consultant for the San Rafael City Schools, will discuss a new program of movement education at the public meeting of the board of the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the school in San Rafael.

A learning process through moving purposefully, the program's objective is to make positive contributions to the student's knowledge of himself and his physical environment.

Through experiences, according to Columbo, the child develops skills in the use of his body and objects and in the manipulation of space and skills in controlling the amount of effort he expends to achieve his goal.

ON SATURDAY the Novato Stump Jumpers Square Dance Club will hold its monthly "third Saturday" party night at 8:30 p.m. at IDESI Hall in Novato.

Ralph Silvius will be the caller. Mr. and Mrs. Al Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney will be hosts for the evening.

DEBORAH ATKINS

Deborah Atkins Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Atkins of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter Deborah P. Atkins to Brian N. Pariani, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Pariani of Novato.

Deborah is the sister of Dana, Dempsey and Darcy Atkins. She will be graduated from San Marin High School in June.

Brian is the brother of Darlene, Colleen and Alan Pariani. He was graduated from San Marin High school and is serving with the Navy in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Tips To Help Face The Mountains Of Laundry

Often a bride-to-be is so wrapped up in plans for the wedding and honeymoon that she doesn't give much thought to housekeeping afterwards.

All too soon the honeymoon ends and the moment of truth arrives. Among the realities confronting her is a mountain of laundry, and it's all hers.

Some tips to help the new bride get off to a good start are:

Sorting properly will eliminate problems. Don't presoak or wash whites along with bright or dark colors. Wash heavily soiled items separately from articles that are just lightly soiled. Avoid lint on napped fabrics such as corduroy by not laundering in the same load with lint-giving items such as terrycloth towels. If permanent press items are to be dryer-dried, they may be washed along with other articles, sorted according to color and the amount of soil.

For whites, use sufficient detergent, hot water and bleach (as needed) to retain whiteness and remove dirt and stains. Wash medium, and pastel colored articles in warm water, but bright colors stay bright longest when washed in cold water.

Use gentle speed if items are delicate, regular speed for more durable garments such as bath towels, sheets and pillowcases.

For best results, don't pack the washer. This is especially important with permanent press, to keep wrinkling to a minimum. When washing fragile or woolen items, free and easy movement of the clothers minimizes shrinkage and pulling of seams.

Pre-wash or soak heavily soiled articles, such as work clothes.

It pays to measure. This goes for detergent, bleach and fabric softener — the three laundering aids needed for good results. Follow label directions, but add more detergent if the water is hard or the load is heavily soiled.

If liquid bleach is used, be sure you have diluted it before adding to the wash water. And never use bleach in the rinse water.

Most fabric softeners go in the final rinse water and the amount needed is determined by the size of the washload.

A few words about drying: If items are removed from the dryer as soon as tumblingstops, they will have fewer wrinkles, and require less, if any, ironing.

Ironic Twists Are Provoking

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Take a "normal flaming faggot poet" and turn him into a corporate image and there is sure to be fireworks with some provocative comments on the American scene.

This is what occurred last night at the Geary Theater as the American Conservatory Theater presented the Northern California premiere of Paddy Chayefsky's "The Latent Heterosexual." To say that this play is great theater would be magnanimous. However, it does have moments of sparkling humor that pinpoint the absurdness of big business where the tax dodge is the thing.

Basically, the vehicle is a portrait of a creative artist who claims he is a normal homosexual, but then suddenly realizes he is potentially a heterosexual who finds love with his call girl wife — a marriage arranged by his tax consultants. It is an ironic twist which Chayefsky, who wrote the memorable "Marty" for both television and screen, handles very smoothly in corporate dialogue, which sometimes boggles the mind in its complexity.

The play, which Chayefsky has staged in Dallas, Los Angeles and in England, introduces to ACT audiences a talented Josef Sommer as the poet John Morley. Sommer's opening faggot scene is rather weak, but he builds his characterization in the remaining five scenes. The turnabout from painted lips and rouged cheeks seems to fit Sommer perfectly.

Director Allen Fletcher, who gave ACT such a stunning "Hadrian VII" last season and again this season in a short revival, has surrounded Sommer with some of the company's fine stable of talent.

THE LATENT HETEROSEXUAL — A play by Paddy Chayefsky presented by the American Conservatory Theater of San Francisco. Directed by Allen Fletcher. Scenery by Robert Darling. Costumes by Walter Watson. Lighting by Ward Russell. The cast (in order of appearance): Irving Spaatz, a tax consultant, G. Wood; Henry Jadd, a lawyer, Jay Doyle; John Morley, Josef Sommer; Arthur Landau, a tax consultant, Joseph Bird; a secretary, Kathleen Harper; Lester Freitag, a tax lawyer, Peter Donat; Christine Van Dam, Lee McCain; Mel Delaney, tax consultant, Martin Berman; Jimmie Churchill, a corporation lawyer, Robert Fletcher; another secretary, Suzanne Collins; a nurse, Anne Lawder; an attendant, David Gilliam; handyman, John Hancock, and Dr. Klune, a psychiatrist, Dudley Knight.

Especially rewarding is G. Wood's portrayal of Irving Spaatz, a tax consultant, who fires out his complicated corporate mumbo jumbo in amazingly believable fashion. Joseph Bird as Arthur Landau, another tax wizard, is an excellent counterpart to Wood. As Christine Van Dam, Morley's tax-saving wife, Lee McCain, is a real stunner who admits she has a certain attraction to impotent men in a way of showing her own femininity.

In a very minor part, Peter Donat, so unforgettable in this season's "The Merchant of Venice," is ideal as the sleazy tax lawyer for Miss Van Dam, even to the rolled down socks.

While the play is in six scenes, it moves along swiftly with another one of ACT's compact sets executed by Robert Darling. The sets helped to lighten the evening, adding greatly to the vehicle's pace.

"The Latent Heterosexual" joins the rotating repertory of ACT at the Geary Theater.

DANCE REVIEW

Fond Farewell To Australian Ballet

By MARIE RAMEAU

SAN FRANCISCO — Regrettably, the San Francisco stay of the Australian Ballet has reached an end. Last night's program opened with Frederick Ashton's "Les Rendezvous." A good choice for an opening, it nevertheless got off to rather a flat beginning with a monotonous proliferation of grands jetes.

But in the pas de quatre, it became obvious that this was something of a parody on the Romantic style, expanded by Ashton's unique and subtle touch. After Kelvin Coe's flashy variation, one wonders if it was truly accurate to place Rudolf Nureyev ahead of theAustralian Ballet on the front page of the program. Certainly he starred in "Don Quixote" and brought the house down in "Raymonda," but this should not obscure the fact that here is, indeed, an outstanding group of artists.

It is, furthermore, a group against which most any American company would be hard-put to compete. A delighful feature was ballerina Elaine Fifield, a gracious and regal personality whose manner and appearance in this piece were reminiscent of Margot Fonteyn's 1964 San Francisco performance in "La Sylphide."

According to choreographer Robert Helpmann's program notes, "The Display" is "a term used in ornithology to describe the efforts of the male lyre bird to attract the female." Perhaps the only original element in "The Display" was that the bird, renowned for its gorgeous tail plumage, is found only in southeast Australia.

Choreographically there was little novelty, and even the role of the bird was more or less symbolic, but the drama evolved into a macabre and gripping spectacle. At times the group scenes depicting first the festivities of a picnic in the Australian forest and later, a rough-and-tumble conflict between the Leader (Francis Croese) and an Outsider (Garth Welch), promised to be interminable.

However, the twist emerged in the characterization: the bird (Paul Saliba) and the girl (Gailene Stock) — only with the reappearance of both at the very end did the entire picture fall into place. Miss Stock and Welch must be singled out for their very sensitive dancing, through which one became thoroughly entranced with the ballet.

The evening reached a splendid peak with scenes from "Raymonda," the time-honored Petipa classic, after which these excerpts were arranged by Nureyev. These would be more enjoyable if viewed from a balcony instead of the orchestra section, on account of their intricate yet symmetrical patterns — although from any perspective the black backdrop posed a harsh and unbecoming contrast to the soft pastels of some of the costumes.

To contemporary tastes, this 19th Century work might appear peculiar in its studied balance and harmony of form — at one point, six couples are performing the same pas de deux in two semi-circular lines. Yet in the 20th Century, Balanchine has also set a short ballet to music from "Raymonda," drawing on some purely classical forms to achieve a striking contemporary effect. Many costumes were appropriately Renaissance — historically, the plot of this ballet derives from the Hungarian Renaissance which, if not widely known, was nevertheless very rich.

LEADING LADY — Michelle Truffaut plays Inez in Jean-Paul Sartre's existentialist play "No Exist," being presented at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through Feb. 6 at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

Youth Shot; Blacks Go On Rampage

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Angry gangs of blacks went on a window smashing and burning rampage in Tampa's Central Avenue district Tuesday night after an off-duty policeman shot and killed a young black man who attacked him outside a bar.

Police said at least six persons were arrested, several cars were burned and a half-dozen store windows were smashed during the outbreak.

Officers said the trouble erupted shortly after Patrolman Joe Sanez shot and killed one of two young blacks who attacked him outside a tavern called "The New Bar."

Sanez said one of the blacks hit him with a bottle and knocked him to the ground while the second man grabbed his wallet. Police said Sanez managed to draw his pistol while lying on the pavement and shoot one of the attackers. The bullet killed the attacker, identified as 20-year-old Ray Collins.

Police said after word of the shooting spread through Tampa's black neighborhoods, angry gangs of blacks took to the streets and began smashing car and store windows. Several cars were set on fire and police said at least four stores were looted.

A cab driver identified as Dan Miemelt, 25, was shot twice in the back when called to the Central Avenue district to make a pickup. His condition was not immediately known.

Second Board Election Set

An election to fill a seat on the Bolinas-Stinson School District board, vacated this week by trustee Warren T. Fairbanks, will be held as part of the countywide school elections April 20, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported.

Fairbanks resigned to move to San Anselmo to be closer to his work. He is an art teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Final date for filing for the board post will be Feb. 25.

A second vacant seat, created by the resignation of trustee Erik Lund, who moved to Oregon, will be filled in an election Feb. 2.

Ambulance Firm Bids For Novato Service

Bay Cities Ambulance Co. made a bid to the Novato City Council last night for a contract to provide emergency service in the city.

Emergency service is now provided by United Ambulance, under a county contract, with an ambulance stationed at Ignacio.

Fred Strain, president of Bay Cities Ambulance Co., based in Novato, said the local firm should be used on emergency calls.

Emergency patients now must await an ambulance from Ignacio or San Rafael, he said. Strain contended that under the present service, the practice of taking emergency patients to Novato General Hospital has been virtually discontinued.

"Instead they are taken to Central Marin at a higher cost for transportation," he said.

The firm is seeking priority on all ambulance calls dispatched by the city police department, Strain explained, "at no financial obligation to the city."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown explained entering into such a contract would be a major move, and the council referred it to the staff for study.

The Novato City Council Also:

JAYCEES — Commended the Novato Jaycees for their civic work and proclaimed next week as Jaycee Week in Novato, although a resident, Irving Perlman of 1581 Hill Road, later rose in the audience and criticized the group for excluding Communists or persons with Communist leanings from consideration for its outstanding young man of the year award. The council felt, however, the Jaycees had this exclusionary right as a private group.

RESERVOIR HILL — Adopted an ordinance to rezone 13 acres between Oleander Avenue and Reservoir Drive, now multiple family, single family and limited agricultural, to planned residential with single family homes on half-acre lots. The vote was 3-2, with J. Wayne Womack and Joseph D. Gargiulo dissenting.

CORPORATION YARDS — Awarded M and H Construction of San Rafael, lowest of six bidders, a contract to construct a prefabricated metal city corporation yard building on the south side of Davidson Street, adjacent to the Novato Sanitary District plant, at a cost of $34,363.

CABLE TV — Received a petition from Mar-Val Homes Association, containing 14 signatures, representing residents of Marin Valley Mobile Country Club, and a letter from Marin Valley Inc., operator of the mobile home development, charging that G'tec Cable TV, city franchise holder, is long overdue in providing service to the area.

GARLICK — Approved prezoning of 857 acres west of the city, owned by G. J. Garlick and Associates of Salt Lake City, for planned community development, but made no comment about prospects for purchasing 425 acres of the parcel for park land.

SHELL STATION — Continued until Feb. 9 a public hearing on a proposal to redesignate a lot owned by Shell Oil Co. at the northeast corner of San Marin and San Andreas drives from gasoline station to multiple family residential. The change is backed by residents of the area, but called "confiscation" by Atty. Richard Breiner, representing the oil company.

BOULEVARD — Introduced an ordinance to annex 65.5 acres, north of Novato Boulevard, west of the city limits.

RANCHO VILLAGE — Introduced an ordinance to rezone 12.5 acres in Rancho Village Unit 10 from limited agricultural to single family residential.

WILSON AVENUE — Introduced an ordinance to zone a nine acre parcel owned by Robert Young on the east side of Wilson Avenue as planned residential, with a density of one unit per 20,000 square feet, where it is proposed that townhouses be built on about three acres of flat land.

DEANNEXATION — Granted Robert A. Abeling de-annexation of his property at 1625 Indian Valley Road.

CLAIM — Denied a claim by Josephine E. Kiertanis of 110 Las Flores Avenue, San Rafael, for $30,000 for injuries reportedly suffered when she fell while crossing Machin Avenue at Grant Avenue Oct. 3. She charged city negligence on street upkeep.

AUDIT — Awarded Robert P. Simmons, certified public accountant, a contract to perform the city's annual audit at a cost not to exceed $2,000.

CHAMBER — Granted the Novato Chamber of Commerce its second quarter allocation of $2,000, with a request that the city get a report on how funds are spent.

EXTENSION — Granted Chantrelle Nursery School at 1990 Novato Boulevard a one-year extension to complete curb, gutter, sidewalk and street paving in front of the school.

PLANNING — Approved a three-year extension of the joint powers agreement between the city and the City-County Planning Council.

CHASE-CHERRY — Adopted a resolution confirming that the cost of street and sidewalk on Chase and Cherry Streets, to be paid by residents involved, would be $19,674, and set the assessments on individual parcels.

ANIMAL — Adopted an ordinance amendment which requires a permit to operate a stable, riding academy, dog kennel or commercial cattery in a limited agricultural zone.

Photographer To Get Film Award

LeRoy French of San Rafael, recently named Underwater Photographer of the Year, will be honored at the 14th Annual Underwater Film Festival Feb. 5-7 at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

In his prize-winning film to be shown Feb. 5, French attempts to look at sea pollution through the eyes of a child "who will never see the world as it was intended." The film focuses on a sunken, World War II tanker, whose leaking oil has affected underwater plant and animal life.

French is the seventh American to win the international film festival award, which has been won by such photographers as Jacques and Phillipe Cousteau.

Persian Gulf Demands Scuttle Oil Negotiations

TEHRAN (UPI)—Crucial secret talks between Western oil companies and Persian Gulf oil exporting countries broke down today, threatening the oil supply for most of the Western world.

Iranian Finance Minister Jamshid Amuzegar said Iraqi and Saudi Arabian delegates were returning home and would file reports with the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries (OPEC) headquarters in Vienna. But he said another session might be called for next Tuesday if the Western companies reconsider their stand and agreed to look into OPEC demands.

Amuzegar said OPEC members would have to decide whether to cut off oil supplies to Western companies.

The Persian Gulf countries, which produce 80 per cent of the oil used in the West, are demanding a larger cut of the oil profits. They want all OPEC members to receive the 55 per cent which Western operators recently agreed to pay to Iran.

Amuzegar accused the Westerners of "not facing facts and justice" in refusing to discuss the demands.

The breakdown came during the first session following Tuesday's preliminary meeting of the two sides to introduce OPEC demands as laid down in a resolution adopted in Caracas, Venezuela, last month.

Plead Innocent To Sale Of Pot

Randall Joachim Wells, 20, and Allen Michael Crivello, 19, both of San Rafael, have pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of selling marijuana to a narcotics agent last July 1.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set their trial for the week of March 29.

BEST ROOKIE

49er Taylor Wins Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bruce Taylor, whose devil-may-care style as a cornerback and punt returner for the San Francisco Forty Niners frightened his mother, Wednesday was named the United Press International "Rookie of the year" for the National Football Conference.

Taylor beat out Dallas running back Duane Thomas for the honor in the balloting of 36 writers from the 13 league cities. Taylork received 14 votes and Thomas had nine. No other player was in serious contention.

Taylor, who only weighs 180 pounds, often had this kind of telephone conversation with his mother, Mrs. Maude Taylor, of Perth Amboy, N.J., after San Francisco games were shown on television in the East.

"You played a fine game, son. But I want you to stop running into those big fellows. Some of them must outweigh you by 100 pounds," his mother would say.

"It's my job, mom."

"Tell the coach to turn it over to a bigger boy."

"But, mom, I've got to break down the interference when they run around my corner. Those guards and tackles are pretty big, and it hurts a little but I have to hit them."

"Stop it, you hear?"

But Taylor never did stop it and he helped the Forty Niners win their first division crown in their history and a startling upset over Minnesota in the playoffs. San Francisco advanced to the NFC finals before losing to Dallas.

Taylor led the NFC in punt returns in his first season, returning 43 kicks for 516 yards for an average of 12 yards a return. His longest return was 76 yards.

He usually scorned the fair catch except when he was surrounded. His attitude was "they could find anybody to fair catch. What they want is somebody to run the ball back."

Taylor was a first round draft choice by the Forty-Niners from Boston University after a brilliant career as a defensive back. He stepped right into a starting job with San Francisco, teaming with all-pro Jimmy Johnson, to give San Francisco an excellent pair of cornerbacks.

Thomas came close to giving Dallas the rookie honor for the second straight season —and at the same position.

Calvin Hill won the award last season, but he's been ailing this season and Thomas stepped in and played a major role in the Cowboys' climb to the Super Bowl.

He was the fifth leading rusher in the league, gaining 803 yards in 151 carries for a 5.3 average. He was brilliant in the playoff victories over Detroit and San Francisco when Craig Morton's passing was ineffective. Even though both of those opponents were keying on the run, Thomas —with the help of fine blocking by the Cowboy lineman —repeatedly made valuable yardage in key situations.

Marin 'Cats Outmuscled By Redwood

By DAVID EINSTEIN

The Redwood High School Giants, whose fortunes ride the shoulders of 6-foot-6 Scott Trobbe and equally-as-tall Steve McGee, got superlative performances from both yesterday afternoon and outmuscled Marin Catholic, 67-54.

Using the same formula for success that marked their victory over Novato in their Marin County Athletic League basketball opener last Friday, the Giants, before some 400 delighted fans in Larkspur, broke the Wildcats' defensive fortitude with a strong second quarter effort and more-or-less coasted the rest of the way.

Trobbe, unstoppable again, matched his effort against Novato with 27 points, while McGee, fastest and most graceful big man in the league, came in with 13. Together they also dominated the boards, save for an inspired performance by Marin's Tim Stone that helped keep the Wildcats within conceivable striking distance most of the way.

The Wildcats' offense was spearheaded by forward Bill Donellan, who scored 21 points despite having to play with a heavily bandaged ankle. Jim Sullivan followed him with 12 points, and Stone scored 11.

The Kentfield team, now 1-1 in league play, started off with a bang, scoring eight points before the Giants got on the board. But Coach Dick Hart's boys rattled off six straight points near the end of the first quarter, and took the lead for good in the opening seconds of the second quarter. They led at the half, 32-22.

Marin managed to stay within 10 during the third period, but at the start of the final eight minutes, Trobbe hit four straight field goals, and added a foul shot to increase the Giants' lead to 14 and settle the issue.

KAPP QUIET AFTER GRAND JURY SESSION

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Boston Patriots quarterback Joe Kapp appeared before a federal grand jury investigating possible anti-trust violations by the National Football League Tuesday, the first active player to be called to testify since the jury was impaneled last November.

Kapp declined to discuss his testimony with newsmen, but it was believed he was asked about his contract troubles with the Minnesota Vikings.

A second witness Tuesday was former Green Bay Packers tight end Ron Kramer, who later said he was not asked about blacklisting or any players in particular. He said he was well satisfied with his career in the NFL.

Victory For West All-Stars

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—They can stop feeling sorry for little Lenny Wilkens. In one game Tuesday night the player-coach of the Seattle Supersonics settled the score for everything that has happened to him this season.

Wilkens, an 11-year veteran from Providence, was voted the most valuable player after scoring 21 points in a 108-107 victory by the West over the East in the National Basketball Association's All-Star game.

Wilkens played only 20 of the 48 minutes in getting his game-high total as the west ended a three-year domination by the East.

"I was just relaxing and enjoying myself," the 33-year-old pro said.

After what has happened to Wilkens this season, it's hard to believe he can enjoy anything. It's been that kind of a year.

For all practical purposes, the Sonics' season ended in their fourth game when Bob Rule tore an Achilles tendon. That was nothing, though, compared to what has happened since Seattle owner Sam Schulman signed Haywood Spencer Dec. 30.

Since Haywood first appeared in a Sonics' uniform, there have been seven protests in seven games. Tuesday the owners hinted they might kick Seattle out of the league for giving Haywood employment.

"I've been sympathizing with Sam but mainly I've been trying to relax," Wilkens replied when asked how the Haywood matter had affected him.

As brilliant as Wilkens was, Lew Alcindor had an equal share in the West's win, only

It Takes Five To Win In NBA

I JUST received in the mail a flyer from the San Francisco Warriors, hustling season tickets, expounding the National Basketball Association team's run for the playoffs, etc.

I don't think they'll make the playoffs. I mean, the fancy piece of literature shows a picture of four players on the cover. I think someone ought to tell them that all the other teams in the NBA use five players at a time.

I hope someone tells Coach Al Attles about it soon. After all, that is quite a handicap.

YESSIR, IN answer to your question, that Franklin "Pepper" Rodgers who moved from Kansas to succeed Tommy Prothro as head football coach is the very same gent who coached football at Hamilton Air Force Base in the early 1950s. Had some pretty good ball clubs out there, too.

A story out of Kansas said Rodgers wept with joy about moving from Kansas to Los Angeles, but he didn't shed a tear when he got out of the Air Force here, I'll tell you.

ED LEDERMAN of San Rafael is a diver on the Stanford University varsity swimming team, making a splash just like the Indian gridders did in the Rose Bowl.

I'LL BET you didn't know that Redwood High School Athletic Director Robert J. Troppmann of short-hair fame is a columnist.

Well, indeed he is, for the latest issue of Cal Coach Magazine features an article by Bob, accompanied by a picture of his famous mug.

Tropp is head of the California Athletic Directors Association, largest in the United States, and reports monthly on the functions of the organization. Heckuva writer.

I HAVE a note here telling us all that Marin County distance runners did well in the annual all-star selections of the Pacific Association, Amateur Athletic Union.

Richard Delgado, mathematics teacher at San Rafael High School, was selected the outstanding runner of the year for the Pacific Association, which covers Northern California and Nevada, and Darryl Beardall of the Marin Athletic Club was voted number two in the balloting.

Others elected to the honorary all-P.A. team were Alvaro Mejia, Olympian runner from Columbia; Byron Lowry, member of the U.S. national marathon team; Bill Scobey, 4:03 miler from Humboldt State College; and Jack Leydig, second place finisher in the National championship marathon in 1969.

As I keep reminding you, Delgado is the fastest math teacher in the state because he practices what he preaches. Yes, the shortest distance between two points is indeed a straight line.

BARRY BRINK of Mill Valley, who starred at tackle for Dartmouth's fine football team, also played well in the Hula Bowl last weekend. If you saw the game on the tube, Barry was No. 75 for the North. He also played in the East-West Shrine Game.

The thing that amazes me about Barry, son of former pro grid star Larry Brink, the Mill Valley auto dealer, is that he is also an excellent tennis player. At 240 pounds, the kid doesn't even need a racquet. I think he just flexes his muscles to bounce the ball over the net.

Terra Linda In Cage Victory

The Terra Linda High School Trojans kept pace with Tamalpais and Redwood last night by dumping San Rafael, 52-47 for their second straight Marin County Athletic League basketball victory.

The winless Bulldogs, like Drake last week, shut off the Trojans' top offensive threat, Joe Casteel, and came closer to winning than they were expected to. But Terra Linda spread their scoring around to nine players and wore down the hometown team in the final minutes of play.

With Casteel held to seven points, Bill Berry, Todd Young and Larry Kerr took up the charge and led the Trojans' attack. Berry had 11 points, the others 10 each.

San Rafael's scoring was slightly more concentrated, as Bill Lechner and Mark Farrar finished with 12 apiece, and Jim Thorne and Wayne Lechner each got nine.

Both teams played superb ball control, making fewer than 10 turnovers all night between them.

Tamalpais Cagers Get Scare From Novato

The Tamalpais High School Indians, playing with all the concentration of an expectant father, buckled down in the final minutes last night and edged Novato High, 56-51 before some 600 disheartened fans in Novato.

The victory gave the Indians of Mill Valley, seventh ranked in the Bay Area, a 2-0 Marin County Athletic League record, while the Hornets took their second loss. But coach Bernie Schneider of Tam probably did not sleep well last night. Instead of counting sheep, he probably counted Joe DeMaestri's 20-foot set shots that nearly beat his team.

DeMaestri was the leading man and everybody else was just an extra as he brought the Hornets to the brink of victory, and then turned goat in the final nine seconds, when he missed a pair of charity shots that would have given his team the lead.

As it was, Will Garner, who led his team with 20 points, climaxed a Tam stall in the waning minutes by hitting a three-point play that broke a 49-49 tie with 0:49 left. Marty Moroski, a secondary hero behind DeMaestri for Novato, came back with a layup, the last of his 12 points, and the Hornets were within one.

With 11 seconds left, Novato got the ball again, and with nine left Billy Washington fouled DeMaestri, whose shot fell short as he sprawled to the court. But the best shooter in the MCAL then missed both foul shots awarded him, and Tam put it away with four points in the last five seconds.

But without the 5-foot-11 DeMaestri, whose face resembles John Havlicek of the Boston Celtics, the Hornets would never have been close at all. He poured in 24 points, hitting 11 of 14 shots from the floor. A majority of those came from way, way outside, and each one brought a deafening roar from the crowd.

After the game, outside the gym, a young Tam fan consoled the Hornets as they filed out. "Don't cry, Novato, you played good." Especially Joe DeMaestri.

San Marin Wallops Drake

Perhaps still mindful of the clobbering they took from Tamalpais last week, the San Marin High School Mustangs wrecked a vengeful havoc on the unfortunate Drake Pirates last night, 60-37 in Novato.

The Mustangs, an up-again, down-again team all season, were way up last night as they evened their Marin County Athletic League record at the expense of the winless San Anselmo team. San Marin led in every quarter, and even in the final minutes was pouring it on.

Three players hit double figures to pace the victorious attack; center Dana LaFerriere had a game high 16 points, followed by sophomore Hoza Wright with 14 and Jim Thompson with 12. No one in the Drake lineup had that distinction, as Greg Shaw and Tom Carlisle were high men with eight apiece.

Altogether 16 players from both teams made the scoring column as both Andy Frauenhofer of San Marin and Bob Fitzhenry of Drake emptied their benches.

Petaluma Quint Defeats Ukiah

Kevin Gillmore scored 16 points and dished out his superhustle style of play last night to give the Petaluma High School Trojans a 51-42 North Bay I League basketball victory over Ukiah.

Gillmore scored 16 points, high for the Trojans, before fouling out with three minutes to go. But by that time the script had been written, and his team had its second league win in three games.

Cal Bears Appeal Loss Of Track-Field Crown

BERKELEY (UPI) —The University of California is appealing the loss of its NCAA Track and Field championship.

The NCAA Sunday took the Bears' 1970 title from it on grounds that sprinter Isaac Curtis, who had a hand in 22 of the Bears' 40 points, had not complied with the so-called "1.6 rule" through a university oversight.

Athletic publicity director Bob Steiner said the school is citing two points in its appeal:

"The spirit of the 1.6 rule was not violated.

"Cal did nothing clandestine or underhanded, immediately reporting the situation to the NCAA when it was discovered last September."

Curtis, through an admitted university oversight, did not take the SAT (Student Aptitude Tests) necessary to predict a 1.6 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) by a student-athlete. The seldom-invoked NCAA rule demands that the school administer tests in order to predict academic performance or the students will be declared ineligible.

Representatives of the school are at the meeting in Houston, which ends today, but no further action on the matter is expected until the NCAA reconvenes in April.

10th Straight Water Polo Win

Terra Linda High scored three goals in the last minute of play yesterday to break a 12-12 deadlock and win its 10th straight Marin County Athletic League water polo match.

The 15-12 victory assured the undefeated Trojans of at least a tie for the league title, with three games left to play.

Doug Brockbank of Redwood led all scorers with seven goals.

Officials Stunned By Bills' New Plan

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — State, county and city officials were stunned Tuesday when the Buffalo Bills of the National Football League looked to Seattle for a new home.

"It's incredible," remarked Frank A. Sedita, mayor of Buffalo which saw its State University discontinue intercollegiate football only one day earlier and failed to keep the International League Baseball Bisons from moving to Winnipeg last year when attendance dropped at War Memorial Stadium —the same facility Bills' owner Ralph C. Wilson, Jr., said he "could no longer live with."

The Bills broke what was perhaps this city's best kept secret in simultaneous announcements in Buffalo, where the club began 11 years ago, and in Seattle, where Wilson met with civic leaders and viewed the University of Washington stadium.

"The Bills' management is fond of Buffalo and its fans, but has reached the point where it no longer can live with the stadium existing here," the statement read.

"The climate for a suitable new stadium in the immediate future does not exist in Buffalo," it continued. "This leaves the Bills no alternative but to move."

The Erie County Legislature, which tossed the question of a new stadium for four years and still remained undecided on what to build, where to put it and who shall operate it, was in session when word reached the chambers.

"It's catastrophic," said one legislator.

"I'm shocked," said another.

"The only reason we need a stadium is because we have the Bills," replied a third.

There were also these developments:

—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged the state "will continue to do everything it can to help Erie County and the city solve its stadium problem and keep the Bills in Buffalo." But an aide, when asked what the state had done in the past, replied "working behind the scenes" — but could not be more specific.

—State Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges of nearby Niagara Falls announced he stood ready to work with the state urban development corporation, Rockefeller, Wilson and any other officials to help settle the stadium issue. To delay, he said, would be "disastrous."

—King County executive John Spellman, apparently impressed that Wilson chose to eye Seattle, said he thought the Seattle area has "a great deal to offer" the club and that "there's no question of this area's support of pro football.

—In Olympia, county lawmakers indicated they were preparing resolutions and bills in an effort to make the University of Washington's stadium available for professional football.

—Erie County executive B. Jon Tutuska, "quite disturbed" but not surprised by the announcement, declared it was "absolutely imperative that firm and positive action be taken" quickly if the Bills were to stay in Buffalo.

But Wilson, who said the club "cannot tolerate our present situation" here, play in a "dated stadium" and yet "remain competitive," gave every indication the announcement was not a threat to hasten a stadium decision on the Niagara Frontier.

Faced with "no alternative," he said he was even considering three other, unnamed cities in case a move to Seattle feel through.

the Westerners' second in nine years.

Alcindor, a member of an Eastern team which won by seven points last season, scored 19 points, grabbed 14 rebounds, blocked seven shots and got what proved to be the winning free throw.

The man who may be ready to start a Bill Russell-type dynasty at Milwaukee outplayed New York's Willis Reed, the MVP in this game a year ago. Reed finished with 14 points and had 13 rebounds.

Ironically, Wilkens was removed by West coach Larry Costello for Oscar Robertson with 3:31 to go and the East leading 101-100.

"I wanted to get a bigger guard in," Costello explained.

"I'll never second guess a coach," Wilkens said with a grin.

Alcindor banked in a five-footer with 48 seconds to go and was fouled by Gus Johnson. He converted and the West was ahead 108-105.

The East's Jo Jo White made a field goal with 26 seconds left and the West stalled out the clock.

A San Diego International Sports Arena record crowd of 14,378 watched the game.

Healdsburg Whips Rancho Cotate '5'

The Rancho Cotate High School Cougars let their defense dissolve in the final quarter last night and lost a North Bay II League basketball game to Healdsburg High in that Northern California town, 43-36.

The Cougars of Rohnert Park, now 1-2 in league play, lost despite the return to the lineup of mammoth center Ron Seiler, who had been sidelined with the flu; The Greyhounds held him to five points. Top man for Rancho Cotate was Steve Wlodarczyk with 13.

SRMA Cagers Triumph, 63-55

Tom Kewell and Jim Stevenson combined for 48 points yesterday to lead the San Rafael Military Academy Cadets past College Prep, 63-55 in a Bay Counties League basketball game in Oakland.

Kewell, a forward, led all scorers with 28 points.

Stram, Hunt Agree On 10 Year Contract

MIAMI (UPI) — Hank Stram and owner Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs have reached agreement and shaken hands on a new 10-year contract that reportedly will make Stram one of the highest paid coaches in professional football.

Terms of the contract have not been revealed, but Stram is known to have been given a substantial increase over the terms in his previous contract which expired at the end of the 1970 season during which he guided the Chiefs to a 7-5-2 record.

DETROIT (UPI) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty Niners and Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals have been named player and coach of the year by Football News.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Reubin Askew and the Florida Cabinet urged the National Football League and Commissioner Pete Rozelle Tuesday to lift a television "blackout" that will keep south Florida fans from viewing Sunday's Super Bowl game in Miami.

State Treasurer Tom O'Malley, a former resident of Miami, ram-rodded unanimous adoption of a resolution to Rozelle and the league.

It claimed that blacking out of the Super Bowl game in the South Florida area will keep an estimated 2.5 million viewers from seeing the game.

General

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay expressed confidence Tuesday that the New York Yankees and the Football Giants will continue to use New York's Yankee Stadium as their home base despite attempts by the state of New Jersey to lure them to the Hackensack Meadowlands.

New Jersey Gov. William Cahill today confirmed that thought was being given to creating a stadium complex in the Hackensack Meadows across the Hudson from Manhattan, and that there were hopes the Yankees and the Giants could be induced to make a new home in what for centuries has been a wasteland.

Another Nightmare For Seals

TORONTO (UPI) —There's no rest for the weary California Seals who have been having goalish nightmares on their current road trip.

That bad trip ends tonight when the Seals skate against the Maple Leafs at Toronto. So far this season, the Maple Leafs hold a 1-2 edge over the Seals. The lone California victory was 8-4 at the Oakland Coliseum-Arena Nov. 6.

California trailed St. Louis 3-2 at the end of the first period Tuesday night but that's the closest the Seals got.

The Blues scored twice in the second period and forced the removal of Gary Smith from the California goal. Chris Worthy took over for the tired Smitty and was bombarded with three more goals in the final period to give the Blues an 8-2 win.

That was the fifth loss in six games for the Seals since the start of the new, but luckless, year. That one victory, oddly, was 6-3 over St. Louis in Oakland.

Don O'Donoghue and defenseman Ron Stackhouse scored the Seals goals in the latest losing cause against the Blues. Jim Lorentz tallied two goals and Christian Bordeleau added a goal and three assists to power the St. Louis attack.

After tonight's game in Toronto, the Seals return home for four games, beginning Friday night with the New York Rangers.

NBA Owners Give Sonics A Warning

SAN DIEGO, (UPI) —The National Basketball Association's owners have warned Seattle owner Sam Schulman the Supersonics are in trouble for signing Spencer Haywood.

The Board of Governors met on the day of the league's 21st annual all-star game Tuesday and directed Commissioner Walter Kennedy to "consider bringing charges" against the Sonics.

Kennedy mentioned "expulsion" as a possible penalty but in the next breath he played down the possibility the league would take such harsh action.

At a news conference following a stormy meeting of the owners, Kennedy revealed the Board of Governors had adopted a resolution by a 15-2 vote which directed him to make a recommendation "in connection with the Spencer Haywood matter."

The league has a rule against signing a player until his college class gradutes and Haywood's class won't be out at University of Detroit until June.

Under the NBA's constitution and by-laws, Kennedy said, the penalties ranged from "expulsion of the franchise to a minimum fine." He said the Sonics possibly could be stripped of draft choices.

Schulman, who usually doesn't have any trouble finding words, issued a terse "no comment." Any penalty against Seattle would require the votes of 13 of the 17 owners, according to the commissioner.

The owners' next meeting will be at Kennedy's directive but the commissioner said he didn't know when that might be.

Despite the owners' resolution, the Haywood case remained unclear.

Kennedy admitted that the case was in the hands of the courts.

Haywood, 6-foot-9 hero of the 1968 olympic games, was signed by the Supersonics Dec. 30 away from the American Basketball Association Denver Rockets. He didn't play with Denver this season because of contract difficulties.

In Los Angeles Friday U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson ruled that Haywood could continue playing for Seattle for 10 more days.

Marin Catholic Freshmen Triumph

Marin Catholic went two overtimes before downing Tamalpais High School, 54-52 yesterday in a Marin County Athletic League freshman basketball game. Willie Fahy hit a jump shot with 10 seconds left to insure the win. Len Kristensen of Marin Catholic, and Mike Owens and Steve Dinehart of Tam all had 17 points.

In other games, Drake routed San Rafael 50-26 behind Rick Herbert's 19 points, and Neil Hennessey scored 22 to lead Redwood past Terra Linda, 41-24.

Art Wall Jr. Will Be Back

Art Wall Jr., over the years, acquired a reputation as one of the best putters among the touring golf pros. But Wall's putter betrayed him on the 72nd hole of the Los Angeles Open when he missed a four footer that eliminated him from the playoff between Bob Lunn and Billy Casper.

Once before, in 1959, Wall missed by a stroke in the Los Angeles Open and then he went on to win the Bing Crosby, the Masters, the Azalea Open, the Buick Open, plus half a dozen No. 2 finishes. Nobody was surprised when Wall got more than twice as many votes as all other players combined in the 1959 Player of the Year poll conducted by the PGA.

SINCE THAT big year when he was leading money winner with $53,167.60, Wall has been plagued by a kidney ailment, a knee injury, a rib injury, back trouble and more recently a bout with hepatitis. Yet, when sympathetic golf writers began describing him as "hard luck golfer," Wall would have none of it.

"Who am I to complain about hard luck after the year I had in 1959," Wall said. "Golf has been good to me."

If Wall ever alibied in his 22 years on the pro circuit, there is no record of it. "It was a disappointing finish," he said quietly after missing the four footer on the 72nd at Los Angeles. "But that's golf. I hung in the well."

WALL BECAME a pro in 1949, the year he was graduated from Duke University. Now 47, Wall and his wife Jean, a Penn State graduate, and their five children, live in Honesdale, Pa., where he was born Nov. 25, 1923.

Wall learned golf as a caddie and junior member of the Honesdale club where he got his first hole-in-one as a 12-year-old on a par three hole with a No. 7 iron. Since then he has scored 35 aces but is reluctant to talk about them. "People think I'm prevaricating," he says.

HOWEVER, DUMPY Hagler, Wall's Duke University golf coach, personally witnessed six Wall aces, the longest of which was a 300-yarder. And two he scored in PGA competition, the first in the 1951 Texas Open, the second in the 1959 San Diego Open, also are well documented.

Of the 22 he scored at his hometown Honesdale layout, where he played 36 to 54 holes daily as a youngster, two are also well documented. A Honesdale minister, with shom Wall was playing at the time, witnessed them.

Wall's total of aces is regarded by his hometown admirers as the most amazing facet of his career. However, his fellow pros regard his finish in the 1959 Masters as the highlight. Wall birdied five of the last six holes to win — undoubtedly one of the best finishes ever in the Masters.

A PRESS ASSOCIATION story out of Los Angeles during the weekend devoted several paragraphs to Wall's missed putt on the 72nd and reported the last tournament he won as the 1966 Hartford Open.

But don't be surprised if Wall, at age 47, wins a few more this year. He's a competitor who has always played within his abilities, never trying anything fancy, never showboating. He's a conservative fellow with quiet class on or off the golf course.

Marin '5' At Home Tonight

The mighty College of Marin Tars, now the fourth-ranked junior college basketball team in California, take their 17-1 record and a home court advantage into tonight's Camino Norte Conference game against Canada J.C. of Redwood City.

In the latest rankings out of the Junior College Athletic Bureau, Marin jumped from ninth place to replace leaguemate Contra Costa in the No. 4 spot. The Tars, whose record is the best of all junior colleges in the state, thus become the highest ranking team from Northern California.

John Panagakis' crew will have a chance to solidify their new ranking Saturday night when they meet Contra Costa (10-5) in San Pablo. Should they win that one, the Tars very conceivably could run through the rest of their CNC schedule undefeated.

In their most recent effort, the Tars mangled lowly Solano of Vallejo, 86-60, last Saturday night. The game was mercy killing at its finest. Joe Smith, who was not particularly sharp in the first half, scored 26 points for the game anyway, while Roosevelt Green, as formidable a center as can be found in Northern California, garned 18 and cast fear into the heart of any Falcon who dared drive inside on him.

Tonight's game will be broadcast over KTIM FM (101.9), with Verle Sorgen doing the play-by-play.

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—They weren't among the top three money winners last year, but Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus still are the gallery favorites.

The two golfers and their amateur partners played a practice round over water-soaked Spyglass Hill Tuesday in preparation for the 30th annual Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, which starts Thursday.

A gallery of several hundred slogged along with them. No other pro had more than a dozen spectators.

Palmer shot a 70, Nicklaus a 71 and Bob Hoag, Nicklaus' partner, hit a hole in one on the 160-yard 12th.

Meanwhile, Ron Cerrudo fired a 67 at Pebble Beach, indicating he may be ready to return to the top of the golf heap.

The big hitter from the Bay Area had disc surgery in August and did not play again competitively until last week.

GEORGE BLANDA'S PICK

Edge To Unitas, Mates

Editor's note: George Blanda, 43-year-old quarterback of the Oakland Raiders and UPI's player of the year in the American Football Conference, analyzes Sunday's Super Bowl game in a "before and after" series for UPI. Today: the probable winner. Monday: How it happened.

By GEORGE BLANDA
Written For United Press International

MIAMI (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts and Dallas Cowboys are similar in many respects.

First of all, both teams basically play a zone defense and both have good defensive lines. In the last few weeks the Dallas defense has been exceptional, allowing only one or two touchdowns and going over 20 quarters without giving up one touchdown.

Both teams will be emotionally high because they have something to prove. Dallas has the stigma of usually losing the big game. Baltimore lost in the Super Bowl two years ago and definitely will be fired up to make amends for that humiliating defeat.

But I believe Baltimore will be able to move the ball against Dallas. I think they'll be able to contain the Dallas pass rush because of their great offensive line. The other teams have failed to do this.

I think Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, with his great experience playing against a zone defense, will use a short passing game to control the ball. And with the running attack the Colts have developed in the last few weeks, they should be able to move the ball fairly consistently on the ground.

I don't see Baltimore throwing any deep passes against Dallas. Their running secret is ball control. They will have to run the ball to slow down the pass rush and if they have success with their running game the passing will work. They will be able to put points on the board.

Dallas has had problems moving the ball offensively the last three or four weeks — in fact, all season, I guess. But their success has been a great defense and a good, solid running game which has enabled them to have the kind of ball control that keeps their defensive unit on the bench quite a bit of the time.

I don't think they'll run against the Baltimore line like they did against the San Francisco Forty Niners, although I think they'll have more success with their passing because the Baltimore zone defense is a little leaky at times. I took for Craig Morton to complete quite a few of his short to medium passes.

I wouldn't think Morton can get the long ball in there. Baltimore does give you certain things, but they don't give you the big play. I don't think the Colts will allow Bob Hayes to get beyond the secondary for any deep passes.

Defensively, I think the biggest challenge Baltimore faces is the variety of offensive formations Dallas uses. The Cowboys may fool them occasionally but Baltimore is a veteran group of defensive people and I believe they'll be able to handle the challenge.

One factor does favor Dallas and that's the artificial turf in the stadium. Dallas has played on artificial turf all year and Baltimore, in its last effort in the Orange Bowl against Miami, failed to produce its best effort. They lost to the Dolphins, 34-17, on that field.

From our experience, we find you can generate more speed on artificial turf. Dallas, because it has played so much on it, should have an edge in timing.

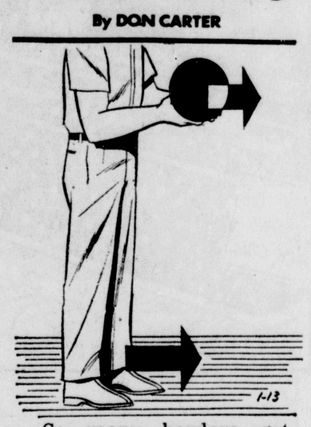
The Dallas strength on their defensive line is the pass rush. If the Colts can handle Bob Lilly, and I think they will, that should give Unitas plenty of time. And if he gets time, he'll pick their zone apart.

I just have the feeling the Baltimore defense can contain the Dallas offense. I think they will stop the running. If they stop the running and make Morton pass they'll give him the short ones. But eventually Dallas will be forced into some mistakes and Baltimore will end up picking off an errant pass.

Most of the Baltimore team has been there before. The Colts know how to react in pressure situations. Basically, Johnny Unitas will be the difference in the ball game and I'm for Johnny U. all the way.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



So many bowlers get their approach fouled up because they carry the ball a step or two before starting their push-away. You should not move foot until you move the ball away from your body simultaneously. If you are guilty of carrying the ball. . .and a teammate can tell you. . .give this bad habit top priority.

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 13, the 13th day of 1971.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Mars. The evening star is Saturn.

Horatio Alger was born on Jan. 13, 1834.

On this date in history:

In 1733 James Oglethorpe and some 130 British colonists arrived at Charleston on the American Atlantic Coast. They had a charter to form a settlement in what today is the state of Georgia.

In 1864 American songwriter Stephen Foster died in New York City. He had only 35 cents in his pocket.

In 1863 President Sylvanus Olympio of the West African nation of Togo was assassinated.

In 1970 the breakaway state of Biafra surrendered to Federal Nigeria, ending a 30-month civil war in which hundreds of thousands died, most of them from starvation.

A thought for today: Abraham Lincoln said, "Truth is generally the best vindication against slander."

Equipment Stolen

A recorder and electronic equipment valued at $289 were taken between 6 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. yesterday from the Work Study Center at 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, principal Ralph H. Phelps reported yesterday to police.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Simple Signals Are Not Just Enough For Championship Play

When you were a beginner you learned a simple rule for signaling as a defender. When you play a seven or any higher card, that is an encouraging signal; when you play a six or any card lower than the six, that is a discouraging signal. This is a good rule for beginners, but it isn't good enough for experts because you may get trapped by the cards.

HEART ACTION

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the ace, the jack and the ten. It was all very normal, but East had a problem on the fourth round of hearts. He had to discard, and no discard would tell his story accurately.

If East discarded the eight of spades it would look like an encouraging signal. East didn't want to encourage a switch to spades; and, in fact, a spade switch would let South take four spades and three high clubs. (South would actually get an eighth trick if he ran the spades first since East would have to discard the queen and king of diamonds to avoid giving declarer a fourth club.)

SMALL DIAMOND

If East discarded the deuce of diamonds, it would look like a discouraging signal; but East really wanted a switch to diamonds.

Even if East discarded the deuce of clubs as a discouraging signal, West might lead a spade rather than a diamond. South would then get eight easy tricks.

EXPERT SOLUTION

The expert solution to the problem is to make allowance for the cards that you are dealt. An encouraging signal is some card other than your lowest in the suit. If you have only the 3-2 of a suit, the three is encouraging because it isn't your lowest card. If you have only the 9-8 of a suit, the eight is discouraging, because it is your lowest card.

NO - TRUMP DEFENSE

An expert partner also knows that you tend to discard from weakness when defending against no-trump. Any spade discard would suggest that you have nothing interesting in that suit; that you are saving all your goodies in the other suits.

An expert West might have to guess whether to lead a diamond or a club, but he would not be misled by the eight of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - J 5 3
♥ - Q 6
♦ - 9 5 4 3
♣ - K Q 9 5.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. You have fine support for clubs but no other suit worth naming.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Outlook Improving For General Cable

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I hold 50 shares of General Cable at a cost of 45½ a share. Will shares recover or shall I sell at a loss? — H.F.

A. Several developments have brightened the outlook considerably for General Cable. A reduction in the price of copper, closing out of unprofitable operations and the technological benefits to be garnered from ties with British Insulated Callender Cable are all bullish factors.

In addition, the disposal by American Smelting of its 36 per cent interest in General, which had depressed the shares earlier, has now been completed. Demand for wire and cable has been strong as operating statistics attest; sales for the nine months ended September 30, 1970 were up 10 per cent and earnings increased 20 per cent to 88 cents a share. Since management expects final quarter 1970 results to exceed those of the September quarter, full year results could reach $1.20-$1.30 a share.

A high level of demand from utility companies for General Cable's products is anticipated for this year. Shares should be held for recovery.

Q. Some of us here would appreciate your evaluation of Pacific Power & Light common stock in respect to the next 18 months. — L.M.

A. Pacific Power & Light is an issue geared primarily for the income-oriented investor. Stock, at current levels, yields 6.2 per cent. Though earnings have not been up to par thus far in 1970, the company was recently granted rate relief in Oregon, Washington, California and Montana — its major revenue producing states — which will add approximately $11 million to Pacific Power's annual revenues.

Despite the prospect of a heavy financing program in 1971, this rate increase should aid results in the final quarter of fiscal 1970 and beyond, as the rate hikes take effect.

To provide for future growth, Pacific Power plans to spend roughly $311 million for property additions and improvements in the years through 1972. Stock is a highly attractive income vehicle, and offers moderate appreciation potential for the long pull.

5 More Years To Study Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe plans to urge Congress to let industry set up safety standards for farm tractors to help correct problems that now contribute to some of the 1,000 tractor deaths each year.

Volpe's recommendations were prepared in response to a request from Congress on whether the government should impose safety rules on tractors the way automobiles are covered.

The report recommends that Congress take another look at the situation in five years to see how industry has responded. It also recommends that tractor cabs and canopies should be phased out because they can trap or crush tractor operators when the machines overturn.

Continental Gets 1st Class Raise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) said it will allow Continental Airlines to increase its first class fare in all markets over 800 miles.

But the board suspended for investigation a proposed 3 per cent increase in coach and economy fares.

Under Continental's proposal, first class fares would be increased from 125 per cent of coach to 133 per cent.

Petaluma Building Permits Show Drop

The Petaluma building inspection division issued 76 building permits valued at $584,018 during the month of November, a drop of $285,213 from the $869,231 issued in October, but $125,602 more than the $458,416 issued in November of 1969.

Permits issued in November included 20 single family homes, 32 fences and 19 additions.

Turnover Heavy On Exchange

NEW YORK (UPI) — Profit taking turned the stock market mixed today despite a generally constructive news background. Turnover was heavy.

"The market is right for some corrective action," one analyst commented. But he didn't think it would be very deep or last too long because of the Nixon administration's determination to boost the economy in order to reduce unemployment.

Another analyst, however, said the list had a substantial rise since the middle of November, and he looked for the next move to be lower prices.

Shortly before the close, advances were leading declines by more than 200 issues. But the Dow Jones industrial average was off 3.07 at 841.12.

Closing prices included: AT&T 51; Bethlehem Steel 22⅞ off 1⅛; DuPont 133⅝ off ⅝; General Motors 78¾ off ¼; Republic Steel 29¾ off 1⅜; Southern Pacific 37⅛ up 1¼, and U.S. Steel 33¼ off 1⅛.

Other heavily traded stocks included Gulf Oil, Pan American World Airways, Standard Oil of California, Boeing, Braniff, and Continental Oil.

Prices advanced in brisk trading on the American Stock Exchange.

New Store, Roy Anderson Paint Company, Opening In San Rafael

A new paint store, Roy Anderson Paint Co., is opening at 813 Third Street, San Rafael —formerly occupied by Ayers Paint and Supply Co.

Owner Roy Anderson of Burlingame has operated his own paint manufacturing business in San Francisco for many years and also maintains a store there. The San Rafael store will be an outlet to the retail trade as well as to contractors and other dealers and will handle a few stains, wallpapers and other products not of Anderson manufacture.

In charge here is Roger Johnson of Alameda, who plans on moving to Marin. He is a journeyman painter, has previously been with Old Colony Paint Co. and also with Anderson at the San Francisco facility.

With him is retired painting contractor Peter Thorsfeldt of Greenbrae.

The store has been refurbished and paint supplies should start arriving this week, although an official opening may not take place until Feb. 1.

ANOTHER NEW BUSINESS, already openef at 815 Grant Avenue, Novato is called Warehouse Antiques.

Owners William and Margaret Ollenbrook of Novato started out with antiques as a hobby about 11 years ago. They first took up collecting clocks, then bric-a-brac, spinning wheels, vases, glassware, antique furniture, Tiffany shades, bronze, copper and brass--and the accumulation eventually overflowed both their home and garage.

They have added new furniture to go along with the antiques and have leased a 1,500-square foot store at 815 Grant from Herman Deitch, Realtor. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays, with evening hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays to 9 p.m.

DONALD P. GEDDES of Mill Valley has retired from the real estate firm who has borne his name since 1954.

Jerrold J. Hickock of San Rafael assumes ownership and operation of the business, which will continue to be known as Donald Geddes Realty. Jerrold launched his real estate career in Marin County in 1961. Since then he has worked in the title insurance and mortgage loan business.

Geddes will remain in the firm as an associate broker at the Mill Valley office.

LARRY R. VENTURI of Petaluma has been elected assistant vice president of Golden West Savings and Loan Association. He is an appraiser in the loan department and is responsible for the Sonoma County area. He was in the loan department of Redwood Empire Savings and Loan and joined Golden West when the two associations merged in 1969.

LIKE EVERYTHING ELSE, the cost of dictating, typing, mailing and filing a business letter has gone up again--but at a lesser rate than in recent years.

According to the Dartnell Institute of Business Research, which makes an annual study of the subject, the average cost of a business letter in 1971 will be $3.19, only 4.6 per cent above the 1970 average of $3.05. The 1970 cost represented an 11.3 per cent climb over 1969.

Major factor is the salary of the secretary who does all the work. Now an even $1 per letter, this cost is based on a 20-minute segment of her time, figured at $3 per hour.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Tax Dependents Must Meet Five Conditions To Qualify

How many dependents can you claim?

Each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions:

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1970 (or see below — multiple support agreement).

2. Dependent did not have over $625 income in 1970 unless the dependent was your child, foster child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student for at least five months, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provided over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

A foster child can now be claimed as a dependent. A foster child is a child who is in the care of a person or persons (other than the parent or adopted parents of the child) who care for the child as their own child.

Status as a foster child is not dependent upon or affected by the circumstances under which the child became a member of the household, but must have been a member of the household for the entire year.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $625 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the above conditions.

Also, if your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you.

When two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent of the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact he did not contribute more than 50 per cent of the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided:

(1) The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and

(2) Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent to the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1970.

An agreement, form 2120, must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent of the support of the dependent. The agreement must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent.

Reagan Takes Positive Step On Welfare Reform

While other public officials wail about the shortcomings of the welfare system, Gov. Ronald Reagan has moved to do something about them.

In a letter last week to all units of state government, Reagan called for prompt reports on what jobs they could provide for able-bodied welfare recipients.

He laid down these criteria as "extremely important":

"1. The jobs described must not displace persons already employed or interfere in any way with existing patterns of employment.

"2. The jobs described must not involve high costs for training or supervision.

"3. The jobs described should not involve significant per capita expenditures for tools, transportation, housing or other costs.

"4. The jobs must serve a useful and constructive purpose that will contribute to making California a better place to live."

Given these tough criteria, the various departments of state government may not be able to turn up many jobs. But however many they provide will remove that many people from the dole and give them the self-respect that goes with earning a living.

If each county, city, and public district undertook a similar inventory, quite a few jobs might be found which could be given able-bodied welfare recipients. There would then be some return from the cost of welfare; under the dole, there is none.

Whether or not Governor Reagan's attempt gets very far, it is a heartening departure from the "let Uncle Sam do it" approach that has been taken by governors, mayors and county officials across the land as the welfare squeeze has assumed ominous proportions.

It is a much more positive approach than that of Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, who last week directed that city's corporation counsel to sue state and federal governments to strike down laws that mandate welfare costs to the city — some $600 million of them in the current fiscal year.

Mayor Lindsay's approach would merely shift the take from one pocket of the taxpayer to another. And the real trouble is that the bottoms of all the pockets have been reached.

At that, we wish the City of New York success in its suit. It is unconscionable that state and federal governments can mandate programs to be paid for by the cities and counties. It is unfair for state and federal governments to force counties to tax us for expenditures over which the counties have no control. It vitiates the purpose of representative government.

But waiting for court decisions is tiresome business; and there is no assurance that the courts will find for the City of New York. Meantime, an approach such as that taken by Governor Reagan can help to reverse the growing tide of feeling that "the world owes me a living" — the world being the employed or retired taxpayer.

We suggest that Governor Reagan should go a bit farther. A great many more jobs might be found if he eliminated from his first requirement that the jobs must not "interfere in any way with existing patterns of employment."

Some of the existing patterns of employment under state and local civil service bureaucracy do not make a great deal of sense. Some interference with them might be in order.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Gouging By Agencies Object Of Corrective Bill

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Shocking abuses in the field of private employment agencies, involving tremendous overcharges for finding jobs for the unemployed, have been uncovered by Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park.

Already, the senator has introduced legislation seeking corrective measures to curb the abuses, which he says are by no means general but widespread enough to warrant changes in the employment agency laws.

SONG SAID on introducing the employment agency legislation that "the best way to find a job is to have a lot of money."

He pointed out that some private agencies are charging each job seeker a fee amounting to two or three times the first month's salary.

Consequently, the bill, SB 28, would fix the employment agency fee ceiling of half the first month's salary on jobs paying $600 a month or less.

"The $600 figure was chosen," he said, "because this is the minimum monthly income necessary for a family of four to maintain what the Bureau of Labor Statistics terms a low standard of living.

"People searching for jobs at this level need extra protection.

"Also, some agencies are requiring men who are out of work to pay cash in advance for getting them jobs.

"In a time when so many are looking for work, we must impose some reasonable standards on those who make a profit from finding jobs."

The proposed bill would provide that no one would have to pay for a job until he has earned the money to pay the agency fee, and also for a refund of 1/90 of the fee for every day less than 90 that he is employed.

"I WANT TO MAKE it absolutely clear," he said, "that employment agencies provide a most valuable service in locating jobs for those who need them. My bill is geared to reform the errant few who overcharge."

There has been, for a good many years, direct competition between the public employment service, operated by the state Department of Employment, and the private employment agencies.

The public employment offices assess no charge at all for finding jobs for applicants, and as a result, have been more or less relegated to the position of serving a poorer class of applicants, plus the recipients of unemployment insurance, who are required to have applications for work with the public service.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Much Confusion On Proposition A

If voters were confused in the aftermath of the passage of County Measure "A," calling for the withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, they had good reason to be. The I-J editorial, Oct. 21, assured them that the measure did not contravene President Nixon's withdrawal policy. The measure's originator reiterated this in a letter published Oct. 27. Sponsors of an expensive political ad, Oct. 29, also assured voters that this was true. However, the President had previously opposed a similar proposition (the Hatfield-McGovern Amendment) in Congress. Now Supervisor Arrigoni is quoted, Dec. 30, as saying: "Proposition A is the stated policy of the people of Marin and so I don't think we can support that (Nixon's policies) at this time. . ."

After the election the "peace" committee, changing its tune, inferred in its telegrams to the President and to our congressional representatives that the affirmative vote (of 18 per cent of Marin's population) was indicative of the "will of the people" and of the "silent majority" and that withdrawal by a deadline should replace Vietnamization. How many voted for the measure under the misapprehension that they were voting for the President's withdrawal policy or because no choice of withdrawal policies were permitted is open to conjecture, but the number could have easily exceeded the 4 per cent margin by which it passed. (Significantly, in Massachusetts where a choice was provided, withdrawal under Vietnamization won.) If the "peace" committee evoked no encouraging response from its telegrams, it could be that the President and our representatives had been informed of the above facts. As a matter of fact, they were!

Good And Bad In Any Community

Regarding my previous letter saying that I thought that Marie Woelfl's comments were dangerously vague: the editor stated that Mrs. Woelfl had been employed by the San Rafael City Schools for a number of years, intimating that she would have been familiar enough with the situation to make the comments she made. It was my point that Mrs. Woelfl's letter read like an inditement (sic) of the entire student and staff population of SRHS. Any one who has attended the school (like I have) or has been employed there for any number of years must know that the majority of students and staff are hardworking, interested, sincere citizens.

A high school "community," like any community, has its good and bad members. To see only the bad and dwell on them is to do a great disservice to a fine institution that so desperately needs the active support of the community it so faithfully serves.

Accolade Voiced For Brbara Hosmer

I wish to nominate Barbara Hosmer for "reporter of the year." Her articles are thoroughly researched and extremely interesting. She keeps me informed on vital human issues such as the removal of weight lifting limitation laws which discriminate due to sex. Now that we are aware of this we can work for protective legislation to include both sexes, since men are prone to heart attacks, hernias, etc.

Would Move Trial To Los Angeles

The Angela Davis thing is already drawing hundreds of demonstators to the Civic Center. The trial will swell this to thousands. It will be a magnet to every radical within a 200-mile radius. And make no mistake about it, this crowd will be determined to destroy the Civic Center and anything else that strikes their fancy.

One must hope that the county officials are being realistic about this and are pushing hard for a change of venue. Marin County is simply not equipped to handle this. Los Angeles County is.

Job Well Done In Welfare Work?

After printing your story in the I-J of Jan. 6, on the "Litteral Family" I imagine you will be deluged with mail. However, wanted to write as this hits home with me. I had an aunt and uncle who rented these same people a home in Kentfield. I'm sure if you check your records Miss Betty Presley and Social Worker Mary Culver you'll recall the situation. I can sympathize with Mrs. Sobel — I saw the home in Kentfield before it was torn down!

Okay, Marin residents, we are all up in the air with welfare and taxes, right? But my biggest gripe isn't with the welfare receipents — after all with some it's human nature to take two inches when offered one. My biggest gripe is with the Mary Culvers and the Betty Presleys. Tell me something gals — How do you have the audacity to accept a salary check for a job well done?

Return Of Cat Leaves Mystery

The human interest story behind the ad: LOST — 005

"CAT, orange colored large male. Name 'Puma.' Vic. Black Point. Reward. 892-2174."

Puma staggered home Sunday evening and collapsed at the front door.

We rushed him to the hospital where he is now on the "critical list."

No one knows what happened to him. Was he hit by a car? Was he locked in someone's garage for six days without food and water? Or what? We'll probably never know.

But whoever has owned and loved a cat will understand how we feel.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Jan. 13, 1961

County Auditor-Controller Leon A. de Lisle said he could tie up Civic Center funds to prevent their diversion for remodeling the partly completed building into a county hospital. Chairman William D. Fusselman of the county board of supervisors said de Lisle couldn't do it.

The College of Marin gymnasium was ordered closed as a fire hazard.

20 YEARS AGO

Jan. 13, 1951

Joseph Corbett Jr., a University of California student, was arrested on a charge of murder of Air Force Sgt. Allan Reed, whose body was found Dec. 22, 1950, on a Larkspur hillside.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ordered the Belvedere Planning Commission to open its records for inspection by Harold K. Fulkerson, attorney for Reedport Properties, Inc.

SST Test Plans Are Needed To Learn Environmental Effect

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Though we believe the two SST test planes should be built, it is far from demonstrated that a fleet of supersonic planes in steady commercial use would not do grave harm to the environment.

It is imperative that the government take a tough, show-me line to make sure that the environmental questions are thoroughly answered.

Therefore:

1 — No commercial SST should be authorized until their effect on the environment can be established.

2 — The prototypes should go forward with all possible speed so that the needed test-flying can be undertaken and the facts established.

To build the commercial SSTs before the environmental facts are available would be reckless.

To fail to build the two test SSTs, since they are needed to do the environmental research adequately, would be irrational.

NOTHING ADEQUATE has yet been done to determine what would happen to the environment if there were 500 SSTs flying at 65,000 feet around the world.

Opponents of the SST assert that this would have the most disastrous consequences. But nobody knows that it would.

The most expert assessment was made by a group of scientists gathered at MIT last year for a conference on "Man's Impact on the Global Environment." They concluded that there simply were not enough scientific data to say.

Advocates of the SST assert that nothing presently known shows that the consequences would seriously harm the environment. But the weakness of that argument is that not enough is known to give the commercial SSTs a clean bill of health.

WHAT, THEN, needs to be done?

The report issued by the scientists sponsored by MIT gives a sensible answer:

"We recommend that uncertainties about SST contamination and its effects be resolved before large-scale operation of SSTs begins."

Thus the scientists rightly urged the government not to make the mistake of allowing commercial SSTs to operate until the environmental facts can be established.

And it follows that when the U.S. Senate votes again, it ought not to make the mistake of killing the SST prototypes. They are needed to gather the environmental data.

THE SST environmental research presently being sponsored by the Nixon Administration is not good enough.

This is by a committee created by William M. Magruder, director of the SST program, to advise him on what changes might be made in the SST to minimize its environmental effects.

Surely the only way to find out if it is environmentally safe to put SSts into commercial operation is to put the scientific studies into the hands of disinterested and qualified scientists.

The collecting of scientific data and its appraisal should not be made by people who have a vested interest in the outcome.

Then the President and Congress will be in the best position to make a national decision on going forward with commercial SSTs or seeking a worldwide ban on commercial supersonic flight.

IT SEEMS that a false impression has been created by the meat-ax Senate debate. It has sounded as though the issue was whether to build a fleet of commercial SSTs. Not so. The only issue was whether to build two test SST planes so that they can be used to get the scientific knowledge without which no intelligent decision on SST flight can be made.

How can the Senate rationally kill the SST prototypes on the basis of environmental half-facts and non-facts?

Let's get the facts and then go wherever they take us.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Nixon Should Tune In To New Speaker's Talk

By ERNEST B. FERGURSON

WASHINGTON--"I have been, I think, a real regular Democrat...I'm sot in the ways of the House."

Carl Albert said so back when Lyndon Johnson was beginning his first full presidential term. At the time he had been Democratic whip for seven years and majority leader for three. Now, with a total of 16 years in the House hierarchy, the short, soft-spoken Oklahoma is barely a week away from becoming speaker.

With his certain election when Congress convenes next week, a new era begins at the capitol.

Albert gave clear notice of that when he disclosed that he will follow up Richard Nixon's "State of the Union "address with one of his own, setting forth national goals from the point of view of the opposition party and the legislative branch.

John McCormack, who is leaving his House district in the care of the charming Louise Day Hicks of Boston, never would have dreamed of such an initiative. No less than Albert, he was "a real regular Democrat, sot in the ways of the House" for four decades. But his concept of leadership, especially in the speakership, was passive--to let things run as they always had run, to give maximum tolerance to the whims and prejudices of individual members and especially senior committee chairmen.

Albert was McCormack's right-hand man, yet his model never was John McCormack. It was Sam Rayburn, the modern epitome of the powerful speaker, who taught him most of what he learned.

Albert's upward career has been based on observance of moldy but valid don't-rock-the-boat precautions out of the political primer. And to them he has added some of his own with particular application to the only political body he has ever served in.

"If you can't win them by persuasion, you can't win them at all," he says of the members. "If you whip them into line every time, by the time you reach the third vote you're through."

That was stated when he was majority leader, based on his experience contending with the disputatious Charles Halleck. About the same time, looking ahead of his own experience, he laid down another: "The speaker is the hub of the whole Congress, not just the House. It's hard to beat him on anything."

In those two statements we have the essence of what we can expect from Speaker Albert. There is going to be no showboating and arm-twisting, but there is going to be a program, and there is going to be honest exertion to put it into law. There is going to be respect for the members and the chairmen, but they are not going to be sacrosanct.

Already Albert has lent his quiet support to the reformers, most of them liberals, who want to break the stranglehold tradition has kept on the Congress. Not that he has joined the firebrands who want to burn the whole system down. But he has urged compromise reforms, and it was his easy, authoritative hand that guided through some of the fundamental changes enacted last year to the surprise of many veteran Congress-watchers.

He has a sense of history, and his own and Congress' place in it. His "State of the Union" speech is likely to tell us more about what the legislative branch will accomplish in the coming two years than the presidential message that precedes it.

If Mr. Nixon is interested in passing programs in the 92nd Congress rather than merely submitting bills and then condemning the lawmakers for not adopting them, he will do well to tune in.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Speaker Gives Arguments For School Accountability

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

With interest growing in the concept of accountability for the public schools, an address before a group of California school administrators deserves a second look.

The talk was by Roger A. Freeman, a senior fellow of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, at a Bay Area section meeting of the California Elementary School Administrators' Association. It was given last Oct. 22, but what Freeman said is equally timely today — perhaps more so because the new state superintendent, Wilson C. Riles, is stressing the need for accountability.

"UNTIL NOT so many years ago," said Freeman, "everyone active in education knew how to measure the quality of a school: class size. . .; qualification of the teachers. . .; number of books in the library; age, size and equipment of the building; and dozens of similar gauges. . . But the final and most widely recognized yardstick of school quality that included all other measurements was: dollars expenditure per pupil in average daily attendance.

"There is just one trouble with these data: they all list input, the resources consumed by the schools; they don't measure the output or product.

"We know how many young people go through the schools and graduate. We don't know how much they learn while they are there."

ILLITERACY in the U.S. declined from 11.3 per cent of the adult population in 1900 to 2.4 per cent in 1960, according to census reports, he noted.

"But," he went on, "functional illiteracy, that is, inability to read and write sufficiently for a minimum functioning in today's economic, political and social life, is far more extensive than the census reports indicate. The (U.S.) Office of Education estimated that 24 million persons 18 years and over are 'functionally illiterate' — they cannot read, write or count at a fifth-grade level: Yet, there were on last count only 6.4 million Americans, 14 years and over, who have attended school for fewer than five years. . .

"School attendance in a particular grade, and even graduation, no longer guarantee a specified education level — ever since the schools, some years ago, discovered the secret of perpetual promotion. There are now some high school graduates who cannot even read their diplomas."

EDUCATORS, he said, put the blame on insufficient financial support for the schools. But he cited figures showing that from 1950 to 1970, public school expenditures increased at a rate more than twice that of enrollment and price inflation combined.

He proceeded to quote reports by educators themselves casting doubt on the validity of the accepted measures of school quality, including this from an intensive study of New York schools by City University of New York:

"We have recorded traditional variables that supposedly affect the quality of learning: class size, school expenditure, pupil-teacher ratio, condition of building, teacher experience and the like. Yet, there seems to be no direct relationship between these school measurement and performance."

WHAT IS NEEDED, Freeman said — as have Riles and President Richard M. Nixon — is to set specific goals for pupil achievement in each school — not merely national "norms" which may not apply to the particular situation. Then hold the school accountable for bringing the students to those goals.

If this were done, there would be no more high school graduates who can't read their own diplomas.

Man Charged With Pot, Drunk Driving

William Sandy McIlyar, 26, of 241 Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on charges of drunken driving and possessing marijuana.

He was to plead to the charges today.

McIlyar was arrested Friday after the California Highway Patrol saw him speeding on Highway 101. A plastic container allegedly containing marijuana was found in his possession when he was booked at Marin County Jail.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 has been issued for Frank Holton, 20, of no fixed address, by Judge E.Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court when Holton failed to appear for sentencing on a burglary conviction.

20 Sentenced On Drunken Driving

Twenty persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

George Soler, 70, of Santa Rosa, arrested Dec. 18 on Highway 101, was fined $120.

Ray Anders Johnson, 26, of 5 Estado Court, Novato, arrested Dec. 10 on Highway 101, was placed on probation for 90 days and fined $150.

Jesse Henry Jones, 35, of 209 Drake Avenue, Marin City, arrested Nov. 15 in Larkspur, was placed on probation for one year and fined $100.

Clarence Wayne Lyons, 18, of Alamo, Contra Costa County, arrested Aug. 6 in Corte Madera, was placed on probation for six months and fined $100.

Access To Expressway Is Discussed

Access to the Rohnert Park Expressway should be strictly limited for safety purposes, the Rohnert Park City Council has been told.

Donald B. Head, Sonoma County public works director, recommended Monday that very limited access be permitted and that no access be allowed from Commerce Boulevard to the railroad tracks.

Head said the expressway will be a main artery in the near future and that controls on access should be assured now. Area property owners had requested clarification of the access policy.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

SALARY — Approved a raise for Public Safety Director Robert Dennett to $1,056 monthly.

REZONING — Approved a rezoning request of Quantas Development Corp. for El Colegio Subdivision No. 2.

WATER — Heard Gordon Miller of the Sonoma County Water Agency recommend that major city projects in 1971-72 include work on Hinebaugh Creek and the Wilford Channel.

The cormorant bird, which greatly resembles a pelican, has four toes.

Injuries Minor In Accident

A 47-year-old San Rafael woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 8:10 a.m. Monday at Fourth Street and Lootens Place, San Rafael, police reported.

Dollie Isadore Hearn of 1017 Second Street was treated for multiple bruises to her left arm and shoulder at Marin General Hospital.

She was northbound on Lootens Place when her car collided with one driven east on Fourth Street by Dwight J. Johnson, 26, of 216 Marin Street, San Rafael, according to police.

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AMENDING TITLE 10 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE, "BUSINESS, PROFESSIONS, INDUSTRIES AND TRADES", BY REPEALING CHAPTER 10.56 THEREOF, "TRAILERS AND TRAILER CAMPS" AND AMENDING TITLE 14 "ZONING" BY RENUMBERING CHAPTER 14.72 "GENERAL PROVISIONS AND EXCEPTIONS" TO CHAPTER 14.75 AND BY AMENDING CHAPTER 14.75 "GENERAL PROVISIONS AND EXCEPTIONS" BY THE ADDITION TO SECTION 14.75.020 "USES" OF NEW SUBSECTIONS (h) AND (i) AND BY ADDITION TO CHAPTER 14.08 "DEFINITIONS" BY ADDITIONAL DEFINITIONS THERETO OF SECTIONS 14.08.140 M and 14.08.210T AND BY ADDING A NEW CHAPTER 14.72 ENTITLED "MOBILE HOME PARKS"

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Chapter 10.56 "Trailers and Trailer Camps" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby repealed.

Legal Notice

SECTION 2: Chapter 14.72 "General Provisions and Exceptions" of the City of San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby renumbered Chapter 14.75; and all other chapters and sections in Title 14 "Zoning" wherein reference is made to Chapter 14.72 or any subsection thereunder is hereby amended to refer to Chapter 14.75 or the appropriate subsection thereof.

SECTION 3: Chapter 75, Title 14 "Zoning" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended by addition thereto of the following subsections 14.75.020 (h) and 14.75.020 (i) which shall read as follows:

14.75.020(h): No mobile home, travel trailer, trailer coach or motor coach shall be used for human habitation unless said vehicle is located in a mobile home park except as may be permitted under the following conditions:

1. Mobile homes, travel trailers, trailer coaches and motor coaches may be used for commercial, professional or industrial purposes if a use permit is first obtained in each case.

2. Temporary occupancy not to exceed ninety (90) days may be permitted for night watchmen's quarters or for other security purposes if a use permit is first obtained in each case. The Planning Director may issue such temporary use permit.

14.75.020(i): Trailer coaches may be used for temporary office office and storage purposes and mobile homes may be used for on-site quarters for the job superintendent and watchman in conjunction with construction projects provided the location of the coach placement and all utility connections are approved by the City Fire Marshal and Building Inspector and that installation of the trailer shall not occur more than thirty (30) days prior to the commencement of the construction nor shall the unit remain longer than thirty (30) days after completion of the project.

SECTION 4: Title 14 "Zoning" Chapter 14.08 "Definitions" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended by addition thereto of the following definitions in Sections 14.08.140M and 14.08.210T which shall read as follows:

14.08.140M: MOBILE HOME: A vehicle, other than a motor vehicle, designed or used for human residential habitation, for carrying persons and property on its own structure, and for being drawn by a motor vehicle.

MOBILE HOME LOT: The area of land in a mobile home park — not a subdivided lot — assigned for the exclusive use of the occupants of the mobile home located on that stand. The lot usually includes a stand, patio, parking area or carport and yards or landscaped area.

MOBILE HOME PARK: An area, or tract of land, where one hundred and twenty (120) or more mobile home lots are rented or leased or held out for rent or lease to accommodate mobile homes used for human habitation.

MOBILE HOME STAND: The area on which the mobile home is placed when it is stationed on the lot, including the land lying under the mobile home.

MOTOR COACH: A motor vehicle designed to permit human habitation, and licensed and capable of operating under its own power upon a public highway.

14.08.210T: TRAILER COACH: A vehicle, other than motor vehicle, designed or used for human habitation or human occupancy for industrial, professional or commercial purposes, for carrying persons and property on its own structure, and for being drawn by a motor vehicle. (Note: a trailer coach is used for nonresidential habitation only).

TRAVEL TRAILER: A vehicle other than a motor vehicle, which is designed for human habitation and which may be moved upon a public highway without a special permit (not over 6,000 pounds or twenty-two foot length) or chauffeur's license or both, without violating any provisions of the Vehicle Code.

SECTION 5: Title 14 "Zoning" of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended so as to add a new Chapter 14.72 which shall read as follows:

14.72.17 Standards for Individual Mobile Home Stands

14.72.01 PURPOSE

The purpose of this district is to promote the expansion and diversification of the available housing opportunities existing within the City of San Rafael by the establishment of standards and policies for the creation of planned mobile home parks.

These provisions will further encourage the creation of stable, attractive, residential environments within the individual mobile home parks themselves and provide for a desirable transition to the surrounding conventional residential areas.

14.72.02 ESTABLISHMENT

This district shall be established as a combined district in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 50 (Planned Unit Development District,) Title 14 of the San Rafael Municipal Code. Applications, review and grant of zoning shall be in accordance with procedures contained therein. The zones established shall be designated by the combined notation of PUD-MHP and such notation shall be utilized on the rezoning application, agenda, notices, ordinances and zoning map.

14.72.03 OTHER LAWS AND ORDINANCES

Mobile home park development within the City shall comply with applicable provisions of the California Health and Safety Code, relating to the maintenance, use and occupancy of mobile homes and the construction and operation of mobile home parks, as well as the regulations set forth in the Title 25, Chapter 5 of the California Administrative Code except when provisions of this Title call for more restrictive regulations.

14.72.04 SUBDIVISION PROHIBITED

Mobile home parks shall be developed and maintained as a single cohesive unit. Subdivision of a mobile home park into lots for the purposes of sale, long term lease or other purposes which may restrict the common usage and maintenance of the total mobile home park shall be prohibited.

14.72.05 PRMITTED USES

A. Mobile homes for single family dwelling use.

B. Common recreation facilities and structures.

C. Administrative offices for mobile home park use only.

D. Residential quarters for use by manager or other park employees.

E. Accessory uses normally incidential to a mobile home park.

14.72.06 CONDITIONAL USES

Uses and facilities which are subordinate to the primary mobile home residential function and which are provided for the exclusive use and convenience of the residents of the park will be permitted subject to the issuance of a use permit except when approved as part of the original planned unit development.

A. Mobile home and mobile home accessory equipment sales.

B. Guest rooms not to exceed a ratio of one room for each thirty (30) lots.

C. Sales of food, drugs, sundries, clothing, recreational supplies and equipment.

D. Postal station.

E. Personal service establishments.

F. Other uses which the Planning Commission finds are in accord with the intent of this chapter.

14.72.07 SITE SIZE AND DENSITY

A. Area: Sites shall be not less than (20) acres. Peripheral land that need be dedicated for public road purposes and which lies outside the yards around the park shall not be included when computing area and density.

B. Total number of lots: No mobile home park shall be established, altered or otherwise be created which contains less than one hundrey and twenty (120) lots or which exceeds a maximum of five hundred (500) lots.

C. Density per gross acre: Maximum density shall not exceed six (6.0) units per acre of gross site area, provided, upon the finding that the proposed development will consist of a superior functional and aesthetic design which maximizes the use of standards suggested herein, the Planning Commission may grant bonuses not to exceed a resultant maximum total park density of seven (7.0) units per acre of gross site area.

14.72.08 PLAN PREPARATION

A. A detailed development plan required in Section 14.50.080 shall be prepared and submitted by the applicant.

B. The Planning Commission may vary the standards specified in this chapter when such change will result in improved design.

14.72.09 YARDS AROUND THE MOBILE HOME PARK

A. Yards of an average depth of not less than fifteen (15) feet shall be provided along all exterior boundaries of the park site, provided that no mobile home shall be located closer than five (5) feet nor shall any permanent structure be closer than ten (10) feet to any property line and, provided, further, that no side or rear yard shall be required along any boundary which abuts a creek, power transmission easement, railroad right-of-way or other similar features (not including streets) which creates a spatial separation of not less than fifty (50) feet between existing or potential structures or facilities on adjacent properties. All yards shall be landscaped and/or screened in accordance with Section 72.16 B.

B. In addition, the Planning Commission may require fencing along boundary areas listed above where yards are not required.

C. The Planning Commission may permit the reduction of average yard depth to seven (7) feet if suitable screening is provided by a solid masonry wall six (6) or more feet in height in conjunction with attractive landscaping, including trees that initially exceed eight (8) feet in height, and bushes that will exceed five (5) feet in height within two years of being planted, in the area between the wall and the property line or paved edge of adjoining public street, whichever is greater.

14.72.10 VEHICULAR ACCESS AND CIRCULATION

A. Access:

1. The main vehicular access to a mobile home park shall be from an abutting major or collector street.

2. The main entrance of a mobile home park shall consist of two (2) ten (10) foot travel lanes for ingress and an additional two (2) lanes for egress, separated by a landscaped island of a minimum of ten (10) feet in width to a depth of the first cross street that connects with the general roadway circulation pattern. No on-street parking shall be permitted for this distance. Where possible there shall be a secondary point of ingress and egress that connects with the general roadway circulation pattern. When secondary access is provided the Planning Commission may modify the above requirements for the primary access.

3. A directory which contains a map of the total park, the location and identification of each lot and a registry of park occupants identified by lot shall be provided. The directory shall be of a size and location that the driver of an entering vehicle near his point of entrance may locate his destination without having to leave his vehicle or detour from his entry route. The directory shall be illuminated for night usage. When a park has more than one point of access from adjoining public streets, additional directories of an appropriate size, content and location may be required.

B. Circulation:

1. The major through (collector) roadways that form the basic circulation pattern for the park shall be at least thirty three (33) feet wide curb to curb and parking may be allowed on one side if provided for in the approved plan.

2. All other roadways shall be at least twenty eight (28) feet wide curb to curb and no parking shall be permitted on them.

3. Private roadways shall be named in accordance with the adopted City Street Naming Policy.

4. Private roadways and areas used for access or parking shall be designed, constructed and paved in accordance with City of San Rafael Improvement Standards excepting that roadway widths may be modified as provided above.

5. Each mobile home lot shall be uniformly and plainly marked and numbered for identification visible from the street or service road.

6. When roadways are used for front yard access to lots they shall, to the extent that site size and engineering permit, be curved to provide varied and attractive viewing angles and to discourage rapid movement of traffic.

7. The walking distance, measured along the most direct walkway route, between 75% of all mobile home lots and a community center shall not exceed twenve hundred (1,200) feet.

14.72.11 PEDESTRIAN CIRCULATION

A. Pedestrian circulation shall be emphasized by the provision of walkways that permit well landscaped, convenient and aesthetically interesting movement which originates near individual home sites or at the ends of service courts and leads to common recreation areas, service facilities and circulation among the residential areas.

B. Wherever feasible through location and design walkways should avoid the appearance of sidewalks paralleling a street and should be uninterrupted by street crossings.

C. Walkways shall be a minimum of four (4) feet with five (5) feet or more preferable, particularly where a double row of homes is served by a common walkway.

D. Walkways shall be of a permanent material, paving or equivalent, that is not slippery and that can be used under all weather conditions.

E. When mobile homes are so sited that vehicular access is from one side and pedestrian access is from another side via a greenbelt, there shall be a minimum clear width between mobile homes at their nearest point of twenty five (25) feet on the pedestrian side.

F. When mobile homes are so sited that vehicular access is from the same side as the pedestrian access, and the pedestrian access is crossed at intervals by driveways from the street to carports, all mobile homes shall maintain a setback of not less than fifteen (15) feet from the inside edge of the street curb or pavement. This is to provide visibility of pedestrians to vehicles entering or backing out of a carport.

14.72.12 PARKING AND STORAGE

A. Parking:

1. Residential off-street parking shall be provided at a ratio of two (2) spaces per mobile home pad. One shall be covered and contiguous to each pad provided, however, required parking may be grouped into centralized parking areas if the centralized areas are located within one hundred fifty (150) feet of units to be served.

2. Residential parking spaces may be in tandem.

3. Residential parking spaces shall be so designed that a parked automobile will not encroach into the street or walkway area. Where the parking access is from the front of the mobile home the parked vehicles shall not project closer to the access street than the front of the mobile home.

4. Parking in the rear is encouraged as a good design feature.

5. Parking contiguous to the community center and administrative office shall be provided at a ratio of at least one space for each fifteen (15) mobile home lots contained within the park.

B. Storage:

1. All boats, campers, travel trailers, park maintenance vehicles and equipment and similar large items shall be stored in an area set aside for such purposes on the approved plans.

2. Such areas shall have a drained surface usable under normal seasonal weather conditions.

3. Such areas shall be screened from view. The screening shall be subject to the approval of the Planning Director.

4. The minimum gross area shall be fifty (50) square feet per mobile home lot.

14.72.13 LIGHTING

A. A lighting plan as to location and appearance of lights shall be prepared and submitted as a part of the Detailed Development Plan provided for in Section 14.50.080. The plan shall include lighting proposals for all streets, walkway and recreational services areas.

B. Street lighting shall be through a system which produces an average illumination of at least 0.2 footcandle on the roadway. The lowest footcandle value at any point on the pavement may not be less than one-sixth of the average.

C. Walkway lighting shall be through a system which produces an average illumination of at least one footcandle on the surface. The lowest footcandle value at any point on this surface may not be less than one-third of the average.

14.72.14 UTILITIES

A. All utilities (including CATV if any) shall be underground.

B. Television reception shall be by means of CATV or one or several common antennas.

C. Refuse service shall be provided to each mobile home lot or to centralized trash bins within convenient distance of each lot. All refuse locations shall be screened from view but shall be accessible to the refuse collection vehicle. Refuse deposit locations shall be identified on site plans.

D. Outside storage cabinets and lockers shall be of a coloration and texture compatible with the mobile home it adjoins.

14.72.15 RECREATION AREA

A. In addition to the open area required for the yard around the periphery of the mobile home park, there shall also be provided a minimum of five hundred (500) square feet per unit of net usable common area for a combination of both indoor and outdoor active community recreation and service facilities. All area(s) proposed for active recreation shall be designated on the Detailed Development Plan and size and configuration of said areas shall be subject to approval by the Planning Director.

B. Common recreation space may be occupied by community centers, swimming pools, outdoor courts for games and similar recreational facilities.

C. A community recreation center which possesses a floor area of twenty-five (25) square feet per lot for the first 200 lots and fifteen (15) square feet per lot thereafter, but in no case less than a minimum of three thousand (3,000) square feet shall be provided and shall be centrally located within the park. Space devoted to administrative office, laundry or other nonrecreational uses which may be developed in conjunction with the community center shall be in addition to the above provided minimum recreational floor space.

D. Whenever an entire park or a specified portion of a park is proposed to be used for "family" occupancy the park must provide, subject to the approval of the Planning Commission, additional play areas for children that are of a convenient size and location and separate from adult recreation areas. Such areas must be of a width, length and orientation sufficient to permit the batting, kicking and throwing of balls and outside games which involve running and shouting. In addition, the Planning Commission may require playground areas with suitable apparatus and courts marked for conventional games. Whenever "family" usage is discontinued the park operator may apply to the Commission for conversion of such areas into other uses permitted in this Chapter.

14.72.16 LANDSCAPING

A. A detailed landscape plan, including irrigation system, shall be prepared by a registered landscape architect and shall be submitted as a part of the final Detailed Development Plan.

B. Yards Around The Park Boundary.

1. Transitional screening shall be provided by the landscaping of yards adjacent to the exterior boundaries. The landscaping shall include intensive planted materials to a height of at least eight (8) feet. In combination with landscaping, fencing may be required subject to review by the Planning Director.

2. Specimen trees of no less than ten (10) gallon container size shall be required at least every thirty (30) feet along any setback adjacent to public streets.

3. Fence and landscaping material shall be limited in height at intersections of streets, driveways and pedestrian walkways to that deemed compatible with pedestrian and traffic safety by the Planning Director.

C. Park Standards

1. The size and location of all existing trees shall be indicated on the preliminary development plan and, where feasible, the trees shall be incorporated into the final landscape plan.

2. Substantial trees shall be planted throughout the park and in common open areas.

3. All open areas except driveways, parking areas, walkways, utility areas, improved decks, patios or porches shall be well landscaped and maintained. Modifications of the approved landscape plan may be approved by the Planning Director providing that the overall effect will remain the same or be enhanced thereby.

4. Larger greenbelts, and small landscaped areas at roadway corners and curves are recommended as good design features.

5. Lakes and waterways are encouraged as good design features.

D. Lot Standards

1. Rock shall not be permitted to predominate as a ground cover.

2. At least one (1) tree per lot of five gallon stock, six (6) to seven (7) feet tall with a minimum trunk diameter at one foot above the ground of ¾ of an inch.

3. The operational rules of the park to which the tenant agrees at the time he leases his lot shall include provision for the park to service landscaping on individual lots that are inadequate, neglected or unsightly and to charge the cost to the tenant.

E. General Standards

1. The park operator shall be responsible for the maintenance of all park and lot landscaping.

2. Plants, shrubs and trees which die or otherwise become deteriorated shall be replaced with units of equivalent size to the then existing vegetation.

3. When the mobile home park is in an environmental relationship such that it would be viewed from above, the Planning Commission may require that the roof of each mobile home be of a nonglossy earth-tone color.

14.72.17 STANDARDS FOR INDIVIDUAL MOBILE HOME STANDS

To enhance the residential character of the mobile home park and minimize the adverse effects on surrounding properties, the following standards shall apply:

A. Minimum stand size shall not be less than fifteen (15) by seventy (70) feet.

B. Variation in spatial distribution and angle of placement of stands is encouraged to afford privacy and attractive variations in view angles as one drives along the roadways or walks along the pathways.

C. Distance between stands shall be adequate to permit movement of individual coaches without disturbance of adjacent mobile homes or their respective accessory areas; provide for adequate light and air; and provide sufficient area for access and operation of fire protection facilities.

D. Each stand shall possess a slope of not less than one (1.0) percent.

E. Each stand shall be maintained weed free.

F. Spaces beneath mobile homes shall be enclosed with architecturally harmonizing skirts or by a combination of skirts and grading with ventilation and access in accordance with State law.

G. When consistent with proper drainage, ventilation and other engineering requirements, each mobile home stand and lot shall be constructed so that when a mobile home is located on th stand the floor line of the mobile home in the front yard area is at ground level or as close thereto as possible. This may be accomplished by any one or combination of the following:

1. Lowering the stand below finished grade by excavating and/or mounding. Earth berms or embankments shall be retained by redwood or masonry walls. Ventilation space consisting of a clear and unobstructed distance which also is adequate for the movement in, assembly, disassembly and removal of the mobile home shall be provided between the mobile home and retaining wall, provided that said ventilation space may be bridged at all exterior doorways.

2. Using a stand slope of two and one half percent (2.5).

3. Contouring upward the land from the walkway or curb in the front to the front and patio side of the mobile home.

H All detachable tongues shall be removed. Nondetachable tongues shall be screened by landscaping or other materials acceptable to the City Planning Director.

Militant Rabbi Held In Anti-Soviet Case

NEW YORK (UPI)—The leader of the militant Jewish Defense League whose harassment of Soviet officials in the United States has strained Soviet-American relations was arrested Tuesday for failure to appear in court on riot and disorderly conduct charges.

Rabbi Meir Kahane was taken into custody at JDL headquarters on two bench warrants issued after he failed to attend a Jan. 6 hearing dealing with charges he incited anti-Soviet demonstrators to rush police lines at the Soviet Mission to the United Nations Dec. 27.

At least a dozen persons, including five policemen, were injured during the melee half a block from the white brick mission on Manhattan's fashionable East Side.

Kahane, who had been paroled in his own custody at his Dec. 28 arraignment, was released on $3,000 bail Tuesday by Municipal Court Judge Anthony Marra who ordered the militant rabbi to appear for a Jan. 19 hearing. Two additional cases involving Kahane were to go to the grand jury later this week.

"This court will not put up with any of your nonsense," Marra told the rabbi.

Bertram Zweibon, Kahane's attorney and JDL founder, said his client could not attend the Jan. 6 hearing because he was visiting Israel and his return was delayed by illness. Kahane owns an apartment in Jerusalem.

Kahane, 39, vowed Sunday to wage a campaign of harassment against Soviet diplomats and their families to retaliate against Soviet oppression of Russian Jewry, particularly the sentencing in Leningrad of 11 persons, including nine Jews, accused of attempted airliner hijacking.

The JDL's tactics, which include taunting and shouting obscenities in Russian at Soviet nationals, has brought severe criticism from President Nixon, Mayor John V. Lindsay and dozens of Jewish organizations.

Kahane told an impromptu courthouse news conference his arrest was part of a campaign by Nixon and Lindsay to stop the JDL.

"There is no question that this is just the very, very start of a campaign hatched in Washington to try to stop the JDL," he said.

"I applaud the harassment, the bombings and any other things that can be done to save 3½ million Jews in Communist Russia," Kahane said.

Soviet anger over actions of Jewish militants in the United States resulted in raging editorials and a campaign of intimidation of Moscow's Americans.

Over the weekend Russians slashed tires, splintered windshields and bullied U.S. businessmen in an intimidation campaign.

Tuesday, Tass, in an acidly worded editorial prepared for this morning's newspapers, accused the United States of plotting with "Zionist Ku Klux Klan men" to harass Soviet citizens in America.

The Soviet news agency said "the unbridled anti-Soviet campaign staged by the Zionists in America is being conducted with the knowledge and connivance of official American authorities.

"Indeed, who can believe that the gigantic and mighty police machinery of the United States allegedly cannot prevent Zionist gangster attacks like the recent bomb explosion at the trade and information department of the Soviet embassy in Washington?"

"Who can believe that the American authorities allegedly are not able to protect Soviet people in the United States ... from the threats poured out against them by the Zionist Ku Klux Klan men."

Auto Deaths Decrease; New Safety Laws Cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said today that the nation got its first dividend from new auto safety standards last year—a decline of 1,100 in the number of persons killed in traffic accidents.

Volpe said the death toll for 1970 was 55,300 compared to 56,400 in 1969. The drop came despite a jump of 5 per cent in total automobile mileage.

"If deaths had occurred at the same rate in 1970 as in 1969 there would have been 59,200 deaths instead of the 55,300 we now estimate," Volpe told a news conference.

"That means that with the increased travel in 1970 a more realistic figure for measuring the reduction of highway fatalities is 3,900 instead of the 1,100 reduction below the 1969 total."

Volpe's figures confirmed those reported by UPI earlier this month.

In a report on his two years in office, Volpe said that one of his major projects—the supersonic transport (SST) — "is far from dead."

He said the administration would make an intensive effort to win support in the new Congress for continuing SST development.

Congress adjourned last month after Senate foes of the SST blocked administration attempts to win approval of funds to start construction of two SST prototypes. Backers of the plane managed to keep the program alive by winning approval of a resolution to continue financing the program through March.

To bolster its arguments in favor of the 1,800 mile-an-hour plane, the administration plans to release shortly new studies designed to show the plane is not a threat to the environment and will provide jobs to trim the unemployment rate now at 6 per cent.

Volpe said he felt that the decline in traffic fatalities was an indication that "the corner has been turned in our safety drive and that we are on our way to ridding the nation of a great part of the tragic highway death toll."

Volpe conceded that there was some disagreement among experts on which auto safety standards had contributed most to the decline.

But use of seat belts, collapsible steering wheels, and better designed highways all have been credited with playing a major role.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Judge Is Juror, Too

Badly injured in a crash at an intersection, Louis sued the Ace Truck Company. At the trial both sides had questions as to who had the right of way.

After a long jury trial, Louis was made happy by a $50,000 judgment. A few weeks later, his lawyer telephoned and told him that the judge had just thrown out the $50,000 judgment as excessive. The trial judge wanted Louis to agree to a reduced judgment of $25,000 even though the jury had awarded him $50,000.

In all jury cases the judge is a "thirteenth juror." He can grant a new trial if he thinks the evidence did not support the verdict. Of course, Louis' lawyer could oppose the new trial and argue that the verdict should stand. The trial judge may, however, consider the case further, even if the jury is through.

The judge may determine if there is an irregularity in the proceedings, misconduct by the jury such as a determination by lot or out of prejudice or sympathy. He may check some error in law or act on some new evidence not discovered earlier.

The judge may likewise grant a new trial where he thinks the damages awarded were inadequate. He must tell why he is granting the new trial. A court of appeal may review his decision and stop the new trial if the judge's reasons are in error.

In a criminal case the trial judge can also grant a new trial. The jury may have received inadmissable evidence, such as going out to the scene of the crime without authorization. It is wrong for the jury to play detective. Its visit to the scene must be under court control and a part of the regular proceedings.

A verdict arrived at by lot or chance, or an error in law at the trial, or a verdict contrary to the evidence may be other reasons for granting a new trial.

In a civil case, either side may ask for a new trial. The plaintiff, say, for an inadequate verdict or the defense, for an excessive verdict.

In a criminal case the law limits the district attorney's right to ask for a new trial or to appeal a verdict favorable to the accused. The defendant once put in jeopardy by the first trial need not face another trial except in unusual circumstances.

General Plan Updating Urged

Outside consultants are needed to update the Petaluma General Plan if future city growth is to be orderly, the city council and planning commission agreed last night.

In a joint study session, the groups said the present staff of planners is unable to carry out all the long range studies that are necessary because they have become bogged down in routine work.

Planning Director William C. McGivern and the commission recommended that $30,000 be set aside to hire an outside consulting firm to do an in-depth review of the 1961 general plan, including an update of community design standards, the subdivision and zoning ordinances and traffic circulation patterns. No action was taken, however.

Bomb Threats Fail To Halt Officer Seating

Two bomb threats failed last night to halt a Marin County Board of Realtors installation dinner in San Rafael.

About 200 members were at the dinner at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant at 507 Francisco Boulevard when employee Joie Lorraine Bullock received a telephone bomb threat at 9 p.m.

"You'd better get the real estate board out of there. A bomb will go off in 15 minutes," a man said.

Police and restaurant management conferred. They concluded the threat was a hoax. But 15 minutes later, the man called back and repeated his threat, saying this time that the bomb would go off in 30 minutes.

The banquet went on without a search.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Rectal Dialation For Hemmorrhoids Makes Surgical Removal Obsolete

A rectal specialist in England believes that internal hemmorrhoids can be alleviated by forcibly dilating the rectum. The person enters the hospital as a day patient and leaves shortly thereafter. Done under an anesthetic, the procedure causes virtually no pain, incontinence, or prolapse of rectal tissue. A special dilator is used at home for several weeks following the hospital treatment.

Mr. Peter H. Lord (in England, surgeons are called mister) has performed more than 400 of these procedures with considerable success. His first patient was a businessman who requested immediate relief for protruding, painful piles so he could complete an important transaction later in the day. Under a general anesthetic, the area was stretched (and I mean stretched). Next morning, the man returned free of pain, and on examination, it was determined that surgical removal of the hemorrhoids was unnecessary.

MR. LORD believes that internal hemorrhoids become dilated and swollen due to an inelastic pecten band surrounding the lower anal canal. Stretching the band alleviates the condition. This is not new to rectal specialists in our country, but they are more interested in the permanent results obtained with surgery.

Hemorrhoids are enlarged veins in the external or internal plexes of blood vessels surrounding the lowermost part of the rectum. Engorgement of the veins is likely to occur when standing, straining at stool or during pregnancy.

HEREDITY also plays a role, in that some people inherit weaker veins than others. Irritation and lack of cleanliness after a movement also are implicated. Now and then hemorrhoids form when a tumor develops higher in the rectum or large intestine. Surgery is considered the best remedy, but it is not done until the tract has been thoroughly examined.

PRESSURE MARKS

R. A. writes: After I lie down for a while, my face and arms have pressure marks. These last half an hour or longer. The skin clears sooner in other people with the same problem. Would you know what this indicates?

REPLY

Perhaps you have more fluid in your skin tissues than do other people. Sometimes pressure marks stem from a physical allergy; marks appear wherever pressure is applied, such as along a line made in the skin with a pencil or fingernail.

NO FLASHES

Mrs. A. C. writes: I'm 54 and presumably have gone through the menopause. Yet I never had any hot flashes. I'm not complaining, but wonder why I escaped.

REPLY

Your body made an excellent adjustment to the natural changes that occurred in your glandular system. Now and then older men develop hot flashes even though they never experience the menopause.

BREECH BIRTH

B. P. writes: Could a fall in the sixth month of pregnancy be responsible for a breech birth?

REPLY

This is doubtful, considering the number of babies who arrive feet first whose mothers never took a spill while pregnant.

BALDNESS THROUGH FEMALES

K. R. M. writes: Is male type baldness inherited only thru the women in the family?

REPLY

This is the current idea. Incidentally, we are seeing more and more baldness among women.

Conspiracy To Fix Fraud Case Charged To Sen. Fong's Aide

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The administrative assistant to Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, was indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to fix a securities fraud case.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said a four count indictment was returned in U.S. District court in New York City against the Fong aide, Robert T. Carson, 64, of Arlington, Va.

Also indicted in the case were Edward Adams, 80, and Joseph Bald, 41, both of New York.

The indictment said when early efforts of the conspirators were unsuccessful in stopping prosecution of the security case, Carson called on Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst last Nov. 24.

According to the indictment, Carson related that if something could be done to stop the prosecution, a $100,000 political contribution would be made. It was not spelled out to whom the money would go.

"The offer was immediately and categorically rejected (by Kleindienst)," the indictment said.

The case involved stock fraud conspiracy charges against John Dioguardi, New York, and others filed on Nov. 19, 1970. Dioguardi was not further identified.

The grand jury said that the conspiracy to fix the case began about Sept. 1, 1970, in an attempt to prevent Bald from being indicted in stock fraud investigations being conducted by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

The indictment said Adams arranged for Baid to meet Carson on Nov. 16, 1970, in the Senate Office Building, where Bald said money would be paid to Carson if the senatorial aide would assist their efforts in trying to stop the investigation.

The indictment added that a subsequent meeting occurred at LaGuardia airport among Adams, Bald and Harold Blond, Bald's brother-in-law, named in the indictment as a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

It was alleged that the three men agreed that $200,000 would be paid to Adams and Carson to prevent Bald from being prosecuted in further criminal cases and to stop the prosecution of Dioguardi.

On Dec. 1, 1970, the indictment continued, Adams again met with Carson in Washington and Carson reported that he would be unable to quash the indictment "because the case was "too hot" at the time.

Course On Drug Abuse Slated

A 10-week evening course on drug abuse has been scheduled by the University of California Extension beginning Feb. 4 at Novato High School.

The class, taught by Paul Namkung, executive director of the Pittsburg Drug Therapy Center, will be each Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. until April 8 in Room 23 of the high school, the university announced.

Details may be obtained from the UC Extension, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley.

EXHIBIT A

AMENDMENT TO CONTRACT BETWEEN THE BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM AND THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL

The Board of Administration, Public Employees' Retirement System, hereinafter referred to as Board and the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, hereinafter referred to as Public Agency having entered into a contract under date of June 20, 1957, effective July 1, 1957, and as amended effective December 1, 1957, January 1, 1958, March 2, 1959, January 1, 1969, and October 1, 1969, which provides for participation of Public Agency in said System, Board and Public Agency hereby agree as follows:

A. Paragraphs 1 through 13 are hereby stricken from said contract as executed effective July 1, 1957, and are hereby replaced by the following paragraphs numbered 1 through 11 inclusive:

1. All words and terms used herein which are defined in the Public Employees' Retirement Law shall have the meaning as defined therein unless otherwise specifically provided. "Normal retirement age" shall mean age 60 for miscellaneous members and age 55 for local safety members.

2. Public Agency shall participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System from and after July 1, 1957, making its employees as hereinafter provided, members of said system subject to all provisions of the Public Employees' Retirement Law except such as apply only on election of a contracting agency and are not provided for herein and to all amendments to said Law hereafter enacted except such as by express provision thereof apply only on the election of contracting agencies.

3. Employees of Public Agency in the following classes shall become members of said Retirement System except such in each such class as are excluded by law or this agreement:

a. Local firemen (herein referred to as local safety members);

b. Local policemen (herein referred to as local safety members);

c. Employees other than local firemen and local policemen (herein referred to as miscellaneous members).

The following employees shall be excluded from membership in said Retirement System:

NO ADDITIONAL EXCLUSIONS

4. The fraction of final compensation to be provided for each year of credited current service as a miscellaneous member upon retirement at normal retirement age shall be 1/60 and shall be applied as provided in Section 21251.1 og said Retirement Law.

5. The fraction of final compensation to be provided for each year of credited current service as a local safety member shall be determined in accordance with Section 21252.1 of said Retirement Law.

6. Benefits on account of prior service shall be 100% of the fraction of final compensation specified for miscellaneous members in Paragraph 4 above, but computed in accordance with Section 21253 of said Retirement Law, and for local safety members shall be 100% of the fraction established in accordance with Paragraph 5.

7. Contributions for miscellaneous and local safety members shall be subject to Sections 20601 and 20602 respectively of said Retirement Law.

8. The following additional provisions of the Public Employees' Retirement Law which apply only upon election of a contracting agency shall apply to the Public Agency and its employees:

a. Section 20024.01 (defining "final compensation" on the basis of a period of three consecutive years).

b. Section 21256.1 (providing a minimum retirement allowance of $1200 per year under certain conditions).

c. Section 21367.51 (providing a $500.00 death benefit upon death after retirement).

d. Section 20025 (providing for inclusion of compensation without limit in computations where compensation is a factor).

e. Section 20952.5 (providing for age 50 as the minimum voluntary retirement age for local safety members with benefit payments commencing prior to age 55 subject to actuarial discount).

f. Section 21365.5 (providing a monthly allowance in lieu of the basic death benefit for certain survivors of a member who dies in employment after qualifying for voluntary service retirement).

g. Section 21251.35 (providing for the recalculation of allowances to persons retired prior to January 1, 1969, in accordance with the contract as amended on January 1, 1969).

h. Section 21251.35 (providing for increases in allowances payable for time commencing on the first day of the calendar month coinciding with or next following the effective date of this amendment to persons retired prior to October 1, 1970).

i. Section 21251.75 (providing for increases in allowances payable for time commencing on the first day of the calendar month coinciding with or next following the effective date of this amendment to persons retired prior to January 1, 1967).

j. Section 21264 (providing upon death of a local safety member who retired for service or industrial disability for the continuation of one-half the retirement allowance to certain survivors).

k. Section 21264.1 (providing upon death of a local miscellaneous member who retired for service or disability for the continuation of one-half the retirement allowance to certain survivors).

l. Section 20834.1 (providing for crediting prior service not otherwise creditable when the member has five or more years of current service).

m. Section 21330-7 (providing for allowances for survivors of members covered under the program upon death before retirement).

9. Public Agency shall contribute to said Retirement System as follows:

a. With respect to miscellaneous members, the public agency shall contribute the following percentages of monthly salaries earned as miscellaneous members of said System:

(1) 1.207 percent until June 30, 2001 on account of the liability for prior service benefits.

(2) 9.978 percetn on account of the liability for current service benefits.

b. With respect to local safety members, the public agency shall contribute the following percentages of monthly salaries earned as local safety members of said System:

(1) 2.122 percent until June 30, 2001 on account of the liability for prior service benefits.

(2) 16.047 percent on account of the liability for current service benefits.

c. A reasonable amount per annum, as fixed by Board to cover the costs of administering said System as it affects the employees of Public Agency, not including the costs of special valuations or the periodical investigations and valuation required by law, provided that said amount shall be determined on the basis of the number of employees of Public Agency who are reported as members on a payroll designated by the System covering one month of each year, or with respect to the first year of participation, on the effective date of said participation.

d. A reasonable amount as fixed by the Board, payable in one installment as the occasions arise, to cover costs of special valuations on account of employees of Public Agency, and costs of the periodical investigation and valuation required by law.

10. Contributions required of Public Agency and its employees shall be subject to adjustment by Board on account of amendments to the Public Employees' Retirement Law, and on account of experience under the Retirement System, as determined by the periodical investigation and valuation required by said Retirement Law.

11. Contributions required of Public Agency and its employees shall be paid by Public Agency to the Retirement System within thirty days after the end of the period to which said contributions refer. If more or less than the correct amount of contribution is paid for any period, proper adjustment on account of errors in contributions required of any employee may be made by direct cash payments between the employee and Board. Payments by Public Agency to Board may be made in the form of warrants, bank checks, bank drafts, certified checks money orders, or cash.

B. This amendment shall be effective on the day of ——

Point Reyes Acquisition Going Well

Land acquisition at the Point Reyes National Seashore is going along well with 41,295 acres of the 64,546-acre park now acquired, according to Willis P. Kriz, land acquisition officer for the park service.

This includes 11,000 acres of tidelands donated by the federal government.

Kriz said yesterday that money appropriated by Congress last year for the park "is holding out well" and that he is optimistic that most of the rest of the land for the park would be purchased soon.

One exception is about 4,000 acres owned by Radio Corporation of America and American Telephone and Telegraph, which is presently exempted from park acquisition, Kriz said.

The only way this land can ever be acquired for the park is if the companies no longer need it for their purposes, he said.

Otherwise, 3,592 acres, mainly in small parcels, has been acquired recently in 62 separate tracts with money appropriated by Congress last year. In all, $58 million has been appropriated for the park land purchases.

Kriz said that of the 19,251 acres which the park service hopes to purchase, 4,381 acres are now the subject of condemnation actions already pending in court or soon to be filed.

He was hopeful, however, that the almost 15,000 remaining acres could be acquired without condemnation proceedings.

Parade For Western Weekend

There will be a parade at the Western Weekend country Fair in Novato this year after two years without a parade, Western Weekend directors have disclosed.

The parade will be restricted to local entrants and will not be like parades in the past, which were open and costly, reported director Dorothy Merla.

Directors, who met Monday, also agreed that Foley and Burke carnival operators will again run the carnival during the fair, June 17-20, Mrs. Merla said.

Casey Van Gronigan, newly elected board president, missed the session because he is ill at Marin General Hospital and in need of blood, she reported.

Mrs. Merla said Novato residents can donate blood at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Rafael to replace that being used for Van Gronigan.

Mrs. Merla also announced there is an opening for a Western Weekend director, and the board is seeking a Novato merchant to fill it.

Oil Firms Lose Antitrust Case

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — A federal jury has convicted two major oil firms of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act in their dealings with a former independent gasoline distributor.

The jury of nine women and three men ruled for C.O. Hanson against Shell Oil and California Standard Oil companies. The companies were ordered to pay Hanson $363,180 in damages.

Judge James A. Walsh dismissed the charges against a third defendant, Gulf Oil Corp. The suit had asked $2.1 million from all three firms.

Hanson had contended the three firms monopolized gasoline pipelines and forced him to pay more for products at prices which would not allow a profit.

Variance To Mill Valley Food Mart

Two commercial uses for property at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley have been approved by the city's planning commission.

Zoning Administrator Howard R. McGill said commissioners voted Monday to approve a variance from parking requirements for a food market that will open at the old Purity Market location.

The zoning ordinance requires 133 spaces, he said, but the commission found that 89 stalls were adequate.

Also approved was a use permit for an electronics assembly plant to be built adjacent to the store by H. C. Electronics of Tiburon, makers of components for hearing aids.

In other business, the commission unanimously approved a permit to allow an informal youth hostel to continue at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley.

Commissioners then voted to ask the city council not to require the crash pad to be brought up to building standards usually applied to hotels and dormitories. If the council agrees, expensive modifications to the building would not be necessary.

North Marin Doubles Size Of District

The North Marin County Water District has more than doubled the number of consumers it had 10 years ago, according to its annual report, which included a review of the 1960s.

During the 10-year period, the number of consumers increased from 4,706 to 9,795, the district reported.

Distribution storage capacity increased from two to 16 million gallons and annual water output rose from 2,140 to 5,605 acre feet. (an acre foot is equal to 325,900 gallons)

With annexations in Southern Sonoma and West Marin, the district expanded its area from 75 to approximately 100 square miles.

The growth rate during the past year was 4.5 per cent.

Russian River water accounted for 65 per cent of the supply and Stafford Lake the remainder during the past year.

Performance Off

Illness of a feature dancer has forced cancellation of the Dancers' Workshop Company performance, "The Ceremony of Us," scheduled for Friday at College of Marin, the school announced.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 7:30 p.m. — Ralph Richardson, Ann Todd and Nigel Patrick star in the award-winning movie drama, "Breaking the Sound Barrier."

KRON (4), KCRA (3) 9 p.m., — Alan King hosts Anne Meara, Mary Ann Mobley and James Coco when "Kraft Music Hall" presents "Alan King Plays the Games People Play."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10 p.m. — "National Polling Day: What Americans Think" is an hour-long ABC news special examining the attitude of the nation toward major and minor issues of the day. Frank Reynold hosts.

KQED (9), 11 p.m. — The story of one of England's most colorful periods of history is told on "The First Churchills," a 12-part series marking the first presentation of "Masterpiece Theater." John Neville and Susan Hampshire star in "The Chaste Nymph," an episode focusing on a masque held at the Court of King Charles II. It is a British Broadcasting Corp. production.

12 Marin Students Get Chico Degrees

Twelve Marinites, graduating from Chico State College, will receive bachelor's or master's degree in midwinter commencement exercises on Jan. 23.

Stephen W. Schilling of Mill Valley will be presented a master's degree in public administration by Dr. Lew D. Oliver, acting president of the college, who will confer degrees to the 764 Chico State graduates.

Marinites receiving bachelor's degrees are:

Nancy L. Mirata of Tiburon, degree in social welfare; Dennis E. Good of Mill Valley, physical education; Dean R. Edwards of Novato, computer science; Lowell L. Mason of Novato, sociology; Aurelia R. Zoellner of Ross, recreation administration; and San Rafael students Dennis W. Cooney, history, James F. Derr, computer science, Richard D. Hardin, business management, Pamela L. Johnson, social welfare, Martin J. Katz, social science, and Saundra A. Smickler, art.

Mill Valley's Tree Laws Face Change

Proposed changes in Mill Valley's tree ordinance tightening city control over trees on public and private property have been recommended for adoption by the city's parks and recreation commission.

Parks and Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos said the commission Monday voted to ask the city council to approve amendments to the existing ordinance.

The changes generally prohibit individuals from removing, trimming or otherwise altering trees or shrubs on public streets and in parks. Permits are required for those with legitimate reasons for doing so, Dimitratos said.

The ordinance also requires property owners to trim trees and shrubs that block motorists' views of traffic at intersections. Violations are punishable by a $500 fine, confinement in Marin County Jail for up to six months, or both.

Woman To Plead On Pot, Theft

Kela Anne Steele, 20, of San Rafael, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on charges of shoplifting and possessing marijuana.

She is to plead to the charges Friday.

Miss Steele was arrested last Friday after she allegedly tried to take $65 worth of clothing from the Emporium at Northgate. Matrons searching her at Marin County Jail found what appeared to be two marijuana cigarettes in her purse.

Alaskan Natives Get Home Tanning Tips

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Since the Alaska native began bartering his harvest of animal skins with the white man back in the late 18th century, most of the profits have gone to the tanneries.

Now, the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Alaska has begun a series of home tanning courses under the guidance of a marketing specialist, William Scarborough, and the villager is being taught how to do it himself in his kitchen.

Scarborough said the method taught is a pickling process involving the use of a solution of salt and sulphuric acid. In addition to the solution, all the tanner needs is a sharp knife, a plstic garbage can for the salt and acid and a detergent with which to wash the skin.

The skin is soaked in the solution for four or five days and then it is put on a stretching frame to dry. After that it is sanded to the desired thickness and softened by breaking it against a sharp edge like that of a board.

Using this method, a seal skin, which previously cost about $30 to send out to a commercial tannery, now costs the native less than $1 in material costs to tan.

Bill and Elizabeth Try have opened a new store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center called The Scratch Pad, where customers get personal attention. Stationery, card and gift items comprise the stock with new items arriving daily. The Scratch Pad is open six days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Credit Cards Gain Soviets' Acceptance

NEW YORK (UPI)—America's favorite traveling companion—the little plastic credit card—is becoming a familiar sight in some circles inside the Soviet Union.

The card, developed in the United States 20 years ago and now familiar in most of the globe, made its first appearance in Russia about a year ago.

"Since that time, visitors to Russia from the United States and other countries have made the card well known to Russians who provide products and services to foreigners," said Robert H. Pitt, president of Diners Club's International Division.

"The Soviet Union reports that some two million visitors crossed its borders during 1969, including approximately 50,000 Americans. With the Russians expanding their lodging facilities and actively working to promote tourism, we expect a further expansion in the use of credit cards."

Pitt said the first credit card accepted in the Soviet Union was honored in the summer of 1969 after an agreement was signed by representatives of Diners Club and Intourist, the Soviet government's official travel bureau. The agreement called for the card to be used by visitors to Russia from other countries around the world where the company is represented.

"The agreement covered Intourist facilities in Moscow, including hotels, restaurants, auto rental agencies and sightseeing tours. Airline, railroad and boat tickets are also charged through Intourist facilities, and the card is used to purchase tickets to the Bolshoi, the renting of chauffered limousines and the hiring of interpreters. The original agreement has been expanded to cover similar services in Leningrad."

The card is used by diplomats, members of foreign embassy staffs and businessmen, as well as by vacationers.

Snowmobiling Gains Winter Sport Favor

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—In just about a decade, the more traditional winter activities of skiing and ice skating have had to move over to make room for a fast-growing newcomer—snowmobiling.

"Snowmobiling is one of the sports phenomena of our times," says Tom Porter, marketing manager for a mini-snowmobile firm.

Domestic snowmobile production expanded from about 1,000 in 1961, following their introduction into the United States from Canada, to more than 100,000 by 1968.

"In 1969-70," Porter says, "snowmobile production jumped a whopping 77 per cent to 505,000 units, up from 285,000 a year earlier." He says manufacturers are projecting domestic production will "reach 1 million in 1972-73. At an average cost of $1000 per snowmobile, this translates into a $1 billion market."

Porter indicates that as the market grew, snowmobile makers were eager to make their products bigger and faster to attract more enthusiasts. Today, average snowmobiles weight from 250 to 450 pounds, have speeds ranging from 35 to 100 miles an hour, and cost from about $600 to as much as $2500.

A DIPPERFUL OF FLAVOR

Herbert and Joyce Beckner have operated Herbert's Sherbert in the Corte Madera Shopping Center for over five years. They have been in the ice cream business for 35 years. Recently, they redecorated their shop, which is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Not only do they serve the finest ice cream around, but they have hot, homemade sandwiches for lunchtime.

Chinese Revive Rug Weaving On Formosa

By JOE HUNG

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Nationalist Chinese are reviving the ancient art of carpet weaving dating from the days of Marco Polo, to give Formosa one of its newest industries.

Tientsin rugs, knotted by hand, are earning the Chinese on Formosa up to $6 million a year in foreign currency. Business is increasing annually.

The tedious work of hand weaving carpets suits Formosa ideally. The island has a large supply of cheap labor. It takes four workers one month to finish a rug 9-by-12 feet in size. Such masterpieces sell for as little as $400 each.

The Vocational Assistance Commission for Retired Servicemen, a government agency, opened Formosa's first Tientsin rug plant in 1963 in Chungli, an industrial city 20 miles south of Taipei.

It was an instant success and inspired a score of private businessmen to go into the rug weaving business. Last year, Formosa produced 200,000 square feet of carpets. Retired soldiers turned out two-thirds of the total.

All the rugs are exported except for a small stock sold in Formosa to foreign tourists. Thus the industry is designed primarily to earn foreign currency for Formosa.

Formosa's carpet plants are developing improved methods of spinning and dyeing the wool yarns used to weave masterpieces in the style of Imperial China.

Boys and girls often start learning the complicated weaving processes after finishing primary school. To become an apprentice weaver, a student must pass satisfactorily through six months of preliminary training.

Term of the apprenticeship depends on the student's progress. A gifted youth can graduate from apprentice training in two or three years.

Fellowship Overcomes Handicaps At Unusual Recreation Center

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Almost weekly there is a special get-together in a public facility in Tulsa for some special people. It's a recreation center but quite different from the one you might visit.

The patrons at this facility are blind, most of them. Some have had polio. All are incapacitated to some degree. But when they get together, you wouldn't notice the handicaps.

The Tulsa Recreation Center for the Physically Limited offers activiies specially designed for persons with cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis.

Mrs. Robert Murdock, director of the center, says fellowship and personal interaction are the necessary ingredients of such a facility.

"Psychological insecurities multiply from constant affiliation with only one's family," Mrs. Murdock said. "But at the center inhibitions are dissolved. Shyness is unheard of."

The specialized facility is one of only four in the nation. Financial support comes from civic and health groups, clubs and individuals. Part of its budget comes from the Community Chest.

Under Mrs. Murdock's guidance, the center has graduated from quarters furnished by a Tulsa hospital to a $300,000 building of its own.

Television Ban Spurs Marketing Ingenuity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cigarette commercials went off the air in a lavish midnight farewell Jan. 1 but the tobacco industry is using all of its marketing ingenuity to fill the void.

Among other new promotions this year, cigarette makers will sponsor auto races, a Canadian golf tournament, a bowling tourney called the Winston-Salem C assic and a series of women's tennis matches dubbed the "Virginia Slims Invitational."

Sales, not sporting blood, is the motive. The August issue of Tobacco Reporter, a trade journal, explained it this way:

"The advertising has been banned, but not the appearance of the product during the feature programming.

"For instance, at a stock car race one or more of the participating vehicles will have a cigarette promotion blurb on its side. In following the race the television cameras will pass fence advertisements while the pit crews and winners will be smoking with the cigarette pack prominently displayed.

"Such will hold true for any number of sporting events that appear on television. It could even go so far as to have the football booster section displaying block cards that promote a particular brand."

The new law ban all radio and television cigarette commercials effective at midnight Jan. 1. But the networks will get a last draught of money from an industry which has provided about 10 per cent of television advertising revenues.

The leathery Marlboro cowboy rode into the last sunset over and over again that night. Philip Morris, Inc., Marlboro's maker, bought 25 minutes of nttwork television commercial time Jan. 1, including the last three permidnight commercials on the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show (NBC), the Merv Griffin Show (CBS) and the Dick Cavett show (ABC).

Network officials said cigarette commercials filled many time outs during the Jan. 1 college football bowl games. One minute on the Rose Bowl cists an advertiser $135,000; on the Orange Bowl, $75,000. Big advertisers like cigarette companies pay somewhat less, however.

According to the Federal Trade Commission, cigarette makers spent $226 million on television and radio commercials in 1968, the most recent year for which the FTC has figures. They spent $35 million in magazines, $15 million in newspapers and $741,000 for billboards.

Antismoking crusaders believe the demise of television cigarette advertising will sharply reduce the number of youths who take up smoking, and make it easier for smokers to quit.

They note that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's National Advisory Cancer Council reported Dec. 1 that cigarette smoking was the primary cause of an "epidemic" of 60,000 lung cancer deaths a year in the United States.

The industry, still contending its product has not been proved harmful, hopes smokers will puff on. It cites increased cigarette consumption in England, Italy and other countries where cigarette commercials also are banned.

The law also means U.S. stations no longer will have to carry antismoking commercials, which were required to counter the cigarette blurbs. All three networks have said they plan to continue antismoking announcements, but fewer are expected.

Two court actions could change the situation. In one, owners of six radio stations have asked a federal court to declare the law banning cigarette commercials unconstitutional. A hearing is expected in late January.

The other, filed by the cigarette industry, claims that the same "fairness doctrine" which prompted antismoking messages should —in the absence of cigarette commercials — require prosmoking messages to counter grim televised health warnings. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) disagreed, but the industry has appealed to a federal court.

With broadcasting turned off, where will that $226 million go? Cigarette men say they will spend more on billboards, newspapers and magazineS, but estimate privately that industry outlays for advertising will be cut 50 per cent or more.

"We couldn't spend all that money in print if we wanted to," John T. Landry, Philip Morris group vice president and director of Tobacco Product Marketing, said in a Tobacco Reporter interview.
